OVERTURES

The Stated Clerk presented the following overtures which were referred as indicated:

To the Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures, 1-2 (Replies, page 57.)

1. WHEREAS, tobacco, as it is commonly used today, being dispensable (considered a luxury rather than a necessity), has been proved conclusively to be detrimental to health;

WHEREAS, tobacco is habit-forming and enslaving, causing lowered efficiency, nervousness and restlessness when withheld for a short time; and

WHEREAS, there is a willingness on the part of the tobacco industry to exploit the health of the nation for the profit motive,

The Presbytery of Suwannee respectfully overtures the General Assembly to decide the most appropriate and Christian method for, and order disposal of the tobacco securities owned by the Boards and Agencies of the Presbyterian Church, U. S.

2. WHEREAS, modern progress has brought about rapid communication to almost any spot in the world, it is now feasible to obtain replies from all missionaries, military chaplains, and others working outside the bounds of their Presbyteries within a few days;

WHEREAS, these changed conditions make it reasonable that ordained ministers working outside the bounds of their Presbyteries for the Church should be given the opportunity of expressing themselves on all issues involving constitutional changes and church union;

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Holston respectfully overtures the General Assembly to encourage all Presbyteries to give adequate voice to the opinions and views of each member of Presbytery, present or absent when the court convenes, on all issues involving constitutional changes and church union; and that the Stated Clerk of each Presbytery solicit such views from each member and relate them to the court within the framework of the discussion on such constitutional changes and church union.

To the Standing Committee on Judicial Business, 3-4 (Replies, page 59.)

3. WHEREAS, some of the U.S. and U.P.U.S.A. churches are grouped together in larger parishes so that it is necessary for the U.P.U.S.A. ministers to perform pastoral functions in certain U.S. churches; and

WHEREAS, the performance of these functions is seriously hindered by present provisions of the Book of Church Order;

THEREFORE, the Synod of Missouri respectfully overtures the 100th General Assembly to include in the Revised Book of Church Order provisions as follows:

Add to Paragraph 62: In certain exceptional cases the Presbytery authorize a minister of the Presbyterian Church U.P.U.S.A. to supply a church and have authority to act as moderator of its Session, without the right to vote.

Add to Paragraph 149: In cases where Presbytery has authorized a minister of the Presbyterian Church U.P.U.S.A. to supply a church, the congregation shall be permitted to elect him to moderate congregational meetings, without the right to vote.

4. At its last meeting June 30-July 1, 1959, the Synod of Virginia on the second day of business, adopted the following overture to the General Assembly:

"That Synod overture the General Assembly concerning the Revision of the Book of Church Order that additions and changes be made in the Revision as follows:

In Chapter 16, par. 7, item (12)—after "installing" insert "dismissing" to read "except ordaining, installing, and dismissing."

In Chapter 16, par. 7, item (13)—add the sentence "When both parties are agreed in dissolution of a pastoral relationship, the minister's request being concurred in by the church, or churches, concerned, Presbytery may empower the Commission on the Minister and His Work to dissolve the pastoral relations and authorize the Stated Clerk to issue a certificate of transfer."

In Chapter 18, par. 1—change to read "A Committee of a church court is appointed either to study and recommend or to carry into effect decisions already made by the court. Its recommendations require action by the court, but its report of carrying out court decisions entrusted to it needs to receive no further action by the court."

In Chapter 19, par. 2, 3rd sentence beginning "The only" changed to read: "The only matters that may be properly committed to a Commission are (1) ordaining, installing, and dismissing of ministers, (2) . . ." changing numbering in order.

In Chapter 19, par. 2, item (1)—change to read "A Commission which has been appointed to visit some portion of the Church affected with disorder shall conduct a thorough investigation, and render its decision on the basis of the facts discovered. Its decision shall be submitted to the appointing court and its minutes admitted to record as the action of the court."

In Chapter 20, par. 5—delete the word "preliminary"—in par. 7 delete the words "merely" and "preliminary" in the second sentence, and beginning with "This" in the third sentence delete the end of the paragraph—in par. 8 delete "preliminary" in the first sentence and "if confirmed by the General Assembly" in the last sentence, and delete pars. 9, 10, and 11.

In Chapter 21, title—change "Committee" to "Commission" and comply with the same change throughout the chapter—in par. 1, at the end of the paragraph add "except that it shall be three ministers and one ruling elder when visiting churches to correct disorder."

In Chapter 21, par. 2, item (5), second par.—change to read "The Commission shall exercise a wise discretion in determining when to take cognizance of the information concerning difficulties within a church. First, the Commission on its own initiative shall bring the matter to the attention of the Session involved. It shall counsel with the Session as to proper steps to be taken in correcting the reported difficulties. Second, should the Session either find itself unable to settle the matter peaceably, or take no steps toward settlement, it is the responsibility of the Commission to visit the church for the purpose of enquiring into the difficulties, and to counsel with the parties concerned, looking toward a reconciliation. Third, if the first two steps fail to produce the desired results, the Commission may act to correct the difficulties, with the full authority of Presbytery, if requested to do so by both parties concerned. Fourth, if the first three steps fail to resolve the matter, the Commission shall report it to Presbytery for such action as the Presbytery shall deem best."

To the Standing Committee on Assembly's Office, 5-6 (Replies, page 60.)

5. Overture from the Presbytery of Upper Missouri:

WHEREAS, The statistical reports of the General Assembly regarding churches, Presbyteries and Synods do not always give a clear or a useful picture, be it therefore resolved that:

The General Assembly direct the General Council to restudy these reports and revise same in such a way that:

1. members received on reaffirmation be separated from those received on certificate;
 2. contribution be listed by causes rather than lumped in major categories.
6. South Texas Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to change its procedure regarding annual publication of Assembly's Minutes and Reports, to include a free copy to every church with a vacant pulpit, at time of delivery.

To the Standing Committee on Christian Relations, 7-8, 29 (Replies, page 75.)

7. The Presbytery of Potomac overtures the General Assembly asking that Court to remind the Boards of Trustees of the institutions which are within the concern, support and jurisdiction of its member Synods of the former action of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, urging the opening of the doors of our institutions to qualified students without regard to social distinctions; and to urge upon these Synods and these Boards of Trustees that they consider the implementation of this action with decisiveness and dispatch.

8. The Presbytery of Potomac overtures the General Assembly asking that Court to reassert our Christian understanding of freedom which underlies our historical position that no authority, ecclesiastical or otherwise, can bind the individual conscience on matters of personal decision such as birth control.

Further, we ask the General Assembly to study and to declare itself to the members of the churches of our denomination concerning our Christian understanding of responsibility which underlies the principle of planned parenthood.

Finally, we request the General Assembly to make its declaration available to the Church as promptly as practicable, within the limits of this year's session if that is possible.

29. WHEREAS, We are convinced that the decision of the General Assembly does not express the opinion of the membership and presbyteries in regards to segregation or desegregation;

AND WHEREAS, the membership is the most deeply and vitally concerned with the consequences of such a decision;

AND WHEREAS, the membership has had little or no voice in the Assembly's deliberations and are thus being forced into a delicate situation that is not a result of their choosing;

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Florida respectfully and prayerfully overtures the General Assembly in session in the Riverside Presbyterian Church, Jacksonville, Florida, April 28-May 4, 1960, to present the question of segregation or desegregation to the several Presbyteries of the Assembly for their consideration and vot before the 1961 session of the Assembly and that this vote be accepted as the opinion of the Presbyterian Church, U. S.

We suggest three alternatives in the voting:

1. For segregation.....
2. For desegregation.....
3. That the Church abstain from expressing any opinion.....

To the Standing Committee on Inter-Church Relations, 9-10 (Replies, page 77.)

9. WHEREAS, the United Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America are now united;

WHEREAS, we, the Presbyterian Church, U. S., were the initiators of the original proposal for a three way union, from which we drew back;

WHEREAS, the year 1961 will be the Centennial of our beginning as a regional church;

WHEREAS, it is deeply pressing upon our consciences, that in this our Centennial Season of Spiritual Devotions, we can only propose cooperation with the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America;

WHEREAS, in its recent meeting, the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America extended an open invitation to other Presbyterian bodies; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the Presbytery of the Southwest overture the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to appoint an ad interim committee to enter into negotiations with, and prepare a plan for union with, the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

10. WHEREAS, it appears that many advantages might be claimed by the organic union between the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, both in our common mission to this nation and in our mission abroad; be it therefore

RESOLVED, that the Presbytery of Brazos does hereby overture the 100th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States meeting April 28, 1960 and following in Jacksonville, Florida to appoint an appropriate committee to enter into negotiations with, and to prepare a plan for union, and to take all appropriate steps to inform our church of the advantages of union with the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

To the Standing Committee on Annuities and Relief, 11-13 (Replies, page 64.)

11. The Presbytery of Kings Mountain respectfully overtures the General Assembly meeting in the Riverside Presbyterian Church, Jacksonville, Florida, April 28, 1960:

To amend the Official Plan of the Ministers Annuity Fund, so that paragraph 11 shall read: "The widow's annuity shall cease upon death or remarriage, unless her remarriage be to a member of the Annuity Fund; in which case the widow shall again become eligible for her annuity, if and when the Minister member of the Annuity Fund dies." (See paragraph 29, "Right to alter or amend".)

12. The Presbytery of Winston-Salem respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States in assembly at Jacksonville, Florida, April 28, 1960, to amend the official plan of the Ministers' Annuity Fund so that to the sentence "The widow's annuity shall cease upon death or remarriage" in paragraph 11 shall be added "unless her remarriage be to a member of the Annuity Fund; in which case the widow shall again become eligible for her annuity if and when the Minister member of the Annuity Fund dies."

13. Overture from the Synod of Virginia:

WHEREAS, we recognize with gratitude the excellent progress made in recent years in the Ministers' Annuity program and in the liberalization of grants under the relief and old age insurance; and

WHEREAS, though we recognize that the Board of Annuities and Relief must maintain a sound financial policy, yet it is the responsibility of Presbyteries to exercise ecclesiastical authority over all its ministers and churches; and

WHEREAS, no workable solution has been found to harmonize those two areas of responsibility; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, (1) That the Synod of Virginia request that there be made a re-study of the place of the retired minister and his duties; both because of the need of the church for the services of these men, and because of the welfare of the minister himself.

 (2) That this study be made by a joint committee composed of members of the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work and the Board of Annuities and Relief."

To the Standing Committee on Education, 14-18 (Replies, page 81.)

14. WHEREAS, the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., now publishes Church School materials on a quarterly system, beginning with January 1st; and

WHEREAS, this present schedule works a hardship upon the program of the Church School, for the following reasons:

- a. The present quarter system does not coincide with the school year; and
- b. It is difficult to promote classes except at the beginning of a new quarter of materials, and two of the quarters begin in the first of July—when attendance is very low—and the first of October—when school has been in session for a month; and
- c. The number of materials needed in June, July and August are not as great as those needed for May and September in most Churches; and

WHEREAS, many important units of materials are often given in the summer months when many are absent, thus missing valuable material necessary for succeeding studies; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the Presbytery of Florida respectfully overtures the General Assembly to instruct the Board of Christian Education to publish its Church School materials on a quarterly system which coincides with the school year (September-November; December-February; March-May; June-August), and it further overtures the General Assembly to request the Board to study the possibility of publishing "single unit" lessons during the summer months when attendance is lowest in most Church Schools.

15. The Presbytery of Meridian overtures the General Assembly to take steps toward the preparation of a companion volume to "The Hymnbook," similar to the "Handbook to the Hymnal" published by the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education in 1935 and 1946.

16. The Presbytery of Appomattox meeting in its stated session on January 26, 1960, at the First Presbyterian Church in Danville, Va., hereby overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., to the following effect:

"In view of the critical shortage of ordained Ministers in our Church, we respectfully overture the General Assembly to instruct its Board of Christian Education to consider the possibility of employing fully qualified DIRECTORS OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION as REGIONAL DIRECTORS OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION when and as vacancies may occur in these positions; to the end that ordained Ministers may thus be made available for the Pastorate."

17. WHEREAS, many of the finest young people in our churches are being aggressively sought for participation in non-denominational youth movements to the detriment of their active life within the fellowship of our own or any other Church; and

WHEREAS, these youth movements are entirely outside the established or accredited forms of denominational or interdenominational Church life and so are ecclesiastically irresponsible as to their teachings and program; and

WHEREAS, many of our parents are uninformed as to the nature of these movements and their teachings, and so are unable to counsel wisely with their children; and

WHEREAS, many of our influential laymen become sponsors of these movements in their localities, investing their energy and means to promote these causes without the advantages of a full knowledge of their effect and disconnection with the life of the Church; and

WHEREAS, pastors and sessions are also often not in position to give accurate and broad judgment concerning the total life and teachings of these movements as they move into and develop within their communities;

THEREFORE, The Presbytery of Northeast Texas, assembly at the West Shore Presbyterian Church, Dallas, Texas, on Tuesday, January 26, 1960, hereby overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, meeting in Riverside Presbyterian Church, Jacksonville, Florida, on April 28, 1960, to appoint or select an Ad Interim Committee to make a careful study of the life and teachings of, and recommend a declaratory statement to the General Assembly at a subsequent meeting, concerning the following non-denominational youth movements and any others that may come to the attention of the Committee: Youth for Christ, Young Life, Word of Life, Youth on the March, Inter-varsity Fellowship, Child Evangelism Fellowship, Navigators.

18. Orange Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., at its One Hundredth Stated Meeting to develop and promote a special program during the coming year confronting youth with the great challenge and need for more ministers and missionaries.

To the Standing Committee on Women's Work, 19-20 (Replies, page 89.)

19. WHEREAS, the official year of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., begins January 1 and concludes December 31; and

WHEREAS; church officers and officers of most church organizations are elected and follow the church year; and

WHEREAS, the program emphasis of the Church is set for the Church year; and

WHEREAS, confusion and misunderstanding can easily arise in local churches when church organizations follow a different date for their church years, particularly in churches that follow a unified budget, have printed or mimeographed directories and church bulletins, use the Presbyterian plan book; etc.,

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of the Southwest hereby overtures the 100th General Assembly to direct the Board of Women's Work to set the calendar work year of the Women of the Church from January 1 through December 31 in keeping with the official Church year of the Presbyterian Church, U. S.

20. WHEREAS, the recent change in the program year of the Women of the Church has brought confusion on all levels in the Church; and

WHEREAS, this change tends to further separate the program of the Women of the Church from the total Church program; and

WHEREAS, in effect not only the "program year" but also the fiscal year is altered by this change (as per letter to ministers from the Program Department of the Board of Women's Work, signed by Evelyn L. Green, dated December 9, 1959);

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of John Knox respectfully overtures the General Assembly to instruct the Board of Women's Work to cause their program and work year to coincide with the official Church year beginning January 1 and ending December 31.

To the Standing Committee on World Missions, 21-24 (Replies, page 72.)

21. South Texas Presbytery respectfully overtures the General Assembly to make the fullest possible study concerning mission policy and strategy as manifested and implied in the overture from the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

22. WHEREAS, the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico, meeting in General Assembly in 1959 in Cuernavaca, Mexico, resolved "that the Churches or ecclesiastical bodies in foreign countries that now have relations with our Church through missionary work formulate an agreement by which they recognize this as a body divinely constituted and properly organized; consequently that their business in the future should be carried on with the Council of the General Assembly of the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico"; and

WHEREAS, the same Church at the same General Assembly resolved "that the organizations and churches in the United States which have missions in our country be asked to name representatives to work with a Commission of our General Assembly on future relations with our National Presbyterian Church of Mexico,"

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Northeast Texas, assembled at the West Shore Presbyterian Church, Dallas, Texas, on Tuesday, January 26, 1960, hereby overtures the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, meeting in Riverside Presbyterian Church, Jacksonville, Florida, on April 28, 1960, that the Presbyterian Church in the United States recognize again the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico as a body divinely constituted and properly organized; furthermore, that this General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States name representatives to work with a Commission of the General Assembly of the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico and a Conference of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., on future relations between these Churches.

23. WHEREAS, the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico is eighty-seven years old; and

WHEREAS, said church seems to feel that it is unduly limited by and subject to the control of the Mission of the Presbyterian Church, U. S.; and

WHEREAS, said church in the 1959 meeting of the General Assembly, after much soul searching, unanimously resolved to request the General Assembly to permit the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico to achieve its full and rightful dignity as an adult member of the family of the Presbyterian Churches of the World;

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Central Texas, from its proximate geographical location to the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico advises that it concurs heartily in the request of our Mexican brethren and respectfully overtures the General Assembly to consider favorably the request of the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico, to wit: "That the organizations and churches in the United States which have missions in our country be asked to name representatives to work with a commission of our General Assembly on future relations with our National Presbyterian Church of Mexico."

24. WHEREAS, the Church of Jesus Christ is facing a world in revolution; and

WHEREAS, political, economic, social, technological, and ideological re-orientation has been necessary on all frontiers; and

WHEREAS, revolutionary factors have forced many branches of Christendom to re-think the whole philosophy of World Missions;

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Central Texas respectfully overtures the General Assembly to appoint an Ad Interim Committee composed of persons other than Executives and members of the Boards and Agencies of the General Assembly to study the whole philosophy of World Missions and to report to the 1961 General Assembly concerning its findings along with recommendations to strengthen our witness to the World.

To the Standing Committee on the General Council, 25-28 (Replies, page 57.)

25. WHEREAS, the tithe is being very vigorously preached and taught to be the minimum standard of giving for the believer, and often presented as the infallible guarantee of divine blessing, spiritually and materially; and

WHEREAS, the Biblical subject of the tithe is a very complex matter; and

WHEREAS, the bulk of literature relating to the tithe to Christian Stewardship is of a promotional nature, and scholarly treatments are wanting; the specific practice is not mentioned in any Reformed Standard, nor treated in commentaries on the Standards, nor in expositions of the evangelical duty as summarized in the Decalogue, nor in presentations of the Christian way of life; and

WHEREAS, the presentation of obligatory tithing is a phenomenon largely confined to American Christianity; and

WHEREAS, the pronouncements of our own General Assembly have varied considerably over the years, ranging from recommending the tithe "... as suggestive and useful in all matters of Christian giving" (in 1891) to declining "... to fix that proportion, which under the Gospel, has been left to the enlightened conscience of the individual in the exercise of 'the liberty wherewith Christ has made us free' ..." (in 1909), to "... though the Bible makes more than one suggestion as to what and how we should give, it in no case names a smaller proportion than the tithe" (in 1924) to recommending (in 1943) "... the duty of man to set aside a definite portion of income, beginning with one-tenth, as belonging peculiarly to God ..." and "... That ... the whole question of tithing be kept in the foreground, not as mandatory, but as a Christian privilege."

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Louisiana respectfully overtures the General Assembly to appoint a committee of Biblical and theological scholars within the church to ascertain the Biblical teaching concerning the tithe as it bears upon Christian practice today, to formulate a theology of stewardship, and to present the fruits of its labors to the church.

26. WHEREAS, it is necessary that many campaigns for capital funds for our Church's institutions and agencies be conducted;

WHEREAS, there is a manifest need for correlating these campaigns, not only to one another, but to the whole field of Stewardship in the local churches and in the various presbyteries and synods and in the General Assembly;

WHEREAS, all the beneficiaries of these campaigns will profit from long-range planning, and such planning would enable local churches to bring order into what is becoming a bewildering and confusing situation, even though such plans may have to be revised from time to time;

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Holston respectfully overtures the General Assembly to take appropriate action so that the General Council will publish annually a ten-year forecast of Capital Funds Campaigns for General Assembly causes.

27. WHEREAS, supplementary offerings for World Missions and Church Extension, two Special Offerings authorized by the General Assembly, as well as the Birthday offering of the Women of the Church, are all crowded in the three months of March, April and May; and

WHEREAS, the month of May is always filled with local activities leading to Commencements in Schools and Colleges; and

WHEREAS, the placing of the season for Church Extension in the month of May was understood to be a tentative experiment, which has not proved satisfactory to the Churches or Organizations within the bounds of Pee Dee Presbytery;

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Pee Dee respectfully overtures the General Assembly to direct the General Council to return the Season for Church Extension to the month of October.

28. The Presbytery of Suwannee at its Stated Fall Meeting on October 20, 1959, in the Grace Presbyterian Church, Gainesville, Florida, overtures the General Assembly to restore to the fall season the Church-wide emphasis on Church Extension.

Whereas, recent charges have been brought against certain church leaders who are associated with the National Council of Churches, which charges carry the dangerous implication as to possible communist relationship, and

Whereas, these charges are either generally stated as in the instance of the Air Force Manual, or specifically stated in such publications as printed by the group called Circuit Riders, or specifically voiced by such men as Major Edgar Bundy or Carl McIntyre, and

Whereas, the Presbyterian Church, U.S., is a member of the National Council of Churches and therefore intensely concerned with such charges,

BE IT RESOLVED that this General Assembly, through the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations, investigate these charges and bring back its report to the Assembly in 1961.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, our Confession of Faith teaches that "Synods and councils are to handle nothing but that which is ecclesiastical: and are not to meddle with civil affairs which concern the commonwealth unless by way of humble petition in cases extraordinary; or by way of advice for satisfaction of conscience, if they be thereunto required by the civil magistrate."

AND WHEREAS, The National Council of Churches, its Commissions, and its Conferences make pronouncements on such matters as the alleged desirability of recognizing Red China, against the right to work legislation, against capital punishment, in favor of increasing the control of the Federal Government, its courts and its commissions, over the States, and these pronouncements are issued in the public press as the acts of the National Council of Churches and of its member Churches including our own,

AND WHEREAS our Book of Church Order provides that our Presbyterian Church in the U.S. cannot unite with any other ecclesiastical body except by vote of three-fourths of the presbyteries, and such a vote was not taken in uniting with the National Council of Churches (or the Federal Council), and yet this Council is an ecclesiastical body sending down to its member Church a particular version of the Bible (RSV), educational and promotional literature, and international, political, economical and sociological directions,

THEREFORE, be it resolved that this General Assembly direct its Permanent Committee on Interchurch Relations to appoint an ad-interim committee of six ruling elders who are mature lawyers or judges to consider the question as to whether or not it is constitutional for our Church to be a member of the National Council of Churches and whether or not we united with this Council in a constitutional manner, and to report their findings and recommendations to the next General Assembly.

The Assembly met at 8:30 A.M. and was led in a service of worship by Rev. William I. Board.

The Minutes of last night's session were read and approved.

Rev. J. Leighton Scott and Rev. William T. Baker were presented to the Assembly as men who were present at the 1909 meeting of the Assembly as pages. Mr. Baker presented to the Assembly, for the Historical Foundation, a volume of addresses delivered at the 1909 Assembly commemorating the three hundredth anniversary of John Calvin. He also presented a picture of John Calvin engraved on a piece of wood from the church in which Calvin preached in Geneva.

The Assembly adopted a special order for 12:20 today for the purpose of hearing the names of ministers who have died during the last year.

REPORT OF THE RETIRING MODERATOR

The report of the Retiring Moderator, together with a paper "A Message to the Nation", was received and ordered printed. The report and paper are as follows:

MODERATOR'S REPORT TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Jacksonville, Florida

I

The Moderator of the General Assembly is historically the officer who presides over the deliberations of the Assembly and who carries out such other duties, ceremonial or appointive for the most part, as it may assign him. In recent years more has come to be expected of the Moderator. He travels widely through the church. He is invited to speak before a variety of gatherings. He is pressed for an opinion on a multitude of subjects. He is quoted, more or less accurately, in and out of context, by the newspapers. He is consulted, advised, admonished, and blamed; but treated generally with a courtesy, a consideration and a deference which might lead one to overlook his natural limitations, if mercifully his term of office were not limited to a period of twelve months.

In the fulfillment of my duties I have traveled this year approximately 60,000 miles. Six weeks I was in Brazil, attending a meeting of the North Brazil Mission, visiting preaching points, churches, and schools, participating in the World Alliance of Reformed Churches throughout the World Holding the Presbyterian Order, and representing the General Assembly at the Centennial observance of Presbyterianism in Brazil. On invitation I visited and addressed the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Mexico. In addition to numerous briefer excursions through the year, I drove for three months with my wife through the South, visiting each of our sixteen synods, speaking almost daily, often two or three times and occasionally even four times a day. I have spoken, or will speak, at all of our theological seminaries and at four others outside the borders of our General Assembly. I have visited twenty-two other institutions of higher learning, including all but five of those related to our own church, and have spoken to the students and faculty of most. I have preached practically every Sunday. I have addressed synods, presbyteries, gatherings of men, women, young people and Presbyterians generally representing a church, a district, a presbytery, or a synod. I have given radio addresses, talked over long-distance telephone hookups, and appeared occasionally and briefly on television. I have attended a conference in Washington, being briefed by the President and by members of the State Department. I have visited the headquarters and conferred with officials of the National Council of Churches, and spent a morning with the administrative heads of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., speaking later at a luncheon given in honor of the Moderators of the two Presbyterian General Assemblies to a large and representative group of leaders in and about New York City. I have met with individual leaders of the A.R.P. and Cumberland Presbyterian Churches.

Numerous invitations of course I have been compelled to decline. A number of these at my request were graciously accepted by former Moderators of the General Assembly. One of the most important of these was the invitation to share in the annual Communion service held at the National Presbyterian Church in Washington and attended by President Eisenhower and other Presbyterians high in the government service. Our church was represented here by former Moderator Dr. W. Taliaferro Thompson.

The increasing calls for the Moderator's service have rendered the provisions adopted by the General Assembly (see General Assembly Minutes, 1959, p. 175) somewhat unrealistic. Only through the generosity of the institution at which I teach have I been free to accept the engagements open to me. It would be well, in my judgment, if the whole question were reconsidered and some new procedures were adopted whereby the Moderator of the General Assembly could be used to the best advantage of the entire church, at home and abroad.

I have been impressed this year by the continued growth of our church. We are not growing so rapidly as many of the newer sects, as rapidly as the Mormon church, which is now planting its stakes in most of our southern cities, or as the Southern Baptist Convention, which a generation ago won the countryside from which most of our population increase is derived; but we are growing more rapidly than most of the older and more mature churches in America. Evidence of this growth is seen on every hand. New buildings are being erected and old structures are being renovated. Most of the newer structures follow conventional forms of architecture. A few, however, have made excellent use of contemporary forms. The hurried and precipitate retreat of downtown churches to the suburbs seems to have been halted. Many of our great downtown churches are erecting plants which will hold them to their communities and enable them to serve the people in their neighborhood and more distant points for many years to come. The great bulk of our increase, however, comes from the newer churches being erected in the suburbs. We are building now with far wiser strategy than a few years ago. The most successful churches are those planted after a careful survey has been made and adequate help has been given, financially and otherwise, by presbyteries and by neighboring churches and pastors. It must be recognized, however, that due to lack of funds or of foresight we are failing to enter scores of communities where churches are needed, and where, in a few years, a self-supporting Presbyterian church could be developed.

Fifty per cent or more of the people now entering our growing suburban churches come from non-Presbyterian backgrounds, which means that they need, and generally welcome, training in Presbyterian practice and belief. The vast majority come from middle and upper-income brackets, from the white collar business and professional classes, with a high percentage of high school and college graduates. We have not been so successful in reaching industrial workers and those in the lower-income brackets. With some notable exceptions we have made very little effort to reach this important and growing segment of our population. We have not been overly successful either in ministering to the growing number of Presbyterian students in our state institutions, and this in spite of improved facilities and a corps of able and dedicated men who are devoting themselves to a campus ministry. There is need here for closer cooperation between home pastor and the church and student center on the campus.

The growth of our church at home is paralleled, if not surpassed, by the growth of our missionary enterprise overseas. This is evidenced not only by the growth of our missions per se, but even more by the growth of the national churches to whose growth our missions continue to contribute. This growth has been dramatized this past year by the centennial observance held in Japan and Brazil and by the formation of an autonomous, self-governing ecclesiastical body in the Congo (the "Church of Christ in the Kasai"). Along with the encouragement afforded by these spectacular events have come other developments which reveal need for the highest degree of wisdom and understanding on the part of the Board, missions, and Presbyterians generally—the schism, only partially healed, in the Presbyterian Church of Korea; tribal rivalry affecting our newly organized church in the Congo; and the debate in the Presbyterian Church of Mexico regarding the relation of church and mission. The request of our sister Assembly in this latter land, we may assume, will meet with a hearty response from our own General Assembly.

II

As I have traveled through the church, I have been impressed not only by its growth, but also by its educational advance. That is evidenced, among other ways, by the erection of educational buildings and, more significantly, by the increased attention given to adult education: to the training of officers, to the instruction of new members coming into the church, to the organization of elective classes in the form of special study groups, on Sunday morning, afternoon or evening on week nights, in private homes and at the church, under the leadership of the minister and of qualified laymen who take their responsibilities seriously. Of basic importance here is the appearance of the Layman's Bible Commentary, (published by the John Knox Press), whose first two volumes, Introduction to the Bible and Genesis, are being widely studied this year in our churches. Church libraries, stocked and kept up to date by purchases of current volumes of scholarly competence and used increasingly by Bible teachers and others, are more widely in evidence than ever before. In these and other ways serious Bible study, at a more mature level than that which has hitherto prevailed, is being encouraged and carried on in our church. As a consequence there is reason for hope that we shall have congregations better instructed and more spiritually literate than we have had for many generations. Of interest here are the plans now being made for one or more lay schools of theology at Montreat. This growing emphasis on adult education can be expected to receive reinforcement by the completion of the new curriculum now in process of preparation by the Board of Christian Education, which will indeed breathe new vitality into our educational program as a whole.

There has been educational advance not only in the local church, but also in our institutions of higher learning. The formation of two new colleges in recent years, one in North Carolina and the other in Florida, are heartening events. A few of our older colleges have received endowments and have developed programs that have won national recognition. Most all have added to their educational facilities in recent years and are facing the future with new hopes and with challenging programs of advance. It should be recognized, however, that despite what has been accomplished, much more needs to be done. The Presbyterian Church has not yet recovered the position of educational leadership which it held without serious challenge for so many generations. At the present time and in spite of recent gains, we do not support our educational institutions as generously as do other denominations whose educational interest is of more recent development.

The theological seminaries of our church, along with the Presbyterian School of Christian Education, are more strongly manned and supported than ever before in our history. Of special interest this past year is the success of the financial campaign waged by Columbia Theological Seminary and the imminent removal of Louisville Theological Seminary to a new and more beautiful location, with building and equipment to match. Union and Austin Theological Seminaries have ambitious plans in the offing. In a recent pamphlet, Dr. Hunter B. Blakely has emphasized anew the continuing claims which these important institutions have upon the interest of the church.

III

I have been greatly impressed this year by the increasing interest of laymen in the work of the church, by the number of laymen who have entered the full-time service of the church, often at a great financial sacrifice; by the growing readiness of laymen to serve the church in their vocations and to give money and effort to the specialized work of the church; by the growing recognition of laymen's place in the church, the growing recognition that laymen are indeed, along with the ministers, the people of God. This may prove to be the most important movement now taking place in the life of the church. It is more significant in that it is a movement not confined to our own denomination, but actually one that is world-wide in its dimensions, a movement whose roots run far back into the life of the church, but whose growth has been stimulated by a more serious study of the Bible and of the growing recognition that only by such a ministry can the Gospel be brought to bear upon many aspects of our modern life.

In this connection we may congratulate ourselves on the men and women, ministers and laymen, who in recent years have accepted places of leadership in the church. Of a special significance this past year is the drafting of the Rev. Grier Davis, D.D., as President of the Mountain Retreat Association, under whose capable leadership Montreat and its institutions may be expected to serve the church more widely than ever before; the election of Miss Evelyn Green, who has served the Women of the Church so well in years past, to the important post of Secretary of the Board of Women's Work; the assumption of the enlarged and highly important responsibilities of the Office of Stated Clerk by the Rev. Dr. James A. Millard, Jr. The church may rejoice also in the election of the Rev. Ansley Moore as President of the Consolidated Presbyterian College at Laurinburg, North Carolina.

IV

As I have traveled through the church, I have been impressed anew by its vigor and health, and by the readiness of our people as a whole to move toward the goals which have been set by the General Assembly. Different points of view, of course, persist, and will be evidenced no doubt in the debates before the General Assembly, but we may expect these debates to be held in a Christian spirit, without rancor, and without hurt to the cause of Christ, rather to the clarification of issues and to the formation of a more positive and compelling program.

There is indeed a small group distrustful of the total leadership of our church; its anonymous pamphlets have been widely distributed among our membership and have disturbed individual laymen here and there, but its influence on the whole has been negligible, and can be disregarded.

In some parts of our church, however, serious tensions have developed. Theological differences and divergent views concerning the nature and the mission of the church cause financial support to be withheld from the great benevolent enterprises of the church and support to be directed to alien institutions. Suspicions are spread and pockets of bitterness are created which become festering wounds in the body of Christ.

The most important question on which our people are divided is the race question. In some areas, unfortunately, the issue is not debatable. Feeling runs too high, and church and community assume that traditional patterns are not subject to change. And yet, even in these areas where sentiment seems most adamant, there are many who detect a stirring of the Christian conscience, a growing recognition that change is inevitable, and that the church must play a part in directing this change, in reconciling races as well as individuals, rather than in striving merely to maintain the status quo. The church, I am convinced, through its ministers and through innumerable laymen, is doing far more to bring about a Christian solution of the problem that perplexes us than is generally recognized. The problem is one that cries for attention, for the place of the Negro in our Christian and democratic civilization is one that affects not only the body politic, but in innumerable ways the life of the church; and neither church nor society will be able to function with maximum efficiency until the problem is resolved and the present tensions relaxed.

But is the pulpit free to deal with this and other issues in our contemporary life? The answer is not clear. The situation varies in different areas and in different churches within the same area. There are those who seek to coerce the minister in his task of bringing God's word to bear on the conscience of our generation. And there is reason to fear that some congregations (and presbyteries) will sacrifice, have sacrificed indeed, a minister even though it jeopardizes the freedom of the pulpit in order to preserve peace and harmony within the local church. This is a matter to which ministers and elders alike need to give serious consideration.

V

The interest of the present General Assembly will be centered mainly on the reports of the General Council, the five major boards and other agencies of the church. Out of their recommendations comes the forward-moving program of the church. Important also are the reports of the various permanent and ad interim committees. Included here is the Committee on the Revision of the Book of Church Order which presents a second revision of the Form of Government and a revision of the Rules of Discipline to the General Assembly for its approval and submission to the presbyteries; the Committee on Christianity and Health, which offers another helpful study for all concerned with the problems of sickness and health; the Committee on Christian Relations, which reports by order of the last General Assembly on a question of vital significance to both church and nation; the Committee on Inter-Church Relations, which gives too brief glimpses of the vast cooperative effort carried on by the World Council and the National Council of Churches, and of which our church as a whole is woefully ignorant; and the Centennial Committee with its final recommendations for the celebration of our 100th anniversary, to be considered in connection with the careful plans which have been made by our Division of Evangelism for the Mission to the Nation, which shall occupy our attention during the first three months of the Centennial year.

This year, which marks the 400th anniversary of the organization of the Presbyterian Church in Scotland, is a jubilee year for Presbyterians throughout the world. In view of this fact, the Moderators of the General Assemblies of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. have invited a group of eminent theologians drawn from our two communions to prepare with them a Message to the Nation against the background of our Reformed Faith. This Message which will be formally presented in due time to the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. is now presented as a part of this report to this General Assembly and so to the nation.

Ernest Trice Thompson

A MESSAGE TO THE NATION

(Received and Ordered Printed.)

On the occasion of the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the Scottish Reformation we, a joint committee appointed by the Moderators of two communions sharing this heritage and grateful for their common tradition, address ourselves to the nation where God has set us to labor in the ministry of His Son.

We recall in this Jubilee Year the figures of John Calvin and John Knox and their witness to the truth that sets men free. We remember how Calvin transformed a city through his proclamation of the Gospel and his concern for the whole counsel of God, and we are reminded how Knox summoned the Church to be the instrument of Scotland's renewal. Nor do we forget that our fathers in this land, imbued with the same faith and filled with the same concern, sought to establish a nation under God that would take seriously His will for men and be an example in liberty and justice for all.

We confess that the voice of our churches within this tradition has not always been clear, that our witness is often divided, and that we are involved in today's crisis and today's guilt.

We acknowledge the revolutionary character of the age in which we are set and the urgent necessity to deal creatively and forthrightly with problems in magnitude beyond anything that has been known to man.

We proclaim our faith in Jesus Christ as the sovereign Lord of history and our joy that today's revolutionary situation offers the possibility of confronting all life with Jesus Christ.

In the midst of this epoch we dare to address the nation in the confidence that it too, like the Church, is ordained of God and has a ministry to perform. In fidelity to the Word of God we bring to your attention God's claim upon the world, His offer of forgiveness, and His summons to service.

I. This is God's World

We affirm and rejoice in the assurance that this world is created, sustained and controlled by the God revealed in Jesus Christ.

God is the ruler of the universe. The so-called "space-age" in which we live means, not that God is banished, but only that the scientist has used gifts conferred upon him by his creator to unlock some of the secrets of His world. When he sunders an atom or weighs an unseen star, he is but writing a footnote to the Psalmist's words: "The heavens are telling the glory of God; and the firmament proclaims His handiwork." (Psalm 19:1.)

God is the Lord of history. In the disquieting course of human affairs today, with evil forces arising to disillusion the faithful and darken the fair face of hope, we cannot forget that in some of history's most somber hours God's mighty works have justified men's assurance that "The Lord Our God, the Almighty reigns." (Revelation 19:5.) We are confident today that, while we cannot descry the course of future events, the ruler of all our yesterdays is likewise the Lord of all our tomorrows. Despite all that seems to belie it, we are sustained by the faith that God is working out His purposes in our own troubled time.

II. Man, Created in the Divine Image, has Sinned Against God

We proclaim the Biblical truth that all men are created by God in His image, called to Sonship and service and made the objects of His redeeming love in Christ.

Every human being, therefore, is clothed with a dignity and endowed with rights which only God can give or take away. Under God men are equal in dignity, rights and worth, despite the disparity in their gifts, the variations in race, the differences in language and the distinctions of social, economic and national status. Moreover God made man, and deals with him, as a morally responsible person whom He summons to obey His holy will.

It is the human tragedy that men have been universally disobedient, that they have rebelled against God, that "all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God." (Romans 3:23.) As a consequence, they forfeit the fellowship with God. He created them to enjoy and live alienated from Him and from each other and wrongly related to the world.

III. God Offers Forgiveness through Christ

In mercy which only God could show, He came to this earth in the person of His son, took upon Himself the nature of man, suffered death on the cross and rose again from the dead to redeem His estranged children. In humbly obeying the Father's will even unto death He bore the penalty of our sins. In resisting all temptation He won the victory over sin and in His glorious resurrection He triumphed over death. To all who repent of their sins and place their trust in Him, God offers forgiveness and restoration to His favor and fellowship.

IV. God Summons us to Obedient Service

1. In Marriage and the Home.

He who created us male and female has also established and sanctified the institution of marriage. The union of man and wife is a sacred and binding relationship, blessed by our Lord Jesus Christ and to be held in honor by all men. Two persons forming this union give to one another a solemn vow and covenant and, acknowledging the divine presence, call God Himself to witness. Thus their union is not theirs lightly to esteem nor lightly to destroy.

We recognize the complexity of the problems, the strains and tensions, to which marriage and the home are subject in our modern culture. We therefore call upon the people of our nation, in the name of God, to accord these institutions the honor and inviolateness He intends them to possess. We remind all those entering this relationship that God commands them to preserve the sanctity of their own home, to recognize each other's dignity and rights in equal measure and, as sinful human beings to whom He offers forgiveness through Christ, to deal in charity with each other's shortcomings and offences.

The sexual relation is the creation of God and is not therefore evil in itself. Within the marital bond it is to be regarded not merely as a means of bringing children into the world but also as a divine provision for the mutual fulfillment of husband and wife.

The God whose creative grace makes possible the blessing of children through marriage likewise vests man and wife with moral responsibility in the exercise of their procreative function. This responsibility is intensified today by what is known as "the population explosion" and the threats to human welfare it involves. The bringing of children into the world is a privilege not to be lightly or selfishly evaded by married couples. On the other hand, the responsibility of prospective parents obligates them to consider well how their children are to be provided with that which will make for their best physical, cultural, moral and spiritual development.

If man and wife are not to be denied mutual fulfillment in the sexual relation, and if society is not to be penalized by the unplanned and irresponsible production of children, it will follow that access to information regarding the best methods of birth control is the right of all married couples, and the provision of this information the duty of a responsible society.

The fact that marriage is ordained of God does not mean that all persons should marry. Nor does it mean that in all cases the fullest life is to be found only in marriage. Under God each person is called to his special service, and in some cases responsible obedience may involve remaining single. The contribution of unmarried persons to the welfare of human society has been an incalculable blessing.

2. In Man's Work.

In a world created and ruled by God, it is the duty and privilege of every person to serve Him in some activity with the gifts he has received. Accordingly, the Apostle Paul said: "Whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God." (I Cor. 10:31.) Thus any worthy labor, whether of hand or brain, may become an individual's divine vocation. There should be no ultimate distinction between sacred and secular vocations—all worthy callings, accepted in the spirit of service to God and man, are sacred.

Any human endeavor may at times grow monotonous and sink to the level of a chore and in this day of mass production, of the assembly line and automation, many tasks may seem trivial and meaningless. But the recognition that all life may be lived to the glory of God can invest the trivial task with meaning and shed upon the meanest chore the light of high purpose.

We are summoned not only to see the significance of our work, but also to deal in love and justice with our confederates in work. We are called to remember that all men, whether representing management or labor, are equally endowed by God with dignity and rights. The command that we love our neighbor as ourselves means at the very least that these two groups, jointly engaged in production or in the service industries, should deal with each other in justice and, in its full dimension, that they should seek each other's welfare.

It is the duty of every individual, whatever his work or his role, to examine his practices and those of his group in the light of God's call to work as a divine vocation and as a service to humanity. This will surely mean that the need and welfare of society as a whole, and not just the interests of separate individuals and groups, will remain a paramount concern.

3. In Race Relations.

"God shows no partiality." (Romans 2:11.) All men are created in His image, equally precious in His sight and the objects of His redeeming love in Christ. God summons us, therefore, to recognize their dignity and equality before the law, acknowledging their right to an equal opportunity for development and service.

No human differences, such as the color of men's skins, can annul the fact of their essential equality or justify any discrimination based on the denial of it. Let us remember also that beyond the call to justice God calls us to love our neighbor as ourselves and to recognize that anyone in any kind of need is our neighbor.

In our land where men of many races, nations and religions are met together we face what is perhaps an unprecedented opportunity to fashion a society which manifests the God-ordained equality of men. We are divinely challenged to resolve the racial tensions that characterize the world, jeopardize its peace and prejudice the development of individuals and racial groups. Foremost in this endeavor should be the church. In her worship and organization and in the institutions to which she is intimately related racial discrimination has no place and all aspects of her life should be governed by love.

4. In International Relations.

It is the will of God that men should live in peace with one another. War is the supreme, the all-inclusive evil in human society. We should, therefore, spare no effort to avoid all misunderstanding, hostility, avarice and national policies that might make for war. Of urgent and crucial importance is the cessation of the race in armaments, especially between our nation and the U.S.S.R.

We are not suggesting that our nation unilaterally disarm, but we call upon her leaders and all her citizens to seek with other peoples every possible means of halting the production of instruments of destruction that threaten the survival of the human race on this planet.

We are not helpless. We call upon the leaders and the citizens of our nation to strive in every way possible to promote good will and to cement friendly relations between our people and the other peoples on the globe. The loyalty and service we owe our own country are best fulfilled when we see ourselves also as citizens of the world, acknowledging our obligation to all men and seeking, under God, a true family of all nations.

V. God Summons us to Repentance

We have fallen far short as a church and as a nation in furthering obedience to God's will in the crucial areas of marriage and the home, of man's work, of race and international relations.

As a church we recognize that judgment begins in the House of the Lord and confess our full involvement in the world's failure and guilt. We have been insensitive, exclusive and often irrelevant. We have been so preoccupied with our forms and programs that we have refused to take seriously our mandate to love and serve the world God loved and for which Christ died. We confess our need for continuing, earnest study of these great issues and, in fidelity to our Reformed Tradition, the church's need for further reformation.

As a nation we acknowledge that we have sometimes been generous, but with mixed motives, and that we have been unwilling to make the costly sacrifices requisite to being a true servant of mankind. We have become soft and undisciplined. We have been more concerned with the threats to our national life from without than we are with the more serious dangers arising from our own lack of integrity. In a day in which world leadership is thrust upon us, we are inadequate to meet its demand.

Let us as a church, as a nation and as individuals heed God's call to repentance and to renewed obedience. Let us realize that the unprecedented temporal blessings we enjoy as favors of God do not necessarily bespeak His approval of our life and conduct. Let us listen to what He may be saying to us through the very forces which have arisen against us and which threaten our security from without and from within. Let us see in the changing order of our day not only God's judgment upon us, but also a reminder of His unfailing mercy and His promise of new possibilities for freedom, order and justice. Let us return to the holy and loving God whose we are in true repentance, in undying hope and in glad obedience. "The time is fulfilled, and the Kingdom of God is at hand; repent and believe in the gospel." (Mark 1:15.)

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL COUNCIL

The following matters have been considered by this committee:

- I. The Minutes of the General Council
- II. The Annual Report of the General Council
- III. The Report of the Permanent Nominating Committee
- IV. Overtures Nos. 25, 26, 27 and 38
- V. Resolution of Appreciation

I. The Minutes of the General Council

Your committee has reviewed the Minutes of the General Council for 1959 and recommends their approval.

II. The Annual Report of the General Council

A. Stewardship Promotion.

- 1. That Christian Stewardship be defined as the practice of systematic and proportionate giving of time, abilities, and material possessions based on the conviction that these are a trust from God, to be used in His service for the benefit of all mankind in grateful acknowledgment of Christ's redeeming love.

2. That stewardship committees be organized in the local churches to plan for and promote on a year-round basis the teaching of Christian Stewardship as an essential part of the Christian way of life.
3. That the Stewardship Emphasis Season begin October 1, 1961, and continue through November 19, 1961; that November 12 be designated as "Dedication Sunday" for the Every Member Canvass; and that the theme of the Canvass be "Commit Thyself."
4. That churches use this season to promote stewardship of time, abilities, and possessions among their members; that they use the Pre-Budget Every Member Canvass as a spiritual and, at the same time, a practical way to promote the stewardship of possessions among their members; and that they undegird through earnest prayer both these seasonal efforts and the year-round teaching of stewardship as an essential part of the Christian way of life.
5. That the tithe be recognized and taught as the minimum Biblical standard of giving for the Christian who would adequately express his gratitude to God for all His mercies to him.
6. That presbyteries provide, with the help of the General Council, training for Every Member Canvass Directors in how to organize and conduct a successful Every Member Canvass.
7. That the members of the General Council and the personnel of the boards and agencies of the General Assembly make themselves available for the promotion of stewardship and the entire church budget during the 1960 Stewardship Season both in presbytery and in local church groups, under the guidance of the General Council.

10. That it be recognized that the foregoing budget, while it represents less than what the agencies of the Assembly have requested in order to do the work the Assembly has asked them to do, represents what the churches can reasonably be expected to give during 1961 if sufficiently challenged.
11. That it be recognized that the foregoing budget represents what the General Assembly feels each of its agencies should receive as a minimum during 1961; that the agencies could use wisely and effectively amounts received beyond this minimum; and that it is the responsibility of each church to see that it secures the full amount of its apportioned share of the support of each agency represented in the General Assembly budget; as well as of each agency represented in the synod and presbytery budgets before making over and above gifts to any causes.
12. That churches, in endeavoring to secure the funds necessary to fulfill the foregoing responsibility, adopt either of the following methods best suited to the local situation:
 - (a) Include in the local budget the total amount asked for each General Assembly, synod, and presbytery agency without the need for supplemental offerings, or
 - (b) Include in the local budget the total amount asked for each General Assembly, synod, and presbytery agency for which no supplemental offering is recommended, and include only a portion of the total amount asked for those agencies for which a supplemental offering is recommended, securing the remainder of the amount asked for such agencies by receiving supplemental offerings.
13. That it be recognized that a "supplemental offering" is an offering used to complete the budget of the agency for which it is recommended, and that a "special offering" is an offering for work not in the budget of any agency.
14. That supplemental offerings, in an effort to meet their regular budgets, be recommended for the following boards of the General Assembly:
 - (a) The Board of World Missions.
 - (b) The Board of Church Extension.
 - (c) The Board of Christian Education.
 - (d) The Board of Annuities and Relief.
15. That a special Easter Offering be received in 1961 for alleviating suffering and need in the name of Christ throughout the world, the funds to be administered by the Board of World Missions through its Department of Overseas Relief and Interchurch Aid for work not included in its budget, working cooperatively with other Protestant denominations in Church World Service, Christian Rural Overseas Program, and the World Council of Churches.

16. That special campaigns for capital funds, approved by Synods and Presbyteries, be undertaken by congregations as additional gifts or as a part of the Benevolence Budget only after the entire Benevolent funds asked of the church have been accepted in full.
17. That local church treasurers and presbytery treasurers remit their benevolence contributions on a monthly basis and that local church sessions give consideration to making the contribution to benevolences the first responsibility to be paid by the church treasurer each month.
18. That the same procedure for providing Survey support, namely by the boards and agencies of the General Assembly assuming the support on a cost basis proportionate to their share in the General Assembly benevolence budget, be continued.
19. That a voluntary Centennial offering be taken in the churches on Sunday, October 15, 1961, one-half of the total received to be used in helping our sister churches where they have suffered from war or other disasters and one-half to be used in the promotion of evangelism.
20. Whereas, after a study of over two years the General Council is convinced that the boards and agencies should have adequate financial reserves, we therefore recommend that the General Assembly adopt the following statement regarding reserves:

In the present judgment of the General Assembly a desired level of reserve funds for program stabilization would be a sum equal to the annual amount of salaries, pensions (retired personnel), and relief grants.

Reserves are understood to be funds specially kept in cash or in more or less liquid form as a reasonable provision for meeting demands, contingencies and unforeseen emergencies which may confront the boards and agencies.

Reserves are not to be confused with endowments, which are funds received by the boards and agencies ordinarily from bequests and by special gifts and which are held by them in trust with only the income available for their use.

Neither is cash, as such, necessarily a reserve. At the end of the year balance sheets show an abnormal amount of cash on hand due to large receipts in the last month of the year. This cash is needed for current operating requirements during the early months of the next year when receipts for most agencies will be very small and far below their monthly needs.

21. Whereas there have been repeated overtures to the General Assembly requesting a central treasurer for the Assembly's benevolence causes, together with a plan designed to equalize more fully receipts among the General Assembly agencies, and whereas, there appears to be growing sentiment in the General Assembly for such action, and whereas there appear to be many advantages to such a proposal, we therefore recommend that the General Council be asked by the General Assembly to study further the matter and to submit a plan at the next meeting of the General Assembly looking toward the accomplishment of these objectives.
22. That the General Assembly adopt with its two recommendations the following statement regarding the study of the matter of an Assembly-wide campaign for capital funds:

The General Council would report to the General Assembly that it has been working diligently on the matter of the capital funds campaign set by the last Assembly for 1963. Most of the synods and presbyteries have responded favorably to the request of the General Assembly that the time be cleared for this campaign in 1963.

We recommend that the General Assembly concur with the action of the General Council in appointing a committee of five of its members to which will be added 20 additional members of the Church-at-Large to direct this campaign.

We also recommend that synods and presbyteries which have not acted be urged to save this time for the campaign and that the entire Church be asked to be in earnest prayer for the work of this committee in this endeavor.

C. Program.

23. That the educational emphasis for the year 1961 be: "Our Presbyterian Heritage and Mission." This is the theme recommended by the Centennial Committee.

24. That the 1964 educational emphasis be: "Christian Worship."

Christian worship is man's response to God in praise, repentance, and commitment, and the quality of the church's worship reflects the vitality of her relationship with her living Lord. We therefore recommend that during 1964 the Church engage in a re-examination of the nature of worship in order that its expression in the life of individuals, families, and congregations may become more consistent with our deepening understanding of God and of our relationship to Him and His people.

That its objectives be:

- a. To explore the implications of our doctrines of God and of man for the worship of the Church.
 - b. To re-discover our Christian heritage of worship, particularly that of the Reformed faith.
 - c. To become aware of and learn from contemporary expressions of worship throughout Christendom.
 - d. To enable people to understand the purpose and elements of worship and thereby to engage in worship which is appropriate, sincere, and meaningful.
 - e. To help the Church recognize the relevance of worship to the quality of its life and to the faithfulness of its witness in the world.
25. That permission be given to the General Council, in cooperation with the Office of the General Assembly, to formulate the questions on that part of the Session's Annual Statistical Report which is returned to the General Council that are best suited to the Council's needs.
26. That the following calendar of monthly emphases, special weeks and days be approved:

27. The 1949 General Assembly charged the General Council with the responsibility for offering suggestions for the strengthening of the total church program. In accordance with this responsibility, certain areas of the church's life have been designated for study by the General Council. One of these areas is "The Office of the Minister of the Word and Sacraments."¹

Therefore, the General Council has sponsored a study through its Program Committee in this area. A "Preliminary Study of the Office of the Minister" was prepared by the Program Committee and was discussed with respective groups from all four of our seminaries. The Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work has discussed the report and copies of it have been sent to all Presbytery Executive Secretaries and Presbytery Chairmen of the Commission on the Minister and His Work throughout our church. Many of the responses to this preliminary study are reflected in this progress report of this Assembly and all will be carefully considered in future studies. In making this report, the General Council sincerely urges the Presbyteries to comment freely upon this study and undergird it with their insights and prayers.

THE OFFICE OF THE MINISTER OF THE WORD AND SACRAMENTS

The priesthood of all believers and the parity of the elders in the governing of the church are basic tenets to which our church is deeply committed. No qualification of our commitment to these articles of faith is implied or necessary when one insists upon the importance of the office of the minister for the whole life of our church. However, we must recognize that the role of the teaching elder is so crucial that when there are serious problems in regard to his office, the church must give attention to these problems. Weakening at this point can quickly result in weakening of the whole fabric of our church and her witness for her Lord. Strengthening it can assist the whole.

Our church has reason to be grateful for the quality and dedication of her ministers and for the careful training and education which she provides for them. However, an examination of the office of the minister in our church reveals certain weaknesses in our responsibility to them. These weaknesses are not the result of neglect on the part of any of our boards nor should this report in any way be construed to be a criticism of the work that has been done by any board, agency, or seminary of the church. These weaknesses are of at least two kinds: First, areas in which responsibility is not clearly defined or localized; and second, areas in which responsibility is localized but in which procedures need constructive and better definition.

The answer and the solution to these weaknesses in the government of our church lies primarily in the Court of Presbytery. The Book of Church Order clearly states that the Presbytery is responsible to the minister in every phase of his development and work.¹ He becomes a candidate for the ministry and is placed under the care of Presbytery and throughout his educational development the Presbytery is responsible to advise with him. He is examined, ordained, and installed by the Presbytery and becomes a member of Presbytery; the dissolution of his pastoral relationship to a church is by action of Presbytery, and even after his retirement his name remains on Presbytery rolls and Presbytery has responsibility for him.

This review of known facts is given in order to emphasize the belief that most of the problems with regard to the office of the minister lie chiefly at the Presbytery level, and it is given to call to the attention of ruling elders and ministers the conviction that unless the Presbytery recognizes this challenge there will be no strengthening in any of these areas which are vital to the life and work of the minister.

AREAS OF NEED

There are five areas in the office of the minister which seem to be crucial and greatly in need of attention at this time. They are:

1. *Recruiting and enlisting of candidates for the ministry.*²

The importance of this matter is underscored by the recognition that the most crucial challenge before the church is that of enlisting and preparing a much larger corps of able ordained leadership. Unless this is done, our church is failing to meet the tremendous challenge before it as the tidal wave of population growth approaches.

This necessity for dramatic, increased efforts to challenge able young people to consider the ministry is being recognized in many areas throughout the church.

The responsibility for this function, of course, is exercised decisively at the level of the local congregation. The Board of World Missions, the Board of Christian Education, and the seminaries, have sought to bear responsibilities in this function. The recent Consultation on Recruitment on church vocations called by the Board of Christian Education gives promise of a greatly strengthened effort. This Board is now seeking a qualified person to give leadership in this area.

² Chapter IX, par. 33 and 34; Chapter XX, par. 100 and 102; chapter XXII, par. 106—The Book of Church Order.

Is it not a matter of urgency that every Presbytery establish a committee (or localize responsibility in some existing committee) charged with the responsibility of challenging and encouraging their ministers and congregations in this area? By what means can ministers and parents be assisted and encouraged to challenge their able young people seriously to consider a church vocation?

2. *Reception, screening, and oversight of candidates under care of the Presbytery.*¹

Reception of candidates by Presbytery is in many ways the most decisive act of the church with regard to its ministers. In actual practice (although not in theory) by this act the Session and Presbytery commit the church at large to the nurture, education, employment (usually ordination) of the candidate. However, procedures followed by most church courts are exceedingly casual. Out of regard for personal feelings of parents and friends, the minister, the Session, and the Presbytery rarely exercise their critical judgment in deciding this vital issue.

Finally, however, Presbytery must take the responsibility for the screening and testing of applicants who wish to come under its care. Men who are accepted as candidates under care of Presbytery will, of necessity, almost always be admitted to our seminaries.

Does this not point out the need of regional conferences of Presbytery candidate chairmen to encourage and strengthen the work of the candidate committees in the screening of applicants? Are there other devices by which Presbytery could be assisted in exercising this crucial function more effectively?

3. *Procedures for examination, ordination, and installation of candidates for the ministry.*²

The church's concept of its ministry will be both reflected in and moulded by the procedures it follows in examining, ordaining, and installing the minister. Similarly, the minister's own concept of his role will be affected for good or ill by these procedures. For the long view, the church's capacity to challenge able and dedicated young people to seek the ministry will be qualified by these procedures.

a. Examination:

The procedure in most Presbyteries is for a Committee on Examination to examine the prospective minister. As now conducted, the examinations is frequently more of an ecclesiastical obstacle course or an initiation ceremony than a valid testing of competence or theological acceptability. In a great many cases, these examinations are carried on before the whole Presbytery, thereby giving even more of an impression of an initiation rather than a carefully prepared examination worthy of the educational preparation required of candidates by the Book of Church Order. Is there not a need in this area for a prepared manual for the use of Presbyteries? Would it not give more dignity and meaning to the examination of candidates were the examination carried on in committee, with the Presbytery later given opportunity to question the candidate on the floor?

b. Ordination and Installation:³

The service of ordination and installation should be one of the most impressive acts of our church. However, at present the service often leaves the candidate with the impression that this act of the church is a casual matter for Presbytery. Responsibility for the service is usually inadequately designated and, therefore, rarely well-exercised. Members of Presbytery commission for ordination, usually appointed upon the nomination of the candidate, tend to feel somewhat hesitant about assuming initiative with regard to the ordination and installation. The host church recognizes that the ordination is to be conducted by Presbytery commission and feels hesitant to assume initiative; the candidate to be ordained recognizes that the Presbytery is conducting the ordination and that efforts on his part to give appropriate solemnity seem to be presumptuous and self-seeking.

Is there not need for a designated responsibility for the arrangements of this ceremony? Does it not seem logical that the committee on examination should have this responsibility on the Presbytery level? Would not a manual for the service or ordination and installation be helpful?¹

4. The lack of assistance in the orientation of new ministers in the Life of the Church.

An important problem before the church is that of finding ways whereby we can more effectively orient the new minister in the life of the church. Much could be written to elaborate this and related problems, but it is assumed here that there is at least some recognition within the church of the need for help in this area of the church's life. Indeed, seen from the broader standpoint, we face an almost universal ignorance on the part of the laity also of our church concerning the life and program of the denomination. Yet each year many of our individual churches come under the leadership of newly ordained ministers who themselves know or understand even less of the total life of the church than some of the laymen they lead.

Too many ministers, looking back on the first years of their ministry following ordination, recognize that they were confused as regards the life and work of the denomination. This confusion is costly both to the minister himself and to the church at large.

Is it possible for our seminaries, through their continuing education programs, to devise a plan specifically directed to a man's orientation in the problems of his first year? Is it possible or desirable for our church to move toward a plan whereby seminary graduates serve a year on trial under the supervision of the Presbytery before ordinations? Can this need be met by each Presbytery placing newly ordained men for a year under the assistance and supervision of an advisory council of mature ministers and elders?

5. The Present Requirements for Ordination.

As this study has progressed, it has become apparent that one of the most complex and far-reaching challenges facing our church and deeply affecting the solution of the foregoing areas lies in the challenge for us to rethink our present requirements and structure for ordination.

Our church historically has maintained a high standard of ordination, demanding from those who would be ordained rigid educational requirements which must be met, with the exception only of those few extra-ordinarily gifted individuals in whose cases parts of the educational requirements may be waived with the consent of three-fourths of the members of Presbytery present.²

At the present time in our church there are several factors which indicate the need to restudy this approach to ordination.

First, there is the challenge of men who, late in life, feel a call to the ministry and are willing to leave their business or profession and become ordained ministers. In other major denominations their way to ordination is clearly defined and they are carefully prepared to take this decisive step into the ministry. In our church there are only two alternatives to such men.

Either they must be held to the educational requirements for ordination as set forth in our Book of Church Order or else they may be ordained through the use of the "extraordinary clause." There is real reason to question whether our church does not need to find some other alternative between the rigid educational requirements on the one hand and a denial of the need on any special educational preparation on the other. Does not our church need to prepare a means by which able men in business and professions may have a carefully prepared course of instruction prior to ordination?

² Chapter XXV, par. 139—The Book of Church Order.

Second, there is the challenge which arises from a need of a ministry to certain groups and areas with whom we have not had an effective ministry. The industrialization of the South with the movement of a major laboring force makes this an increasing challenge for our church. The question must be faced, whether to this group or to the small rural churches, a four-year course in college plus a three-year seminary course are mandatory or even desirable in order to minister to them effectively? Is there not a way that we can have a ministry to these groups by a program of using trained Ruling Elders or by broadening the classes of our ordained personnel?

Third, there is the challenge of our pastorless churches. As of Dec. 31, 1959, there were 838 pastorless churches. Of these 604 have less than 100 members each; 234 have more than 100 members.¹ These figures are a constant pressure upon Presbyteries to find ordained personnel to fill these churches. There are indications that in recent years the "extraordinary clause" is being used increasingly to provide ordained personnel to meet the needs of our church. (Over 11 percent of ministers ordained since 1950 have been ordained under the use of the "extraordinary clause.")¹ This clause was originally intended to be understood positively; that is, of a man who was extraordinarily gifted of the Holy Spirit for the ministry, and was not meant to be understood negatively as a man lacking in academic preparation. One cannot judge the use of this method of ordination, but one must ask whether an increasing usage of it does not indicate the possibility that the church may already in fact be lowering its standards of ordination without honestly coming face to face with the problem? Does this not indicate to the church the need of a committee to study the use of the "extraordinary clause" in the life of our church?

* * * * *

It is the recommendation of the General Council that to further the study of the Office of the Minister of the Word and Sacraments and to strengthen the church in this area of its responsibility that the General Assembly direct that a copy of this paper be forwarded to each Presbytery of the Church requesting that:

1. The paper be read before each Presbytery.
2. That a special ad interim committee be appointed by the Presbyteries to study the paper and to propose answers to the following questions:
 - (a) What procedures for the recruiting and enlisting of candidates for the ministry should be employed by Presbyteries and by the local churches?
 - (b) What tests should be employed in determining the fitness of candidates?
 - (c) What procedures of examination for ordination should be employed by the Presbyteries so as best to assure the Presbytery as to the adequacy of the candidates?
 - (d) What committee on Presbytery level should have the responsibility for the ordination and installation ceremony?
 - (e) What can the Presbytery do to orient the new minister to the life and work of the Church? Would your Presbytery favor a year's internship for new men in the Church? What should their status be?
 - (f) Under the extraordinary clause what requirements should the Presbytery have for ordination?

¹ Figures obtained from the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work, January, 1960.

(g) Is there a need within our Church for ministers in specialized fields with differing educational qualification than those required in our Book of Church Order?

3. That the answers to these questions and any comments upon them be directed to the Executive Secretary of the General Council by January 1, 1961 in order that this study may be furthered.

D. Publicity.

28. That the General Assembly endorse the use of "The Assembly in Brief," reporting in bulletin insert form on the actions of the General Assembly, and urge the use of the insert in every church.

E. Items from the General Assembly.

29. The 1959 General Assembly referred to the General Council Overture No. 20 from Kanawha Prebytery, requesting that a church fiscal year other than the calendar year be established.

We recommend that this overture be answered in the negative.

30. The General Assembly referred to the General Council a motion "that the Women of the Church be directed to keep their work year as at present."

We recommend that this motion be answered as follows: "That the motion made on the floor of the General Assembly 'that the Women of the Church be directed to keep their work year as at present' (1959 General Assembly Minutes, Page 46) be answered in the negative. The study of this matter revealed that there was not a clear understanding of the plans of the Board of Women's Work. The fiscal year of the Women of the Church will remain the same as that of the Church. The changes in their program work year proposed by the Board of Women's Work is within the province of their authority and creates no conflict."

31. The General Assembly of 1959 referred to the General Council for study and report at the next Assembly the report of the Ad Interim Committee to Study Salary Scales of Assembly's Boards and Agencies (See Appendix, page 135, 1959 Minutes of General Assembly).

Concerning the report of the Committee on Salary Scales, the General Council would make the following recommendations:

- a. That the General Assembly express its appreciation for the study made by its Ad Interim Committee on Salary Scales.
- b. That the executives of the boards and agencies of the General Assembly meet and devise means of exchanging information in regard to policies of job classification and analysis, promotions and advancements, salaries and wages, benefits, etc., for all employees.
- c. That the Executive Secretary of the General Council be the convener of the meeting of executives for this purpose.
- d. That the Chairman of the General Council's Committee on Budget and Stewardship have the responsibility of keeping the chairmen of the various boards and agencies informed as to the salaries of the executives of the boards and agencies.

32. The 1958 General Assembly received the following overture from the Synod of Texas:

"(13) The Synod of Texas overtures the General Assembly to create an Ad Interim Committee of capable and apt persons to study the feasibility and desirability of—

- a. Maximum reserves required and/or permitted to be held by each agency.
- b. Distribution of existing reserves, as determined to exceed the maximum quantity defined in section (a) above.
- c. The creation of a central investment agency for endowment funds and the operation of a Presbyterian Mortgage Agency.
- d. A plan of more fully equalizing receipts among General Assembly's Agencies and a Central Treasurer to handle such funds.
- e. Uniform practices of auditing and accounting for all agencies.
- f. Separation of the business activities, such as printing and annuities, from the program phase.
- g. Restrictions upon the boards concerning the transfers of undesignated funds to endowment funds."

The 1958 General Assembly took the following action:

"Overture 13 from the Synod of Texas pertaining to certain financial practices of the Assembly: In view of studies currently in progress by special committees of the General Council, we recommend that this entire overture be referred to the General Council for further study and for a report to the 1959 Assembly."

The General Council reported to the 1959 General Assembly as follows:

"The 1958 General Assembly referred to the General Council Overture 13 from the Synod of Texas. This overture requested study in seven areas, such as auditing and accounting, reserves, investments, equalization of receipts, etc., as they concern the boards and agencies of the General Assembly.

"The Council would report that it has diligently pursued this study, that it has secured the services of the Management Service Division of the firm of Ernst and Ernst as its consultants and that much progress has been made. It is impossible, however, to make a report at this meeting of the Assembly. We request that permission be granted to continue this study and report to the 1960 General Assembly."

As the result of the study which the General Council has made, we recommend that this overture be answered as follows:

1. That section (a), "Maximum reserves required and/or permitted to be held by each agency," be answered by reference to recommendation 20 in this report.

2. That section (b), "Distribution of existing reserves, as determined to exceed the maximum quantity defined in Recommendation 1 above," be answered in the negative.

3. That section (c), "The creation of a central investment agency for endowment funds and the operation of a Presbyterian Mortgage Agency," be answered in the negative.

4. That section (a), "A plan of more fully equalizing receipts among General Assembly's Agencies and a central treasurer to handle such funds," be answered by reference to recommendation 21 in this report.

5. That section (e), "Uniform practices of auditing and reporting for all agencies," be answered by the statement that most of the advantages envisioned by this proposal will result if the uniform reporting and budget procedures being studied at this time are adopted by the boards and agencies.

6. That section (f), "Separation of the business activities, such as printing and annuities from the program phase," be answered by the statement that such separation as now practiced is sufficient.

7. That section (g), "Restrictions upon the boards and agencies concerning the transfer of undesignated funds to endowment funds," be answered by the statement that we believe that, generally speaking, it is unwise practice to transfer undesignated contributions from living donors to endowment funds. However, we recognize the fact that the board and agencies are executive agents of the General Assembly, that they are composed of men and women of the highest character and dedication, and that they can be relied upon to act cautiously and with restraint in this regard. Therefore, we recommend that this section be answered in the negative.

III. Report of the Permanent Nominating Committee relative to the General Council.

We recommend the election of the persons nominated with Rev. Charles R. McCain, Georgia, replacing Rev. C. H. Williams, Alabama, Class of 1964, the whole group to then be as follows:

 Rev. D. H. Edington, Jr., Alabama

 Mrs. W. Rex Josey, South Carolina (Women's Work)

Class of 1964

Rev. Charles R. McCain, Georgia

 Rev. Harry A. Fifield, Georgia
 (Assembly's Office)

Class of 1962

Rev. Van M. Arnold, Mississippi
 (Christian Education)

The Moderator serves as 26th member of General Council

IV. Overtures Nos. 25, 26, 27 and 28 (See page 30.)

Your committee has considered Overtures Nos. 25-28 and recommends the following:

A. That Overture 25 be answered in the affirmative.

B. That Overture 26 be answered as follows:

Inasmuch as (1) the General Assembly causes and agencies have held campaigns for capital funds only four times in our century as a Church; and (2) a forecast such as requested is impossible to accomplish effectively, this overture be answered in the negative.

C. Overtures 27 and 28: Since (1) the General Assembly of 1954 (Minutes, p. 92) requested the General Council to "study the possibility of changing monthly and seasonal emphasis in order to give October 1 - November 15, 1956, to the promotion of Stewardship and the Every Member Canvass," and (2) the report of that study resulted in the establishment of this as an annual season and (3) this has resulted in more effective undergirding of all causes, and (4) the proposed change of the Church Extension Season back to this time would confuse and interfere with the stewardship promotion and the carrying out of a successful canvass for all causes, we recommend that these overtures be answered in the negative.

V. Resolution of Appreciation

We recommend that the General Assembly express its appreciation to the General Council and to Dr. J. G. Patton and the General Council staff for their loyal and faithful service to the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

Respectfully submitted,

Robert L. Alexander, Chairman

A. Allen Gardner, Jr., Secretary

Mr. Joe K. Wells, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Bills and Overtures. It was adopted, and is as follows:

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON BILLS AND OVERTURES

The following items were placed in the hands of this Committee:

1. Overtures 1 and 2. (See page 24.)
2. A communication from E. A. Dean, Stated Clerk of the Synod of Texas, informing of change of bounds between the Presbyteries of South Texas and John Knox.

Your Committee submits the following recommendations:

1. That overture 1 from the Presbytery of Suwanee, requesting the Assembly to decide the method for, and order disposal of all tobacco securities owned by boards and agencies of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, be answered in the negative.
2. That overture 2 from the Presbytery of Holston, requesting the Assembly to encourage all presbyteries to give voice to the views of each member of presbytery, whether present or absent, on all matters concerning constitutional changes and church union, and that the stated clerk of each presbytery solicit such views, be answered in the negative, for the following reasons:

The Book of Church Order already adequately provides for a voice for absent members through communications with the stated clerk; and Presbyters who are absent from meetings and who are interested in particular matters coming to the attention of the court should not have to be solicited as to their views and opinions; and

It is out of harmony with our doctrine of church polity that solicited views of absentee presbyters should be given a status on a par with the views of members who are present and open to the guidance of the Holy Spirit there through the means of prayer and debate.

3. That the communication describing the transfer of LaSalle and Webb Counties, with the churches and their pastors therein, from the Presbytery of South Texas to the Presbytery of John Knox, be recorded in the minutes of the General Assembly.

Respectfully submitted,

JOE K. WELLS, Chairman

C. C. GILLESPIE, Secretary

NECROLOGY

The Stated Clerk read the names of ministers who have died since the last meeting of the Assembly. (See Ministerial Record, Part II, page 201.) The Assembly was led in prayer in this connection by Rev. Edgar Woods. The Assembly recessed until 2:00 P.M.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Assembly met at 2:00 P.M. and was opened with prayer by the Moderator.

Consideration of the report of the Ad Interim Committee on the Revision of the Book of Church Order was resumed. In this connection a partial report of the Standing Committee on Judicial Business was presented and adopted. (The full report of this Standing Committee includes the report made at this point.) The report of the Ad Interim Committee on the proposed revision of the Book of Church Order was adopted as amended (See Appendix, page 97.)

Rev. Joseph B. Ledford, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Judicial Business. The report was adopted, and is as follows:

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON JUDICIAL BUSINESS

The Committee had placed in its hands the following matters:

1. Official Minutes of the sixteen Synods.
2. Reports of the Permanent Nominating Committee for members of the Permanent Judicial Committee.
3. Votes of the Presbyteries on the proposed additional chapter to the Form of Government on "United" or "Federated" particular churches, along with several communications relating thereto.
4. Overture No. 3 pertaining to U.P.U.S.A. ministers supplying congregations and moderating sessions or congregational meetings in U.S. churches.
5. Overture No. 4 pertaining to changes in the proposed revision in the Form of Government.
6. Communications from the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly regarding an error in the 1959 Minutes of the General Assembly taking exception to the 1958 Minutes of the Synod of Virginia.
7. Communication from the Greenbrier Presbytery requesting a ruling on whether a U.S. minister may accept ordination in the Protestant Episcopal Church under Canon 36 of that church.
8. Communication from Rev. Thomas B. Hoover demanding repudiation of the Minutes of the Synod of South Carolina May 19, 1957, pages 17 through 20 and an apology for the action recorded.

Recommendations:

1. That the minutes of the sixteen Synods be approved with the following exception, to-wit—the Synod of Florida did not open its called meeting on October 9, 1958 with prayer. Several reports contained recommendations with no action recorded on the recommendations.
2. That the partial report of the Permanent Nominating Committee proposing for the Class of 1963 of the Permanent Judicial Committee, Rev. H. E. Russell of Tennessee, Judge T. H. Stukes, South Carolina, Dean John W. Wade of Tennessee, be approved.

3. That in view of the vote of 83 Presbyteries, to-wit:

and in view of the understanding reached between the Committee on Revision, the State Clerk of this Assembly and the Stated Clerk of the U.P.U.S.A. Assembly, the proposed material on "United Churches" be enacted as a part of chapter 31 of the proposed Form of Government, to be numbered Section 31-2 and have the sub-title "Union Churches."

4. That the Overture No. 3 (see page 25.) be answered as follows:

a. That the letters in paragraphs 62, 149 are generally covered in the proposed revision of the Form of Government.

b. That the following new section be added to the Form of Government.

"§ 25-6: In exceptional cases the Presbytery may approve one of its churches inviting a minister of another Reformed Church to serve in a temporary pastoral relation. Such a minister may moderate meetings of the Session, without the right to vote, when invited by the Session, except in judicial procedures; and may moderate meetings of the congregation, when elected by the congregation. [See also § 5-4; 15-4 and 25-4.]"

5. That Overture No. 4 (see page 25.) be answered in the negative in view of the fact it pertains to superceded proposed revisions and that the presently proposed revision covers these items.

6. That the exception in the 1959 Minutes of the General Assembly to the 1958 minutes of the Synod of Virginia be found in error and rescinded.

7. That the request of the Greenbrier Presbytery be answered in the negative for the reason that dual ordination is not provided for in our Form of Government and that it is contrary to the Presbyterian doctrine. However, it is recommended that the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations be asked to explore and report on possible ways in which Presbyterian pastors might render an acceptable ministry to other constituencies, with particular reference to the situation which has arisen in the Presbytery of Greenbrier.

8. That the communications from Rev. Thomas B. Hoover not be received for the following reasons:

The 1958 Assembly, through a Judicial Commission, heard the "Complaint of Rev. Thomas B. Hoover, Jr., vs. the Synod of South Carolina" with the decision that it "fails to sustain any of the Specifications of the complaint." (Minutes 1958, pp. 56-57)

The 1959 Assembly received a communication from Mr. Hoover "claiming denial of his constitutional rights by actions of the Synod of South Carolina and the General Assembly" (Minutes 1959, p. 26) which it referred to the Standing Committee on Judicial Business.

This 1959 Standing Committee reported: "Recommendation 3. That the General Assembly receive the communication from the Rev. Thomas B. Hoover, Jr. This committee finds no grounds to substantiate his grievances." (Minutes 1959, p. 68)

The Synod of South Carolina (see its minutes of 1959, pp. 17-20) heard a final report from the Commission of Synod which had dealt with this matter over a period of several years. This "final report" appears merely to recount what the General Assembly did in its final adjudication of the Complaint in 1959, and in an appendix prints full texts of Mr. Hoover's communications of June 12, 1958 and July 21, 1958 to the General Assembly copies of which had been sent also the Synod.

The Synod action referred to in this Communication No. 22 appears no more than the proper steps taken by a Judicial Commission to get all necessary matters read into Synod's record to clear the way for the Commission's being discharged.

This Communication No. 22 from Mr. Hoover is a "demand" made on the Assembly to have the Synod repudiate and apologize for an action apparently entirely proper.

It is further recommended that the Stated Clerk be instructed to advise Mr. Hoover that no further communications will be referred to any committees of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States in regard to this matter.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH B. LEDFORD, Chairman
J. MILLEN LOONEY, Secretary

WARNER DUBOSE, JR., Chairman
ROBERT R. COLLINS, Secretary

Mr. Price H. Gwynn, III, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Annuities and Relief. In connection with this report Mr. Will Mann Richardson, Chairman of the Board, addressed the Assembly. The report was adopted and is as follows:

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON ANNUITIES AND RELIEF

The following have been referred to the Committee:

1. The annual report of the Board of Annuities and Relief.
2. The Minutes of the Board of Annuities and Relief.
3. Overture No. 11 from the Presbytery of Kings Mountain; Overture No. 12 from the Presbytery of Winston-Salem; Overture No. 13 from the Synod of Virginia. (See page 27.)
4. The report of the Permanent Committee on Nominations relating to the Board of Annuities and Relief.

RECOMMENDATIONS

We present the following recommendations:

1. That the Assembly call the attention of the presbyteries to the fact that the Ministers' Annuity Fund is the Official Plan of the Church to provide a means whereby our ministers' and the Church accumulate credits during the ministers' active years, to make provisions for them and their dependents in the event of disability, and ultimately for their retirement years.
2. That the Assembly request the presbyteries to urge that young ministers and those received from other denominations establish membership in the Fund and arrange for participation in the Group Life and Major Medical Insurance Plan immediately after their reception into the presbytery.

3. That the Assembly encourage the Presbyteries to vigorously urge all ministers to avail themselves of Social Security benefits as self-employed persons.
4. That the Assembly remind all churches, Church agencies and institutions that they are expected to share the cost of membership in the Fund in accordance with the Official Plan.
5. That the Assembly again urge all churches and Church Extension Committees, in determining the basis for payment of dues to the Ministers' Annuity Fund, to add 15% for free use of manse, if any, regardless of ownership, to all sources of salary, and also to include any other fixed cash commitments, such as automobile or utilities allowances, etc., in order that ministers may build larger earned annuities.
6. That the General Assembly urge all churches and Church Extension Committees to adopt the plan of remitting the minister's 2½% dues and the church's 7½% dues in one check.
7. That the Assembly commend again to all churches and Church agencies and to non-ministerial employees of the Church the benefits of membership in the Employees' Annuity Fund and urge participation in it; calling to the attention of employee and employing agency that, under the present practice of the Board, the dues paid-in are 100% refundable to both the participating employer and employee, plus earned interest, should services terminate before retirement.
8. That the Assembly urge all churches and Church agencies to make available to their full-time salaried personnel the insurance coverage offered under the Group Life and Major Medical Plan which was adopted by the General Assembly. Those eligible for admission under the plan may enter without a physical examination in the month of January.
9. That the Assembly remind the synods, presbyteries and churches that the contribution to the Board of Annuities and Relief of the full share of the budgeted benevolent askings is essential, if the aged ministers of our church and their dependents are to have provision made for their minimum needs, and the continued benefit of Major Medical Insurance for our Retired.
10. That the Assembly urge again a generous Joy Gift offering on the part of all organizations of all churches, since it is a major source of income with which the Board ministers to the aged servants of the Church.
11. That the Assembly authorize the Board to continue to use a portion of the funds of Ministerial Relief to supplement the inadequate annuities in the meeting of emergencies in the lives of annuitants, taking into consideration their other sources of income.
12. That the Assembly request the presbytery chairmen of Annuities and Relief to advise the Board of emergency situations in the lives of our retired ministers and dependents.
13. That the Assembly approve the Minutes of the Board.
14. That the Assembly be advised that the Board at its meeting held on June 23, 1959, voted approval of the following proposed new Comity Agreement between the Ministers' Annuity Fund of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S., and the Board of Pensions of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

"WHEREAS, ministers are frequently called from the service of one of the churches of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. into the service of one of the churches of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and vice versa. "AND WHEREAS, without some adjustment of the pension relationships of the two Churches this interchange of service might work not only hardship, but great injustice to many brethren,

"THEREFORE THIS AGREEMENT, is made between the Ministers' Annuity Fund of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. and the Board of Pensions of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. to the effect that hereafter, that is to say, immediately upon the ratification of this agreement or understanding by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. and the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.:

"(1) When a participant in the Ministers' Annuity Fund of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. transfers his ministerial standing to the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. he shall have the privilege of leaving the accumulations of his own payments of the members' dues with the Fund and of retaining thereby credit for all annuity credits earned on account of service rendered up to the date of the transfer of his ministerial standing while a participant in the Ministers' Annuity Fund, providing he promptly establishes and maintains membership in the United Presbyterian Pension Plan and maintains his ministerial standing in the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

"(2) When a participant in the United Presbyterian Pension Plan of the Board of Pensions of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. transfers his ministerial standing to the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. he shall have the privilege of leaving the accumulations of his own payments of the members' dues with the United Presbyterian Pension Plan, and of retaining thereby credit for all pension credits earned on account of service rendered to the date of transfer of his ministerial standing while a participant in the United Presbyterian Pension Plan, provided he promptly establishes and maintains membership in the Ministers' Annuity Fund and maintains his ministerial standing in the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.

"(3) It is understood that nothing in this agreement shall be construed to be retroactive so far as any minister or missionary is concerned who is now receiving a pension, or any annuity from either of the parties of this agreement and that it is only to apply, and to be construed as applying, from and after April 1, 1940, and subject to the approval of the two General Assemblies.

"(4) This agreement shall continue in operation, subject to amendment by mutual agreement between said Board, or to terminate on a year's notice by one of the said Boards to the other, with the proviso, however, that the interests of any member who has, during the operation of the agreement, transferred his ministerial standing from one of the Churches to the other shall in no wise be affected by the termination of this agreement.

"(5) Nothing in this agreement shall be so interpreted as to give a greater annuity to a minister on retirement for reason of disability or at regular retirement age, or to the eligible survivor or survivors of a minister on his death, than that to which he would have been entitled had he not changed his ministerial standing from one denomination to the other."

15. That insofar as Overtures No. 11 and No. 12 are identical in wording that the Assembly answer them in the negative in view of the fact that under the Official Plan of the Ministers' Annuity Fund, should a widow marry an active member of the Fund she is eligible for widow's benefits; and further that such exception, as suggested, would require a change in the annuity contract which is not deemed advisable.

16. That the Assembly answer Overture No. 13 in the negative;

The reasons for this response lie in the following:

a. The General Assembly of 1957 was overturned to make a study in this area (Ref: Minutes 1957, pps. 48, 49).

b. This study was made and reported by the Board to the Assembly of 1958 (Ref: Minutes 1958, p. 67, recommendation 19). This recommendation resulted in a liberalized policy as defined in the Board's reports to the General Assembly (See Minutes of General Assembly, 1958, pp. 86-87, and bound volumes of Reports of Assembly Agencies.)

c. It should be pointed out that the annuity plan of our Church becomes effective upon retirement not upon reaching a specified age. Retirement and the continuation of a paid responsibility on anything but an interim basis are incompatible. Since interim service is provided for by the liberalization of 1958, and since further liberalization could endanger the economic security of the plan, this negative response is deemed advisable.

17. That in accordance with the recommendations of the Permanent Nominating

 Mr. H. Roe Bartle (Mo.) Dr. L. N. Turk (Ga.)
 Rev. Roy R. Craig (Okla.) Mr. Eldon D. Wilson (Va.)
 Mrs. J. Cecil Lawrence (N.C.) Mr. Toddie Lee Wynne, Sr. (Tex.)
 and that Mr. J. Hugh Knox (Tenn.) be elected to fill the vacancy in the Class of 1961 resulting from the death of Mr. C. S. Bailey.

18. That the Board and the Staff be commended for the able and careful manner in which the business committed to the Board has been conducted.
19. That in connection with presentation of this report the Executive Secretary of the Board, or someone he may designate, be requested to address the Assembly for five minutes or such period as the Assembly may designate.

Respectfully submitted,

PRICE H. GWYNN, III, Chairman

Rev. James Sprunt, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Presbyterian Survey. In connection with the report Mr. DeWitt Reddick, Chairman of the Board, Mr. Theodore B. Pratt, Executive Director, and Miss Frances Furlow, were introduced and spoke briefly. The report was adopted, and is as follows:

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY

The Standing Committee on the PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY received the following items referred to it by the Assembly:

1. Report of the Board of Directors of the PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY.
2. Revised Manual of Operation for the PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY.
3. Report of the Permanent Committee on Nominations relating to the Survey Board.
4. Minutes of the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY.

The Minutes of the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY for 1959 were examined and found in order.

The Standing Committee recommends the adoption of the Report of the Board of Directors of the PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY. (See Appendix, page 171.)

Recommendations:

1. That the General Assembly express appreciation to the staff of the PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY for its dedication to our Lord and to the program of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.—for its outstanding work in producing a magazine of steadily growing effectiveness and usefulness to the church.

2. That the General Assembly express its satisfaction in the continuing response of the church to the Every Family Plan and reaffirm its faith in it by urging all churches not yet members of the Plan to enroll, and by urging all churches already members of the Plan to strive to make it an integral and permanent part of their ministry.

3. That the General Assembly approve a second subscription plan to be known as the Church Leaders' Plan, such Plan to be open to all churches not enrolled in the Every Family Plan. This Plan would offer the magazine for $1.50 per year to churches subscribing for all of its officers, teachers and leaders. This Plan would become effective during PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY Week, October 9-16, 1960, and would continue for one year only. The purpose of this Plan is to acquaint leaders and officers with the Church's magazine, leading to a desire to participate in the Every Family Plan.

4. That the General Assembly express its thanks to the one hundred SURVEY representatives and to the pastors and organizations which have presented this Assembly offer to the churches, and to encourage them to put the magazine to work in their homes and church organizations, to demonstrate how it can lead to deeper dedication on the part of individuals and to a stronger Church.

5. That the General Assembly commend to its pastors the use of PRESBYTERIAN

SURVEY articles in pulpit quotations, and the inclusion of excerpts from it and references to it in bulletins and local church publications as a means of stimulating its use. Furthermore, that the General Assembly encourage churches to provide wherever possible subscriptions for libraries and public waiting rooms.

6. That the General Assembly commend to the churches enthusiastic observance of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY Week, October 8-15, 1961.

7. That the General Assembly authorize an increase in the size of the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY from 15 to 18, to include seven representatives from Boards and Agencies, and eleven from the Church-at-large. That this change, with other minor changes in PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY'S Manual of Operation be approved. (See Appendix, page 172.)

8. That the following persons be elected to the Class of 1963 of the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY—

Rev. Felix Gear
Walter R. Humphrey
Harold Prince
Walter Spearman

that the following be added to the Class of 1961—

James Gonia
Howard Anderson

Rev. Horace T. Allen, Jr.

Furthermore, that the addition of a representative appointed by the Board of Annuities and Relief, the Board of Women's Work, and the Permanent Committee on Television, Radio, and Audio-Visuals be affirmed as members of the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY.

9. That pending the adoption of this report the chairman of the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY, Dr. DeWitt Reddick, be presented to the Assembly, who will in turn introduce the members of the staff who are present, Mr. Theodore B. Pratt, Mr. Ben Hartley and Miss Frances Furlow.

JAMES R. JACKSON, Secretary

Rev. Marc C. Weersing, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on The Minister and His Work. The report was adopted, and is as follows:

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE MINISTER AND HIS WORK

The following matters were referred to this Committee:

1. The minutes of the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work.
 2. The report of the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work. (See Appendix, page 94.)
 3. Nominations for the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work.
- The Standing Committee recommends:
1. That the following, who were selected by their respective Synods, be confirmed as members of the General Assembly's Committee: Rev. Messrs. W. Warrington Preston (Alabama), William E. Thorington (Appalachia), Charles H. Gibboney (Georgia), Neill R. McGeachy (North Carolina) and Royce K. McDonald (West Virginia); and the Rev. James A. Millard, Jr., Stated Clerk of the General Assembly.
 2. That the General Assembly approve the re-election of Mr. R. Graham White as Secretary-Treasurer, of the committee for a three year term, and that he be heartily commended for his untiring, efficient and dedicated service to his Lord and to his Church in this capacity.

3. That the following ruling elders be elected to serve as co-opted members of the General Assembly's Committee: Mr. Lewis Barksdale (Virginia), Mr. William L. Clyborne (Texas), Mr. Lewis Steele (Tennessee), and Mr. Samuel R. Pritchard (West Virginia).
4. That a joint conference of the Assembly's Committee and the Board of Annuities and Relief be held at Montreat, August 10 and 11, 1960, and that
 - (a) Presbyteries be represented at the above Conference by the chairmen and at least one ruling elder member of their Commissions on the Minister and His Work.
 - (b) That the Synods be represented at the above Conference by the Chairmen of their Committees on the Minister and His Work.
 - (c) That the Presbyteries and Synods be requested to provide for the expenses of their representatives to the Conference, as is done in the case of Synod and Regional Conferences which have been held heretofore.
5. It has come to our attention that there has been some question before the Internal Revenue Service of the Federal Government concerning the expenses incurred by church organizations in moving ministers from one place to another upon their acceptance of a call. The service of a Minister of the Word and Sacraments of the Presbyterian Church in the United States is continuous from the time he is approved by a Presbytery for ordination until he ceases to be a Minister. Therefore, we recommend that the Assembly certify that the expenses of moving a Minister with his family and goods are a church expense, and should be recognized by the calling congregation and/or church agency and should be provided with any call to a new field of duty.
6. The minutes of the Assembly's Committee on the Minister and His Work were examined and found to be in excellent condition. We recommend their approval.

MARC C. WEERSING, Chairman

JOHN K. JOHNSON, Secretary

The minutes of Saturday's sessions were read and approved and reference was made to the services conducted on Sunday and to the Commission to install the Stated Clerk having performed its assignment.

Consideration of the report of the Standing Committee on World Missions was resumed. It was adopted, as amended, and is as follows:

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON WORLD MISSIONS

The following were referred to this Committee by the General Assembly:

I. Overtures, 21, 22, 23, and 24. (See page 29.)

- II. The Annual Report of the Board of World Missions for 1959.
- III. Communication No. 4 from the General Assembly of the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico.
- IV. The Book of Minutes of the Board of World Missions for 1959.
- V. The Report of the Permanent Nominating Committee for the Board of World Missions regarding membership on the Board for the Class of 1963.

The Committee dealt with the matters referred to it by the General Assembly as follows:

I. The Annual Report of the Board of World Missions for 1959, together with the Yearbook, a copy of which was given to each member of the Committee, were received as information. The Board is commended for this fine report to the Church.

II. The Minute Book of the Board of World Missions for 1959 was carefully read and approved. It was noted that the minutes have been compiled with care and accuracy.

III. Recommendations:

1. That the Church be called to continue and increase its prayers that the new missionaries that are so urgently needed might be forthcoming.

2. That pastors and all church leaders keep constantly before parents and their children the continuing need for missionaries in all of our world mission fields.

3. That pastors, Directors of Christian Education and sessions study the 1960 Want List for new missionaries and then review their church rolls anew for qualified prospects. Further, that the names of these prospects be sent to the Candidate Secretary of the Board of World Missions by September 1, 1960, if possible.

4. That the Assembly call upon the whole Church to work untiringly toward its goal—the sending of one missionary for every 1,000 members and the providing of a budget adequate to support such a force of missionaries.

5. That pastors, teachers and leaders prepare themselves to present the challenge of world missionary service in such a way that our youth may realize there is a need for them in the mission fields today.

6. That ministers and Directors of Christian Education who are qualified and who are within the regular age limit, consider anew whether they themselves should not volunteer for missionary service.

7. That the World Mission Season, February 1-March 5, 1961, be observed in all our churches as a time for church-wide dedication to the world task of Christian missions; that ministers be asked to preach on such subjects as will increase the sense of responsibility and privilege in the world-wide mission of the Church; and that the whole Church be called to earnest prayer for this effort.

8. That all churches be encouraged to engage in a study of the inter-denominational theme for 1960-61, "Into All The World Together." Adequate material for this study will be supplied by the Educational Department of the Board of World Missions.

9. That churches take cognizance of the opportunities for preparation for the World Mission Season available in Presbytery area workshops prior to this Season.

10. That the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial for World Missions be observed by every church in the Assembly, with its organizations, February 26-March 5, 1961; and that all sessions be urged to arrange for supplemental offerings in the churches.

11. That churches be encouraged to send to the World Mission Conference in Montreat, July 28-August 3, 1960, the men, women and young people who are responsible for the program of World Missions in the Church.

12. The Chairman of World Missions in the Presbytery and the Synod holds a very strategic spot in the Assembly's program of promotion and enlistment of life and material possessions in the missionary enterprise. He is the key figure and great care should be taken by the Presbytery and Synod in appointing such men to office. We would recommend that the General Assembly urge Presbyteries and Synods to appoint men to the office of Chairman of World Missions on the basis of interest, knowledge and ability.

13. That churches, through the Presbyteries' Chairman of World Missions, continue to cooperate with the Division of Itineration in making the widest possible use of missionaries on furlough throughout the year; that members of the Board of World Missions and of the Staff, and others with special knowledge of missions also be used as speakers or leaders in churches, schools, conferences and rallies.

14. That church members be encouraged to give special attention to the opportunity to keep abreast of the developments on the mission fields by reading the material from these countries in the Presbyterian Survey.

15. That all pastors and churches be urged to keep before their members the continuing need for material relief and spiritual assistance in the distressed areas of the world, and the importance of supporting our Church's relief program.

16. That collections of used clothing, blankets, etc., be made by churches at least twice a year, and that they be sent, designated as contributions from the Presbyterian Church, U. S., to Church World Service, New Windsor, Maryland, or Church World Service, 4165 Duncan Avenue, St. Louis 10, Missouri, plus 8 cents per pound to help defray processing costs.

17. That the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), of Church World Service, be recommended as an authorized agency, and that members of our churches be asked to cooperate in CROP campaigns in their areas.

18. That a special Easter Offering be received, April 2, 1961, for alleviating human suffering and need in the name of Christ throughout the world, the funds to be administered by the Board of World Missions through its Department of Overseas Relief and Inter-Church Aid for work not included in their budget, working cooperatively with other Protestant denominations in Church World Service and the World Council of Churches.

19. That, as our Church now enters her centennial year and reviews the first century of her life and progress, all our congregations and people be encouraged to consider the place that missions has had in arousing and directing the energies of the Church, in calling her to prayer, and in holding before her broader horizons of opportunity and duty; and that the special missionary lessons that derive from our history and tradition be pointed out to our people as they participate in the programs of reading and study during 1961, including the Bible study dealing with basic beliefs of the Reformed Church, the book by Dr. T. Watson Street on the history of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, and the book dealing with the role of the Presbyterian Church in the world of tomorrow, written by Dr. E. T. Thompson.

20. The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States views with dismay and deep concern the continued persecution and mistreatment of Protestants in the Republic of Colombia and calls upon the people and the government of that country to honor the principles of religious freedom and tolerance which are expressed in their own Constitution and generally recognized among the peoples of the world.

21. That the Assembly approve the Board's action in the election of Rev. S. Hugh Bradley as Field Secretary for a term of three years.

22. That the Assembly approve the Board's action in the election of Rev. Paul B. Fere-land as Overseas Relief and Inter-Church Aid Secretary for a term of three years.

23. That the Assembly approve the Board's action in the election of Rev. Eugene L. Daniel as Candidate Secretary for a term of three years.

24. The General Assembly has been advised by its Board of World Missions that in November, 1959 the Church of Christ in the Kasai, The Presbyterian Church of the Congo, was established in full autonomy as a self-governing ecclesiastical body. The General Assembly rejoices in and gives thanks to God for this distinction belonging to its sister Church in the Congo.

It is recommended that the Moderator and Stated Clerk communicate to the officers of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church of the Congo the Assembly's fraternal greetings and heartiest congratulations. Furthermore, the communication would assure our brethren in the Kasai of our prayers in their behalf and our joy in partnership with them in heralding the Good News to the people of Africa.

Furthermore, if the way be clear, it is recommended that a fraternal delegate be appointed to represent our General Assembly at the next regular meeting of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church of the Congo.

25. A communication has been received from the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly of the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico transmitting an action of that Assembly as follows:

"That there be worked out with the Churches and ecclesiastical bodies in other countries, which have relations with our Church through missionary work, an agreement by which they recognize this as a divinely instituted and properly organized Body; (for this reason) relations with (us) should in the future be maintained directly with the 'Directiva' of the General Assembly of the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico.

"That the highest ecclesiastical bodies of the Churches in the United States of America which have Missions working in our country be requested to please name fully authorized representatives with the object of working with the 'Directiva' of (our) General Assembly concerning relations in the future with our National Presbyterian Church of Mexico."

It is recommended that:

a. The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. assure its brethren of the General Assembly of the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico that it has received this communication with full respect and gratitude and obligates itself to seek every means by which our comradeship is serving Christ in Mexico can be rendered most effective and which will enrich the fraternal relations which have existed over the years between our Churches.

b. The General Assembly appoint Dr. James A. Millard, Jr., Stated Clerk, and Dr. William M. Elliott, Jr., Chairman of the Board of World Missions and former Moderator of the General Assembly (Dr. James A. Jones, Chairman of the Fields Committee of the Board of World Missions, alternate to Dr. Elliott) to serve on a committee with representatives of the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico and other Churches working in Mexico for the purpose of exploring ways by which relations among the Churches may most effectively prosper our joint endeavors to extend and intensify the witness of the Gospel in Mexico.

26. That Overtures No. 22 from the Presbytery of Northeast Texas and No. 23 from the Presbytery of Central Texas be answered by Recommendation No. 25 above.

27. That our Board of World Missions consider and report to the next General Assembly on the advisability of the Board itself appointing a committee, including personnel from overseas and from other bodies than our own, which shall study and report on the philosophy and promotion of World Missions in the light of the rapidly changing missionary situation around the world as described in Overture 24 to the 1960 General Assembly.

28. That Overture No. 21 from the Presbytery of South Texas requesting the General Assembly "to make the fullest possible study concerning mission policy and strategy as manifested and implied in the overture from the National Presbyterian Church of Mexico" be answered by the action recorded in answer to Overtures No. 22, 23, and 24. (See Recommendations No. 25 and 27 above.)

29. That the Assembly elect the following to the Board of World Missions for the Class of 1963:

Rev. T. Watson Street—Texas
 Rev. Marc C. Weersing—South Carolina
 Rev. J. McDowell Richards—Georgia
 Rev. Harry M. Moffett, Jr.—North Carolina
 T. H. Mitchell—Tennessee
 Mrs. Thompson Southall—North Carolina
 Rev. John W. Melton—Louisiana

30. That the General Assembly take special note of the death of Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa of Japan on April 23, 1960. Dr. Kagawa was early influenced and befriended by two missionaries of our Church, Dr. Charles Logan and Dr. Harry W. Myers and for years has given courageous Christian witness in his own land and the world at large. As an author, as one who worked faithfully in the slum areas and with labor movements in Japan, and as one with a deep concern for Christian social reform, the influence of his Christian commitment has been widely felt.

We are deeply grateful to God for the witness of Dr. Kagawa's life and his undying Christian faith, and take this occasion to record our gratitude. We recommend that the Moderator convey to Dr. Kagawa's family the genuine sympathy of this Assembly and send to them a copy of this resolution.

31. That the General Assembly express its full confidence in the Staff and members of the Board of World Missions, and record its gratitude for the excellent work and consecrated service which they are rendering.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. MCKINNON, Chairman

KENNETH L. MACLEOD, JR., Secretary

RESOLUTION

The following resolution was referred to the Standing Committee on Christian Relations for consideration and report:

WHEREAS, there is a strong possibility that one of the major political parties in the United States will nominate a Roman Catholic for the presidency, and

WHEREAS, our country is by tradition and heritage Protestant, with Protestant ideals and principles permeating our government and way of life, and

WHEREAS, we sincerely feel that a Roman Catholic would not be free to administer the executive office without possible foreign influence and control,

The Presbyterian Church in the United States expresses its opposition to the nomination, and possible election, of a Roman Catholic to the presidency of our country.

C. C. McClure, Commissioner,

Presbytery of the Everglades

RESOLUTION

The following resolution was referred to the Standing Committee on The Minister and His Work for consideration and report:

WHEREAS, these are days of crisis in America as social patterns are in the process of change, and

WHEREAS, the voice of our Church is clear and direct as expressed in the official statements of our General Assembly, and

WHEREAS, individual ministers are seeking to interpret the pronouncements of our Assembly in the communities in which our denomination is at work, and

WHEREAS, certain ministers, while speaking the mind of the Church in love, have found their positions jeopardized, and

WHEREAS, when these ministers speak the mind of the Assembly, the Assembly has a moral responsibility to support them,

Now Therefore Be It Resolved:

1. That the General Assembly deplore the action of individuals and groups who seek to silence these voices through intimidation, or coercion.
2. That the General Assembly also deplore the autocratic voice of the minister who does not speak the mind of the Assembly in love.
3. That we extend our hearts in love and prayer toward any minister who has found, or may find, himself in difficulty as he bears witness in love to the position of our Church.
4. That we instruct the General Assembly's Permanent Committee on the Minister and His Work to explore ways and means by which the Church at large may stand significantly behind our ministers at such times, and report to the 1961 Assembly.
5. That any ministers or elders who have knowledge of individual circumstances of this type call such to the attention of the Assembly's Committee, and any minister so involved feel free to discuss his problem with the Assembly Committee, in order that the Committee may have these specific cases as a framework in which to do their work.

Respectfully submitted,

Mr. Neil O. Davis, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Christian Relations. The report was adopted as amended and is as follows:

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIAN RELATIONS

The Standing Committee on Christian Relations reports to the General Assembly that its members have participated faithfully and diligently in the discharge of those responsibilities entrusted to them by the Assembly. Open and full discussion was given to each question, and a spirit of harmony prevailed throughout, even when motions did not carry unanimously. The presence and leading of the Holy Spirit were continually sought and felt. Honest differences of opinion were expressed and heard freely and in love. We believe that we have acted with faithfulness to Scripture and to our Presbyterian Standards, in the firm conviction that the Gospel must be related to the whole man in all of his relationships, and that the Church must be responsible to the sovereign God who stands over all the nations.

Matters considered by the Committee included the following:

I. The Report of the Permanent Committee on Christian Relations on "Christian Faith and the Contemporary Problem of War" and its recommendation to continue its study of "Capital Punishment." In considering these matters we had the benefit of consultation with the Rev. Frank H. Caldwell, Chairman of the Permanent Committee.

II. The Overtures 7, 8 and 29 from the Presbyteries respectively of Potomac (7, 8) and Florida (29). (See page 26.)

III. The following matters of Christian conscience which were raised by the Standing Committee which, it is hoped, will receive further consideration by the appropriate committees of the Church and of the entire Assembly: alcoholism, mental health, migrant work, gambling and narcotics, juvenile delinquency, sexual perversion, Sabbath observance, and correctional institutions.

IV. The Report of the Permanent Nominating Committee.

Your committee makes the following recommendations:

I. That the Assembly express appreciation for the Permanent Committee's statement on "Christian Faith and the Contemporary Problem of War" as a statement of the historic problem of the Christian's participation in war, noting that it does not include adequate mention of the historic position of Christian pacifism which has been held by some Christians throughout the Church's history. (See Appendix, page 179, for Report of the Permanent Committee as amended on recommendation of the Standing Committee.)

II. That the Assembly instruct the Permanent Committee on Christian Relations to continue its study of "Capital Punishment," and that this report include not only explicit Biblical materials but also the cumulative experience of man in his attempt to express the spirit of Christ in the maintenance of law and order while seeking also, through institutions of justice, to rehabilitate criminals and to mediate God's redemption in Christ to all men.

III. That taking cognizance of the courageous efforts on the part of underprivileged peoples throughout the world to secure those blessings of freedom which they cherish for themselves and their children, aware of the wide-spread efforts of worthy citizens in our own nation to secure these blessings through non-violent means, and affirming that the Christian faith recognizes the dignity of every human being and encourages the concept of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness for all peoples, the Assembly strongly urges laymen and ministers, as Christian citizens, to redouble their efforts to right the wrongs presently suffered by individuals and groups because of race, creed, or nationality, and to confront seriously their commitment to Jesus Christ in all of life; and engage in prayer to God for his forgiveness of the involvement of the Church in the injustices of our day, and for guidance, courage, and strength to meet the challenge of these critical days according to his will.

IV. That aware of the atmosphere of our times which suggests a conspiracy against youth, employing their natural drives to create a market of sex, and recognizing the fact that the Scriptures are clear with respect to immorality and the forces that produce it, the Assembly express its unequivocal condemnation of the forces and agencies that are undermining the morals of youth;

That the Assembly call upon our Christian businessmen to examine their advertising programs to assure their being morally and spiritually sound;

That the Assembly call upon all our adult members and specifically parents to exemplify the purity of the Christian life in thought, word and deed before their children; and

That the Assembly call upon the Men of the Church, and the Women of the Church, together with church councils and interdenominational groups to find ways in their own communities to work with and for youth to eliminate unwholesome influence in their area.

V. That overture 7 from the Presbytery of Potomac concerning a reminder to the Boards of Trustees of Presbyterian institutions concerning the 1954 General Assembly action regarding desegregation in admission policy, be answered in the affirmative for the following reasons:

- (1) That the 1954 General Assembly reached this decision after the deliberation in its effort to fulfill its role to seek the mind of Christ on this difficult issue;
- (2) That many Synods and institutions have not acted on this matter or have taken contrary actions;
- (3) That our mission work in Africa and elsewhere is seriously handicapped by our inability to educate potential native leaders in Presbyterian, U.S., colleges whereas scholarships are provided for them behind the Iron Curtain without racial discrimination; and
- (4) That the current situation imperatively calls for a strong and urgent reaffirmation of the 1954 Assembly stand.

(Passed in the Standing Committee by a majority vote with the following negative votes asking to be recorded: Horace L. Viliee of East Mississippi, Charles Adams of East Arkansas, W. D. Beach of Florida Presbytery, and Warren C. Fulton of Appomattox.)

VI. That overture 8 from the Presbytery of Potomac, having to do with the Christian understanding of responsible and planned parenthood be answered:

FIRST, by the reference to Chapter XXIII, Section 2, of the Westminster Confession of Faith which reads, "God alone is Lord of the conscience, and hath left it free from the doctrines and commandments of men which are in anything contrary to His work, or beside it in matters of faith or worship. So that to believe such doctrines, or to obey such commandments out of conscience, is to betray true liberty of conscience; and the requiring of implicit faith, and an absolute and blind obedience, is to destroy liberty of conscience and reason also," (Confession of Faith, XXII, Article 2); and

SECOND, by adopting as its own the six paragraphs from the "Message to the Nation" concerning "Marriage and the Home" (See page 43.); and THIRD, by requesting the Permanent Committee on Christian Relations to give serious study within this next year to the area of marriage and family relations, with special attention to pre-marital sexual relations, the economic factors in family planning, pornographic literature, sterilization of the criminally insane, etc.

VII. That Overture 29 from the Presbytery of Florida requesting the General Assembly to refer to the Presbyteries for their vote the actions of previous Assemblies concerning desegregation be answered in the negative for the following reasons:

- (1) This represents a departure from Presbyterian procedure which has historically referred to the Presbyteries only such matters as constitutionally required the advice and consent of the Presbyteries;
- (2) Such a procedure would set a precedent for the referral of a wide variety of questions to the Presbyteries, undercutting the unique role of the General Assembly and limiting its function to referrals; and
- (3) The Assembly, as a representative body, does represent the membership of the Church as it seeks the mind of Christ through the guidance of the Holy Spirit. It does not claim to reflect the "opinions" of its members, but the will of God as it is revealed to us in common assembly.

VIII. That the Assembly adopt the report of the Permanent Committee on Nominations by re-electing to membership on the Permanent Committee on Christian Relations the following members to serve in the Class of 1963:

Mrs. Robert L. MacDougal, Synod of Georgia
 Rev. Cecil A. Thompson, Synod of South Carolina
 Rev. James Sprunt, Synod of Virginia and to elect as a new member—Mr. Frank B. Davis, Synod of Alabama.

That the Stated Clerk be instructed to convene the Permanent Committee on Christian Relations so that it may elect its Chairman.

IX. That the resolution concerning a Roman Catholic candidate for the Presidency of the United States (See page 73.) be answered in the negative for the following reasons:

- (1) That the General Assembly does not deem it appropriate to its function to endorse or condemn any individual candidate for public office;
- (2) That we do not have a clear and consistent statement from the Roman Catholic Church concerning the freedom of individual member's conscience in dealing with matters of public policy; and
- (3) That such an expression as the resolution calls for would be misunderstood as religious prejudice or bigotry.

Further, that reaffirming the historic American position with respect to the separation of Church and State, we encourage all Presbyterians to exercise their responsible role as citizens to determine the basic issues in any campaign, recognizing that the candidates personal faith in God, their integrity, and their positions concerning public policy are more important than their denominational or party affiliation.

6. Permanent Nominating Committee relative to re-numbering of classes, a replacement in the Class of 1961, election of the Class of 1963, and the election of representatives to other bodies.

II. Your Committee on Inter-Church Relations, having considered all matters placed in its hands, unanimously recommends:

1. With reference to Overtures 9 and 10 (See page 27.) that the following be adopted:

(a) In this 100th year of the organization of our church and with the approaching centennial celebration of its founding, we are saddened that the division which came to our American Presbyterian family with a divided nation 100 years ago has not been healed even though the nation has long since been made one.

(b) We reaffirm the hope and prayer often expressed by previous Assemblies for the greatest possible unity in our Presbyterian family.

(c) We commend and encourage congregations, presbyteries, synods and agencies at all levels that are finding appropriate ways and means to increase Presbyterian cooperation and united efforts in their respective areas.

(d) At the Assembly level the Committee on Inter-Church Relations is instructed to confer with the corresponding body in the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and other Presbyterian bodies as to ways in which present tensions, where they exist, may be eased, where cooperation may be extended and made more fruitful, and to arrange, where advisable, for meetings of representatives of our boards and agencies for further exploration of ways and means of a greater united effort.

(e) In light of this foregoing course of action, Overtures 9 and 10 (See page 27.) are answered in the negative, with the hope that through the experience of such cooperation we may be led more clearly toward the restoration of the household of our faith.

2. That Communications from the Church of Scotland, the Presbyterian Church of England, and the Waldensian Church of Italy be received and their greetings acknowledged.

3. That with reference to Communication (b) from the Church of Scotland, our Stated Clerk be instructed to send warm greetings from this Assembly on the occasion of the Fourth Centenary of the Reformation, transmitted through a representative of our Assembly should there be one present in Scotland at the proper time.

4. That with reference to Communication (e) from the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, the Assembly name Walter Courtenay, Principal, and Henry Mahler, Alternate, to extend fraternal greetings on the occasion of the Sesquicentennial of the Cumberland Church.

5. That the Communication (f) from the U.P.U.S.A. Church be received as information and a fitting response be made by our Moderator.

6. That with reference to the Communications concerning a National Church in Washington (g, h) the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church U.S. decline to give official approval to our participation in the development of the National Presbyterian Church for the following reasons:

We do not deny the need for a common Presbyterian witness in our Nation's capital nor intend to disassociate ourselves from a strong witness there. In the event our sister churches should discover the advisability of creating a center geographically and jurisdictionally independent of any local congregation where the Presbyterian Alliance in America can advance the cause of Christ, we suggest that the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations enter into conversations with the U.P.U.S.A. church and such other communions as may be required, and bring definite recommendations before our General Assembly.

7. That communication (i) from the Church of the Pilgrims be received as information.

8. That Communications (j) and (k) be abridged by the Stated Clerk and printed in the Appendix to the minutes. (See Appendix, pages 188 and 189.)

9. That, with reference to Communication (l), the request from the Secretary of the North American Area be approved and the Permanent Nominating Committee be asked to name a nine (9) member Permanent Theological Committee to the 1961 Assembly.

10. That Communications (m) and (n) be received as information, and the paper, "The Reformed Faith in the World Today," be printed in the Appendix to the Minutes (See Appendix, page 190.) and special reprints be made available to the Church by the Stated Clerk, if the way be clear.

11. That with reference to Communication (o) the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations be instructed, in consultation with the Board of World Missions, to see that all necessary information is placed in the hands of our representatives to the 1961 General Assembly of the World Council of Churches.

12. That the Report of the National Council of Churches for 1959 be abridged by the Stated Clerk and printed in the Minutes. (See report of B. R. Lacy, Appendix, page 186.)

13. That the resolution offered by W. L. Van Auken be referred to our representatives on the National Council of Churches for report to the 1961 General Assembly. (See page 35.)

14. That the report of the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations be approved and its recommendations adopted. (See Appendix, page 183.)

16. That, as a part of this report, the Assembly hear briefly from Rev. I. Stuart McElroy of the American Bible Society, Dr. Wilbur C. Parry of the National Council of Churches, and Mr. Earl Pleasant of RIAL.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. KADEL, Chairman

B. F. HALL, Secretary

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON INTER-CHURCH RELATIONS

The Standing Committee, which had completed its business on Friday, April 29, re-convened Saturday morning by instruction of the Moderator, to consider the resolution presented by Dr. John R. Richardson, which asked for the appointment of an ad interim committee to study the constitutional validity of our membership in the National Council of Churches. With regard to this matter, we recommend the adoption of the following:

That the Assembly answer the resolution in the negative, with the following statement:

First, the Council is clearly not an organic church body by its own admission and by that of its member churches. Thus our participation in the Council does not involve that union with another denomination requiring the three-fourths ($\frac{3}{4}$) vote of our presbyteries. Whenever the Council does present matters to the churches for their consideration and make possible such cooperative studies as that resulting in the RSV of the Bible, it is clearly not a church or denomination but rather an association of denominations who hold a common faith in Christ as Lord and Savior and share common goals and purposes.

Secondly, it should be pointed out that the National Council of Churches is not authorized, by its own admission, to speak for its member churches, but rather, from time to time, it does speak to them and to our society. We feel that the Council's prophetic voice is very much needed in our day, but like any prophetic voice, it must be weighed and evaluated by the individual Christian conscience.

Thirdly, the confession of Faith, chapter 33, paragraph 4, affirms that Synods and Councils should handle and conclude only matters of an ecclesiastical nature or in extraordinary cases. We interpret this as giving Christians, both as individuals and in groups, a mandate for speaking, in the spirit of the prophets and in the spirit of our Lord, on any issues that concern the life of man under God.

The National Council of Churches is certainly not perfect. There is much about it that can and should be improved. But we deplore the unmerited attacks made on the National Council which result inevitably in a distrust and weakening of the Christian witness in our land and throughout the world. We regard our united work with other Christians as being of paramount importance in today's world and we urge our representatives on the National Council to support, encourage, and sustain this vital effort.

Three members of the Committee, Dr. Henry Dendy, Mr. Hough and Mr. Bates asked that their votes be recorded in the negative.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. KADEL, Chairman

B. F. HALL, Secretary

I. OVERTURES (See page 28.)

No. 14—We recommend that this overture be answered in the negative, in that the new church school curriculum soon to be published will be flexible enough to solve the problems now faced; and, it would complicate our sales of lesson material to other groups and result in heavy financial loss to our church.

No. 15—We recommend that this request be referred to the Board of Christian Education for study.

No. 16—We recommend that this overture be answered in the negative as the Board of Education already has this authority.

No. 17—We recommend that this overture be answered in the affirmative.

No. 18—We recommend that this overture be answered in the negative in that the Board of Christian Education has already employed the Rev. James O. Speed to head a new Department of Recruiting for Church Vocations and Scholarships.

II. BOARD OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

We appreciate the cooperation of Members of the Staff and the Chairman of the Board who rendered valuable assistance with reference to the matters before the Committee.

We express appreciation and commendation to Rev. R. Matthew Lynn for his faithful and valuable service to the Board during the years he has been a member and especially the last five years during which he has served as chairman.

Your committee recognizes the work of the Board of Christian Education and its staff in seeking to provide the Church not only with materials for Christian nurture, but also with new insights into the theology and the philosophy of Christian Education. We are heartened by the report of progress made in the Curriculum Improvement Program and anticipate the contribution of the study to the total church.

We feel that the Assembly of our Church shares the loss of the Board in the death of Mr. Cameron D. Deans, General Manager of the Division of Publication, and we choose this opportunity to give expression to our regret in the official records of the Church.

Recommendations:

(a) Your committee recommends the approval of the minutes of the Board of Christian Education.

(b) We recommend the following recommendations of the Board of Christian Education be adopted:

1. That gratitude to God be offered for His continued blessings upon the cause of Christian Education in the Church, and that appreciation to the Church be expressed for the increased support provided the Board for its work.
2. That the General Assembly, in view of the great need for more ministers, missionaries, and church workers, urge that all agencies and courts of the Presbyterian Church support the co-operative program of recruiting for church vocations under the leadership of the director of the new Department of Recruiting and Scholarships.
3. That our churches, ministers, and members, in view of the increased demand for the educated man and woman, and the continued increase in students seeking a college education, continue their concern for Presbyterian colleges and seminaries that they may be able to meet the demands upon them; that, at the same time, the Campus Christian Life program in all educational institutions be strengthened; and that the attention of our people be directed to the help which young people may gain from the Presbyterian Guidance Program as they seek to decide upon their education and lifework.
4. That approval be given to the Board of Christian Education to promote a quiet effort among individuals to establish endowed funds in the Fund for the Ministry and Mission Service, so that provision may be made for the increasing number of candidates for church services and that this Fund may be stabilized against future emergencies. (It requires $5,000 to establish a fund which will provide a full scholarship grant annually.)

5. That churches be urged to organize for the work of Christian Action and that emphasis be given to this work as indicated on the Church Calendar.
6. That all churches in the General Assembly encourage attendance on the part of college students, and high school graduates not over the age of 24, at the Seventh Quadrennial Convention on the World Mission of the Church, to be held December 27-31 at Dallas, Texas (First Presbyterian Church and Adolphus Hotel). Convention theme: "Commitment Amid Conflict."
7. That the following be nominated to succeed themselves on the Committee on the Certification of Lay Workers:

Class of 1962: Rev. Fred V. Poag
Mr. Selser R. Pickett, Jr.

Class of 1963: Miss Eubank Taylor
Mrs. J. K. Fancher

8. That the re-election of the following staff members, each for a term of three years, be confirmed by the General Assembly: the Rev. William P. Anderson, Jr., Secretary of the Division of Christian Teaching; and Mr. Clinton Harris, Secretary of the Division of Church Relations.
9. That churches be encouraged to increase their ratio of gifts to the Board of Christian Education so that it may receive the funds approved by the General Assembly and thereby be enabled better to fulfill its responsibilities to the Church and to the Board's employees.
10. That the following days, weeks, and seasons be observed during 1960 and 1961:
 - Christian Teaching, September, 1960
 - The Lord's Day Observance, September 11, 1960
 - Rally Day (Supplemental Offering for Christian Education), September 25, 1960

 - *Christian Family Week, May 7-14, 1961
 - Christian Citizenship, July, 1961
 - Citizenship Sunday, July 2, 1961
 - *Interdenominational days.
11. That an Assembly-wide Presbyterian Men's Convention be held June 20-23, 1963, in Dallas, Texas.
12. That Dr. Van M. Arnold be nominated to serve as Board representative to the General Council, filling out the unexpired term of Dr. R. Matthew Lynn in the Class of 1962.

Nominations:

We recommend the election of the following who have been nominated by the Permanent Nominating Committee, for the Board of Christian Education:

Class of 1963:

Rev. R. McFerran Crowe	Mississippi	Mrs. Royal Cabell	Virginia
Aubrey N. Heflin	Virginia	Rev. Wade P. Huie, Jr.	Georgia
Rev. William S. McLean	Arkansas	Rev. Robert P. Douglas	Texas
W. B. Whitfield	Alabama	Rev. Edward C. Hay	Florida

Frontis W. Johnston North Carolina
(Replacing Ashton Phelps, resigned)

III. MOUNTAIN RETREAT ASSOCIATION (See page 195.)

We call to the attention of the General Assembly that the Board of Trustees of the Mountain Retreat Association has complied with the requests of the 1959 Assembly and has:

(1) Amended the Program Policy so as to assure the Boards and Agencies that they shall have responsibility for and control over conferences which they conduct, including the selection of speakers and teachers.

(2) Amended the charter to provide that each Synod shall nominate one Trustee and the General Assembly shall nominate the remainder of the Trustees (34), and the Assembly shall elect all Trustees. The amendment further provides that in the event any of the Synods fail to nominate a Trustee, then the General Assembly shall have the right to nominate and elect such Trustee; and, in like manner, if the General Assembly shall fail to nominate or elect Trustees, then the Trustees shall have the right and power both to nominate and elect such Trustees.

(3) Amended its charter so as to provide that all members of the Board of Trustees shall be members of the Presbyterian Church, U. S.

We call to the attention of the Assembly these facts about Montreat College:

(1) That as of February 4, 1959, Montreat College was changed to a coeducational Junior College and its name was changed to Montreat Anderson College in honor of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Anderson.

(2) That Montreat College was made an affiliated Presbyterian College of the Synod of Appalachia in 1959 and of Asheville Presbytery in 1960.

(3) That Montreat College has applied to the North Carolina College Conference and the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools for accreditation.

RECOMMENDATIONS

(a) That the minutes of the Mountain Retreat Association be approved.

(b) That the following recommendations of the Board of Directors of the Mountain Retreat Association be adopted:

1. That the General Assembly appoint a committee of two to draw up a resolution expressing its appreciation to Dr. Frank L. Jackson for the service he has rendered the Church as Acting President of Montreat.

2. That the matter of the Board of Directors seeking funds for capital improvements be referred to the General Council.

3. That the General Assembly designate August 13, 1960, as "Montreat Day at Montreat" and encourage the Commissioners to the 1960 Assembly and the members of the Boards and Agencies of the Assembly to be present. This day does not take the place of the "Montreat Day" designated by the General Assembly to be observed by the Churches in June.

4. That the 1961 Summer Conference Season be used by the Board of Directors in cooperation with the Boards and Agencies of the Assembly to promote the purpose of the Centennial observance of the Church, using the theme "Our Presbyterian Heritage and Mission."

Nominations:

The Committee calls attention to the fact that the changes in the charter about the election of Trustees do not become effective until the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees on August 13, 1960.

We recommend that Mr. R. R. Williams, Sr., Appalachia, be nominated to succeed himself in the class of 1963 and that Rev. Lawrence I. Stell, North Carolina, be nominated to serve in the class of 1963 replacing Rev. W. S. Thorington, Appalachia. The other Trustees in the class of 1963 will be nominated by the Synods in the usual manner.

We recommend that the Permanent Nominating Committee be instructed to arrange the Trustees of the Mountain Retreat Association in classes, according to the Charter of the Mountain Retreat Association and the rules of the General Assembly, when presenting names for election at the 1961 General Assembly.

IV. PRESBYTERIAN SCHOOL OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

We call attention to the fact that, as of July 1, 1959, the name of this school was changed from the General Assembly's Training School for Lay Workers, Inc., to Presbyterian School of Christian Education, Inc. It has an excellent faculty and the reputation of the school is growing. Its splendid service is known far beyond our Church. It could train more people than the churches are sending there, and the Church needs more graduates than the School is producing. The answer lies with the churches.

RECOMMENDATIONS

(a) That the minutes of the Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian School of Christian Education be approved.

(b) That the following recommendations of the Report of the P.S.C.E. be adopted:

1. That the Assembly approve the Board's nomination of Charles E. S. Kraemer as President of the school for a term of three years.

2. That the Assembly request each Presbytery and Synod to make a definite assignment of responsibility for the recruiting of men and women for full time church vocations to the appropriate committee in its organization.

3. That the Assembly urge pastors and sessions to observe Seminary-School of Christian Education day on April 23, 1961 so as to acquaint their congregations with the service the schools are rendering, the opportunities they offer, and their needs.

4. That the Assembly request pastors and other church leaders to direct to the school men and women of superior gifts and consecration, those of maturity and experience as well as young people of college age, that they may be prepared to meet the church's urgent need for more trained workers.

5. That the Assembly instruct the Trustees as authorized by previous Assemblies to continue their efforts to raise funds for permanent improvements and endowment.

Nominations:

We recommend that the following, nominated by the Permanent Nominating Committee, be elected to membership on the Board of Trustees of P.S.C.E.:

Class of 1963

Judge M. Ray Doubles, Virginia
 George H. Flowers, Jr., Virginia
 Rev. J. Witherspoon Dunlap, South Carolina
 Rev. J. V. C. Summerell, Alabama
 Mrs. Lewis Sherrill, Kentucky
 Rev. E. Lee Stoffel, North Carolina
 Rev. J. Walter Dickson, Texas
 Mrs. Lee Davis, Virginia

V. STILLMAN COLLEGE

During 1959 there has been progress at Stillman College. Academic standards have continued to rise by the addition of highly qualified persons to the faculty and physical improvements at the college. Stillman is being fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The enrollment has increased to 484 and this taxes all facilities to the limit. Stillman has had many more applications than it was possible to fill; therefore, a growth has been experienced both in number and quality of students.

Many physical improvements have been made this past year, but the most significant is the completion of Brown Memorial Church. Funds are desperately needed for further renovation of other buildings on the campus.

Appreciation is expressed to the Women of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., for designating Stillman College to be the recipient of the 1960 Birthday offering.

RECOMMENDATIONS

(a) That the minutes of the Board of Trustees of Stillman College be approved.

(b) That the recommendations of the Board of Stillman College be adopted. (See Appendix, page 200.)

Nominations:

We recommend that the following, nominated by the Permanent Nominating Committee, be elected to membership on the Board of Trustees of Stillman College:

Class of 1963

Mrs. Hosea Rasberry, Texas
 President Peyton N. Rhodes, Tennessee
 Rev. Carl R. Pritchett, Virginia
 Rev. Richard R. Potter, Virginia
 Mr. C. H. Moses, Sr., Alabama
 Mrs. Solomon Washington, Alabama
 Rev. J. Phillips Noble, Alabama

Class of 1962

Mr. Andrew Edington, Texas
 (Replacing Rev. Edward V. Ramage, resigned)

VI. THEOLOGICAL SEMINARIES (See Appendix, page 204.)Austin Seminary

We note with interest the improvements in the campus and equipment at Austin, the increase in faculty, and the progress of finance campaigns in its supporting synods. We commend this institution for its growing contribution to the Church.

Columbia Seminary

This institution is to be commended for the continuing improvement of its faculty, plant, and endowment. Three new buildings are being added this year—two dormitories and a student center—and the Seminary has finished its 27th consecutive year without incurring a deficit in current operations.

Louisville Seminary

We congratulate this seminary upon finding the solution to its serious location problem. It has acquired a new site, hopes to start construction in the fall, and to move to its new location in 1961. This should enable it to render even greater service to the Church.

Union Seminary

This seminary continues to increase its service to the Church. During the past year it added to new members to its faculty and again brought in an "Alumni Visiting Professor." Its continuing education program is making its facilities and resources available to an increasing number of men who are out in the pastorate.

In view of the growth of the Church and the increased need for ministers, missionaries, and trained church workers, we urge local churches to keep before their worthy young people the need in the area of church vocations.

We recommend that pending the adoption of the report as a whole, we be permitted to present to the General Assembly:

1. The newly elected President of the Mountain Retreat Association, Dr. C. Grier Davis.
2. Dr. Hunter Blakely, to introduce two new staff members of the Board of Christian Education.
3. The Moderator of the Assembly's Youth Council, Miss Ann Myers.
4. The Chairman of the Board of Christian Education, Dr. R. Matthew Lynn.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES E. MOUNT, Chairman
 EDGAR A. WOODS, Secretary

The following motion, presented in connection with the above report, was tabled:

Recommendation: That the General Assembly, realizing the contemporary need for clarity and conviction in the theology of the Church, remind our Division of Publications of the Committee of Christian Education that our Church has never departed from the Westminster Standards as a description of the faith we hold, and therefore we instruct it to publish only those materials conforming to the historical interpretation of these Standards.

Rev. Arthur V. Board, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Church Extension. In connection with the report the Assembly heard Rev. Ben L. Rose and Rev. P. D. Miller. Rev. H. E. Russell offered special prayer. The report was adopted, and is as follows:

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON CHURCH EXTENSION

Your Standing Committee on Church Extension submits the following report to the General Assembly.

We have received the following:

1. The Minutes of the Board of Church Extension.
2. The Annual Report of the Board of Church Extension.
3. The Report of the Permanent Nominating Committee relating to the Board of Church Extension.
4. The Manual of the Board as amended.

The minutes of the Board were reviewed, found in order and approved.

We wish to commend to the General Assembly the Staff and Board of Church Extension for the excellent and faithful performance of the trust committed to them by the General Assembly.

In the forefront of our opportunity and responsibility is the "Presbyterian Mission to the Nation." It is the desire of this Standing Committee to place before this Assembly, and each congregation of our Church in graphic clearness and persuasive urgency, the challenge of this "Mission to the Nation," that our ministers, elders, deacons and members may continue in prayerful preparation and dedicated performance in this holy task committed to us. Of unusual significance in this regard are the Cavalcades which will visit 87 strategic cities October 3—14, 1960.

We deem it appropriate in this Centennial Year for Evangelism to move in the vanguard of Church Extension.

We would emphasize to the Assembly the fact that the Board of Church Extension serves in the areas of Home Missions, Evangelism, and also in the area of Christian Social Service through the new Division of Homes and Christian Welfare. We are grateful that these services of guidance and counsel are available for each presbytery and synod of our Church.

Again we call to the attention of the Assembly the commendable service of our ministers who serve as chaplains in the Armed Forces of the nation and in veterans' institutions. We suggest anew that we pray for these chaplains in their far-flung service.

Your Standing Committee desires to illuminate again the need for increased financial support for the performance of the task entrusted to your Board of Church Extension. During the past year the requests for building donations from the presbyteries totaled $754,750. There was only $221,000 available for distribution as gifts to the presbyteries.

While the work of the Board of Church Extension represents but one important part of the need experienced by the Church for the lack of personnel, we recommend that each Session in our Assembly engage in prayer at each stated meeting, to the Lord of the harvest, that He will raise up laborers to go into the fields which in our day are ready for the harvest. It is also suggested that this prayer be made a part of the Session's minutes, that as minutes are read, elders will be reminded to pray again that God will supply the needed servants of the Church. Also, we recommend that the Session suggest to the Diaconate that they join in the petition of this particular prayer, and further, that the Session commend to the Minister that he lead the congregation in this prayer from time to time and that he encourage his people to join heart and mind in this supplication.

Recommendations

1. That all churches in the General Assembly through their organizations be requested to observe May, 1961, as Church Extension Season, using the Centennial study book, "The Story of Southern Presbyterians," by T. Watson Street, together with other materials which will be prepared for the season.

2. That every pastor and congregation be urged to join Presbytery's Church Extension Committee in observing May 14-21, 1961, as a week of prayer during which supplemental offerings will be made for the extension work of our denomination.

3. That in May, 1961, each presbytery in the General Assembly be urged to push vigorously in every congregation some plan of raising funds for church building purposes, it being understood that presbytery is to retain 80% of all such supplemental offerings for its own use and remit 20% to the Board of Church Extension for distribution to areas of particular needs.

4. That, as we face a Centennial, General Assembly lay upon the hearts of all our people the unprecedented opportunity which the Presbyterian Church faces for growth and expansion in this part of the United States which is now one of the most fruitful mission fields in the world.

5. That our people be asked to pray for and participate in the Evangelism Cavalcades to be conducted during October of this year in upwards of a hundred centers across the Assembly in preparation for the great venture in soul winning which we hope may mark our Centennial Year.

6. That the churches be called to earnest prayer for "The Mission To The Nation," and particularly for its program of witnessing during January through March, 1961, the opening quarter of our Centennial Year.

7. That all our churches be urged to use during 1961 the other Centennial study book, "Tomorrow's Church in Tomorrow's World," by E. T. Thompson, bearing in mind that the lessons of the past should teach us how to serve the future.

8. That the Manual of this Board, as amended, be approved.

9. That the Assembly approve the Board's action in the election of Mr. Gordon A. Hanson as Secretary of Homes and Christian Welfare for a term of three years, Rev. L. A. Davis, D.D., as Associate Secretary of Evangelism for two years, and the re-election of all other staff persons for terms of three years each.

10. That the General Assembly express its appreciation for the rich program presented at the Pre-Assembly Conference on Evangelism and request that a similar conference be arranged prior to the 1961 meeting in Dallas.

11. That the persons nominated by the Permanent Nominating Committee for the Class of 1963 be elected as follows:

Rev. Cecil H. Lang, Sr., Texas
 Rev. Benjamin L. Rose, North Carolina
 Rev. Warner L. Hall, North Carolina
 Dr. Alan Keith-Lucas, North Carolina
 Ben S. Barnes, Jr., Georgia
 Frank Lyon, Arkansas
 Reid V. Robinson, Oklahoma
 Mrs. R. E. Wallin, Missouri

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR V. BOAND, Chairman
 D. W. ROBERTS, Secretary

The hour for adjournment was reached and the Assembly was closed with prayer by Rev. Alfred Mathes.

NIGHT SESSION

The Assembly met at 7:30 and was opened with prayer by the Moderator.

The Stated Clerk presented to Rev. Albert J. Kissling a framed seal of the Church inscribed by the Moderator and Stated Clerk in appreciation to the Church as host of the One-Hundredth Assembly.

Rev. Albert J. Kissling presented an inscribed celtic cross to the Moderator, Rev. Marion A. Boggs, in token of appreciation for his service as Moderator.

Rev. Wade P. Huie, Jr., presented the report of the Standing Committee on Women's Work. He also presented Miss Evelyn Green, Executive Secretary, who addressed the Assembly. Mrs. W. A. McCutchen, Chairman of the Board, and Mrs. Morrell DeReign, former Chairman, were introduced.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON WOMEN'S WORK

Referred to the Committee were the following items:

1. Overtures 19 and 20 (See page 29.)
2. Minutes of the Board of Women's Work
3. Report of the Board of Women's Work
4. The report of the Permanent Nominating Committee relating to the Board of Women's Work.

The Chairman presented Mrs. Morrell DeReign, Chairman of the Board of Women's Work, who in turn presented the following persons:

Mrs. W. A. McCutchen, Secretary of the Board of Women's Work; Mrs. Helen T. Vass, member of Board of Women's Work who served as Acting Executive Secretary from September, 1959, through March, 1960. Mrs. R. E. Wallin, Chairman of Women's Advisory Council; Miss Mary S. Quidor, Treasurer, Board of Women's Work; Mrs. Mable C. Morley, Leadership Department, Board of Women's Work; Miss Janie McCutchen, Program Department, Board of Women's Work; Miss Evelyn Green, Executive Secretary, Board of Women's Work.

Miss Evelyn Green, Executive Secretary of the Board of Women's Work, reviewed the 48th Annual Report of the Board, stressing that this has been a year of evaluation. The report summarized the services of the Board under these five headings:

1. Interpret the total program of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. 2. Provide opportunities for leadership training. 3. Provide service, both professional and volunteer. 4. Produce and distribute materials for personal enrichment, for organizational help, and for program. 5. Represent the Women of the Church on the planning councils of the General Assembly and on National and World Church levels.

The year 1959 was marked by several advances. The first Every Member Bible Study, which replaces the special Bible Study of the Women of the Church, was worked out through the Inter-Board Adult Council and published by the Board of Women's Work. This Bible Study on Genesis has been well received by the Church.

Another advance is the change of the program and work year of the Women of the Church to begin with October and run through the fall, winter, and spring months with unbroken continuity, and to provide special summer opportunities for training of newly elected leaders before they take office in October. This plan was the result of 3 years of study and planning by the Women's Advisory Council, the Board, and the staff, in consultation with women in local churches, district conferences, Presbyterial meetings, and Synodical Training Schools. By coinciding with the Church School year, this plan is designed to give more effective coordination to the total educational program of the local church.

In 1959, the Centennial Anniversary Year of the Presbyterian Church of Brazil, the women of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., joined with the women of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., to make a gift to the Brazilian Church for the establishment of a Lay Training Center in the new capital city, Brasilia. The part of the gift from the women of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., amounted to $206,151.61, a part of which was given in memory of Mrs. Leighton M. McCutchen.

The new Winsborough Building at Montreat, named in honor of the first executive secretary, has been completed, and will be dedicated July 21, 1960, during the Women's Conference.

Recognizing the increased number of employed women in our local churches, the Board is cooperating with United Church Women in a study of employed women and their needs. Miss Evelyn Green is serving as chairman of this nation-wide committee.

In their formal report and informal comments, we were impressed by the concern of the Board and Staff to discover the needs and desires of the women of the various local churches.

Recommendations:

1. That the Assembly warmly commend the board and staff for their leadership in the Every Member Bible Study.
2. That the women of every local church be encouraged to participate fully in the cooperative plans for the Centennial Year, making every effort to reach the goals set by the Centennial Committee and approved by the General Assembly for the emphasis on "The Heritage and Mission of the Church."

3. That the Assembly, upon the completion of their terms of office, commend Mrs. Julius H. Smith and Mrs. W. McIlwaine Thompson for their faithful and devoted service to the Board.

4. That the Assembly express appreciation for their services as Acting Executive Secretary to Mrs. W. H. Hopper for June and July, 1959, and to Mrs. Helen T. Vass from August, 1959, through March, 1960.

5. That Overtures 19 and 20 relating to the change in the program and work year be answered in the negative. (This action is in harmony with item #30, Report of the Standing Committee on the General Council. See page 55.)

6. That the minutes of the Board of Women's Work be approved.

7. That in accordance with the recommendation of the Permanent Nominating Committee, the following be elected members of the Board:

Class of 1962

Mrs. John W. Eakes, Mississippi

Class of 1963

Rev. Balmer H. Kelly, Appalachia

Mrs. W. A. McCutchen, Alabama

Mrs. J. I. Jordan, Oklahoma

Mrs. Samuel S. Wiley, Appalachia

Mrs. Maury McIntyre, Mississippi

Mrs. Harry Goodykoontz, Kentucky

8. That the election of Mrs. Mabel C. Morley as Director of the Leadership Education Department of the Board of Women's Work for a term of three years, be approved.

9. That the Assembly approve the election of Miss Evelyn L. Green as Executive Secretary of the Board of Women's Work for a term of three years and that she be presented to the General Assembly for a word of greeting.

WADE P. HUIE, JR., Chairman
JOHN E. TOPPINS, Secretary

Rev. Paul M. Edris, Chairman, presented the report of the Standing Committee on Christianity and Health. The report was adopted, and is as follows:

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIANITY AND HEALTH

There was placed in the hands of your committee the annual report of the Permanent Committee on Christianity and Health, together with the minutes of that committee.

The Rev. Samuel S. Wiley, Chairman of the Permanent Committee, met with this committee and spoke on the Permanent Committee's work. He made special reference to the study being made by that committee on the problem of pain. He drew attention to the three convictions on which the Permanent Committee bases its work. He stressed the team concept of cooperation between those engaged in the healing professions and the clergy, resulting in a "therapeutic fellowship" which includes the congregation and the life of the Church. He referred to the program of action set forth in the report and its suggested topics for study, together with a brief report of progress to date in these fields. He reported on the local joint meetings of doctors and clergymen, and on the response to the letter to pastors sent out in July, 1959. Latest reports show that 104 pastors have had meetings of physicians and pastors in the local community, 42 others plan to have such meetings, and 101 more have expressed keen interest in the relationship of Christianity and Health.

Dr. Wiley presented the following concerns of the Permanent Committee which he wished to have laid before this Standing Committee:

1. That stress be laid on the conviction that the main goal of life is not always, nor exclusively, deliverance from pain and illness; but is the bringing of a total personality into conformity to the image of Christ. 2. That a clear distinction be recognized between faith and magic in healing; that is to say that we do not selfishly manipulate the power of God by prayer. Rather, we seek that abiding trust in God which opens our whole lives to the blessings of His grace and the acceptance of His will. 3. That the proper emphasis be placed on the importance of the conference on Christianity and Health to be held at Columbia Seminary in July of 1960. 4. That those engaged in the healing professions be encouraged to seek the cooperation of pastors in the assurance that pastors are eager to cooperate in the total ministry of healing.

WE RECOMMEND:

1. That the minutes of the Permanent Committee on Christianity and Health be approved.

2. That the report of the Permanent Committee on Christianity and Health be received by the Assembly with the heartiest commendation of the work of that committee, and that the recommendations in that report be adopted (See Appendix, page 213.)

3. That the Permanent Committee on Christianity and Health be directed to study the feasibility of compiling and keeping up to date a mailing list of those members of our churches engaged in the healing professions, for the purpose of providing them with pertinent reports and information and of inviting suggestions from them; and that, if this be found feasible, the committee be authorized to effectuate such a plan in 1961.

4. That, in connection with the studies now being made by the Permanent Committee relative to alcoholism and other specific problems, there be included a study of the prevalent use of tranquilizing drugs and the implications of such use for the Christian faith.

5. That the Permanent Committee be requested to make a study of the implications for the Christian to be found in the current medical reports concerning the alleged relationship between cancer and the smoking of cigarettes and the use of other forms of tobacco, and that the General Assembly be informed of the Committee's findings as soon as possible.

6. That the Assembly recommend that a committee on Christianity and Health be organized in each of our presbyteries to serve as an arm of the Assembly's Committee at the presbytery level, and to effectuate the plans of the Assembly's Committee particularly in the area of the proposed programs for establishing closer relations between the healing professions and the clergy.

7. That the nominees of the Assembly's Permanent Nominating Committee to the class of 1963 on the Permanent Committee on Christianity and Health be elected as follows:

Rev. Thomas H. McDill

Rev. Samuel S. Wiley

Rev. Allison F. Williams

each to succeed himself as a member of this committee.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL M. EDRIS, Chairman

CONRAD G. CROW, Secretary

Supplemental Report—Standing Committee on The Minister and His Work—was presented by Rev. Marc C. Weersing, Chairman. The report was adopted, as amended, and is as follows:

STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE MINISTER AND HIS WORK (SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT)

At the direction of the General Assembly, the Standing Committee on The Minister and His Work considered the following resolution, which was introduced on the floor of the Assembly. (See page 73.)

We recommend that the resolution be answered as follows:

The Standing Committee would assure the Assembly that the Permanent Committee of The Assembly on The Minister and His Work, cognizant of difficult situations which have arisen in the past, has been exploring and will continue to explore ways and means through the Church courts by which the Church at large may stand significantly behind ministers and/or congregations who are bearing witness in love to the position of our Church.

The Standing Committee would call particular attention to the statement of the 98th General Assembly entitled "Freedom of the Pulpit." (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1958, pp. 76-78.)

We recommend that the Permanent Committee on The Minister and His Work report to the 1961 Assembly as to what has been done in the area of "standing behind ministers" as referred to in the Standing Committee's report above.

THANKS

Rev. J. Randolph Taylor presented the report of the Committee on Thanks. It was adopted by rising vote, and is as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THANKS

We give thanks to Almighty God for the experience of this 100th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States—for the growth in faith in Him who is the Head of the Church, for the increasing fellowship with one another within the framework of our faith, for the redemptive discipline of discussion and debate under the Spirit which has led to decision and deeper commitment. We are grateful as well for the assurance which He has given of His continued guidance of the Church within the year ahead.

Upon this ground of gratitude to God we express our sincere appreciation to the Riverside Presbyterian Church of Jacksonville, Florida, to its ministers, its staff, its officers and its members for the gracious way in which they have opened to us their hearts and their church home. We would thank particularly the committee on arrangements, of which Mr. and Mrs. Howard Covington have served as general chairmen, for the months of planning and preparation which have been manifest in the careful attention to every detail in answer to our needs. From the moment of registration to this concluding report of our meeting, we have found an individual and corporate thoughtfulness which has expressed itself in such care for our concerns as the provisions of comfortable facilities for meetings and for lodging, special means of transportation, exquisite flower arrangements, meals noteworthy for both deliciousness and dipatch, refreshments which were free and thus the more enjoyable, a lovely tea for the ladies of the Assembly, and the ever-present help of cooperative guides. We would like to say a special work of appreciation for the inspiring quality of the music throughout this meeting of the General Assembly.

We are grateful to all of the Presbyterian Church of Jacksonville and of the Presbytery of Suwannee for the splendid way in which they have shared responsibilities and have united with the host church in seeing to the manifold necessities of this meeting. This has been to us a healthy example of Presbyterianism in action. Beyond the bounds of our own denomination we would express appreciation to the Christian churches of Jacksonville, who through their Ministerial Association and by individual invitation have had contact with many of our commissioners and have reminded us of our wider oneness in Him.

We are appreciative of the effective work of those who maintain the avenues of publicity and who have given good coverage to the interests and activities of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., and specifically to this meeting of its Assembly, through the press, radio and television.

We wish to thank all those who were participants in the special events which have taken place during these days: the hosts, speakers and leaders of the intriguing and inspiring Pre-Assembly Conference on Evangelism at the South Jacksonville Presbyterian Church, April 27-28; the retiring Moderator, Dr. Ernest Trice Thompson, whose challenging sermon gave the initial thrust to our meeting; those who were responsible for the preparation and for the leadership of the daily worship services; the fraternal delegates from other churches and the representatives of cooperative councils and agencies; the panelists on the program concerning Church vocations; those who were responsible for the services of Sunday, May 1—the Communion Service at the First Presbyterian Church, the Service of Induction of the Stated Clerk, and the programs on Christian service in the world and on the world mission of the Church.

We express our gratitude to the Moderator of the General Assembly, Dr. Marion A. Boggs, for the warm, human way in which he has consistently carried us by a comfortable route out of confusion into order and has led us to the place where we are preparing to adjourn well ahead of schedule. We are grateful to the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly, Dr. James A. Millard, Jr., who, with his assistants, has cared for numerous details, including the mountain of mimeographed material which we have used. We are thankful as well to the members and staffs of our boards and agencies who have made themselves available for our assistance, and to those who provided the attractive displays of our Church's ongoing program.

Finally, we offer our thanks to the multitude of others who have seen to the handling of hundreds of detailed responsibilities in order that this 100th meeting of the General Assembly might go forward along positive patterns of progress and of growth. Here we have sounded a new and deeper note of harmony within our Church, and while there has not always been unanimity, there has always been the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

JOHN RANDOLPH TAYLOR
J. R. FAIR

The minutes of the day's sessions were read and approved.

The Assembly was led in a closing worship service by the Moderator.

The Moderator made the following pronouncement:

By virtue of the authority delegated to me by the Church, I do now declare that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States is adjourned, to convene at the Highland Park Presbyterian Church, Dallas, Texas on April 27, 1961.

MARION A. BOGGS, Moderator

REPORT OF THE ASSEMBLY'S COMMITTEE ON THE MINISTER AND HIS WORK

The Committee continues mindful of the responsibilities which have been charged to it by the General Assembly. These responsibilities are being discharged in ways consistent with the actions and wishes of the Assembly. We are happy to report the continuation of a fine relationship with the Commissions and Committees on the Minister and His Work of the various Presbyteries and Synods.

The office of the Committee is aware at all times of the pastorless churches and fields within the Presbyterian Church in the United States which desire to call pastors, and also of ministers who may be available for calls. It is constantly at work in an effort to bring, through the Commissions of the Presbyteries, such churches and ministers together. Naturally these efforts are of such an intimate nature as to make it inadvisable to report upon them except in a general way, lest harm be done both to churches and to ministers.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Committee in 1960 was held on January 6 and 7 at the Presbyterian Center in Atlanta. All members were present except two, and they were prevented from attending by reasons beyond their control.

NEW MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE.

The new members of the Committee, selected by their respective Synods, are the Rev. Messrs. W. Warrington Preston (Alabama), William S. Thorington (Appalachia), Charles H. Gibboney (Georgia), Neill R. McGeachy (North Carolina) and Royce K. McDonald (West Virginia), and the Rev. James A. Millard, Jr., Stated Clerk of the General Assembly.

OFFICERS.

The following officers of the Committee for 1960 were chosen:

Rev. D. P. McGeachy, Jr., Chairman

Rev. Howard McK. Wilson, Vice-Chairman

Rev. Charles H. Gibboney, Member-at-Large of the Executive Committee

Mr. R. Graham White was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Committee for a term of three years.

CO-OPTED MEMBERS.

In 1954 the General Assembly granted the Committee permission to have four Co-opted lay members (page 178 of Minutes). Mr. John R. Bagby, Judge John A. Fulton, Mr. George Gormly and Dr. Colin M. Hudson have rendered the Committee and the Church a distinctive service in this relationship. Their wide variety of training, experience, leadership and maturity have been of great help in the counsels of the Committee. These gentlemen have served faithfully for three three-year terms and therefore are ineligible for re-election. It plans to provide for such similar membership of Ruling Elders in the Manual which will be submitted to the 1961 General Assembly for approval.

ASSEMBLY-WIDE CONFERENCE ON ANNUITIES AND RELIEF AND THE MINISTER AND HIS WORK.

This Committee and the Board of Annuities and Relief are planning an Assembly-wide Conference at Montreat, August 10 and 11, 1960. The Conference will begin the afternoon of August 10th and will end the following afternoon. A program has been developed which will be of particular interest to members of Annuities and Relief Committees, members of Commissions and Committees on the Minister and His Work, and Executive Secretaries and Superintendents of Church Extension of Presbyteries and Synods. There are many subjects in these two areas of the life of our Church which are of mutual interest and concern. We believe such an Assembly-wide Conference can be of great help to the entire Church.

MINISTERS' REMUNERATION AND FEDERAL INCOME TAXES.

There have been recent rulings by the United States Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, touching allowances made to ministers for manse expenses. This Committee would suggest that when calls are issued to ministers cash allowances for manse expenses be designated: "$_____ of above cash remuneration be designated for manse expense," or "$_____ in addition to the annual cash remuneration be designated for manse expense," or "manse expense be paid by the church."

It has come to our attention that there has been some question before the Internal Revenue Service of the Federal Government concerning the expenses incurred by church organizations in moving ministers from one place to another upon their acceptance of a call. Some Internal Revenue people apparently have taken the position that such expenses, paid by the organization, should be included as remuneration by the ministers as far as Federal Income taxes are concerned.

SEMINARY STUDENTS.

A few candidates for the ministry under the care of Presbyteries within our Church attend seminaries and theological schools other than those under the control of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. The seminaries which candidates attend is a matter of primary concern to the Committees on Candidates of the Presbyteries, and not of primary concern to the Commissions on the Minister and His Work. It has been our observation, however, that candidates of the Presbyterian Church, US would be well advised to attend one of our seminaries for work toward a BD degree. Too often when candidates attend outside seminaries they lose contact with the Church and it becomes difficult for them upon graduation to receive calls to churches within our denomination. In recent years several candidates have been compelled to accept calls to churches in other denominations because of this fact. Therefore, we would counsel Committees on Candidates to lay special emphasis upon the importance of candidates attending seminaries under the control of our Church.

MINISTERS' REMUNERATIONS.

The Committee would report that the level of the remuneration paid to ministers in the Presbyterian Church, US, continues on the increase. This is essential in the face of present-day economic conditions. A number of the Presbyteries have created permanent committees of qualified laymen to study this subject, and such committees have taken significant steps. Such committees are recommended to those Presbyteries which have delayed in this matter. "The laborer is worthy of his hire," is a Christian principle expressed by the Master Himself. It is impossible for a minister to do his best work when beset by financial worries. Churches and Presbyteries have responsibilities in this area which demand constant attention, especially in an expanding and inflationary economy.

Respectfully submitted,

D. P. McGEACHY, JR., Chairman
R. GRAHAM WHITE, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE AD INTERIM COMMITTEE ON POSSIBLE REVISION OF THE CONFESSION OF FAITH—CHAPTER III

The Committee has met twice, and carried on considerable correspondence within its membership. No statement fully satisfactory to the Committee has been arrived at, but the Committee feels considerable progress has been made in the study.

The Committee therefore requests:

(1) That it be continued and report to the 1961 meeting of the General Assembly. This continuance would allow the Committee to be in touch with other Reformed Churches which are engaged in similar studies.

(2) That the Assembly encourage its Ministers and members to communicate their opinions regarding this chapter to the Committee.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. LEITH, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE AD INTERIM COMMITTEE ON THE BRIEF STATEMENT OF FAITH TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF 1960

The Committee reports that since the last meeting of the Assembly it has had two meetings of two days each.

At the end of the last meeting the members of the Committee felt that they had reached a stage in their work in which a provisional draft could be placed in the hands of seminary professors and others for their criticisms and suggestions.

The Committee expects to have the Brief Statement ready for the 1961 Assembly.

C. L. KING, Chairman

REPORT OF THE AD INTERIM COMMITTEE ON THE BOOK OF CHURCH ORDER TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF 1960

Your Ad Interim Committee presents herewith its final draft of the Form of Government and its final draft of the Rules of Discipline, with recommendation that these two parts of the Book of Church Order now be sent finally to the presbyteries for their advice and consent. We believe that a number of improvements from the version sent to the presbyteries in 1958 have resulted from the subsequent suggestions coming from courts and individuals. While many of these changes are simply clarifications in expression without change in substance, there are some variations. For the assistance of the Church in preparing to vote intelligently upon the revision, the Committee would note the following:

VARIATIONS FROM 1958 FORM OF BCO REVISION TO THE 1960 FORM

- 5-1. Added sentence allows congregation to set minimum voting age.
- 9-1. Substance of pres. par. 30 restored.
- 9-4. "Spiritual preeminence" put back in place of "authority."
- 13-2, 3. Added material allows presbytery to elect Moderator for one year.
- 16-7(10). Makes explicit authority of presbytery in location of churches, as per 1911 interpretation by General Assembly.
- 16-7(19) and 17-5. Makes explicit powers of presbytery and synod to institute necessary agencies for own work.
- 19-1, ff. The chapter further revised: (1) retains distinction between "committee" and "commission" as more recent practice; (2) defines administrative and judicial functions of commissions more clearly; (3) clarifies application of procedure from Rules of Discipline to commission action.
- 19-3. Provides clear reference to Rules of Discipline provisions applying to commissions.
- 21-1. Chapter rephrased retains "commission" title for Minister and His Work.
- 25-4. Defines "Interim Supply."
- 26-9. Statement of presbytery's responsibility in allowing Minister to accept work not under jurisdiction of any Church court.
- 28-1. Allows use of Commission on Minister and His Work in dissolving pastoral relation in accordance with 1950 General Assembly action.
- 29-1. Protects right of nomination from floor in election of officers.
- 29-7. Clarifies status of Elder elected to diaconate and Deacon elected to eldership.
- 117-1. Allows complaint from commission action to the appointing court.
- 118-1 through 4. Makes explicit method of appeal and complaint from action of a commission, in accord with practice followed in several recent cases.

The Committee has discussed the ultimate format for printing the Book of Church Order with the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly and with the Board of Christian Education, which does the actual publishing and sale. The Committee has discussed with the Stated Clerk his plans to make the Form of Government and Rules of Discipline, if enacted by the 1960 Assembly available for the use of the Church prior to the time a Directory for Worship can be adopted and an entire Book of Church Order be printed.

The Committee makes the following recommendations to the General Assembly:

- (1) That the General Assembly approve and recommend to the presbyteries the entire Form of Government and the entire Rules of Discipline as presented by the Committee to be acted upon as a unit by the presbyteries. PREFACE

I. JESUS CHRIST, THE KING AND HEAD OF THE CHURCH

Jesus Christ, upon whose shoulders the government is, whose name is called Wonderful, Counsellor, the Mighty God, the Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace, of the increase of whose government and peace there shall be no end, sits upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom to order it and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even forever. (Isaiah 9:6-7)

All power is given unto him in heaven and in earth by the Father, who raised him from the dead, and set him on his own right hand, far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come. The Father has put all things under his feet, and gave him to be Head over all things to the Church, which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all. (Ephesians 1:20-23)

Jesus Christ, being ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things, received gifts for his Church, and gave officers necessary for the edification of his Church and the perfecting of his saints. (Ephesians 4:10-12)

Jesus Christ, who is the Mediator, the sole Priest, Prophet, King, Savior, and Head of the Church, contains in himself all the offices in his Church, and has many of their names attributed to him in the Scriptures. He is Apostle, Teacher, Pastor, Minister, and Bishop, the only Lawgiver in Zion. Since his ascension he is present with his Church by his Spirit and Word, and the benefits of all of his offices are effectually applied by the Holy Spirit.

It belongs to his Majesty from his throne of glory, to rule and teach the Church, through his Spirit and Word, by the ministry of men, thus mediately exercising his own authority, and enforcing his own laws, unto the edification and establishment of his kingdom.

Christ, as King and Head of the Church, has given to his Church its officers, oracles and ordinances. He has ordained therein his system of doctrine, government, discipline, and worship. These are either expressly set down in Scripture, or may by good and necessary inference be deduced therefrom. In matters of the worship of God and the government of the Church, there are some circumstances common to human actions and societies, which are to be ordered by reason and Christian prudence, according to the general rules of the Word, which always are to be observed. Insofar as this system is expressly set forth in Scripture nothing may be added or taken away.

II. THE CONSTITUTION DEFINED

The Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States consists of its doctrinal symbols, embraced in the Confession of Faith, and the Larger and Shorter Catechisms, together with the Book of Church Order, which comprises the Form of Government, the Rules of Discipline and the Directory for Worship.

III. THE DOCTRINE OF CHURCH GOVERNMENT—SUMMARY

1. The Presbyterian form of Church government is government by Presbyters or Elders, gathered in courts in regular gradation. This scriptural form of Church government is here set forth under five heads, namely: A. The Church; B. Its Members; C. Its Officers; D. Its Courts; and E. Its Orders.

2. The Church catholic, which the Lord Jesus Christ has erected in this world for the gathering and perfecting of the saints, is his visible kingdom of grace, and is one and the same in all ages.

3. The members of this visible Church catholic are all those persons in every nation who make profession of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and promise submission to his law, together with their children.

4. The officers of the Church, by whom all its powers are administered, are, according to the Scriptures, Ministers of the Word, Ruling Elders and Deacons.

5. Ecclesiastical jurisdiction is a joint power, to be exercised by Presbyters in courts, and cannot be exercised by Presbyters as individuals. The courts may have authority over one or many churches, but sustain such mutual relations as to express the unity of the Church.

6. Officers are ordained only by the authority of a court.

7. This scriptural doctrine of government by Presbyters or Elders is established for the perfecting of the order of the visible Church, but is not essential to its existence.

PART I. DOCTRINE OF THE CHURCH

CHAPTER 1. THE NATURE AND EXTENT OF CHURCH POWER

- § 1-1. The Church, with its ordinances, officers, and courts, is the agency of Christ which he has ordained for the edification of his people, for the propagation of the Christian faith and for the evangelization of the world.
- § 1-2. The power which Christ has given his Church is wholly moral and spiritual, and constitutes the Church a kingdom and government distinct from the civil commonwealth. This power rests, not in individuals, but in the Church as a whole.
- § 1-3. The sole functions of the Church are to proclaim, to administer, and to enforce the law of Christ revealed in Scripture. The exercise of Church power has divine sanction only when in conformity with the Word.
- § 1-4. Church power is exercised both by church members and by Church officers. It is exercised by the members of a church in choosing those whom Christ calls to office in his Church. It is exercised by Church officers individually, as in preaching the Gospel, administering the Sacraments, reproving the erring, visiting the sick, and comforting the afflicted, and is called the Power of Order. It is exercised by the Elders jointly, in Church courts, in the form of judgment or administration, and is called the Power of Jurisdiction.

CHAPTER 2. THE VISIBLE CHURCH CATHOLIC

- § 2-1. The visible Church, before under the old Covenant, and now under the Gospel, is one and the same, and consists of all those who make profession of their faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, together with their children.
- § 2-2. The unity of the body of Christ, though obscured, is not destroyed by its division into different denominations of professing Christians. All denominations which maintain the Word and Sacraments in their fundamental integrity are to be recognized as true branches of the Church of Jesus Christ.
- § 2-3. The visible Church catholic includes the local congregations, or particular churches. This is in accord with Scriptural teaching.

CHAPTER 3. THE PARTICULAR CHURCH

- § 3-1. A particular church consists of a number of professing Christians and their children, associated together for divine worship and godly living as set forth in Scripture, and submitting to the lawful government of Christ's Kingdom.
- § 3-2. Its officers are Pastor(s), Ruling Elders, and Deacons.
- § 3-3. Its government and jurisdiction, being a joint power, is lodged in the Church Session, which consists of the Pastor(s) and Ruling Elders.
- § 3-4. Its ministry of sympathy and service is especially lodged in the hands of the Deacons, who serve under the jurisdiction of the Session.
- § 3-5. The Ordinances established for his Church by Christ, the Head, are: prayer; the singing of psalms and hymns; reading, expounding and preaching the Word of God; administering the Sacraments of Baptism and the Lord's Supper; fasting and thanksgiving; catechising; Christian nurture; making offerings for the relief of the poor, the extension of the Gospel and other Christian causes; exercising discipline; and, invoking the blessing of God upon the people.
- § 3-6. A Church without a Pastor, and with no Minister available, should be convened by the Session on the Lord's Day, and at other suitable times, for prayer, praise, the reading and expounding of the Holy Scriptures, and exhortation or the reading of a sermon of some approved Minister. In like manner, Christians in places where there is no church ought to meet regularly for the worship of God.

CHAPTER 4. THE ORGANIZING OF A PARTICULAR CHURCH

- § 4-1. A church can be organized only by the authority of Presbytery. The Presbytery may proceed with the organization directly, or through a Commission, or through an Evangelist to whom the Presbytery has entrusted the power to organize churches. In the organizing of a church, the procedure shall be as follows:

(1) Church members shall present evidences of their membership, and applicants for admission to the Church on profession of faith in Christ shall present themselves for examination and baptism as necessary.

(2) These persons shall then be required to enter into covenant, by answering the following question affirmatively with uplifted hand: "Do you, in reliance on God for strength, solemnly promise and covenant that you will walk together as an organized church, on the principles of the faith and order of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, and that you will be zealous and faithful in maintaining the purity and peace of the whole Church?"

(3) The presiding Minister shall then say: "I now pronounce and declare that you are constituted a church according to the Word of God and the faith and order of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen."

(4) Ruling Elders and Deacons shall then be elected, if the way be clear, and steps taken for their instruction, examination, ordination and installation.

(5) Action shall be taken to secure, as soon as practicable, the regular preaching of the Word and administration of the Sacraments. [See § 10-6; 23-4.]

CHAPTER 5. CONGREGATIONAL MEETINGS

- § 5-1. The congregation consists of all the communing members on the active roll of a particular church. Only such members in good standing who are present at a congregational meeting are entitled to vote. A congregation may at its discretion set a minimum age for the voting of communing members in congregational meetings, provided that such age be not more than sixteen.
- § 5-2. The Session shall call a congregational meeting whenever necessary. It shall give public notice at least one week in advance. Only business stated in the notice shall be transacted. The Session shall call a congregational meeting without delay when requested in writing by one-fourth of the congregation.
- § 5-3. If the church has not more than one hundred members on the active roll, the quorum of a congregational meeting shall consist of one-fourth of such members. If the church has more than one hundred members on the active roll, the quorum shall be one-tenth of such members, but not less than twenty-five.
- § 5-4. The Pastor shall be the Moderator of congregational meetings by virtue of his office. If it should be impracticable or inexpedient for him to preside, or if there is no Pastor, the Session shall appoint one of its number to call the meeting to order and to preside until the congregation shall elect its presiding officer, who shall be a Minister of the Presbyterian Church in the United States or any adult male member of that particular church. [See § 25-6.]
- § 5-5. A Clerk shall be elected by the congregation to serve at that meeting or for a definite period, or the Clerk of the Session may be chosen by common consent to be the Clerk of the congregational meeting. The Clerk shall keep correct minutes of the proceedings and of all business transacted and preserve these minutes in a permanent form, after they have been attested by the Moderator and the Clerk of the meeting. He shall also send a copy of these minutes to the Church Session, which shall enter them in its minute book.
- § 5-6. A Minister, since he is not a member of the congregation, cannot vote in a congregational meeting. When a Minister is moderating a congregational meeting and there is a tie vote, he shall put the question a second time, and if there is not a majority for the motion, he shall declare the motion lost.

CHAPTER 6. INCORPORATION AND PROPERTY OF A PARTICULAR CHURCH

§ 6-1. FOR AN UNINCORPORATED CHURCH

A particular church which is not incorporated, desiring to elect trustees, may select from among its membership, trustees or officers of like nature who shall have the power and authority to buy, sell, or mortgage property for the church, to accept and execute deeds as such trustees, to hold and defend titles to the same, to manage any permanent special funds entrusted to them for the furtherance of the purposes of the church. In the fulfillment of their duties such trustees shall be subject always to the authority, and shall act solely under the instructions, of the congregation which they serve as trustees. The powers and duties of such trustees must not infringe upon the powers or duties of the Session or of the Board of Deacons. Such trustees shall be elected in regularly constituted congregational meetings.

§ 6-2. FOR AN INCORPORATED CHURCH

If a particular church is incorporated, the provisions of its charter and by-laws must always be in accord with the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. If the congregation is an incorporated body, all the communing members on the active roll of that church shall be members of the corporation. The officers of the corporation, whether they be given the title "Trustee" or some other title, shall be elected from among the members of the corporation in a regularly constituted congregational meeting. The powers and duties of such officers must not infringe upon the powers and duties of the Session or of the Board of Deacons. All funds collected for the support and expense of the church and for the benevolent purposes of the church shall be controlled and disbursed by the Session and the Board of Deacons as their relative authorities may from time to time be established and defined. To the officers of the corporation may be given by the charter and bylaws of the corporation any or all of the following responsibilities: The buying, selling, and mortgaging of the property for the church, the acquiring and conveying title to such property, the holding and defending title to the same, the managing of any permanent special funds entrusted to them for the furtherance of the purpose of the church, provided that such duties do not infringe upon the powers and duties of the Session or of the Board of Deacons. In buying, selling, and mortgaging real property such officers shall act solely under the authority of the corporation, granted in a duly constituted meeting of the corporation.

- § 6-3. If a church is dissolved by the Presbytery, or otherwise ceases to exist, and no disposition has been made of its property, those who hold the title to the property shall deliver, convey and transfer to the Presbytery of which the church was a member, or to the authorized agents of the Presbytery, all property of the church; and the receipt and acquittance of the Presbytery, or its proper representatives, shall be a full and complete discharge of all liabilities of such persons holding the property of the church. The Presbytery receiving such property shall apply the same or the proceeds thereof at its discretion.

PART II. DOCTRINE OF CHURCH MEMBERS

CHAPTER 7. COMMUNING AND NON-COMMUNING MEMBERS

- § 7-1. Communing members are those who have made a profession of faith in Christ, have been baptized, and have been admitted by the Session to the Lord's Table. They are entitled to all the rights and privileges of the Church, including the right to participate in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, the right to present children for Baptism and the right to take part in meetings of the congregation of which they are members in good standing.
- § 7-2. The children of believers are, through the covenant and by right of birth, non-communing members of the Church, until admitted to the Lord's Table.
- § 7-3. All children of the covenant are entitled to baptism, but whether baptized or not, are entitled to the pastoral oversight, instruction and government of the Church, with a view to their embracing Christ, and thus possessing personally all the benefits of the covenant.

CHAPTER 8. JURISDICTION OVER CHURCH MEMBERS

- § 8-1. The Church Session may receive members from other churches by certificate of dismission from other churches in our own denomination or in another denomination recognized by our own as a true branch of the Church of Jesus Christ.
- § 8-2. When a church member is unable to obtain a certificate of dismission, he may be received upon presentation of other satisfactory testimonials that he is a member in good standing of another church, or upon his reaffirmation of his original covenant obligations. When a member is received in one of the above ways, the church to which he formerly belonged shall be notified, and the Session shall record him as received by certificate.
- § 8-3. The Church Session must grant a certificate of dismission upon the request of any member of the church who is in good standing, whether requested for another church of our own denomination, or of one recognized by our own as a true branch of the Church of Jesus Christ.
- § 8-4. A certificate of dismission is granted by a Session only to the governing body of another church.
- § 8-5. A church member who has removed his residence so that he no longer can participate regularly in the ordinances of his church is obligated to arrange for the transfer of his membership to the church with which he intends to unite.
- § 8-6. A member being transferred from one church to another is under the jurisdiction of the dismissing church until received by the other. No certificate of dismission shall be valid testimony of good standing for more than one year.
- § 8-7. The Session shall keep three rolls of the members of the church: (1) active, (2) inactive, and (3) noncommuning. The active roll shall consist of those admitted to the Lord's Table who are active in the church's life and work. The inactive roll shall consist of those removed by the Session from the active roll because of inactivity in the church's life and work. The noncommuning roll shall consist of the baptized children of believers who are communing members of that particular church. Only the active roll need be reported to the Presbytery.
- § 8-8. The Session, mindful of their obligation as shepherds of souls, shall review carefully all three rolls at least annually.
- § 8-9. A member, who for one year wilfully does not participate in the ordinances at his church nor otherwise express a serious interest in the church, may be transferred by the Session to the inactive roll. No name shall be placed upon the inactive roll in this manner until after the Session shall have made diligent effort to discover the causes of the member's non-participation and to restore him to activity in the church's life.
- § 8-10. A member who changes his residence so that he cannot participate regularly in the ordinances at his church shall be notified by the Session that it is his duty to arrange for the transfer of his membership to some church where he may be active. The Session shall at the same time notify the Session of a church into whose vicinity he has moved, requesting it to take pastoral oversight of the member. If such a member neglects for one year to have his membership transferred, his name may be placed upon the inactive roll.
- § 8-11. If a member whose name is on the inactive roll shall resume participation in the ordinances at his church, the Session shall act to restore his name to the active roll.
- § 8-12. When a member whose name is on the inactive roll requests the Session to dismiss him to another church, the Session shall grant a certificate of dismission indicating his inactive status.
- § 8-13. When the name of a Ruling Elder or Deacon is placed on the inactive roll the Session shall at the same time dissolve his relationship as an officer in that church, and shall report its action to the congregation and to the officer.
- § 8-14. When a member moves temporarily for educational or military purposes he may establish an affiliated membership at a church where he is a resident. The Session may issue to the church with which the member intends to be affiliated a certificate of good standing, valid for one year and subject to renewal, but shall retain the member's name on its active roll. The Session receiving the certificate shall place the name on a separate roll for affiliated members, which shall not be reported to the Presbytery.

- § 8-15. If a communing member requests the Church Session to remove his name from the roll, or renounces his membership by joining some other denomination, the matter shall be handled by the Session under the appropriate provisions of The Rules of Discipline. [See R. D. § 111-1 through 4.]
- § 8-16. When a member of the church is ordained to the Ministry of the Word, the ordaining Presbytery shall notify the particular church of which he has been a member. The Church Session shall note in its records that the Minister is now a member of the Presbytery and no longer a member of a particular church.

PART III. DOCTRINE OF CHURCH OFFICERS

CHAPTER 9. THE NATURE OF CHURCH OFFICES

- § 9-1. Under the New Testament, our Lord at first collected his people out of different nations and united them to the household of faith by the mission of extraordinary officers endued with miraculous gifts. These extraordinary officers have ceased from the Church unless God shall choose from time to time to raise up such men.
- § 9-2. The whole polity of the Church consists of (1) doctrine, including worship and the administration of the sacraments, (2) government, including discipline, and (3) distribution, the Church's ministry of compassion. For ordering the life of his Church, Christ, under the New Testament, has given his Church three offices: the office of the Minister of the Word and Sacraments, the office of the Ruling Elder, and the office of the Deacon. These are the ordinary offices, to be continued perpetually in the Church.
- § 9-3. Both the Minister of the Word and the Ruling Elder are known as Presbyters, and they share equally in the governing of the Church.
- § 9-4. It is Christ's proper office to rule in his Church universal and in each particular church, through his Spirit and Word, by the ministry of men. Since the authority of any officer in the Church is derived from Christ and belongs not to the officer, any man who holds office should not assume any spiritual pre-eminence over his brethren, but be only minister, disciple, and servant.

CHAPTER 10. THE MINISTER OF THE WORD

- § 10-1. This office is the first in the Church, both for dignity and usefulness. The person who fills it is given in Scripture different names expressive of his various duties. As he has the oversight of the flock of Christ, he is termed Bishop. As he feeds them with spiritual food, he is termed Pastor. As he serves Christ in the Church, he is termed Minister. As it is his duty to be serious and prudent and an example to the flock, and to govern well in the house and kingdom of Christ, he is termed Presbyter or Elder. As he is sent to declare the will of God to sinners and to beseech them to be reconciled to God through Christ, he is termed Ambassador. As he bears the glad tidings of salvation to the ignorant and perishing, he is termed Evangelist. As he stands to proclaim the Gospel, he is termed Preacher. As he expounds the Word, and by sound doctrine both exhorts and convinces the gainsayer, he is termed Teacher. As he dispenses the manifold grace of God and the ordinances instituted by Christ, he is termed Steward of the mysteries of God. These names do not indicate grades of office, but all describe one and the same officer.
- § 10-2. He that fills this office should be sound in the faith, apt to teach and should possess a competency of human learning. He should exhibit sobriety and holiness of life becoming the Gospel. He should be a man of wisdom and discretion. He should rule his own house well. He should have a good report of them that are outside the Church.

- § 10-3. As the Lord has given different gifts to the Ministers of the Word, and has committed to them various works to execute, the Church is authorized to call and appoint them to labor as Pastors, Teachers and Evangelists, and in such other works as may be needful to the Church, according to the gifts in which they excel.
- § 10-4. When a Minister, the Teaching Elder, is called by a congregation to labor as its Pastor, it belongs to his office to pray for and with his flock, as the mouth of the people unto God; to feed the flock, by reading, expounding, and preaching the Word; to direct the congregation in the worship of God; to administer the Sacraments; to invoke the blessing of God upon the people; to catechise the children and youth and to oversee the educational program of the church; to visit regularly the people, devoting special attention to the poor, the sick, the afflicted, and the dying; and, with the other Elders, to exercise the joint power of government.
- § 10-5. When a Minister is called by a Church court or agency of a court to labor as a Teacher in a theological seminary, college, university or school, it appertains to his office to take a pastoral oversight of those committed to his charge, and to be diligent in sowing the seed of the Word and gathering the fruit thereof, as one who cares for souls.
- § 10-6. When a Minister is called by a Presbytery to labor as an Evangelist, the Presbytery shall commission him to preach the Word and administer the Sacraments in other countries or in parts of the Church which have no regular ministration of the Word. The Presbytery may, by a separate act from that by which it commissioned him, entrust to the Evangelist for a period of twelve months the power to organize churches, and, until there is a Session in the church so organized, to instruct, examine, ordain and install Ruling Elders and Deacons therein, and to receive or dismiss members.
- § 10-7. When a Minister is called by a Church court or agency of a court to labor in an administrative capacity, or in the guidance of students attending a college or university, or in the Christian education program of the Church, or in military or institutional chaplaincy, or in any other field of service to the Church, it shall be incumbent on him to make full proof of his ministry by disseminating the Gospel for the edification of the Church.

CHAPTER 11. THE RULING ELDER

- § 11-1. As there were Elders of the people for the government of the Old Testament Church, so under the New Testament Christ has furnished others beside the Ministers of the Word with gifts and commission to govern when called thereunto. These officers are the Ruling Elders.
- § 11-2. Ruling Elders, the immediate representatives of the people, are chosen by them. Together with the Ministers, or Teaching Elders, they exercise government and discipline, and take the oversight of the spiritual interests both of the particular church and of the Church generally when appointed to represent their churches in the higher courts. In all the courts of the Church these Ruling Elders possess the same authority and the same eligibility to office as the Ministers of the Word.
- § 11-3. Those who fill this office should be blameless in life and sound in the faith, men of wisdom and discretion. By the holiness of their walk and conversation they should be examples of Christian faith.
- § 11-4. It belongs to their office, both individually and jointly, to watch diligently over the congregation committed to their charge, that no corruption of doctrine or of morals enter therein. Evils which they cannot correct by private admonition they should bring to the notice of the Session. They should visit the people at their homes, especially the sick; they should instruct the ignorant, comfort the mourner, nourish and guard the children of the Church. They should pray with and for the people. They should be careful and diligent in seeking the fruit of the preached Word. They should inform the Pastor of cases of sickness, affliction and awakening, and of all others which may need his special attention. They should cultivate their aptness to teach the Word, and should supply places destitute of the regular ministry of the Word with the worship of God. All those duties which private Christians are bound to discharge by the law of love are especially incumbent upon the Ruling Elders by reason of their vocation to office, and are to be discharged by them as official duties.

CHAPTER 12. THE DEACON

- § 12-1. The office of Deacon as set forth in Scripture is one of sympathy and service after the example of Christ. It expresses the love and fellowship of saints who bear one another's burdens.
- § 12-2. To the office of Deacon, which is spiritual in nature, should be chosen men of spiritual character, honest repute, exemplary lives, brotherly love, warm sympathies and sound judgment.
- § 12-3. It is the duty of the Deacons, first of all, to minister to those who are in need, to the sick, to the friendless and to any who may be in distress. It is their further duty to develop the grace of liberality in the members of the church; to plan, in collaboration with the Session, the objects toward which the offerings of the congregation shall regularly be directed; to plan effective methods for gathering these offerings; to receive other offerings as directed by the Session; and to see that all offerings are distributed among the objects toward which they have been contributed. It is their duty also to have the care of the property of the congregation, both real and personal, and to keep in proper repair the church edifice and other buildings belonging to the congregation. In matters of special importance affecting the property of the church they can take final action only with the consent of the congregation. The regular budget and other important financial matters require the approval of the Session.
- § 12-4. The Deacons of a particular church shall be organized as a Board, of which the Pastor and Associate Pastor shall be advisory members. The Board shall elect a Chairman and a Secretary from among its own number. The Secretary shall keep a record of the Board's proceedings, and shall submit its minutes to the Session at least once every six months and at other times upon the request of the Session. The Board shall appoint a Church Treasurer who shall be responsible to the Board. The Church Treasurer shall be entrusted with the regular offerings of the congregation. He shall keep a record of all funds in his custody for inclusion in the minutes of the Board. The Board shall meet at regular intervals, or upon the call of its Chairman, or whenever requested by the Session. It shall meet at least quarterly. The Board of each church shall determine the number necessary for a quorum.
- § 12-5. As the whole church is under the jurisdiction of the Session, the Deacons, in the discharge of their duties, are under the supervision and authority of the Session. If it seems necessary or wise for the best interest of the church, the Session may void or amend any action of the Board of Deacons, or return it to them for further consideration. It is desirable that the Session and the Board of Deacons meet in joint session once a quarter to confer on matters of common interest. At such meetings the moderator of the Session shall preside. The joint meeting can make no binding decision, but the Session and Board of Deacons can act separately on matters committed to the care of each. In a church in which Deacons can not be secured, the duties of the office shall devolve upon the Ruling Elders. [See § 15-8.]
- § 12-6. Deacons may properly be appointed by the higher courts to serve on committees, or as trustees or treasurers.
- § 12-7. As expedient the Session may select and appoint godly women of the congregation to assist the Deacons in ministering to the sick, to the aged, to widows, to orphans, to prisoners and to others in any distress or need, and in exercising care of the church property. They may also aid the Deacons in collecting and distributing the offerings of the people.

PART IV. DOCTRINE OF CHURCH COURTS

CHAPTER 13. CHURCH COURTS IN GENERAL

- § 13-1. A definite form is necessary for the government of the Church. It is expedient, and agreeable to Scripture and to the practice of the early Christians that the Church be governed by representative assemblies, composed exclusively of Presbyters or Elders. These assemblies, called Church courts, in the order of their regular gradation, are: Church Sessions, Presbyteries, Synods and the General Assembly. Officers for each of these courts are a Moderator and a Clerk or Clerks as may be determined by the court.
- § 13-2. The Pastor is Moderator of the Church Session. The Moderator of the Presbytery shall ordinarily be elected at each stated meeting. A Presbytery may decide to elect its Moderator for a term of one year, but he must be a member of the court to serve. The Moderator of the Synod and the General Assembly shall be elected at each stated meeting of these courts and must be a member of the court. In these higher courts, the Moderator, or in case of his absence, the last Moderator present, or in case of the absence of any former Moderator, the Minister in attendance of longest service in the court, shall hold the chair until a new Moderator is chosen, and shall ordinarily open the meeting with a sermon.
- § 13-3. In case of the absence of a Moderator of Presbytery who has been elected for a year, the last Moderator present, or in case of the absence of any former Moderator, the Minister in attendance of longest service in the Presbytery, shall preside.
- § 13-4. The Moderator has all authority necessary for the preservation of order and for the proper and expeditious conduct of all business before the court, and for convening and adjourning the court according to its own ruling. In any emergency he may, by circular letter, change the time or place, or both, of meetings to which the court stands adjourned, giving reasonable notice thereof.
- § 13-5. A Clerk, or Clerks, shall be elected by the Session, the Presbytery, the Synod, and the General Assembly to serve for a definite period, as determined by the court. It is the duty of the Clerk to record the transactions, to preserve the records carefully and to furnish extracts from them when required by his own or a higher court. Such extracts, certified by the Clerk, shall be evidence to any ecclesiastical court and to every part of the Church.
- § 13-6. Meetings of Church courts should be opened and closed with prayer.
- § 13-7. The expenses of a Minister or a Ruling Elder in attendance on a higher court shall be defrayed by the particular church or churches or agency of the Church which he serves, unless the higher court, to which he is accredited, pays these expenses out of its own treasury. The expenses of Commissioners to the General Assembly shall be paid out of the treasury of the General Assembly.

CHAPTER 14. JURISDICTION OF CHURCH COURTS

- § 14-1. Church courts are altogether distinct from the government of the state and possess no civil jurisdiction or power to inflict civil penalties.
- § 14-2. Church courts have jurisdiction only for the purpose of serving Christ and declaring his will as it is related to his doctrine and law, to the good order of the Church and to the exercise of discipline.
- § 14-3. In the exercise of this jurisdiction:
- (1) A Church court can make no laws to bind the conscience, since Christ is the only Lord of conscience and the Scriptures are the only rule of faith and morals.
 - (2) Church courts may frame symbols of faith, bear testimony against error in doctrine and immorality in practice within or without the Church, give counsel in matters of conscience and decide issues properly brought before the court.
 - (3) Church courts have power to establish rules for the government, discipline, worship and extension of the Church. These rules must be agreeable to the doctrines relating thereto in the Scriptures, since only the circumstantial details of these matters are left to the Christian prudence and wisdom of Church officers and courts.

(4) Church courts possess the right of requiring obedience to the laws of Christ. Hence, they admit those qualified to sealing ordinances and to their respective offices and they exclude the disobedient from their offices or from sacramental privileges; but the highest censure to which their authority extends is to cut off the contumacious and impenitent from the congregation of believers.

(5) Church courts possess whatever administrative authority is necessary to give effect to these powers.

§ 14-4. All Church courts possess the same kinds of rights and powers, and differ only as the Constitution may provide.

§ 14-5. For the orderly and efficient dispatch of the Church's business it is necessary that the sphere of action of each court should be distinctly defined. The Church Session exercises jurisdiction over a single church; the Presbytery over what is common to the Ministers, Sessions and churches within a prescribed district; the Synod over what belongs in common to three or more Presbyteries, and their Ministers, Sessions and churches; and the General Assembly over such matters as concern the whole Church. The jurisdiction of these courts is limited by the express provisions of the Constitution. Every court has the right to resolve questions of doctrine and discipline seriously and reasonably proposed, and in general to maintain truth and righteousness, condemning erroneous opinions and practices which tend to the injury of the peace, purity, or progress of the Church. Although each court exercises exclusive original jurisdiction over all matters specially belonging to it, the lower courts are subject to the review and control of the higher courts, in regular gradation. Disputed matters of doctrine and order, arising in lower courts, may be brought to higher courts for decision.

These courts are not separate and independent tribunals. They have a mutual relation, and every act of jurisdiction is the act of the whole Church performed by it through the appropriate Church court.

§ 14-6. The acts and decisions of a lower court are brought under the supervision of a higher court in one or another of the following modes: (1) Review and Control; (2) Reference; (3) Appeal; (4) Complaint.

CHAPTER 15. THE CHURCH SESSION

§ 15-1. The Church Session consists of the Pastor and the Ruling Elders of a church. The Pastor is the Moderator of the Session. An Associate Pastor is also a member of the Session and may substitute for the Pastor as Moderator of the Session at the discretion of the Pastor and Session. All members of the Session, including the Pastor and Associate Pastor are entitled to vote.

§ 15-2. If there are three or more Ruling Elders, the Pastor and two Ruling Elders shall constitute a quorum. If there are less than three Ruling Elders, the Pastor and one Ruling Elder shall constitute a quorum.

When a church has no Pastor, or in cases of emergency requiring immediate action when the Pastor is necessarily absent, and there are five or more Ruling Elders, three shall constitute a quorum; if there are less than five Ruling Elders, two shall constitute a quorum.

If there is only one Ruling Elder, he does not constitute a Session, but he should take spiritual oversight of the church, should represent it at Presbytery and Synod, should grant certificates of dismission, should call meetings of the congregation, if needed, and should report to the Presbytery any matter needing the action of a Church court.

Any Session, by a majority of its members, may fix its own quorum, provided that it is not smaller than the quorum stated in this section.

§ 15-3. In the absence of the Pastor, if an emergency requiring immediate action should arise, the Session may elect one of its members to preside. Should prudential reasons at any time make it advisable for a Minister other than the Pastor to preside, the Pastor may, with the concurrence of the Session, invite a Minister of the same Presbytery to perform this service.

- § 15-4. When a church is without a Pastor, the Moderator of the Session shall be a Minister of the Presbyterian Church in the United States appointed for that purpose by the Presbytery, or one invited by the Session to preside on a particular occasion. When it is not feasible to procure such a Moderator, the Session may elect one of its own members to preside. In judicial cases, the Moderator shall be a Minister of the Presbytery to which the church belongs. [See § 25-6.]
- § 15-5. The Church Session shall hold stated meetings at least quarterly. The Pastor has the power to call a meeting of the Session when he may judge it necessary. He shall always convene it when requested to do so by any two of the Ruling Elders. The Session shall also convene when directed to do so by the Presbytery. When there is no Pastor or when emergencies arise requiring immediate action while the pastor is necessarily absent, the Session may be convened by two Ruling Elders. Except for these cases, the Session may not be convened by Ruling Elders. Reasonable notice of all called meetings is required when other than routine business is to be transacted. [See § 13-6.]
- § 15-6. The Church Session is charged with maintaining the spiritual government of the church. For this purpose it has power:
- (1) To inquire into the knowledge and Christian conduct of the church members under its care.
 - (2) To admonish, to rebuke, to suspend or exclude from the Lord's Supper those found delinquent, according to the Rules of Discipline.
 - (3) To instruct parents who are communicants to present their children for baptism.
 - (4) To receive members into the communion of the church upon profession of faith in Jesus Christ, upon presentation of satisfactory certificate of dismission, or, in the absence of such certificate, upon reaffirmation of faith in Jesus Christ.
 - (5) To grant certificates of dismission to other churches, which, when given to parents shall always include the names of their children, specifying whether they have been baptized. [See § 8-4, 6.]
 - (6) To instruct, examine, ordain, and install Ruling Elders and Deacons on their election by the church.
 - (7) To require these officers to devote themselves to their responsibility.
 - (8) To supervise the work of the Board of Deacons and examine the records of their proceedings. [See § 12-3, 5.]
 - (9) To develop and supervise the church school and the educational program of the church.
 - (10) To exercise, in accordance with the Directory for Worship, authority over the time and place of the preaching of the Word and of the administration of the Lord's Supper, over all other religious services, over the music in the services, and over the uses to which the church building and associated properties may be put.
 - (11) To assemble the people for worship when there is no Minister.
 - (12) To order collections for Christian purposes.
 - (13) To devise suitable measures for advancing the spiritual interests of the Church and of the congregation.
 - (14) To observe and carry out the lawful injunctions of the higher courts.
 - (15) To select from among the active Ruling Elders representatives to the Presbytery and the Synod, who shall, on their return, make report of their participation.
 - (16) To propose to the Presbytery such measures as may be of common advantage to the whole Church.
- All organizations within the particular church shall be subject to the review and control of the Session. Each organization shall, if requested, render stated reports to the Session.
- § 15-7. Every Session shall keep an accurate record of its proceedings which shall be submitted at least once every year to Presbytery for its review and control.

- § 15-8. Every Session shall also keep an accurate record of baptisms, of non-communing members, of those admitted to the Lord's Table, of those received from other churches, of those dismissed to other churches, of those placed upon the inactive roll, and of the deaths and marriages of church members.

CHAPTER 16. THE PRESBYTERY

- § 16-1. The Presbytery consists of all the Ministers and churches within a certain district. When a Presbytery meets each church shall be represented by a Ruling Elder commissioned by the Church Session. A church whose communicants exceed 1500 shall be represented by two Ruling Elders and shall be entitled to one more Ruling Elder for each additional 1000 communicants.
- § 16-2. A Minister shall hold his membership in the Presbytery where his work is located, unless there are reasons satisfactory to his Presbytery why he should not do so. The Presbytery may give a Minister permission to labor outside its geographical bounds and in work not under its jurisdiction; but no Minister shall engage in work which is within the bounds and which falls properly under the jurisdiction of another Presbytery without its consent. When a Minister, by reason of age or infirmity, is no longer able to serve the Church in the active ministry of the Gospel, the Presbytery may designate him as Honorably Retired. Ministers honorably retired shall ordinarily continue to hold membership in the Presbytery by which they were retired.
- § 16-3. Each Ruling Elder before being enrolled as a member of Presbytery shall present a certificate of commission from the Session of the church which he represents, similar to that required by the General Assembly. Presbytery may waive this requirement at its discretion.
- § 16-4. Three Ministers belonging to the Presbtyery, together with one Ruling Elder, being met at the time and place appointed, shall be a quorum competent to proceed to business. However, any Presbytery, by a majority vote of those present at a stated meeting, may fix its own quorum, provided it is not smaller than the quorum stated in this section.
- § 16-5. Every Minister seeking admission to a Presbytery shall be examined on his Christian experience and on his views in Theology, the Sacraments and the Government of the Presbyterian Church.

In addition a Minister who comes from another denomination shall first be required to present evidence of having obtained a baccalaureate degree or its equivalent from a standard four-year college or university, together with a theological degree, based on not less than three years' residence, or its equivalent, from a theological seminary under the control of our Church or another theological seminary which the Presbytery must approve in his particular case. He shall also answer in the affirmative before the Presbytery the questions put to candidates at their ordination and shall have been regularly called to a pastorate or to other labor in this denomination. He shall also give satisfactory evidence of his knowledge of the organizational structure and program of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

The Presbytery shall not waive any of the foregoing educational requirements for applicants coming from other denominations except in extraordinary cases which shall require consent of three-fourths of members of Presbytery present, and shall be voted on only in a meeting of Presbytery subsequent to one in which motion is made, and shall have full record of such action and the reason therefor recorded in the minutes of Presbytery.

- § 16-6. The Presbytery shall cause to be transcribed, in some convenient part of the book of records, the obligations required of Ministers at their ordination, which shall be subscribed by all before being admitted to membership, in the following form, namely: "I, _____, do sincerely receive and subscribe to the above obligation as a just and true exhibition of my faith and principles, and do resolve and promise to exercise my ministry in conformity thereunto."
- § 16-7. The Presbytery has power:
- (1) To receive and decide references, appeals and complaints brought before it according to constitutional procedures.

- (2) To assume original jurisdiction in cases in which a Church Session cannot exercise its authority.
- (3) To review the records of Sessions, redress whatever they may have done contrary to order, and take effectual care that they observe the Constitution of the Church.
- (4) To see that the lawful injunctions of the higher courts are obeyed.
- (5) To visit churches for the purpose of inquiring into and redressing the evils that may have arisen in them. When necessary for the welfare of the Church the Presbytery may dissolve the active relationship between an Elder or Deacon and the church, provided there has been a hearing which affords procedural safeguards as in cases of process.
- (6) To unite or divide churches, at the request of the members thereof.
- (7) To organize new churches.
- (8) To receive and dismiss churches.
- (9) To dissolve churches.
- (10) To control the location of new churches and of churches desiring to move to new locations.
- (11) To take special oversight of churches without Pastors.
- (12) To receive under its care candidates for the ministry.
- (13) To ordain, receive, dismiss, install, remove, and judge Ministers.
- (14) To establish the pastoral relationship; and to dissolve it at the request of one or both of the parties, or, when it finds that the interests of religion imperatively demand it, following a hearing which provides procedural safeguards as in cases of process.
- (15) To set apart Ministers to labor as Teachers, Evangelists, and in other works proper to the Ministry of the Gospel.
- (16) To require Ministers to devote themselves diligently to their sacred calling and to censure the delinquent.
- (17) To devise measures for the enlargement of the Church within its bounds.
- (18) To condemn erroneous opinions which injure the purity or peace of the Church.
- (19) To order whatever pertains to the spiritual welfare of the churches under its care.
- (20) To institute and superintend the agencies necessary for its work.
- (21) To select commissioners to the General Assembly.
- (22) To propose to the Synod or to the Assembly such measures as may be of common advantage to the whole Church.

§ 16-8. The Presbytery shall keep a full and accurate record of its proceedings, and shall send it up to the Synod annually for review. It shall report to the Synod and the General Assembly every year the condition and progress of religion within its bounds during the year; and all the important changes which may have taken place, such as the ordinations, the receiving or dismissing of members, the removal of members by death, the union and the division of churches, and the formation of new ones.

§ 16-9. The Presbytery shall hold stated meetings at least twice a year. When any emergency shall require a meeting earlier than the time to which the Presbytery stands adjourned, the Moderator shall, at the request, or with the concurrence, of two Ministers and of two Ruling Elders representing at least two churches call a special meeting. Should the Moderator be for any reason unable to act, the Stated Clerk shall, under the same requirements, issue the call. If both Moderator and Stated Clerk are unable to act, any three Ministers and two Ruling Elders representing at least two churches shall have power to call a meeting. Notice of the special meeting shall be sent not less than ten days in advance to each Minister and to the Session of every church without a Pastor. In the notice the purpose of the meeting shall be stated, and no business other than that named in the notice is to be transacted. The Presbytery shall also convene when directed so to do by the Synod, for the transaction of designated business only. [See § 13-6.]

- § 16-10. Ministers in good standing in other Presbyteries, or in any evangelical Church, being present at any meeting of Presbytery, may be invited to sit as visiting brethren. It is proper for the Moderator to introduce these brethren to the Presbytery. This provision shall also apply to the Synod and General Assembly.
- § 16-11. When a Presbytery dismisses a Minister or Candidate, the certificate sent to the other Presbytery shall bear its name and shall be valid testimony of good standing for no more than one year. The Minister or Candidate remains under the jurisdiction of the Presbytery dismissing him until received by the other.

CHAPTER 17. THE SYNOD

- § 17-1. The Synod consists of all Ministers and churches in a district comprising at least three Presbyteries. When a Synod meets each church shall be represented by a Ruling Elder commissioned by the Church Session. A Church whose communicants exceed 1500 shall be represented by two Ruling Elders and shall be entitled to one more Ruling Elder for each additional 1000 communicants.
- § 17-2. Each Ruling Elder before being enrolled as a member of Synod shall present a certificate of commission from the Session of the church which he represents, similar to that required by the General Assembly. Synod may waive this requirement at its discretion.
- § 17-3. The Synod shall meet at least once each year. Seven Ministers belonging to it, who shall convene at the time and place of meeting, with at least three Ruling Elders, shall be a quorum, provided not more than three of the said Ministers belong to one Presbytery. In the case of a Synod composed of only three Presbyteries, any seven Ministers representing any two Presbyteries, together with three Ruling Elders, shall be a quorum. [See § 13-6.]
- § 17-4. When any emergency shall require a meeting of the Synod earlier than the time to which it stands adjourned, the Moderator shall, at the request or with the concurrence of ten Ministers and ten Ruling Elders, representing at least three Presbyteries, call a special meeting. Should the Moderator be for any reason unable to act, the Stated Clerk shall, under the same requirements, issue the call. If both the Moderator and the Stated Clerk are unable to act, the most recent Moderator shall, under the same requirements, issue the call. Notice of this special meeting shall be sent not less than fifteen days in advance to each Minister and to the Session of every church without a Pastor. In the notice the purpose of the meeting is to be stated and no other business than that named in the notice is to be transacted. The Synod shall also convene when directed to do so by the General Assembly, for the transaction of designated business only.
- § 17-5. The Synod has power:
- (1) To receive and decide all references, appeals and complaints regularly brought up from the Presbyteries.
 - (2) To review the records of the Presbyteries and redress whatever they may have done contrary to order.
 - (3) To take effectual care that they observe the Constitution of the Church and that they obey the lawful injunctions of the higher courts.
 - (4) To establish new Presbyteries and unite or divide those which were before established.
 - (5) To appoint Ministers to such work proper to their office as may fall under its own particular jurisdiction.
 - (6) To take such order with respect to the Presbyteries, Sessions and churches under its care as may be in conformity with the Word of God and the constitution, and may tend to promote the edification of the Church.
 - (7) To organize measures for advancing the prosperity and enlargement of the Church within its bounds.
 - (8) To institute and superintend the agencies necessary for its work.
 - (9) To propose to the General Assembly such measures as may be of common advantage to the whole Church.

- § 17-6. It shall be the duty of the Synod to keep full and accurate records of its proceedings, to submit them annually to the inspection of the General Assembly and to report to it the number of its Presbyteries, the number of communing members therein and all important changes which may have occurred within its bounds during the year.

CHAPTER 18. THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

- § 18-1. The General Assembly is the highest court of this Church and represents in one body all the churches thereof. It bears the title of THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES, and constitutes the bond of union, peace and correspondence among all its congregations and courts.
- § 18-2. The General Assembly, which is a permanent court, shall meet at least annually, and shall consist of Commissioners from the Presbyteries in the following proportion, namely: Every Presbytery shall be entitled to send one Minister and one Ruling Elder; but if the number of communicants in its churches and Ministers on its roll together be over 5,000, it shall be entitled to send an additional Minister and Ruling Elder; and in like proportion for every 5,000 communicants and Ministers.
- § 18-3. When any emergency shall require a meeting of the General Assembly earlier than the time to which it stands adjourned, the Moderator shall issue a call for a special meeting at the request, or with the concurrence, of twenty-seven Commissioners who had seats in the Assembly at its preceding meeting, of whom at least eighteen shall be Ministers and at least seven Ruling Elders, representing at least twelve Presbyteries under the jurisdiction of at least five Synods.

Should the Moderator be for any reason unable to act, the Stated Clerk shall, under the same requirements, issue the call. If both the Moderator and the Stated Clerk are unable to act, the most recent Moderator shall, under the same requirements, issue the call. The members of the special meeting shall be the Commissioners elected to the preceding meeting of the Assembly or their alternates. A Presbytery, however, shall have the right to elect a Commissioner or alternate in the stead of one who has died since the last meeting of the Assembly, or of one who has notified the Moderator of the Presbytery of his inability to serve. Notice of the special meeting shall be sent not less than twenty days in advance to each Commissioner and to the Moderator of each Presbytery. In the notice the purpose of the meeting is to be stated, and no other business is to be transacted.

- § 18-4. Each Commissioner, before his name shall be enrolled as a member of the Assembly, shall produce from his Presbytery a commission under the hand of the Moderator and Clerk in the following or like form, namely:

"The Presbytery of _____ being met at _____ on the _____ day of _____ doth hereby appoint _____, Minister (or Ruling Elder, as the case may be), and in the case of his absence, then _____, Minister (or Ruling Elder, as the case may be), to be a Commissioner on behalf of this Presbytery to the next General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the States, to meet at _____, on the _____ day of _____ A.D. _____, or wherever and whenever the said Assembly may happen to sit; to consult, vote and determine on all things that may come before that body, according to the principles and Constitution of this Church and the Word of God. And of his diligence herein he is to render an account at his return.

Signed by order of the Presbytery."

_____ Clerk _____ Moderator

- § 18-5. Any eighteen of these Commissioners, of whom at least one-half shall be Ministers, and at least five shall be Ruling Elders, representing at least twelve Presbyteries under the jurisdiction of at least five Synods, being met on the day and at the place appointed, shall be a quorum for the transaction of business.

§ 18-6. The General Assembly shall have power:

- (1) To decide all references, appeals and complaints regularly brought before it from the lower courts.
- (2) To bear testimony against error in doctrine and immorality in practice, injuriously affecting the Church.
- (3) To decide finally in all controversies brought before it respecting doctrine, order and discipline.
- (4) To give its advice and instruction, in conformity with the Constitution, in all cases submitted to it.
- (5) To review the records of the Synods.

- (14) To authorize Synods to exercise similar power in receiving bodies suited to become constituents of those courts, and lying within their geographical bounds respectively.
- (15) To superintend the affairs of the whole Church.
- (16) To correspond with other Churches.
- (17) To unite with other ecclesiastical bodies whose organization is conformed to the doctrines and order of this Church, such union to be effected by a mode of procedure defined elsewhere in The Form of Government.
- (18) To recommend measures for the promotion of charity, truth and holiness through all the churches under its care. [See § 30-3.]

§ 18-7. The whole business of the Assembly being finished, and the vote taken for final adjournment, the Moderator shall say from the chair: "By virtue of the authority delegated to me by the Church, I do now declare that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States is now adjourned, to convene at _____ on the _____ day of _____, A.D. _____," after which he shall pray and return thanks, and pronounce, or cause to be pronounced, on those present, the apostolic benediction.

CHAPTER 19. COMMITTEES AND COMMISSIONS OF CHURCH COURTS

§ 19-1. A Committee of a Church court is appointed either to study and recommend, or to carry into effect specific directions or decisions already made by the court. Its recommendations require action by the court; but its report of performing actions assigned by the court and of executing the court's decisions needs to receive no further action by the court.

§ 19-2. A Commission is given responsibility to make decisions for the court in circumstances where it is impractical or inexpedient for the entire court to act. The appointing court shall state specifically the scope of the power given to a Commission.

A Commission may be erected to perform either administrative or judicial functions. The administrative functions ordinarily entrusted to a Commission are: (1) to visit portions of the Church affected with disorder to inquire into and settle the difficulties therein; (2) to organize new churches; (3) to ordain Ministers and to install them in permanent pastoral relations. The judicial functions entrusted to a Commission are to handle and decide a case of process for the court according to the Rules of Discipline.

A Commission may be assigned additional duties as a Committee, the reporting of which shall be handled as is a Committee's report.

- § 19-3. A Commission which has been appointed to perform the administrative function of visiting ■ portion of the Church affected with disorder to inquire into and settle the difficulties therein shall always hold hearings which provide procedural safeguards as in cases of process, following in its procedure the requirements of the Rules of Discipline as far as these are applicable, and shall provide the court with a proper Record of the matter. [See R.D. § 104-2, 8, 9; § 105-1; 3 through 6, 8, 9, 11 through 20; § 106-1 through 14; § 118-1 through 5. Also § 16-7(5).]
- § 19-4. A Judicial Commission may be appointed by the Presbytery or the Synod to handle and decide any case of process coming before the court. When the Presbytery or Synod is the court of original jurisdiction, any member of the court may be appointed to the Commission except those immediately involved in the case. When the case has arisen in a lower court and comes before the higher court by one of the constitutional methods, the Commission shall be appointed from among those not members of that court from which the case has come.
- The Commission shall try the case in the manner prescribed by the Rules of Discipline. It shall submit to the court a full Record of the case and the judgment rendered. Its minutes shall be entered on the minutes of the court as the action and judgment of the court itself. [See R.D. § 105-19.]
- § 19-5. A Commission of Presbytery shall consist of at least three Ministers and three Ruling Elders. A Commission of Synod or of the General Assembly shall consist of at least six Ministers and six Ruling Elders. The quorum of a Commission shall be at least two-thirds of its membership.

CHAPTER 20. THE PERMANENT JUDICIAL COMMISSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

- § 20-1. The General Assembly shall elect a Permanent Judicial Commission, composed of six Ministers and six Ruling Elders, of whom not more than one shall belong to any one synod. Four members shall be elected each year to serve a term of three years. No person who has served two terms, or portions thereof, shall be eligible for re-election. No member of any other commission, permanent committee, or agency of the General Assembly, and no person holding an official or employed relationship to the General Assembly or any of its agencies shall be eligible for membership on the Permanent Judicial Commission until he shall have resigned such other relationship.
- § 20-2. The Stated Clerk of the General Assembly shall refer to the Permanent Judicial Commission all questions rising from courts of the Church or from individuals requiring an interpretation of The Book of Church Order by the General Assembly, all overtures requesting amendment of The Book of Church Order and all cases of process coming before the General Assembly.
- § 20-3. The quorum of the Permanent Judicial Commission shall be eight members. A member of the Commission who is a member of a court from which a case of process has come before the General Assembly has the privilege of the floor when the case is heard by the Commission, but shall not have a vote in the determination of the case. A member of the Commission who has not been present throughout the hearing shall not have a vote in the decision.
- § 20-4. The necessary expenses of this Commission shall be provided for by the General Assembly. It shall elect annually from its members ■ chairman and ■ secretary.
- § 20-5. The Permanent Judicial Commission shall meet as directed by the General Assembly, provided that, if business has arisen which it must transact for the Assembly, the Commission shall meet within one week of the opening session of the General Assembly, and shall begin to report its recommendations and preliminary judgments on the second day of the General Assembly's session.
- § 20-6. On questions of interpretation of The Book of Church Order sought from the General Assembly, the Commission shall act as a Committee. It shall report to the General Assembly recommending the interpretation it thinks correct and giving the reasons for its opinion.

- § 20-7. On questions of amending the Constitution the Commission shall act as a Committee. It shall report to the General Assembly all pertinent facts, particularly those concerning the relation of the proposed amendment to the Constitution as a whole, and shall recommend to the General Assembly concerning the proposed amendment. The Assembly can not consider an amendment until there has been opportunity for a report from the Commission.
- § 20-8. In cases of process referred to it, the Permanent Judicial Commission shall have the powers prescribed by, and shall conduct its proceedings according to, the Constitution and the rules governing the trial of such cases before the General Assembly. The decision of the Permanent Judicial Commission in any case referred to it shall be merely the preliminary judgment in that case. This decision shall be binding on each party therein until the General Assembly shall hear, and either confirm or reject the preliminary judgment. The preliminary judgment shall be presented to the General Assembly in the form of an opinion setting forth the findings of fact and the conclusions derived therefrom.
- § 20-9. The secretary of the Permanent Judicial Commission shall keep a full and correct record of the proceedings and the preliminary judgment of the Commission in each case of process referred to it; shall with the chairman certify in writing such record and judgment to be correct; and shall file such record and judgment with the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly. The Stated Clerk of the General Assembly shall transmit to each party in the case a certified copy of the judgment if confirmed by the General Assembly, and shall preserve it as a part of the records of the court.
- § 20-10. The General Assembly shall hear the preliminary judgment and any written dissenting opinion from a member of the Permanent Judicial Commission. Opportunity shall be given for questions and any necessary clarifications. The General Assembly shall then, without debate upon the merits of the case, vote upon the question: "Shall the preliminary judgment of the Permanent Judicial Commission be made the final judgment of the General Assembly?" This question shall not be subject to amendment.
- § 20-11. If a majority of the General Assembly vote to confirm, the Moderator shall declare that the preliminary judgment of the Permanent Judicial Commission is now the final judgment of the General Assembly, and the case is therewith closed.
- § 20-12. If the General Assembly fails to confirm by a majority vote the preliminary judgment of the Permanent Judicial Commission on a judicial case, it shall then determine whether to commit the case to a special judicial commission or to try the case itself.

CHAPTER 21. THE PRESBYTERY'S COMMISSION ON THE MINISTER AND HIS WORK

- § 21-1. A commission shall be appointed by each Presbytery, to be known as the Presbytery's Commission on the Minister and His Work. This Commission shall consist of at least three Ministers and three Ruling Elders. The quorum of the Commission shall be two-thirds of the members.
- Membership on this Commission shall be for a term of three years. Replacement of a member whose term has not expired shall be for the remainder of that term. Members shall be ineligible to serve more than two consecutive terms or portions of terms.
- The necessary expense of this Commission shall be provided for by the Presbytery.
- § 21-2. This Commission shall function for the Presbytery as a Committee in the following ways:
- (1) It shall be responsible for reporting to the Presbytery annually the type of work in which each Minister of the Presbytery is engaged, to the end that the Presbytery itself may more effectively require its Ministers to devote themselves diligently to their sacred calling, as provided in the Rules of Discipline.
 - (2) It shall be responsible for making recommendation to Presbytery regarding calls for the services of its Ministers. Every call for the services of a Minister or Candidate in a pastoral relation shall be placed in the hands of the Commission and presented by it to the Presbytery, with a report as to the call's being in order and a recommendation as to whether the call should be placed in the hands of the Minister or Candidate. Every request of a Minister or Candidate for the Presbytery's approval of his accepting a task proper to the Ministry of the Word, though not in a pastoral relationship to a particular church, shall be made by the Minister or Candidate through the Commission, and shall by the Commission be reported to the Presbytery with recommendation for final action.

(3) It shall be responsible for counselling with Sessions regarding Stated Supplies, Interim Supplies and Occasional Supplies when a church is without a Pastor. A current list shall be kept of available Ministers Honorably Retired from active service and others not regularly serving in a pastoral relation. A list shall be kept of available Candidates under care of the Presbytery and other Candidates enrolled in theological seminaries under the control of that Synod of which the Presbytery is a part, and a list of Ruling Elders and other men qualified to supply pulpits.

The Session (or its representative) shall seek the counsel of the Commission before making arrangements for the supply of the church's pulpit during a period of vacancy.

The Presbytery shall not approve a Minister's being called to a permanent pastoral relationship by a church which he has served as Stated or Interim Supply, unless a period of six months has elapsed between the ending of such Supply relationship and the church's issuing a call to a permanent pastoral relationship.

The lists of Candidates, Ruling Elders and others shall be available for the use of churches which cannot secure a Minister as Stated or Occasional Supply.

(4) It shall be responsible for counselling with churches regarding pastoral calls.

To carry out this function the Commission shall consult with every Nominating Committee appointed by a church to recommend the calling of a Pastor or an Associate Pastor. It shall advise the church's committee regarding the merits, availability, and suitability of any man whose name is contemplated for nomination to the congregation, and shall have the privilege of suggesting names to the church's committee.

When a Session desires to call a Minister to serve in any of the functions properly performed by an Assistant Minister, the Session (or its representative) shall seek the counsel of the Presbytery's Commission.

No call to a permanent pastoral relationship shall be in order for consideration by the Presbytery unless the church has received and considered the counsel of the Presbytery through its Commission before action is taken to issue a call.

In the case of a church receiving aid in supporting a Pastor, the Presbytery's Commission shall confer with both the church and that committee of the Presbytery charged with arranging such aid, before it shall recommend to the Presbytery that a call to such church or group of churches be placed in the hands of a Minister. The proper committee of the Presbytery shall present to the Commission on the Minister and His Work a statement of the Presbytery's expected support for a Pastor, which shall be attached to the call of the church.

§ 21-3. This Commission shall function for the Presbytery as an Administrative Commission to visit churches to inquire into and settle difficulties that have arisen therein. [See § 19-3.]

It shall serve as an instrument of Presbytery in promoting the peace and harmony of the churches, especially in regard to matters arising out of the relations between Ministers and churches. The Commission's purpose shall be to mediate differences and reconcile brethren, to the end that the difficulties may be corrected by the Session of the Church if possible, that the welfare of the particular church may be promoted, that the unity of the Church in Christ her Head may be made manifest.

The Commission shall exercise a wise discretion in determining when to take cognizance of information concerning difficulties within a church.

§ 21-4. The Commission shall proceed by the following steps:

First, the Commission, on its own initiative, shall bring its information to the attention of the Session of the church involved. It shall counsel with the Session as to the proper actions to be taken in correcting the reported difficulties.

Second, the Commission may offer its help as a mediator in case the Session either finds itself unable to settle the problems peaceably, or takes no steps toward settlement.

Third, the Commission may act to correct the difficulties if requested to do so by the parties concerned, or if this authority is granted by the Presbytery for the specific case. When so acting, the Commission on the Minister and His Work shall always hold hearings which afford procedural safeguards as in cases of process, following in their procedure the requirements of the Rules of Discipline as far as these are applicable. [See R.D. § 104-2, 8, 9; § 105-1, 3 through 6, 8, 9, 11 through 20; § 106-1 through 14; § 118-1 through 5. Also § 16-7(5) and 19-3.]

CHAPTER 22. SYNOD AND GENERAL ASSEMBLY COMMITTEES ON THE MINISTER AND HIS WORK

§ 22-1. To facilitate the work of the Commissions in the Presbyteries, each Synod and the General Assembly shall appoint a permanent Committee on the Minister and His Work.

PART V. DOCTRINE OF CHURCH ORDERS

CHAPTER 23. THE DOCTRINE OF CALLING TO OFFICE IN THE CHURCH

§ 23-1. Calling to office in the Church is the act of God by his Holy Spirit. This calling is ordinarily made manifest through the inward testimony of a good conscience on the part of the person, the approbation of God's people on the part of the Church, and the concurring judgment of a lawful court of the Church.

§ 23-2. The government of God's people in the Church is representative. The right of God's people to elect their officers is inalienable. Therefore, no man can be placed over a church as Pastor, Associate Pastor, Ruling Elder or Deacon without the election of that church.

§ 23-3. Upon those whom God calls to bear office in his Church he bestows gifts suitable to the discharge of their various duties. It is indispensable that, beside possessing the necessary gifts and the useful abilities both natural and acquired, every one admitted to an office should be sound in the faith, and his life be according to godliness. Therefore, every candidate for office in the Church should be carefully examined and approved by the Church court by which he is to be ordained.

§ 23-4. Ordination is the authoritative admission of one duly called to an office in the Church of God, accompanied with prayer and the laying on of hands, to which it is proper to add the giving of the right hand of Christian fellowship.

Ordination to the office of Minister of the Word is an act of the Presbytery, performed by it either directly or through its proper agent.

Ordination to the office of Ruling Elder or of Deacon is an act of the Church Session. In the organization of a new church the Presbytery has power to ordain Ruling Elders and Deacons, either directly or through its proper agent, until that church possesses a Session competent to act. [See § 10-6.]

§ 23-5. No man shall be ordained to any office in the Church except to labor in some specific task.

Before a Candidate can be ordained to the Ministry of the Word he must have either received an orderly call from a particular church to labor in a pastoral relation, or have received a call to a specific work, approved by the Presbytery, in some other service proper to the Minister of the Word. [See § 10-3 ff.]

Before any one can be ordained to the Ruling Eldership or to the Diaconate he must have been regularly elected by the particular church in which he is member to serve that church in the functions of his office.

CHAPTER 24. CANDIDATES FOR THE MINISTRY OF THE WORD

- § 24-1. The welfare of the Church requires that some trial be previously made of men who are to be ordained to the Ministry of the Word, in order that this sacred office may not be degraded by being committed to weak or unworthy men, and that the Church may have an opportunity to form a better judgment respecting the gifts and abilities of those by whom they are to be instructed and governed.

For this purpose Presbyteries shall take under their care Candidates for the Ministry of the Word, and may permit them to preach the Gospel under supervision. After a competent trial of their gifts, and receiving from the churches a good report, the Presbytery may ordain them to the sacred office. No man shall be ordained without having first been a Candidate.

- § 24-2. A Candidate for the Ministry is a member of the Church in full communion who, believing himself to be called of God to preach the Gospel, submits himself to the care and guidance of the Presbytery in his course of study and of practical training to prepare himself for the office of Minister of the Word.

- § 24-3. Every man seeking the Ministry of the Word shall apply to the Presbytery which has jurisdiction of the church in which he is member, to be received under the care of that Presbytery. He shall first state his purpose to his Church Session. The Session shall advise with him and shall, at his request furnish the Presbytery with a certificate of his membership and with testimonials of its judgment regarding his Christian character and promise of usefulness in the Ministry. He shall have been a member of that congregation for the six months preceding the filing of his application to the Presbytery.

Every applicant shall make his application to the Chairman of the Presbytery Committee charged with the care of Candidates at least two months before the meeting of the Presbytery which shall hear his request.

Upon receipt of the application the Committee shall inquire diligently into the Christian character and the physical, mental and spiritual qualifications of the applicant, and shall make a careful report to the Presbytery upon all points which would have bearing upon his promise of usefulness in the Ministry. The Committee shall recommend to the Presbytery whether or not the applicant should be received under its care.

- § 24-4. After the Presbytery has heard the report and recommendation of the Committee regarding an applicant, the Moderator shall examine him before the Presbytery as to his experience of Christian grace and his motives for seeking the Ministry of the Word.

When the Presbytery is satisfied as to the applicant's purpose and promise of usefulness in the Ministry, it shall proceed to receive him under its care after the following form:

The Moderator shall briefly state the approval given by the Church Session and the Presbytery to the applicant's desire to be received as a Candidate for the Ministry of the Word. He shall also state the necessity that this sacred office not be committed to unworthy men, and the need for both the training and the trial of a Candidate's gifts before he may be ordained to the Ministry.

The applicant shall stand before the Moderator, who shall say: "The Presbytery of _____, having approved your testimonials and sustained your examination, now requires you to make answer to the following questions:

"Do you, as far as you know your own heart, believe yourself to be called of God to the office of the Ministry of the Word?"

"Do you promise, in reliance upon the grace of God, to maintain a Christian character and conduct, and to be diligent and faithful in making full preparation for this sacred Ministry?"

"Do you promise to submit yourself to the proper supervision of the Presbytery in matters that concern your preparation for the Ministry?"

"Do you desire now to be received by this Presbytery as a Candidate for Ministry of the Word in the Presbyterian Church in the United States?"

The applicant, having answered these questions in the affirmative, shall then kneel, and prayer shall be had for the blessing of Almighty God upon him.

The Moderator, or someone appointed by him, shall give the Candidate a charge.

Then the applicant, together with the Presbytery, shall stand. The Moderator shall declare him acknowledged and received as a Candidate for the Ministry of the Word, and direct that his name be recorded on the Presbytery's Roll of Candidates for the Ministry.

The Moderator shall then extend to the Candidate the right hand of Christian fellowship, and the proceedings shall be closed with a benediction.

- § 24-5. A Candidate continues to be a private member of the church and subject to the government and discipline of the Church Session, but is under the oversight of the Presbytery in matters of his preparation for the Ministry.

The Presbytery shall show a constant and personal interest in him, and shall give him counsel and guidance in regard to his studies, his practical training, and the institutions of learning he should attend.

In no case may a Candidate omit from his course of study any of the subjects prescribed in the Form of Government as tests for ordination without obtaining the consent of the Presbytery. Where such consent is given the Presbytery shall record the fact and the reasons therefor.

- § 24-6. For the development of his Christian character, for the service he can render, and for his more effective training, the Candidate, during his theological studies, should be authorized and encouraged by the Presbytery to conduct public worship, to expound the Scripture to the people, and to engage in other forms of Christian work. These forms of service should be rendered under the direction of the Presbytery, and also with the sanction and under the guidance of the Candidate's instructors during the time of his being under their instruction.

- § 24-7. A Candidate shall not undertake to serve a church which is without a Pastor unless he has the approval of the Presbytery having jurisdiction of the church.

- § 24-8. Every Candidate shall make a full report concerning his preparation for the Ministry annually, and at other times as the Presbytery shall require. The Presbytery shall secure from his instructors an annual report upon his Christian deportment, upon his diligence and progress in study, and upon his ability to serve the Church as demonstrated by success in the activities of his practical training.

- § 24-9. The Presbytery shall, upon the request of a Candidate who has transferred his membership to a church of another Presbytery, give him a certificate of dismissal to that Presbytery. The certificate of dismissal shall contain an extract of the record of his reception, and a recommendation from the Presbytery, signed by the Clerk. A Candidate shall be allowed to withdraw from the care of the Presbytery upon his statement that he no longer feels called of God to the Ministry. The Presbytery may, for reasons which it deems sufficient, remove the name of a Candidate from its roll of Candidates. In such case it shall report its action and the reasons therefor to the Candidate, to the Session of his church, and to the institution of learning in which he is pursuing his studies.

- § 24-10. If the Presbytery judges that there are good and sufficient reasons why a man requesting to be received as a Candidate for the Ministry should not pursue the full course of academic and theological studies, the Presbytery may, by a vote of three-fourths of the members present, receive him under its care. In every such extraordinary case the Presbytery shall make a full record of its action and the reasons therefor. The Presbytery shall specify what study and practical training it judges necessary before it can examine him for ordination. It shall also specify the period it will require the applicant to serve as a Candidate before it will proceed to examine him for ordination.

- § 24-11. In no case shall a Presbytery examine a man for ordination at the same meeting at which he applies to be received as a Candidate, unless he is being received by certificate from another Presbytery and has been called to a work in the Presbytery.
- § 24-12. When a Candidate has been extended a call for his ministerial services within the bounds of another Presbytery, he may be dismissed to that Presbytery to be examined for ordination. When a Candidate who is under the care of some other Reformed body is issued a call by a congregation of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, he may be received as a Candidate by certificate.

CHAPTER 25. THE PASTORAL RELATIONS OF MINISTERS

- § 25-1. The permanent pastoral relations which may exist between a Minister of the Word and a particular church are: Pastor, Associate Pastor, and Assistant Pastor.

The temporary pastoral relations which may exist between a Minister of the Word and a particular church are: Stated Supply, Interim Supply, and Occasional Supply.

- § 25-2. In each church there should be a Pastor who has the duty of offering the full ministry of the Word and Sacraments. With the Session he shall see that the order and discipline of the Church under Christ her Head are properly observed.

A Pastor shall be elected by a vote of the congregation, and the call extended shall follow the form outlined in The Form of Government. This relation is established by installation, an act of the Presbytery, and is dissolved only by the authority of Presbytery.

The terms of a call under which the relation of Pastor or Associate Pastor is established can be changed only with the consent of the Presbytery.

- § 25-3. A church may call other Ministers of the Word to labor with the Pastor in performing such pastoral duties as are needful for the edification of that church. These may be either Associate Pastors, or Assistant Pastors.

(a) An Associate Pastor shall be elected by the vote of the congregation. The terms of the call shall follow the form outlined for the calling of a Pastor, and shall specify the particular functions which the Associate Pastor is to fulfill in the life of that church. This relation is established by installation, an act of Presbytery, and is dissolved only by the authority of Presbytery. Being elected by the congregation, an Associate Pastor is a member of the Session of that church.

The official relationship of an Associate Pastor to a church is not dependent upon that of the Pastor, but an Associate Pastor is not eligible to succeed the Pastor in a church which they serve together.

(b) An Assistant Pastor is called by the vote of the Church Session, but only after the Session has consulted the Presbytery through its Commission on the Minister and His Work. The terms of the call as extended by the Church Session shall follow the form outlined for the calling of a Pastor, and shall specify the particular functions which the Assistant Pastor is to fulfill in the life of that church. The relation is established as an agreement between the Church Session and the Assistant Pastor, which must be approved by the Presbytery. It shall be solemnized before the congregation by an installation conducted by the Church Session. The relation may be dissolved by the Church Session on the initiative of either of the parties, but only after the Session has consulted the Presbytery through its Commission on the Minister and His Work. Not being a Church officer elected by the congregation, the Assistant Pastor is not a member of the Session of that church, but should be invited by the Session to be present at its meetings.

The official relationship of an Assistant Pastor to a church shall be reviewed by the Session when the relationship of the Pastor to that church is dissolved. An Assistant Pastor is not eligible to succeed the Pastor in a church which they serve together.

- § 25-4. When a church does not have a Pastor, or while the Pastor is unable to perform his duties, the Session should obtain the services of a Minister of this denomination in a temporary pastoral relation. [See § 25-6.]

(a) A Stated Supply is a Minister invited by the Church Session to preach the Word and administer the Sacraments, and to fulfill such pastoral duties as the Session thinks needful, for a definite period of not less than one month nor more than twelve months at a time. This relation is established only by an act of the Presbytery, after recommendation of its Commission on the Minister and His Work, and upon the request of the Church Session.

If the Stated Supply is a member of the Presbytery having jurisdiction of that church, the Presbytery may appoint him moderator of the Church Session during the period of his relationship to that church.

A Minister may not be called to be Pastor or Associate Pastor by a church which he has served as Stated Supply, unless six months have elapsed since the ending of the temporary relationship.

(b) An Interim Supply is a Minister invited by the Church Session to preach the Word and administer the Sacraments, and to fulfill pastoral duties, for a definite or an indefinite period while the church is seeking a Pastor. The Session may not secure an Interim Supply without seeking the counsel of the Commission on the Minister and His Work.

A Minister may not be called to be a Pastor or Associate Pastor of a church which he has served as Interim Supply, unless six months have elapsed since the ending of the temporary relationship.

(c) An Occasional Supply is a Minister invited by the Church Session to preach the Word and administer the Sacraments on a specified day or days. Before arranging for Occasional Supplies over a period when a church has no Pastor, the Session shall consult with the Presbytery through its Commission on the Minister and His Work. When it is not feasible to secure a Minister as a Stated, Interim or Occasional Supply, a Church Session may invite some Candidate, Ruling Elder, or other competent person to conduct the service of divine worship.

The Church Session may not secure any one Minister as Occasional Supply, or any other person to conduct divine worship, for longer than one month without seeking the counsel of the Commission on the Minister and His Work.

- § 25-5. When a Minister is called to labor as an Associate or an Assistant Pastor, or is invited to serve as Stated, Interim or Occasional Supply, those pastoral functions especially assigned as his duty in that church shall be clearly specified.

- § 25-6. In exceptional cases the Presbytery may approve one of its churches inviting a minister of another Reformed Church to serve in a temporary pastoral relation. Such a minister may moderate meetings of the Session, without the right to vote, when invited by the Session, except in judicial procedures; and may moderate meetings of the congregation, when elected by the congregation. [See also §§ 5-4; 15-4 and 25-4.]

CHAPTER 26. THE CALLING OF MINISTERS TO A DEFINITE WORK

- § 26-1. A church which desires to elect a Pastor or an Associate Pastor shall proceed after the following manner:

The Church Session shall call a congregational meeting to convene at the regular place of worship to elect a Nominating Committee representative of the whole congregation, whose duty shall be to nominate a Minister to the congregation for election to the desired pastoral relation. Public notice of the time, place, and purpose of the meeting shall be given at public worship at least one week prior to the time of the meeting.

The Nominating Committee shall promptly confer with the Presbytery's Commission on the Minister and His Work. All names submitted to the Nominating Committee, with information as to the source of the suggestion, shall be referred to the Commission on the Minister and His Work for its advice.

When the Nominating Committee is ready to report, it shall so notify the Session, which shall call a congregational meeting at the regular place of worship for the purpose of acting on the report of the Committee. Public notice of the time, place, and purpose of the meeting shall be given at public worship at least one week prior to the time of the meeting.

§ 26-2. When a congregation is convened for the election of a Pastor, the Church Session shall appoint one of their number to call the congregational meeting to order, to lead the people in solemn prayer for Divine guidance, and to preside until the congregation shall elect a moderator.

For the orderly conduct of the election of a Pastor or an Associate Pastor, it is desirable that the congregation elect a Minister of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to preside. But if this is impracticable, they may elect any adult male member of that church as moderator for that meeting.

All communing members on the active roll of that particular church who are in good and regular standing, but no others, are entitled to vote. [See § 5-1.]

The moderator shall determine whether a quorum of the congregation is present. He shall then put the question: "Are you ready to proceed to the election of a Pastor (or, of an Associate Pastor)?"

If they declare themselves ready, the Moderator shall hear the report of the Nominating Committee and declare the name submitted by the Committee to be in nomination. He shall then give opportunity for nominations from the floor. Both the nomination of the Committee and any nomination from the floor must have been previously submitted to the Presbytery's Commission on the Minister and His Work for its advice.

The vote may be taken by standing count, or, if the congregation prefer, by written ballot.

In every case, a majority of the votes cast shall be required to elect, and the minutes shall record the number favoring the call and the number opposing the call. A certification of this record shall be sent with the call to the Presbytery, and sent as information to the Minister to whom the call is addressed.

If it appears that a large minority of the voters are averse to the nominee, although he has received a majority of the votes cast, the Moderator shall raise the question whether the congregation should reconsider its vote.

§ 26-3. The call shall be in the following or like form: The _____ Presbyterian Church of _____, being fully satisfied with your ministerial qualifications, and confident that we have been led to you by the Holy Spirit as one whose ministry will be profitable to the spiritual interests of our church and fruitful for the Kingdom of our Lord, solemnly calls you, _____, to undertake the work as Pastor of this congregation, promising you in the discharge of your duty all proper support, encouragement and obedience in the Lord. That you may devote yourself wholly to the Ministry of the Word among us, we obligate ourselves to pay you the sum of $_____ a year in regular monthly payments, [Insert here other terms, including such matters as manse, annual leave for study and rest, expense allowances, moving costs, medical insurance, etc.] and will pay the church's portion into the Ministers' Annuity Fund on that basis determined by the General Assembly, during the time of your being and continuing in the pastoral relationship set forth in this call to this church.

In testimony whereof we have respectively subscribed our names this _____ day of _____, A.D. _____ Attest:

I, _____, having moderated the congregational meeting which extended a call to _____ for his ministerial services, do certify that the call has been made in all respects according to the rules laid down in the Book of Church Order, and that the persons who signed the foregoing call were authorized to do so by vote of the congregation.

Moderator of the Congregational Meeting

When the call is to an Associate Pastor or an Assistant Pastor, the proper term shall be substituted for the term "Pastor." It shall also be appropriate to include a designation of the function to be exercised, such as: Minister of Education, Minister to Students, Minister of Visitation, Minister of Missions, Minister of Church Administration, etc.

- § 26-4. Persons shall be appointed by the public vote of the congregation to sign the call. The Moderator of the meeting shall certify to the Presbytery that those signing the call were properly appointed, and that the call was in all other respects prepared as constitutionally required.
- § 26-5. One or more commissioners shall be elected by the congregation to present the call to the Presbytery through its Commission on the Minister and His Work, and to prosecute the call before the Presbytery itself.
- § 26-6. A call shall be placed in the hands of a Minister or a Candidate only by that Presbytery to which he belongs, or under whose care he is in his preparation for the Gospel Ministry. When the call has been presented to the Presbytery, if the Presbytery finds it in order and deems it for the good of the Church that it be accepted by that person to whom it is addressed, it shall place it in his hands that he may indicate whether he is ready to undertake the responsibilities stated in the call.
- § 26-7. When a church of one Presbytery extends a call to a Minister or a Candidate of another Presbytery, the commissioners appointed to prosecute the call shall so inform him. Upon receipt of such information he may request transfer to the Presbytery having jurisdiction of the church, there to be examined and received.
- § 26-8. When a court or agency of the Church shall call a Minister to labor in the Church at tasks edifying to the Church but not involving pastoral relationships, the court or agency shall lay before the Presbytery having jurisdiction of the Minister a call appropriate to the service involved.
- § 26-9. When a Minister desires to accept work which is not under the jurisdiction of any Church court, he shall request permission of his Presbytery. After the Presbytery has determined that the nature of the work is proper to the Ministry of the Gospel, and that the particular work serves the best interests of the Church and the Minister, it may grant permission. If the work is not deemed proper to the Ministry, and the Minister insists upon accepting it, he shall request to be divested of his office without censure.

The same procedures shall apply to a Candidate seeking ordination.

CHAPTER 27. THE ORDINATION AND INSTALLATION OF MINISTERS

- § 27-1. Before a Candidate can be ordained to the office of Minister of the Word, he must have been called to a definite pastoral relation or to some other definite work in the Church of which the Presbytery approves. The only exception is that stated in the following section.
- § 27-2. A Candidate who has completed his studies in preparation for ordination and has opportunity for further studies, may request his Presbytery to ordain him. If the Presbytery is assured of his good conscience and his acceptability to God's people, approves the Candidate's intended course of study, and thinks it best for the Candidate and for the Church, the Presbytery may, after examination, appoint him to that study and proceed to his ordination.
- § 27-3. When a Candidate is called to work of which the Presbytery approves and indicates his willingness to accept, the Presbytery shall take immediate steps for his ordination.
- § 27-4. No Presbytery shall ordain any Candidate to the office of the Gospel ministry to labor within the bounds of another Presbytery, but shall dismiss him as a Candidate to the Presbytery within whose bounds he expects to labor, that he may submit himself to its authority, according to the Constitution of the Church.

§ 27-5. The requirements for ordination shall be as follows:

(1) The Presbytery shall carefully examine the Candidate as to his knowledge of the various theological studies, including the original languages of the Holy Scriptures, and as to his knowledge of such other branches of learning as shall appear suitable to the Presbytery. Certificates from a standard four-year college and from a standard theological seminary, requiring not less than three years in residence, may be accepted in lieu of these examinations with the exception of those in personal religious experience, Theology, Bible, the Sacraments, and in The Book of Church Order, including Government, Discipline and Worship. In these required examinations the Candidate shall be examined as to his views as well as his knowledge.

(2) The Candidate shall prepare a thesis on some theological topic assigned by Presbytery.

(3) The Candidate shall prepare an exegesis on an assigned portion of Scripture, requiring the use of the original language or languages.

(4) The Candidate shall preach a sermon before the Presbytery on some assigned passage or text.

The Presbytery shall not omit any of these requirements for ordination, except in the case of an extraordinary Candidate when only the formal educational requirements may be waived and an assignment in exegesis substituted which does not require knowledge of the original languages. Such cases shall require consent of three-fourths of the members of Presbytery present and shall be voted upon in a meeting subsequent to the one in which the motion is made. A full record of such action and the reason therefor shall be recorded in the minutes of Presbytery.

When the Presbytery is fully satisfied concerning the Candidate's qualifications for the sacred office, it shall appoint a time for his ordination, which ought, if practical, to be in that church of which he is to be the Pastor.

§ 27-6. On the day appointed for the ordination and installation of the Candidate, the Presbytery (or the Commission appointed by the Presbytery for the purpose) shall convene. The procedure shall be as follows:

A sermon suitable for the occasion shall be preached by a person appointed or invited by the Presbytery.

The member appointed to preside shall briefly state the proceedings of Presbytery preparatory to the ordination. He shall point out the nature and the importance of the ordinance and endeavor to impress the congregation with a proper sense of its solemnity.

The member presiding shall then propose to the Candidate the following questions:

(1) Do you believe the Scriptures of the Old and New Testament to be the Word of God, the only infallible rule of faith and practice?

(2) Do you sincerely receive and adopt the Confession of Faith and the Catechisms of this Church, as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures?

(3) Do you promise that if at any time you find yourself out of accord with any of the fundamentals of this system of doctrine you will on your own initiative make known to your Presbytery the change which has taken place in your views since the assumption of this ordination vow?

(4) Do you approve the government and discipline of the Presbyterian Church in the United States?

(5) Do you promise subjection to your brethren in the Lord?

(6) Have you been induced, as far as you know your own heart, to seek the office of the holy ministry from love to God and a sincere desire to promote his glory in the Gospel of his Son?

(7) Do you promise to be zealous and faithful in maintaining the truths of the Gospel and the purity and peace of the Church, whatever persecution or opposition may arise unto you on that account?

(8) Do you engage to be faithful and diligent in the exercise of all your duties as a Christian and a Minister of the Gospel, whether personal or relative, private or public; and to endeavor by the grace of God to adorn the profession of the Gospel in your manner of life, and to walk with exemplary piety before the flock of which God shall make you overseer?

(9) Are you now willing to take the charge of this church, agreeably to your declaration when accepting their call? And do you, relying upon God for strength, promise to discharge to it the duties of a Pastor?

When the Candidate has answered all these questions in the affirmative, the presiding member shall propose to the church the following questions:

(1) Do you, the people of this congregation, continue to profess your readiness to receive _____, whom you have called to be your Pastor?

(2) Do you promise to receive the word of truth from his mouth with meekness and love, and to submit to him in the due exercise of discipline?

(3) Do you promise to encourage him in his labors, and to assist his endeavors for your instruction and spiritual edification?

(4) And do you engage to continue to him while he is your Pastor that material provision set forth in your call, and to furnish him with whatever you may see needful for the honor of religion?

When the people have answered these questions in the affirmative by holding up their right hands the Candidate shall kneel, and the Presbytery shall, with prayer and the laying on of hands, according to the apostolic example, solemnly set him apart to the holy office of the Gospel ministry.

After the prayer the Candidate shall rise and the member who presides shall first, and afterwards all the members of the Presbytery in their order, take him by the right hand, saying, in words to this effect: "We give you the right hand of fellowship to take part in this ministry with us." The presiding member shall then say: "I now pronounce and declare that _____ has been ordained to the Ministry of the Word and Sacraments and has been regularly elected and installed Pastor of this congregation, agreeably to the Word of God, and according to the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States; and that as such he is entitled to all support, encouragement, honor, and obedience in the Lord: In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen."

Persons appointed or invited by the Presbytery for the purpose shall give solemn charges to the Pastor and to the congregation to persevere in the discharge of their reciprocal duties.

After prayer and the singing of a psalm, or hymn, the congregation shall be dismissed with the benediction.

After the installation, the members of the congregation, or at least the Ruling Elders and Deacons, should come forward to their Pastor, and give him their right hand, in token of cordial reception and affectionate regard.

The Presbytery shall duly record the transaction.

§ 27-7. The installation of an ordained Minister shall follow a procedure similar to that outlined for ordination and installation, with necessary changes and omissions. The following questions shall be substituted for those addressed to a Candidate for ordination:

(1) Are you now willing to take charge of this congregation as their Pastor agreeably to your declaration in accepting its call?

(2) Do you conscientiously believe and declare, as far as you know your own heart, that, in taking upon you this charge, you are influenced by a sincere desire to promote the glory of God and the good of the Church?

(3) Do you solemnly promise that, by the assistance of the grace of God, you will endeavor faithfully to discharge all the duties of a Pastor to this congregation, and will be careful to maintain a deportment in all respects becoming a Minister of the Gospel of Christ, agreeably to your ordination engagements?

- § 27-8. The congregation and the Minister to be installed should prepare themselves for the service by prayer, worship, study and other appropriate spiritual disciplines.
- § 27-9. When a Minister is called as Pastor of two or more congregations, he must be installed in each congregation. This may be accomplished at a service held jointly by the congregations.
- § 27-10. In the ordination of Candidates who will do work other than that of a Pastor, the same questions are to be propounded as in the ordination of those who will be Pastors, with the exception of the ninth, for which the following shall be substituted:
 "Do you now undertake the work to which you have been called and do you promise, in reliance upon God for strength, to be faithful in the discharge of all the duties incumbent upon you as a Minister of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ?"

CHAPTER 28. DISSOLUTION OF PASTORAL RELATIONSHIPS

- § 28-1. The pastoral relationship between a Pastor or Associate Pastor and a church may be dissolved only by Presbytery. The Minister shall request the Presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relationship. He must also state his intention to the Session which shall call a congregational meeting in precisely the same manner as when the call of a Pastor is to be extended. The congregation may or may not concur with the request of the Minister. If it does not concur, the Presbytery shall cite the church to appear by its commissioners; or the church may so appear on its own initiative, to show cause, if it has any, why the Presbytery should not dissolve the pastoral relation. If the church fails to appear, or if its reasons for retaining the relationship with the Minister be deemed insufficient, his request may be granted and the pastoral relationship dissolved.

The Presbytery may grant to the Commission on the Minister and His Work, in cases where Pastor and congregation have formally concurred, authority to dissolve the pastoral relationship and to inform the Stated Clerk who may then dismiss the Minister.

- § 28-2. If any church desires to be relieved of its Pastor, a similar procedure shall be observed. A congregation, after authorization by a duly called congregational meeting, may petition Presbytery to dissolve its relationship with its Pastor. The Pastor may or may not concur with the request of the congregation. The Presbytery shall cite the Pastor to appear; or he may appear on his own initiative, to show cause, if he has any, why Presbytery should not dissolve the relationship. If the Pastor fails to appear, or if his reasons for maintaining the relationship be deemed insufficient, the relationship may be dissolved.
- § 28-3. When a Minister reaches the age of seventy years the pastoral relationship between him and the church or churches he is serving shall automatically terminate. The Minister shall notify the Presbytery through its Commission on the Minister and His Work six months before the date of his seventieth birthday.

A Minister serving as Pastor, Associate Pastor, Assistant Pastor, or Stated Supply at the date of his seventieth birthday is eligible for re-election in the same relationship for a term of one year at a time, not to exceed five terms. In the re-election of Pastors and Associate Pastors a congregational meeting shall be called for that purpose by the Session, after it has consulted with the Commission on the Minister and His Work. No installation is necessary when a Minister is thus re-elected by the same church or churches.

A Minister may be called to serve as Assistant Pastor, Stated Supply, Interim Supply or Occasional Supply by a church or churches other than that in which he was serving when he reached the age of seventy, but not as Pastor or Associate Pastor.

- § 28-4. This provision for automatic termination of relationship at the age of seventy shall not be compulsory unless the church or churches have entered the Ministers' Annuity Fund, or have arranged for a retirement pension equal to the minimum provided by the Ministers' Annuity Fund.

- § 28-5. This provision for automatic termination of relationship at the age of seventy shall apply also to all Ministers serving the Church, its agencies or its courts in any capacity.

CHAPTER 29. ELECTION, ORDINATION AND INSTALLATION OF RULING ELDERS AND DEACONS

- § 29-1. Every church shall elect persons to the offices of Ruling Elder and Deacon in the following manner:

(1) The Session shall order a congregational meeting to convene at the regular place of worship when it seems desirable for the church to have additional Ruling Elders or Deacons. If one-fourth of the persons entitled to vote shall at any time request the Session to call a congregational meeting for the purpose of electing additional officers, it shall be the duty of the Session without delay to call such a meeting.

(2) Public notice shall be given of the time, place, and purpose of this meeting at least one week prior to the appointed time.

(3) The congregation shall meet according to requirements of the Form of Government.

(4) The voters being convened, the Moderator shall explain the purpose of the meeting and then put the question: "Are you now ready to proceed to the election of additional Ruling Elders (or Deacons)?" If they declare themselves ready, the election may proceed by nomination, or by private ballot without nomination, as the congregation may prefer. Any procedure for nominations must allow for nominations from the floor by any member present.

(5) The number of officers to be elected shall be determined by the congregation before the ballot.

(6) In every case a majority of all the votes cast shall be required to elect. [See § 5-1 ff.]

- § 29-2. When any person has been elected to the office of Ruling Elder, or Deacon, the Session shall confer with him as to his willingness to undertake the office. After a period of instruction the Session shall examine him as to his religious experience, his knowledge and acceptance of the system of doctrine, government, and discipline contained in the Constitution of the Church, and the duties of the office to which he has been elected. When the examination is approved, the Session shall appoint a day for his ordination and installation.

- § 29-3. The procedure of the ordination and installation of Elders and Deacons shall be as follows:

The Session shall be officially convened in the presence of the congregation. A Sermon shall be preached if convenient.

The presiding Minister shall state in a concise manner the warrant and nature of the office of Ruling Elder, or Deacon, together with the character proper to be sustained and the duties to be fulfilled.

The presiding Minister shall propose to the candidate the following questions which shall be answered in the affirmative:

(1) Do you believe the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the Word of God, the only infallible rule of faith and practice?

(2) Do you sincerely receive and adopt the Confession of Faith and the Catechisms of this Church, as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures?

(3) Do you promise that if at any time you find yourself out of accord with any of the fundamentals of this system of doctrine, you will, on your own initiative, make known to your Session the change which has taken place in your views since the assumption of this ordination vow?

(4) Do you approve the government and discipline of the Presbyterian Church in the United States?

(5) Do you accept the office of Ruling Elder (or Deacon) in this church, and promise faithfully to perform all the duties thereof, and to endeavor by the grace of God to adorn the profession of the Gospel in your life, and to set a worthy example before the Church of which God has made you an officer?

(6) Do you promise subjection to your brethren in the Lord?

(7) Do you promise to study the peace, unity, edification and purity of the Church?

The Minister shall address to the members of the church the following question which shall be answered in the affirmative by holding up the right hand:

Do you, the members of this church, acknowledge and receive this brother as a Ruling Elder (or Deacon), and do you promise to yield him all that honor, encouragement, and obedience in the Lord to which his office, according to the Word of God and the Constitution of this Church, entitles him?

The officer shall kneel and the Church Session shall proceed to set him apart, with prayer and the laying on of hands, to the office of Ruling Elder (or Deacon).

Prayer being ended, the members of the Session (and the Deacons, if the case be that of a Deacon), shall take the newly ordained officer by the hand, saying, in words to this effect: "We give you the right hand of fellowship, to take part in this office with us."

The Minister shall then say: "I now pronounce and declare that _____ has been regularly elected, ordained, and installed a Ruling Elder (or Deacon) in this church, agreeably to the Word of God, and according to the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States; and that as such he is entitled to all encouragement, honor and obedience in the Lord: In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen."

After this the Minister shall give to the Ruling Elder (or Deacon) and to the church an exhortation suited to the occasion.

§ 29-4. The offices of Ruling Elder and Deacon cannot be laid aside at the officer's pleasure. Neither can the ordination of any man be removed except by regular process.

§ 29-5. An Elder or Deacon remains ordained to his office in the Church unless divested thereof by the proper action of a Church court, and is obligated to continue his performance of those duties of the office which are to be exercised severally.

Yet a Ruling Elder or Deacon may have reasons which he deems valid for being released from the active duties of his office. In such a case the Session, after conference with him and careful consideration of the matter, may, if it thinks proper, dissolve the active officer relationship which exists between him and that church.

When an officer's term of service expires, or when he is made Elder or Deacon Emeritus, or when he moves his membership to another church, he ceases to function jointly with the other officers in the Session or Board of Deacons.

§ 29-6. Any Ruling Elder (or Deacon) who has served faithfully but whose ability to continue to render active service is limited by age, physical disability or other cause, may be elected Ruling Elder (or Deacon) Emeritus by the congregation at a regularly called meeting, provided such Ruling Elder (or Deacon) is willing and indicates in advance his recognition of this act as an honor. A Ruling Elder Emeritus is not eligible to represent that church in the higher courts.

§ 29-7. A Deacon may be elected to be a Ruling Elder or an Elder may be elected to be a Deacon, but no Church officer may engage in active service in two offices at the same time. Ordination to the second office does not invalidate the previous ordination.

§ 29-8. A Ruling Elder, or Deacon, though chargeable with no specific offense, may become unacceptable in an active capacity to a majority of the church which he serves. In such a case the church may take the initiative by a majority vote at a regularly called congregational meeting, and request the Session to dissolve the active relationship between the church and the officer without censure. The Session, after conference with the Ruling Elder, or Deacon, may, after careful consideration, use its discretion as to dissolving the active relationship. In either case the Session shall report its action to the congregation and to the officer.

- § 29-9. The active relationship between a Ruling Elder, or Deacon, and his church may also be dissolved by the Presbytery when it finds, following a hearing which provides procedural safeguards as in cases of process, that the action is necessary for the welfare of the Church.
- § 29-10. When a Ruling Elder or Deacon because of a change of residence or disability is unable to perform the duties of his office for a period of one year, his active relationship shall be dissolved by the Session unless there is good reason, which must be recorded.
- § 29-11. A particular church, by a majority vote at a congregational meeting, may elect either Ruling Elders or Deacons or both for limited terms in the exercise of their functions. In such cases the terms of active service shall be not less than three years, except to initiate the system or to fill unexpired terms, and the Session and the Board of Deacons shall consist of not less than three classes elected at regular intervals. When a congregation limits terms of service it shall designate the period, if any, during which officers shall be ineligible for re-election to active service.

An Elder whose term of service has expired in a church is not eligible to represent that church in the higher courts.

- § 29-12. The installation of an Elder or Deacon previously ordained shall follow a procedure similar to that set forth for ordination and installation except that the first four questions proposed to a candidate for ordination shall be omitted, as well as the laying on of hands by the Session.

AMENDMENT AND UNION

CHAPTER 30. AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION, AND EFFECTING CHURCH UNIONS

- § 30-1. Amendments to the Book of Church Order may be made only in the following manner:
 - (1) The approval of the proposed amendment by the General Assembly and its recommendation to the Presbyteries.
 - (2) The advice and consent of a majority of the Presbyteries.
 - (3) The approval and enactment by a subsequent meeting of the General Assembly.
- § 30-2. Amendments to the Confession of Faith and Catechisms of this Church may be made only in the following manner:
 - (1) The approval of the proposed amendment by the General Assembly and its recommendation to the Presbyteries.
 - (2) The advice and consent of three-fourths of the Presbyteries.
 - (3) The approval and enactment by a subsequent meeting of the General Assembly.

These provisions can be amended only by the same method as they prescribe for the amendment of the Confession of Faith and the Catechisms of this Church.

- § 30-3. Full organic union and consolidation of the Presbyterian Church in the United States with any other ecclesiastical body can be effected only in the following manner:

- (1) The approval of the proposed union by the General Assembly and its recommendation to the Presbyteries.
- (2) The advice and consent of three-fourths of the Presbyteries.
- (3) The approval and consummation by a subsequent meeting of the General Assembly.

These provisions can be amended only by the same method which is prescribed for the amendment of the Confession of Faith and the Catechisms of the Church. [See § 18-6(13) and (18).]

- § 30-4. If by reason of the failure of a number of the Presbyteries to act, or to report action, on any proposed amendment to the Constitution, the response of the Presbyteries is not satisfactory to the succeeding meeting of the General Assembly, it may defer action for one year. In that event the General Assembly shall urge the delinquent Presbyteries to report their judgment to the next meeting of the Assembly, which shall take final action on the proposed amendment.

CHAPTER 31. "FEDERATED" OR "UNION" PARTICULAR CHURCHES

- § 31-1. A Presbytery may permit one of its constituent churches to enter into a "federated" or "union" relationship with a particular church of another Reformed body under the specific terms of an agreement entered into by the highest court of each denomination.

§ 31-2. UNION CHURCHES

(1) Particular churches of this Church may unite to form union churches with particular churches of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, with the approval of the presbytery provided that the following Plan of Union is adopted by the union church so formed.

a. The following Plan of Union is adopted by the _____ Presbyterian Church of _____ and the _____ Presbyterian Church of _____, effective as of the date when each of the congregations has approved the plan by a two-thirds majority of those present at a regularly called congregational meeting with such notice and quorum as is required by the respective Constitutions of the two Churches, and when each of the Presbyteries of jurisdiction has approved the particular union and this plan of union.

b. The purpose of this union is to provide for the worship of Almighty God and instruction in the Christian religion by a united congregation which will share the property real and personal of the uniting churches and provide for the services of a minister or ministers for the united church.

c. The united church shall be known as the _____ Presbyterian Church of _____.

d. The united church shall be subject to the Constitutions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America as set forth in paragraph s, t, v, w below.

e. The session of the united church shall submit its records at least annually, and whenever requested, to both presbyteries of jurisdiction.

f. The membership of the united church shall consist of those who were members of the uniting churches plus those received by the session of the united church.

g. The session of the united church shall report one half the total membership to each Presbytery of jurisdiction and such membership shall be published in the Minutes of the General Assembly with a note to the effect that the report is that of a union church which has, therefore, double the membership listed. A similar report of church school members, baptisms, etc., and financial expenditures (where applicable) shall be made by the session and noted by each General Assembly in its minutes.

h. Initially the officers of the united church, elders and deacons, shall be those officers in active service of the two uniting churches who will undertake to perform their ordination responsibilities under the Constitutions of the two churches as indicated in d. above and in s, t, v, w below.

i. At the first annual meeting subsequent to the effective date of the union, new classes of elders and deacons, to replace the officers noted in Section h. above, shall be elected by the united congregation according to the constitutional procedure in force as a consequence of section w below.

j. The pastoral relations of the ministers of the uniting churches shall be dissolved automatically by the actions of the presbyteries of jurisdiction in approving this plan, but either or both may be eligible to be called to be ministers (pastors, co-pastors or associate pastors) of the united church according to the will of the united congregation, subject to the approval of both presbyteries.

k. The minister or ministers of the united church shall be full and responsible members of both presbyteries of jurisdiction and shall be subject to discipline as provided below in Section t.

l. The united church shall cause a corporation to be formed under the appropriate laws of the state (where permissible), which corporation shall include in its articles or charter the substance of Sections b, c and d above.

m. All property of the uniting churches, real and personal, shall be transferred to the corporation formed under Section 1 above. The new corporation shall be the legal successor of the corporations if any, of the uniting churches and it shall be bound to administer any trust property or moneys received in accordance with the provisions of the original establishment of the trust. All liabilities of either uniting church shall be liabilities of the united church. In any state where a church corporation is forbidden the purpose of this paragraph shall be achieved in harmony with the law of that state.

n. If the united church should at any time cease to operate under this plan of union as it is or may be modified by both denominations acting concurrently, all property, real and personal of the united church, shall be divided equally between the presbyteries of jurisdiction.

o. Trustees of the corporation (or the unincorporated body) shall be elected in harmony with civil law according to the constitutional provisions outlined in Section d. above as interpreted by Section w. below.

p. While recognizing the basic right of any giver to designate cause or causes to which his own gift shall go, the session of the united church shall annually propose to the congregation a benevolence budget which shall be divided one-half each to the officially approved benevolence causes of each denomination. The proportions within the halves shall be as the session shall decide in response to the requests of the several presbyteries, synods and General Assemblies.

q. Per capita apportionments or assessments shall be paid to each Presbytery of jurisdiction on $\frac{1}{2}$ the total communicant membership of the church.

r. All members of the united church shall be under the discipline of the session according to rules agreed upon in harmony with the Books of Discipline of the two denominations where they coincide, and in harmony with the mandatory provisions of the Book of Discipline of either Church where the other is permissive, and at the choice of the session where they may be contradictory.

s. Appeals or complaints against the actions of the session shall be made to one presbytery only at the choice of the members and all subsequent appeals or complaints shall be in the courts of the members' original choice, and decisions so finally made shall be binding on the session and on the members.

t. The minister or ministers shall be subject to the discipline of both presbyteries provided that when either presbytery shall begin an action, it shall invite a committee from the other presbytery to join the prosecutor or prosecuting committee in formulating and pressing the charges. In the event of appeal the case shall be finally decided by the highest court to which the appeal is taken in the Church which commenced the action and that decision shall be equally binding upon both presbyteries.

u. The minister or ministers shall participate in the denominational pension plan of one of the two churches. If he is already participating in one plan he shall remain in that plan. If he is not a member of either he shall choose between them.

v. Complaints against the administrative acts of the session may be taken under the constitutional provisions of either denomination, but not to both, according to the choice of the complainant and once being complained to one presbytery the other presbytery may not accept jurisdiction in the same matter.

w. Wherever the Constitution of the two denominations differ, the mandatory provisions of the one shall apply in all cases when the other is permissive. Wherever there are conflicting mandatory provisions (except as provided in r above), the session of the united church shall petition both presbyteries of jurisdiction to overture their respective General Assemblies to resolve the conflict either by authoritative interpretation or by constitutional amendment.

(2.) No provision in Section (1) above shall be construed as modifying or amending the Constitution of this Church in its application to any but union churches organized under this Chapter, their members or ministers.

THE RULES OF DISCIPLINE

PART I. DOCTRINE OF CHURCH DISCIPLINE

CHAPTER 1. THE NATURE AND PURPOSES OF CHURCH DISCIPLINE

- § 101-1. Church discipline is the Church's exercise of authority given by Christ, both in the direction of guidance, control and nurture of its members, and in the direction of constructive criticism of offenses. Thus, the aims of discipline are that God may be honored, that the purity and welfare of the Church may be maintained and that those under the Church's discipline may be brought to repentance and restoration.
- § 101-2. Discipline for correction is not to be exercised by individuals but is committed to Presbyters to be exercised in Church courts.
- § 101-3. To these ends every court should show its constant concern that the conduct of members, officers, churches and courts under its care be in accordance with the laws of Christ. Where it is necessary a court should take action to apply church censures according to the procedures in this book.
- § 101-4. Discipline over the children of communing members is exercised by the Session, and is limited to advice and counsel, which may take the form of warning and reproof.
- § 101-5. The power which Christ has given the Church is for building up, and not for destruction. Discipline is to be exercised as under a dispensation of mercy and not of wrath. The Church is to act as a mother who corrects her children for their good, that every one of them may be presented faultless in the day of Christ.
- § 101-6. The remainder of the Rules of Discipline are concerned only with the corrective aspect of Church Discipline and the modes in which it is to be administered.

PART II. SUBSTANTIVE RULES OF DISCIPLINE

CHAPTER 2. OFFENSES

- § 102-1. An offense, the proper object of judicial process, is anything in the principles or practice of a church member professing faith in Christ, which is contrary to the Word of God, as understood through Holy Scripture and interpreted in the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. The Confession of Faith and the Larger and Shorter Catechisms together with the formularies of government, discipline, and worship, are accepted by the Presbyterian Church in the United States as standard expositions of the teachings of Scripture in relation to both faith and practice.
- § 102-2. Offenses are either personal or general, private or public; but all offenses, being sins against God, are grounds of discipline.
- § 102-3. Personal offenses are violations of the divine law, considered in the special relation of wrongs or injuries to particular individuals. General offenses are heresies or immoralities having no such relation, or considered apart from it.
- § 102-4. Private offenses are those which are known only to a few persons. Public offenses are those which are notorious.

CHAPTER 3. CHURCH CENSURES

- § 103-1. The censures which may be inflicted by Church courts are Admonition, Suspension, Excommunication, and Deposition. When a lower censure fails to reclaim the offender, it may become the duty of the court to proceed to the infliction of a higher censure.
- § 103-2. ADMONITION is the formal reproof of an offender by a Church court, warning him of his guilt and danger, and exhorting him to be more circumspect and watchful in the future.

- § 103-3. SUSPENSION, with respect to church members, is their temporary exclusion from the Sacraments. With respect to Church officers, it is their temporary exclusion from the exercise of their office, to which temporary exclusion from the Sacraments may be added. It may be either definite or indefinite as to its duration. Definite Suspension is administered when the credit of religion, the honor of Christ, and the good of the offender demand it, even though he may have given satisfaction to the court. Indefinite Suspension is the exclusion of an offender from the Sacraments, or from his office, until he exhibits signs of repentance, or until, by his conduct, the necessity of the highest censure is made manifest.
- § 103-4. EXCOMMUNICATION is the excision of an offender from the communion of the Church. This censure is to be inflicted only on account of gross crime or heresy, when the offender shows himself incorrigible and contumacious. The design of this censure is to operate on the offender as a means of reclaiming him, to deliver the Church from the scandal of his offense, and to inspire all with fear by the example of his discipline.
- § 103-5. DEPOSITION is the degradation of an officer from his office, and may or may not be accompanied with the infliction of other censure.

PART III. PROCEDURAL RULES OF DISCIPLINE IN TRIALS (CASES OF PROCESS)

CHAPTER 4. JURISDICTION AND PARTIES

- § 104-1. Original jurisdiction over church members, Ruling Elders and Deacons is in the Church Session of the church to which such members belong. Original jurisdiction over Ministers is in the Presbytery to which the Minister belongs. In cases where the court having original jurisdiction is unable to exercise jurisdiction, process may be begun before the next highest court.
- § 104-2. It is the duty of all Sessions and Presbyteries to exercise care over those subject to their authority; and they shall, with due diligence and great discretion, demand from such persons satisfactory explanations concerning reports affecting their Christian faith or conduct. This duty is more imperative when those who deem themselves aggrieved by injurious reports ask for an investigation. If such investigation, however originating, results in raising a strong presumption of the guilt of the party involved, the court shall institute process, and shall appoint a prosecutor to prepare the indictment and to conduct the case. This prosecutor shall be appointed from the membership of the court, except that, in a case before the Session, he may be any communing member of the same congregation with the accused.
- § 104-3. The original and only parties in a case of process are the accuser and the accused. The accuser is always the Presbyterian Church in the United States, whose honor and purity are to be maintained. The prosecutor is always the representative of the Church, whether he voluntarily brings the charge and is permitted by the court to prosecute it or whether he is a member of the court appointed by the court to act as prosecutor. In appellate courts the parties are known as appellant and appellee.
- § 104-4. In every case the Church is the injured and accusing party, against the accused. Every indictment shall therefore begin: "In the name of the Presbyterian Church in the United States," and shall conclude, "against the peace, unity, and purity of the Church, and the honor and majesty of the Lord Jesus Christ as the King and Head thereof."
- § 104-5. An injured party shall not become a prosecutor of personal offenses without having tried the means required by Christ for reconciliation and reclaiming an offender: "Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established." (Matthew 18:15, 16.) A Church court, however, may judicially investigate personal offenses as if general, when the interests of religion seem to demand it. So, also, those to whom private offenses are known cannot become prosecutors without having previously endeavored to remove the scandal by private means.

- § 104-6. When the offense is general, the case may be conducted either by any person appearing as prosecutor, or by a prosecutor appointed by the court.
- § 104-7. When the prosecution is instituted by the court, the previous steps required by our Lord in the case of personal offenses are not required. There are many cases, however, in which it will promote the interests of religion to send a committee to converse in a private manner with the accused, and endeavor to bring him to a sense of his guilt, before instituting actual process.
- § 104-8. Great caution should be exercised in receiving accusations from any person who is known to have ill will towards the accused; who is not of good character; who is himself under censure or process; who is deeply interested in any respect in the conviction of the accused; or who is known to be litigious, rash, or highly imprudent.
- § 104-9. Every voluntary prosecutor shall be previously warned, that if he fails to show reasonable grounds for the charges, he must himself be censured as a slanderer of the brethren, in proportion to the malice or rashness manifested in the prosecution.
- § 104-10. When it is impracticable immediately to commence process against an accused church member, the Session may, if it thinks the edification of the Church requires it, forbid the accused to approach the Lord's Table until the charges against him can be examined.
- § 104-11. After a member of a Church court has been cited for process, all his official functions may be suspended pending the trial at the discretion of the court; but this shall not be done as a censure.
- § 104-12. In any trial neither the accused nor the prosecutor shall perform any function of a voting member of the court.

CHAPTER 5. PROCEDURE

- § 105-1. It is incumbent on every member of a court of Jesus Christ engaged in a trial of offenders, to bear in mind the Biblical injunction: "If a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted." (Galatians 6:1)
- § 105-2. Process against an accused shall not be commenced unless some person or persons undertake to make out the charge; or unless the court finds it necessary, for the honor of religion, itself to take the step provided for in section 104-2.
- § 105-3. When a charge is laid before the Session or Presbytery, it shall be reduced to writing, and, except by consent of parties, the only actions to be taken at the first meeting of the court shall be (1) to appoint a prosecutor, (2) to order the indictment to be drawn and served on the accused, together with a list of witnesses then known to support it, and (3) to cite all parties and their witnesses to appear and be heard at another meeting, which shall not be sooner than ten days after such citation. At this second meeting of the court the charges shall be read to the accused, if present, and he shall be called upon to say whether he is guilty or not. If he confesses, the court may deal with him according to its discretion; if he pleads and takes issue, the trial shall proceed. An accused party may request the court for a change in the time of meeting if he is unable to be present and desires to attend personally, or for additional time to prepare his defense if it is necessary. He may plead in writing when he cannot be personally present, and if he is necessarily absent he should have counsel assigned to him.
- § 105-4. The citation shall be issued and signed by the Moderator or Clerk, by the order and in the name of the court. Citations shall be issued in similar fashion to such witnesses as either party may nominate to appear on his behalf.
- § 105-5. In drawing the indictment, the times, places, and circumstances should, if possible, be particularly stated, that the accused may have an opportunity to make his defense. In the discretion of the court the accused may request and obtain a more particularized statement of the charge against him.

- § 105-6. When an accused person refuses to obey a citation, he shall be cited a second time; and this second citation shall be accompanied with a notice that if he does not appear at the time appointed (unless providentially hindered, which fact he must make known to the court), or that if he appears and refuses to plead, he shall be dealt with for his contumacy. If he still refuses to appear or to plead, the court shall enter upon its records the fact, together with the nature of the offense charged, and he shall be suspended from sealing ordinances for his contumacy. The censure may be made public if this is deemed expedient by the court, and it shall not be removed until the offender has not only repented of his contumacy, but has given satisfaction in relation to the charges against him.
- § 105-7. When the censure of Suspension is imposed upon an accused person for his contumacy in refusing to appear or plead, the court will ordinarily proceed no further with the trial. It may, however, if it determines that the circumstances require it, proceed to trial on the merits, despite the wilful absence of the accused person, and impose whatever censure it finds warranted. In this event counsel should be appointed to represent the interests of the accused person during the trial.
- § 105-8. The time which must elapse between the serving of the first citation on the accused person, and the meeting of the court at which he is to appear, shall be at least ten days. But the time allotted for his appearance on the subsequent citation shall be left to the discretion of the court, provided that it is not less than is quite sufficient for a seasonable and convenient compliance with the citation.
- § 105-9. When the offense with which an accused person stands charged took place at a distance, and it is inconvenient for the witnesses to appear before the court having jurisdiction, that court may either appoint a commission of its body, or request the proper co-ordinate court to take the testimony for it. The accused shall always have reasonable notice of the time and place of the meeting of this commission or co-ordinate court.
- § 105-10. When an offense, alleged to have been committed at a distance, is not likely otherwise to become known to the court having jurisdiction, it is the duty of the court within whose bounds the offense occurred, after satisfying itself that there is reasonable ground of accusation, to send notice to the court having jurisdiction, which shall at once proceed against the accused; or the whole case may be remitted for trial to the co-ordinate court within whose bounds the offense is alleged to have been committed.
- § 105-11. Before proceeding to trial, courts should ascertain that their citations have been duly served.
- § 105-12. In every process, if the court deems expedient, it may appoint a Judicial Committee, with the duty of digesting and arranging all the papers, and of prescribing under the direction of the court, the whole order of the proceedings. The members of this committee shall be entitled, notwithstanding their performance of this duty, to sit and vote in the case as members of the court.
- § 105-13. When the trial is about to begin, it is the duty of the Moderator solemnly to announce from the chair that the court is about to pass to the consideration of the case, and to enjoin on the members to recollect and regard their high character as judges of a court of Jesus Christ, and the solemn duty in which they are about to engage.
- § 105-14. In order that the trial may be fair and impartial, the witnesses shall be examined in the presence of the accused, or at least after he has received due citation to attend. Witnesses may be cross-examined by both parties, and any questions asked which are pertinent to the issue.
- § 105-15. On all issues arising in the progress of a trial, the parties may present their arguments; and when they have been heard, they may be required to withdraw from the court until the members deliberate upon and decide the point.

- § 105-16. When a court of first resort proceeds to the trial of a case, the following order shall be observed: (1) The Moderator shall charge the court. (2) The indictment shall be read, and the answer of the accused heard. (3) The witnesses for the prosecutor and then those for the accused shall be examined, with either party being entitled to call rebuttal witnesses. (4) The parties shall be heard; first, the prosecutor, and then the accused, and the prosecutor shall close. (5) The prosecutor and accused shall withdraw, the roll shall be called, and the members may express their opinion in the case. (6) The vote shall be taken, the parties recalled and the verdict announced, and judgment entered on the records.
- § 105-17. Either party may, for cause, challenge the right of any member to sit in the trial of the case. The question of disqualification shall be decided by the members of the court other than the one challenged.
- § 105-18. Before or during the trial of a case, any member of the court who expresses his opinion of its merits to either party, or to any person not a member of the court; or who absents himself from any sitting without the permission of the court or satisfactory reasons rendered, shall be thereby disqualified from taking part in the subsequent proceedings.
- § 105-19. The parties shall be allowed copies of the whole proceedings at their own expense, if they demand them. Minutes of the trial shall be kept by the Clerk, which shall exhibit the charges, the answer, all the testimony, and all such acts, orders, and decisions of the court relating to the case, as either party may desire, and also the judgment. The Clerk shall, without delay, attach together the charges, the answer, the citations and returns thereto, and the minutes herein required to be kept. These papers constitute the Record of the Case. [See § 116-5.]
- When a case is removed by appeal or complaint, the lower court shall transmit the Record thus prepared to the higher court with the addition of the notice of appeal or complaint, and the reasons thereof, if any have been filed. Nothing which is not contained in this Record shall be taken into consideration in the higher court without consent of the parties in the case. On the final decision of a case in a higher court, its judgment shall be sent down to the court in which the case originated.
- § 105-20. No professional counsel shall be permitted as such to appear and plead in trials in any court. But an accused person may, if he desires it, be represented before the Session by any communing member of the same particular church. Before any other court, he may be represented by any member of the court. A member of the court serving in this capacity shall not be allowed to sit in judgment in the case.
- § 105-21. Process, in case of scandal, shall commence within the space of one year after the offense was committed, unless it has recently become flagrant or is of a continuing nature. When, however, a church member commits an offense, after removing to a place far distant from his former residence, and where his connection with the church is unknown, in consequence of which circumstances process cannot be instituted within the time above specified, the recent discovery of the church membership of the individual may be considered as equivalent to the offense itself having recently become flagrant. The same principle, in like circumstances, shall also apply to Ministers.

CHAPTER 6. EVIDENCE

- § 106-1. All persons of proper age and intelligence are competent witnesses, except such as do not believe in the existence of God, or a future state of rewards and punishments. The accused party may be allowed, but shall not be compelled, to testify, and no inference of guilt may be drawn from his failure to testify. The person originating the accusation shall be required to testify, on the demand of the accused. Either party has the right to challenge a witness whom he believes to be incompetent, and the court shall examine and decide upon his competency. The court shall also determine the amount of credibility to be attached to all evidence.

- § 106-2. Husbands and wives shall not be compelled to testify against each other.
- § 106-3. A charge may be established only by the testimony of two or more witnesses, or by the testimony of one witness together with corroborative evidence.
- § 106-4. If either party objects, no witness afterwards to be examined shall be present during the examination of another witness on the same case, unless he is a member of the court.
- § 106-5. Witnesses shall be examined first by the party introducing them, then cross-examined by the opposite party. After this any member of the court, or either party, may put additional questions. The Moderator shall rule as to the competency and relevancy of questions asked, subject to an appeal to the court; and the court shall not permit questions frivolous or irrelevant to the charge at issue.
- § 106-6. The oath or affirmation to a witness shall be administered by the Moderator in the following or like terms: "You solemnly promise, in the presence of God, that you will declare the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, according to the best of your knowledge in the matter in which you are called witness, as you shall answer it to the great Judge of the living and the dead." If, however, any witness for conscientious reasons prefers to swear or affirm in any other manner, he should be allowed to do so.
- § 106-7. Every question put to a witness shall, if required, be reduced to writing. When answered, it shall, together with the answer, be recorded, if deemed by the court, or by either party, of sufficient importance, and the testimony of the witness shall be read to him for his approbation and subscription.
- § 106-8. The records of a court, or any part of them, whether original or transcribed, if regularly authenticated by the Moderator and Clerk, or by either of them, shall be deemed good and sufficient evidence in every other court.
- § 106-9. In like manner, testimony taken by one court, and regularly certified, shall be received by every other court as if it had been taken by itself. But the testimony of a witness in a different case in which the accused was not a party and had no opportunity to cross-examine shall not be admitted as evidence of the truth of the matters to which the witness testified.
- § 106-10. When it is not convenient for a court to have all or any part of the testimony in any particular case taken in its presence, a commission may be appointed, or co-ordinate court requested to handle the taking of testimony in question, which shall be considered as if taken in the presence of the court. Due notice of the commission or co-ordinate court, and of the time and place of its meeting shall be given to the accused, that he may have an opportunity of attending. And if the accused desires, on his part, to take testimony at a distance, for his own exculpation, he shall give notice to the court of the time and place at which it is proposed to take it that a commission or co-ordinate court may be appointed for the purpose. Or the testimony may be taken on written interrogatories, by filing the same with the Clerk of the court having jurisdiction of the case, and giving two weeks' notice thereof to the adverse party, during which time he may file cross-interrogatories, if such are filed, and no notice need be given of the time and place of taking the testimony.
- § 106-11. A member of the court who has given testimony in a case becomes disqualified for sitting as a member during the remainder of the trial if either party makes objection.
- § 106-12. An officer or private member of the Church who refuses to testify may be censured by the court for contumacy.
- § 106-13. If after trial before any court new testimony is discovered which the accused believes important, it is his right to ask a new trial and it is within the power of the court to grant his request.
- § 106-14. If in the prosecution of an Appeal, new testimony is offered, which, in the judgment of the appellate court, has an important bearing on the case, it is proper for that court to refer the case to the lower court for a new trial; or, with the consent of parties, to take the testimony and proceed with the case.

CHAPTER 7. PROCESS AGAINST A CHURCH OFFICER

- § 107-1. Process against any Church officer shall be entered before the Church court which has jurisdiction over him.
- § 107-2. No Church officer should be screened in his sin or slightly censured on account of his office. On the other hand scandalous charges should not be received against him on slight grounds.
- § 107-3. If anyone knows a Church officer to be guilty of a private offense, he should warn him in private. But if the offense is persisted in, or becomes public, he should bring the matter to the attention of some other appropriate Church officer for his advice.
- § 107-4. If a Church officer accused of an offense, having been twice duly cited, refuses to appear before the court to which he is subject, he shall be immediately suspended. If, after another citation, he still refuses to attend, he shall be deposed as contumacious, and suspended or excommunicated from the Church. Record shall be made of the judgment and of the charges under which he was arraigned, and the sentence shall be made public. The court may also, if it determines that the circumstances are sufficiently unusual to warrant such a procedure, appoint counsel to represent the interests of the accused Church officer and proceed to trial on the merits and impose a suitable censure.
- § 107-5. Heresy and schism may be of such a nature as to warrant Deposition; but errors should be carefully considered, whether they strike at the vitals of religion, and are industriously spread, or whether they arise from the weakness of human understanding, and are not likely to do much injury.
- § 107-6. If the Church court finds on trial that the matter complained of amounts to no more than such acts of infirmity as may be amended, so that little or nothing remains to hinder the Church officer's usefulness, it shall take all prudent measures to remove the scandal.
- § 107-7. When a Church officer makes confession pending a trial, if the matter is of a base and shameful character, however penitent he may appear to the satisfaction of all, the court shall, without delay, suspend him from the exercise of his office, or depose him therefrom.
- § 107-8. Whenever a Church officer wilfully and habitually fails to be engaged in the regular discharge of his official functions, it shall be the duty of the court having jurisdiction, at a stated meeting, to inquire into the cause of such dereliction, and, if necessary, to institute judicial proceedings against him for breach of his covenant engagement. In such a case, the Clerk, shall, under the order of the court, forthwith deliver to the individual concerned, a written notice that, at the next stated meeting, the question of his being so dealt with is to be considered. This notice shall distinctly state the grounds for this proceeding. The party thus notified shall be heard in his own defense. If the court decides that his neglect proceeds from his want of acceptance to the Church, or from his lack of interest in the work of his office, it may divest him of his office without censure, even against his will, a majority of two-thirds being necessary for this purpose. The Church officer may appeal from this decision as if he had been tried after the usual forms.
- § 107-9. A Minister suspended or deposed for scandalous conduct shall not be restored, even on the deepest sorrow for his sin, until he exhibits for a considerable time such an eminently exemplary, humble, and edifying walk and conversation as to heal the wound made by his scandal. And a deposed Minister shall in no case be absolved until it appears that the general sentiment of the Church is in his favor, and demands the removal of his Deposition; and then only by the court inflicting the censure, or with its consent.
- § 107-10. When a Minister is deposed or divested of office without censure, his church shall be declared vacant; but when he is suspended from office, it shall be left to the discretion of the Presbytery whether the censure includes the dissolution of the pastoral relation.

- § 107-11. When a Presbytery divests a Minister of his office without censure, or deposes him without Excommunication, it shall assign him to membership in some particular church, subject to the approval of the Session of that church.
- § 107-12. The status of a Minister who has been divested of his office without censure and assigned to membership in a particular church shall be the same as that of any other member. If he desires to re-enter the ministry he shall proceed by seeking to place himself under care of Presbytery, in accordance with the procedure set out in chapter 24 of the Form of Government. Before receiving him the Presbytery shall also make careful inquiry into his Christian character, his previous record as a Minister, and his motives for seeking to re-enter the ministry. If satisfied as to these matters the Presbytery may receive him under its care. When he has received a call to a definite work, the Presbytery may, if it seems wise, ordain him, following the procedure set out in chapter 27 of the Form of Government.

CHAPTER 8. INFLICTION OF CHURCH CENSURES

- § 108-1. When any member or officer of the Church is found guilty of an offense the court shall proceed with all tenderness and shall deal with its offending brother in the spirit of meekness, the members considering themselves lest they also be tempted.
- § 108-2. Church censures and the modes of administering them should be suited to the nature of the offenses. For private offenses censure should be administered in the presence of the court alone, or in private by one or more members of the court. For public offenses, the degree of censure and mode of administering it are within the discretion of the court, acting in accordance with paragraphs below which deal with particular censures. If the charge against a church member is one of gross crime or heresy, and the accused persists in his contumacy, the court may proceed to inflict the highest censure.
- § 108-3. The censure of Admonition should be administered in private by one or more members of the court if the offense is known only to a few and is not aggravated in character. If the offense is public, the Admonition should be administered by the Moderator in the presence of the court and may also be announced in public if the court deems it expedient.
- § 108-4. The censure of definite Suspension should be administered in the presence of the court alone, or in open session of the court, as it may deem best, and public announcement thereof shall be made at the court's discretion.
- § 108-5. The censure of indefinite Suspension should be administered after the manner prescribed for definite Suspension, but with added solemnity, that it may be the means of impressing the mind of the offender with a proper sense of his danger, and, under the blessing of God, of leading him to repentance. When the court has resolved to pass this sentence, the Moderator shall address the offending brother to the following purpose:

"WHEREAS, You A. B. (here describe the person as a Minister, Ruling Elder, Deacon, or private member of the church), are convicted by sufficient proof [or, are guilty by your own confession], of the sin of—(here insert the offense), we, the Presbytery [or, Session] of C. D., in the name and by the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ, do now declare you suspended from the Sacraments of the Church [or, from the exercise of your office; or, from the Sacraments of the Church and from the exercise of your office] until you give satisfactory evidence of your repentance."

To this shall be added such advice or admonition as may be judged necessary, and the whole pronouncement shall be concluded with prayer to Almighty God that he follow this act of discipline with his blessing.

- § 108-6. The censure of Excommunication may be administered in the presence of the court alone, or in open session of the court, or in public, as the court may decide. In administering this censure the Moderator of the Session [or of the Presbytery] shall make a statement of the several steps which have been taken with respect to the offending brother, and of the decision to cut him off from the communion of the Church. He shall then show, from Matthew 18: 15-18 and I Corinthians 5:1-5, the authority of the Church to cast out unworthy members, and shall explain the nature, use, and consequences of this censure. He shall then administer the censure in the words following:

“WHEREAS, A. B., a member of this Church, has been, by sufficient proof, convicted of the sin of, and after much admonition and prayer, obstinately refuses to hear the Church, and has manifested no evidence of repentance: Therefore, in the name and by the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ, we, the Session of the Church of C. D. [or the Presbytery of E. F.], do pronounce him to be excluded from the Sacraments, and cut off from the fellowship of the Church.”

Prayer shall then be made that by God’s blessing this solemn action of the court may issue in the repentance and restoration of the offender, and in the establishment of all true believers.

- § 108-7. The censure of Deposition shall be administered by the Moderator in the words following:

“WHEREAS, A. B., a Minister of this Presbytery [or a Ruling Elder or Deacon of this church], has been proved, by sufficient evidence, to be guilty of the sin of, we, the Presbytery [or Session] of C. D., do adjudge him disqualified for the office of Minister of the Word and Sacraments [or Ruling Elder, or Deacon], and therefore we do hereby, in the name and by the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ, depose from the office of Minister [or Ruling Elder, or Deacon], the said A. B., and do prohibit him from exercising any of the functions thereof.” If the censure includes Suspension or Excommunication, the Moderator shall proceed to say: “We do, moreover, by the same authority, suspend the said A. B. from the Sacraments of the Church, until he shall exhibit satisfactory evidence of sincere repentance,” or “exclude the said A. B. from the Sacraments, and cut him off from the fellowship of the Church.”

The sentence of Deposition should be inflicted with solemnities similar to those prescribed in the case of Excommunication.

CHAPTER 9. REMOVAL OF CENSURE

- § 109-1. After any person has been suspended from the Sacraments or from office, it is proper that the rulers of the Church frequently converse with him as well as pray with him and for him, that it may please God to give him repentance.
- § 109-2. When the court is satisfied as to the reality of the repentance of a suspended offender, he shall be allowed to profess his repentance, either in the presence of the court alone, or publicly, and be restored to the Sacraments of the Church, and to his office, if this is the judgment of the court. The restoration shall be declared to the penitent in words of the following import:

“WHEREAS, You, A. B., have been debarred from the Sacraments of the Church [or, from the office of Minister, or Ruling Elder, or Deacon; or, from the Sacraments of the Church and from the office of Minister, or Ruling Elder, or Deacon], but now have manifested such repentance as satisfies the Church, we, the Session [or Presbytery] of C. D., do hereby in the name and by the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ to absolve you from the said sentence of Suspension, and do restore you to the full communion of the Church [or, to the exercise of your office, and all the functions thereof; or, to the full communion of the Church and to the exercise of your office, and all the functions thereof].”

After this there shall be prayer and thanksgiving.

- § 109-3. When an excommunicated person is so affected with his state as to be brought to repentance, and to desire to be readmitted to the communion of the Church, the court, having obtained sufficient evidence of his sincere penitence, shall proceed to restore him. This may be done in the presence of the court or of the congregation, as seems best to the court. When there has been a public censure, restoration should ordinarily be public also.

On the day appointed for his restoration, the Minister shall call upon the excommunicated person, and propose to him in the presence of the court, or of the congregation, the following questions:

"Do you, from a deep sense of your great wickedness, freely confess your sin in thus rebelling against God, and in refusing to hear his Church; and do you acknowledge that you have been in justice and mercy cut off from the communion of the Church?"

Answer: "I do."

"Do you now voluntarily profess your sincere repentance and contrition for your sin and obstinacy; and do you humbly ask the forgiveness of God and his Church?"

Answer: "I do."

"Do you sincerely promise, through divine grace, to live in all humbleness of mind and circumspection; and to endeavor to adorn by a holy life the doctrine of God our Saviour?"

Answer: "I do."

Here the Minister shall give the penitent a suitable exhortation, encouraging and comforting him. Then he shall pronounce the declaration of restoration in the following words:

"WHEREAS, You, A. B., have been shut out from the communion of the Church, but have now manifested such repentance as satisfies the Church; in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and by his authority, we, the Session of this Church, do declare you absolved from the sentence of excommunication formerly pronounced against you; and we do restore you to the communion of the Church, that you may be a partaker of all the benefits of the Lord Jesus to your eternal salvation."

The whole procedure shall be concluded with prayer and thanksgiving

- § 109-4. The removal of censure from a deposed officer, after confession has been made in a manner similar to that prescribed in the case of the removal of censure from an excommunicated person, shall be announced to him by the Moderator in the following form, namely:

"WHEREAS, you A.B., formerly a Minister of this Presbytery [or a Ruling Elder, or a Deacon of this church], have been deposed from your office, but have now manifested such repentance as satisfies the Church; in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and by his authority, we, the Presbytery of C. D. [or the Session of this church], do declare you absolved from the said sentence of Deposition formerly pronounced against you; and we do furthermore declare you eligible for attaining again to your said office, and to the exercise of all the functions thereof, whenever you may be orderly called thereto and ordained."

After this there shall be prayer and thanksgiving, and the members of the court shall extend to him the right hand of fellowship.

- § 109-5. A Ruling Elder or Deacon whose censure of Deposition has been removed, cannot resume the exercise of his office in the church without re-election by the people and ordination in the office.
- § 109-6. When a person under censure removes to a part of the country remote from the court by which he was sentenced, and desires to profess repentance and obtain restoration, the court may, if it deems expedient, transmit a certified copy of its proceedings to the Session (or Presbytery) where the offender resides, which shall take up the case and proceed with it as though it had originated there.
- § 109-7. In the restoration of a Minister who has been suspended, the Presbytery should proceed with great caution. Its first step is to admit him to the Sacraments if he has been debarred from them. Afterwards, it may grant him the privilege of preaching on probation for a time, so as to test the sincerity of his repentance and the prospect of his usefulness. When satisfied in these respects, the Presbytery may take steps to restore him to his office. But the case shall remain under judicial consideration until a declaration of restoration has been pronounced.

- § 109-8. When a Minister has been deposed from office, the Presbytery should proceed with the greatest caution. After first admitting him to the Sacraments, if he has been debarred from them, it may remove the censure of Deposition. Thereafter, if he desires to re-enter the Ministry, he shall follow the procedure set forth in chapters 24 and 27 of the Form of Government. Before receiving him under its care as a candidate and before ordaining him, the Presbytery shall inquire particularly into his previous record as a Minister and his motives for seeking to re-enter the Ministry.

PART IV. PROCEDURAL RULES FOR INFORMAL DISPOSITION (CASES WITHOUT PROCESS)

CHAPTER 10. CONFESSION

- § 110-1. When any person comes forward of his own accord and makes his offense known to the court, a full statement of the facts shall be recorded and judgment rendered without process or formal trial. Judgment shall be rendered in the same fashion upon a person against whom charges are pending but who desires to acknowledge his guilt without submitting to formal trial.

CHAPTER 11. RENOUNCING THE JURISDICTION OF THE CHURCH

- § 111-1. If a communing member of the church against whom no charges are pending requests the Session to remove his name from the church roll or to transfer it to the roll of non-communing members, the Session has authority to grant the request. This action may be announced to the congregation if this seems wise and proper. The transfer, however, should not be made until the Session, after inquiry and due delay, is of the judgment that the request does not spring from temporary doubt or special temptation.
- § 111-2. When a church member renounces the communion of this Church by joining some other Church, if he is in good standing, the irregularity shall be recorded, and his name erased. If charges are pending against him, they shall be communicated to the Church which he has joined.
- § 111-3. When a Church officer, whether Minister, Ruling Elder or Deacon, renounces the communion or authority of this Church by a statement or by joining some other Church recognized by our own as a true branch of the Church of Christ, the Court having jurisdiction shall record the irregularity and withdraw from him all authority to exercise office derived from this Church. If charges are pending against him, the Court shall communicate to the Church the officer has joined a full statement of the charges pending. When a Church officer renounces the communion of this Church by affiliating himself with some organized religious body which is heretical or schismatic, the court having jurisdiction shall make a full record of the irregularity, and declare that he is divested of his office in the Church and no longer possesses any rights or authority pertaining thereto, and that he no longer has the privilege of coming to the Lord's Table in this communion.
- § 111-4. A Church officer who has renounced the jurisdiction of this Church and who desires to be restored shall apply to the same Church court under whose jurisdiction he was when his relationship with this communion was severed. The court shall hear him, and, if satisfied, may restore his membership. In the case of a former Minister the Presbytery shall assign him to membership in some particular church subject to the approval of the Session of that church. Restoration to office in the Church can be accomplished only by passing through all the steps necessary for a man being called to office in the Church for the first time, including ordination.

CHAPTER 12. DIVESTING OF OFFICE ON REQUEST

- § 112-1. A Church officer against whom there are no charges, if he is fully satisfied in his own conscience that God has not called him to the office, or if he has satisfactory evidence of his inability to serve the Church with acceptance, may report these facts at a stated meeting of the court having jurisdiction over him. At the next stated meeting, if, after full deliberation, the court concurs with him in judgment, it may divest him of his office without censure.

PART V. APPELLATE JURISDICTION

CHAPTER 13. MODES BY WHICH THE PROCEEDINGS OF A LOWER COURT COME BEFORE A HIGHER COURT

- § 113-1. The acts and decisions of a lower court are brought under the supervision of a higher court in one of the following modes: (1) Review and Control; (2) Reference; (3) Appeal; (4) Complaint.
- § 113-2. When the proceedings of a lower court are before a higher court the members of the lower court do not lose the right to sit, deliberate, and vote in the higher court, except in cases of Appeal or Complaint.

CHAPTER 14. GENERAL REVIEW AND CONTROL

- § 114-1. It is the right and duty of every court above the Session to review, at least once a year, the records of the court next below, and if any lower court fails to present its records for this purpose, the higher court may require them to be produced either immediately or at any time fixed by the higher court.
- § 114-2. In reviewing records of a lower court the higher court is to examine: (1) Whether the proceedings have been correctly recorded; (2) whether they have been regular and in accordance with the Constitution; (3) whether they have been wise, equitable, and suited to promote the welfare of the Church; (4) whether the lawful injunctions of the higher court have been obeyed.
- § 114-3. It is ordinarily sufficient for the higher court merely to record in its own minutes and in the records reviewed, whether it approves, disapproves, or corrects the records in any particular; but if any serious irregularity is discovered the higher court may require its reconsideration and correction by the lower court.
- § 114-4. Proceedings in judicial cases, however, are not dealt with under review and control when notice of Appeal or Complaint has been given the lower court; and no judgment of a lower court in a judicial case shall be reversed except by Appeal or Complaint.
- § 114-5. If a court neglects to perform its duty, with the result that heretical opinions or corrupt practices are allowed to gain ground, or offenders of a very gross character are suffered to escape, or some circumstances in its proceedings of great irregularity are not distinctly recorded, its records may not exhibit to the higher court a full view of its proceedings. When, therefore, the next higher court is advised that any such neglect or irregularity has occurred on the part of the lower court, it should take cognizance thereof, and examine, deliberate, and judge in the whole matter as completely as if it had been recorded, and thus brought up by the review of the records.
- § 114-6. When any court having appellate jurisdiction is advised, either by the records of the court next below or by memorial, either with or without protest, or by any other satisfactory method, of any important delinquency or grossly unconstitutional proceedings of the lower court, it shall cite the lower court to appear by representative or in writing, at a specified time and place, and to show what it has done or failed to do in the case in question. As circumstances require, the court thus issuing the citation may (1) reverse or redress the proceedings of the court below in matters other than judicial cases, or (2) censure the delinquent court, or (3) remit the whole matter to the delinquent court, with an injunction to take it up and dispose of it in a constitutional manner, or (4) stay all further proceedings in the case.
- § 114-7. In process against a lower court, the trial shall be conducted according to the rules provided for process against individuals, so far as they may be applicable.

CHAPTER 15. REFERENCES

- § 115-1. A Reference is a written representation and application made by a lower court to a higher court for advice, or other action, on a matter pending before the lower court, and is ordinarily to be made to the next higher court.
- § 115-2. Among proper subjects for Reference are matters which are new, delicate, or difficult; or which have produced a serious division among the members of the lower court; or which relate to questions involving the Constitution and legal procedure respecting which the lower court feels the need of guidance.
- § 115-3. In making a Reference the lower court may ask either for advice, or for final disposition of the matter referred. In particular it may refer a judicial case with request for its trial and decision by the higher court.
- § 115-4. A Reference may be presented to the higher court by one or more representatives appointed by the lower court for this purpose, and it should be accompanied with so much of the record as is necessary for proper understanding and consideration of the matter referred.
- § 115-5. Although References are sometimes proper, yet in general it is better that every court should itself discharge the duty assigned it under the law of the Church. A higher court is not required to accede to the request of the lower court, but it should ordinarily give advice when so requested.
- § 115-6. When a court makes a Reference, it should have all the testimony and other documents duly prepared, produced, and in perfect readiness, so that the higher court may be able fully to consider and issue the case with as little difficulty or delay as possible.

CHAPTER 16. APPEALS

- § 116-1. An Appeal is the transfer to a higher court of a judicial case on which judgment has been rendered in a lower court, and is allowable only to the accused party. [See § 107-8.] The parties shall be known as the appellant and appellee. An Appeal cannot be made to any court other than the next higher, except with its consent.
- § 116-2. Only those who have submitted to a regular trial are entitled to an Appeal. Those who have not submitted to a regular trial are not entitled to an Appeal.
- § 116-3. The grounds of Appeal include such matters as the following: any irregularity in the proceedings of the lower court; impairment of procedural rights; refusal of reasonable indulgence to a party on trial; receiving improper, or declining to receive proper, evidence; rendering a decision before all the testimony is taken; manifestation of bias or prejudice in the case; and manifest injustice in the judgment or censure. To sustain an Appeal the ground must be not a mere technicality but must involve real harm to the appellant's case .
- § 116-4. Notice of Appeal, with the reasons supporting it, shall be given the court before it adjourns, or shall within ten days thereafter be filed with the Moderator or Clerk of the court.
- § 116-5. The appellant shall lodge his Appeal and the reasons therefor with the Clerk of the higher court at least three days before the opening of its sessions. It is the duty of the Clerk of the lower court to file with the Clerk of the higher court by the same time a copy of all the proceedings in connection with the case, including the notice of Appeal and reasons therefor, the evidence, and any papers bearing on the case. These constitute the Record of the Case, and the higher court shall not admit or consider anything not found in this Record without consent of the parties in the case. [See § 105-19.]
- § 116-6. Notice of Appeal ordinarily has the effect of suspending the judgment of the lower court until the case has been finally decided in the higher court. If, however, the censure is Suspension or Excommunication from the sealing ordinances, or Deposition from office, the court from which the case has come may, for sufficient reasons duly recorded, put the censure into effect until the case is finally decided.
- § 116-7. After a higher court has decided that an Appeal is in order and should be entertained by the court, the following procedure should be followed: (1) The complete Record of the Case shall be read, except any part of it that may be omitted by consent of the parties and the court itself; (2) the parties shall be heard, the appellant having the right of opening and closing the argument; (3) opportunity shall be given the members of the appellate court to express their opinions; (4) the vote shall then be taken on each specification, in this form: "Shall this specification of error be sustained?" If the court deems it wise, it may adopt a minute explanatory of its action, which becomes a part of its Record in the Case.

- § 116-8. The decision of the higher court may be to confirm or to reverse, in whole or in part, the judgment of the lower court; or to remit the case to a lower court for the purpose of amending the Record, if it appears incorrect or defective; or to send the case back for a new trial. In every case a full Record shall be made, and a copy of it shall be sent to the lower court.
- § 116-9. An Appeal will be treated as abandoned, if the appellant does not appear before the higher court in person, or by counsel, at its meeting next following the date of his notice of Appeal; and the judgment of the lower court will stand, unless the appellant gives the court satisfactory explanation of his failure to appear and prosecute the Appeal.
- § 116-10. If an appellant manifests a litigious or otherwise unchristian spirit in the prosecution of his Appeal, he shall receive a suitable rebuke by the appellate court.
- § 116-11. If a lower court neglects to send up the Record of the Case, or any part of it, to the injury of the appellant, it shall receive a proper rebuke from the higher court, and the judgment from which the Appeal has been taken shall be suspended until an adequate Record is produced upon which the issue can be fairly tried.

CHAPTER 17. COMPLAINTS

- § 117-1. A Complaint is a written representation made to a higher court against some act or decision of a lower court, or made to the appointing court against some act or decision of a Commission.
It is the right of any communing member of the Church in good standing to make Complaint against any action of a lower court, or of a Commission of such court, to whose jurisdiction he is subject, except a decision in a judicial case in which an Appeal is taken.
A Complaint against a Commission action must go to the appointing court, which may hear the matter in the presence of the whole court or may make of it a Reference to the next higher court. A Complaint against an action taken by a court itself must go to the next higher court. No Complaint can be taken against the action of the General Assembly or of a Commission appointed by it.
- § 117-2. Notice of Complaint shall not have the effect of suspending the action against which the Complaint is made, unless one third of the members present when the action was taken shall vote for its suspension until the final decision in the higher court.
- § 117-3. The court against which Complaint is made shall appoint one or more representatives to defend its action, and the parties in the case are designated as complainant and respondent.
- § 117-4. The provisions relating to an Appeal found in sections 116-3, 116-4, 116-5, 116-7, 116-9, 116-10 and 116-11 shall apply to a Complaint.
- § 117-5. The higher court has power, in its discretion, to annul the whole, or any part, of the action of a lower court against which Complaint has been made, or to send the matter back to the lower court with instructions for a new hearing.
- § 117-6. In voting upon a Complaint, the vote shall be either to sustain, to sustain in part, or not to sustain.
- § 117-7. The effect of a vote to sustain shall be to sustain each of the items or counts of the Complaint; that of a vote not to sustain shall be to annul each of the items or counts of the Complaint; and that of a vote to sustain in part shall be to sustain one or more specific items or counts of the Complaint.

- § 117-8. Those voting to sustain in part shall be required when voting to state what item or items, count or counts of the Complaint they desire to sustain.
- § 117-9. In making up the vote on the Complaint only those items or counts shall be declared to be sustained for the sustaining of which a majority of the votes cast has been given.

PART VI. MISCELLANEOUS

CHAPTER 18. DECISION BY AN ADMINISTRATIVE COMMISSION OR BY A JUDICIAL COMMISSION

- § 118-1. In accordance with the provisions of chapter 19 of the Form of Government, a Presbytery or Synod may appoint Administrative Commissions and Judicial Commissions.
- § 118-2. Commissions of either sort shall submit a full Record to the court. [See § 105-19.] The Commission's minutes, including its decisions on the matter, shall be entered on the minutes of the court at its next session. If no Complaint has been filed, this shall be the action and judgment of the court itself. The remainder of the Record of the matter shall be preserved by the Stated Clerk of the court.
- § 118-3. The decision of a Commission shall take effect on the date the Record is filed with the Stated Clerk of the court. On reaching its decision, the Commission shall promptly inform the parties and let them know the date on which the Record will be filed with the Clerk.
- § 118-4. Notice of Appeal, or notice of Complaint either by a party in the matter or by a member of the Commission, must be given within ten days from the date the Record is filed with the Clerk, and must be given to both the Clerk of the court and to the Chairman of the Commission.
- § 118-5. Such notice of Complaint may contain a request that the effect of the decision be suspended until the Complaint is heard. In such case the decision is automatically suspended until the Commission can meet and vote on the request. Such a meeting of the Commission must be held as soon as practicable. If one-third of the members of the Commission present when the action was taken shall vote to suspend the effect of the decision, it shall be suspended until the court hears and determines the case.

CHAPTER 19. MINORITY OPINIONS

- § 119-1. A Dissent is a declaration on the part of one or more members of a minority in a court, expressing a different opinion from that of the majority in a particular case. A Dissent unaccompanied with reasons shall be entered in the records of the court.
- § 119-2. A Protest is a more solemn and formal declaration by one or more members of a minority, bearing their testimony against what they deem an unwise or erroneous judgment, and is generally accompanied with a statement of the reasons on which it is founded.
- § 119-3. If a Protest or Dissent is couched in temperate language, and is respectful to the court, it shall be recorded. The court may, if it wishes, put an answer to the Protest on the records along with it. Here the matter shall end, unless the parties protesting obtain permission to withdraw their Protest absolutely, or to amend it.
- § 119-4. The only persons who can join in a Protest against a decision of any court are those who had a right to vote in the case.

REPORT OF THE AD INTERIM COMMITTEE ON ADULT WORK

The 1959 General Assembly directed that an ad interim committee be appointed "to study the women's work, men's work and adult work of our Church, and to consider any changes which may be needed in women's work, men's work and the total adult work program of our Church." Your committee is deeply conscious of the magnitude, importance and difficulty of this assignment, but has undertaken the assigned responsibility in a spirit of humility and prayer, seeking the guidance and direction of the Holy Spirit that we might properly study and interpret the work and programs of the various adult groups in our church and have sufficient wisdom to make a creative and constructive report to the Assembly.

This committee and this directed study grew out of an overture from John Knox Presbytery to the General Assembly in 1959, which was answered in the negative. The overture read as follows:

"Whereas, some Synods and Presbyteries have placed the responsibility for the Women of the Church under their Christian Education Committee and found this structure of organization to be most effective and welcomed by those concerned; and

"Whereas, Men's Work and Youth Work have functioned well under the guidance of the Board of Christian Education;

"Therefore, the Presbytery of John Knox respectfully overtures the General Assembly to take steps necessary to dissolve the Board of Women's Work and assign its responsibilities to the Board of Christian Education."

It is probable that other factors have entered into the establishment of this ad-interim committee, but it appears to the committee that this overture was the chief implementing factor in once again focusing attention upon a matter which has been considered on several previous occasions. Your committee realizes that it did not have to deal directly with this overture, but we feel that the intention of said overture was worthy of our serious consideration and that it has a vitally important connection with and bearing on our assignment.

SOME HISTORICAL GLIMPSES OF WOMEN'S WORK

It is interesting and enlightening to note some of the highlights in the history and development of our adult work program and organization, especially as it pertains to the work of the women of our church. It is generally recognized by various denominations that our Board of Women's Work has done and is doing a signal and outstanding job second to none in its particular field. In fact, the Board of Women's Work in the Presbyterian Church, U. S., has done such an effective and creative job that other denominational boards have often looked to it for guidance and inspiration, as our women, time after time, have taken the lead in pioneering in some new venture or avenue of approach. Other denominational groups have often followed the patterns, methods and techniques established by the women of our church. However, the noble accomplishments of the women of our church have not been achieved without struggle, difficulties and opposition.

The leadership of our women is all the more amazing and commendable in view of the fact of our tardiness in organizing this particular phase of our work. In 1911 an overture to the Synod of Missouri from the Woman's Synodical Union of Missouri stated why there needed to be coordination and organization of the work of the women of the church, pointing out that "women constitute fully three-fifths of the membership of the church," while at the same time "The Presbyterian Church, U. S. is the only orthodox denomination in America which has not its woman's work uniformly organized."* The Synod of Missouri approved this overture looking toward the organization of the work of the women of the church, while the Synod of Virginia failed to approve a similar overture. "The artillery of opposition began to fire its guns of disapproval through the church press. Theological professors wrote learned articles showing why such a movement was unbiblical and unchristian. They were sure they could see the cloven hoof of woman's suffrage behind the petticoats of the overture." Some of the epithets used were: "Unwomanly"—"foolish leaders"—"A limited pope"—"a woman bishop"—"ecclesiastical suffragettes"—"a divided Church"—"a woman's Church"—"the camel's nose of a woman's Board." In spite of a host of conscientious objections, Providence decreed that the Woman's Auxiliary be born in 1912. With no precedent of past experience to guide them, with meager financial undergirding, and with scant equipment, this new agency of our church was launched and headed in the direction of fruitful accomplishment. It has been said that our church is noted for its "blessed inconsistencies." This certainly would seem to be true of the church's attitude toward woman's place in the Church. For women to speak or to pray in the presence of men long remained an ecclesiastical taboo. Thus certain sessions of Presbyterial and Synodical meetings were presided over not by the elected officers but by invited ministers if any men were present. Nor could a woman make an address or even make a report in the presence of male visitors. The Superintendent of the Auxiliary was not permitted to make her own report to the General Assembly until fifteen years after she was appointed to that office by the General Assembly, though she was always present and ready to discharge that duty. The Executive Secretaries or Directors of all other departments of the Assembly gave their own reports in person except the Superintendent of the Auxiliary. She prepared her report, but she must have one of the members of the Supervisory Committee present her report to the Assembly because she was a woman!

How the Superintendent of the Auxiliary came finally to make her own report to the Assembly is a story too long to tell in detail. Almost every year some hopeful commissioner would move that she make her own report, and the motion promptly would be voted down. Finally in 1926 a motion prevailed that the Superintendent read her own report. Immediately another motion was made and carried to adjourn the meeting until the next morning. At the meeting the next morning Dr. Henry Sweets was requested by the Superintendent to read the report. The following year, through the use of Christian diplomacy and discretion, the Superintendent was permitted to make her report in person to the General Assembly. From the very beginning the dominant and central aim of the women's organization has been: "All the women of the Church working for, praying for, and giving to all the Causes of the Church." From the dawn of Christianity women have worked faithfully and fruitfully for the cause of Christ, and we pay tribute to the Women of our Church, to their leaders, to their Board, and to their organization for the efficient and effective services they have rendered.

A problem basic to your committee's assignment is the reluctance on the part of our denomination to grant women a place of equality with men in the realm of ordination, holding office, serving as commissioners to the General Assembly, representing their churches in Presbytery and Synod, and in serving with full status on various committees and commissions. Your committee believes that prior consideration needs to be given to the matter of affording opportunity for such participation before we seriously consider the abolition of the Board of Women's Work.

THE BOARD OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION AND DIVISION OF MEN'S WORK

One of the strongest and busiest arms of our church is our Board of Christian Education, wisely and skillfully organized and effectively functioning through its various departments, including the Division of Men's Work. The organization of our Board of Christian Education, its staff and its workers, appears to be a sizable bit of complex organizational machinery to the uninitiated. The size of this group of workers and the very nature of their work make it inevitable that certain organization complexities be involved. Complexity, however, does not imply any derogatory insinuations. The organizational divisions are logical, and the work is being done economically and effectively in spite of the gargantuan proportions of the mammoth job being done. Some seem to think that it would be logical and expedient to have a Division of Women's Work equated with a Division of Men's Work—both working as integral parts of the Board of Christian Education. Staff and Board members of both the Board of Christian Education and the Board of Women's Work, in conference with this committee, have indicated a willingness to consider such structural changes as may be beneficial to the work of the Church. The basic consideration confronting the committee has been to determine the wisdom and practicality of creating the Division of Women's Work within the Board of Christian Education. A part of the consideration has been to investigate other denominational approaches to this problem. The findings revealed that no one of the fourteen men's and women's organizations studied is placed in a Board of Christian Education.

Regarding the Men of the Church, we feel that a good philosophy, a good program and a good organization already exist, although we cannot feel completely satisfied with the results or the effectiveness of Men's Work at the local level. It is our opinion that there are many factors entering into an explanation for certain evident and recognized weaknesses in the Men's Work in the local churches. These reasons are rooted largely in local situations and in the inevitable position man occupies in society, both in the church and in the business field. We have the utmost confidence in the leadership provided by the Division of Men's Work of our Board of Christian Education, and we rejoice in many evidences of the effectiveness and fruitfulness of this work in various areas of the church. There is need for increased prayer, loyalty and participation on the local level, and it is our conviction that more of our churches will avail themselves of the benefits of leadership, programs, projects and promotional materials as they awaken to their own local needs and opportunities.

BOARD OF LAY ACTIVITIES—I.B.A.C. AND CURRICULUM IMPROVEMENT

Your ad interim committee and representatives of your Board of Christian Education and your Board of Women's Work have all considered the possible advantages of creating a Board of Lay Activities, to include the present Board of Women's Work and the Division of Men's Work. Sufficient reasons to recommend the establishment of such a Board in the foreseeable future have not been discovered.

Our entire church needs to be keenly aware of the fact that an unusually effective medium for cooperation and coordination for all phases of our adult work program exists in the form of the Inter-Board Adult Council. Periodically this Council meets, with representatives present from our various Boards and Departments dealing with adult work, to consider matters of mutual interest, to coordinate the entire program of adult work, and to facilitate the development of promotional tools, materials and methods. This Council is functioning in an unusually harmonious, effective, productive and economical manner, eliminating the necessity for combining existing agencies in order to secure cooperation.

In 1955 The General Assembly authorized the Board of Christian Education to launch a special Curriculum Improvement Program. The Board set out to make studies of all matters related to the communication of the Christian faith through the educational work of the Church. It needed to make certain that the organized educational programs and the literature recommended by the Board for use in the curriculum would continue to be the best which the Board could recommend to churches. This program was to be pursued in three phases. (I) In the initial phase the Board provided a special study committee consisting entirely of persons who were not members of the Christian Education staff. The conclusions of this committee were reported to the Board in October 1957 in a paper entitled, "Toward a Curriculum for the Covenant Community." (II) The second phase provided for two steps: (1) A Church-Wide study of the Report of the special study committee, and (2) A Special Research Program in (a) work out a new Curriculum Design, (b) develop new literature, and (c) work with selected research churches in developing implications of the Restudy for the educational program. (III) The third phase will begin when Phase II has been continued long enough to point a direction for revisions or improvements in the organized educational programs and the curriculum and literature for the church at large. Until further implications of the Curriculum Improvement Program are apparent, your committee does not feel it wise to recommend any functional re-alignments of General Assembly Boards.

RECOMMENDATIONS

In view of these considerations, we offer the following recommendations:

1. That our Assembly express its gratitude to our Board of Christian Education and to our Board of Women's Work for the consecrated leadership they are furnishing our church, and for the general effectiveness of their programs.
2. That the General Assembly make no organizational or jurisdictional changes at the present time in women's work, men's work or other phases of adult work, leaving the Board of Women's Work and the Board of Christian Education to function as they do at present.*
3. That the Assembly commend the Boards of the Church for the establishment and use of the Inter-Board Adult Council as a channel of cooperation, and that steps be taken to inform the church at large of the purpose and functioning of this cooperative effort.

*It is noted that the conclusions reached independently by this committee are consistent with the report of the 1949 Ad Interim Committee on Study of Assembly's Agencies. See Minutes, 89th General Assembly, page 150.

4. That the Board of Women's Work and the Board of Christian Education be urged to continue to be alert in discovering other ways and means for working together in the closest possible spirit of cooperation, in avoiding overlapping and duplicating, in effecting every possible economy, and in facilitating the production and promotion of fruitful and effective Christ-centered, Bible-centered programs for our adult groups.

5. That the study of matters assigned to the present ad interim committee be continued by the present committee to report to the 1962 General Assembly. The objective of such a committee would be to review the purpose of each existing organization dealing with adult work in the local church, Presbytery, Synod and General Assembly, and to determine the necessity for and the effectiveness of the existing programs and organizational structures.

6. That the Church at large make this a matter of prayer and study, and that the Assembly urge individuals and sessions to offer in writing concrete suggestions and opinions to the ad interim committee for its consideration and guidance.

C. NEWMAN FAULCONER, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE TO THE 1960 GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The Centennial Committee met in Atlanta on January 19, 1960, to review plans previously projected, to hear reports from subcommittees, and to make necessary decisions concerning the Church's observance in 1961 of one hundred years of ministry and service.

THEME AND PURPOSE

The theme of the Centennial is "Our Presbyterian Heritage and Mission." The Committee is basing all that is planned for the observance in 1961 upon the following conception that has been approved by the 1957, 1958, and 1959 Assemblies:

This Committee is of the conviction that the effect of the observance will depend largely on the spirit and manner in which it is carried out. Accordingly it proposes that the Centennial program be designed primarily to point the Church forward. While our appreciation for the abiding value in our heritage should be deepened, we should be chiefly concerned to clarify our vision of our future role and receive fresh stimulus in the service of our Lord. Furthermore, the Committee hopes to fashion a program which will enlarge our horizons and vivify our sense of fellowship with all other Presbyterian and Reformed Churches throughout the world, both those which are older and those which have come into being as a result of the missionary enterprise. Our common traditions in doctrine, polity, worship and practice will be presented in such a way as to strengthen our sense of unity with the Calvinistic family, and through it with the Ecumenical Church.

OBJECTIVES

The Centennial goals for the Presbyterian Church in the United States, approved by the 1958 and 1959 Assemblies are:

1.) To challenge our whole Church to a deepened awareness of our common historical heritage and mission as a member of the Reformed Family in the world, and to consider the distinctive contribution we can make as a member of the Presbyterian Church in the world today.

2.) To strengthen and revitalize the spiritual life of our church people (a) by inspiring them to rededicate their lives and resources so that the Presbyterian way of life may be a living witness to the reality of the Christian claim; and (b) by centering our emphasis on evangelism in order to strengthen our sense of obligation and fulfill our mission to the unreached at home and abroad, praying earnestly that through the Holy Spirit's ministration, the goal of one million members by the end of 1961, adopted by the General Assembly, may be substantially exceeded.

3.) To make voluntary supplemental offerings during the Centennial year as an expression of our thanksgiving and dedication—one-half of the total received to be used in helping our sister Churches of the Reformed Faith in countries where they have suffered from war or other disasters; and one-half to be used in the promotion of evangelism, which will be a major emphasis of all Presbyterian bodies in America in 1960-61.

SEQUENCE OF EVENTS IN CENTENNIAL YEAR

The Evangelistic Mission in the Centennial Year

The program of evangelism, planned as an integral part of the Centennial observance, will be launched in local churches with a dedication service on January 1, 1961, and will move to a climax on Easter Sunday, following special services in each church.

The Centennial General Assembly

The Centennial General Assembly will meet at the Highland Park Presbyterian Church, Dallas, Texas, April 27-May 2, 1961. The Assembly will feature sermons and addresses by distinguished leaders of the Reformed Faith and of the Ecumenical Church, as well as programs and displays by boards and agencies of our Church—stressing “the abiding value in our heritage” and clarifying “our vision of our future role.” Arrangements are being made to bring to the Assembly representatives of our daughter churches, thus emphasizing the hundred years of our Church’s expansion abroad and the missionary challenge of the new century.

The Observance in Synods and Presbyteries

The Centennial emphasis will be stressed in meetings of synods in the summer (1961) and of presbyteries in the fall. The 1958 and 1959 General Assemblies directed presbyteries and synods to appoint Centennial Committees for the purpose of promoting Centennial interest and publicity. Presbyteries, presbyterials, synods and synodicals will observe the Centennial at their meetings prior to Centennial Sunday (October 15, 1961). Wherever possible, synod and synodical, likewise presbytery and presbyterial, will join for popular meetings (including young people), using the theme, “Our Presbyterian Heritage and Mission.” In planning their Centennial observances, presbyteries and synods are urged to give due attention to matters of Presbyterian “heritage and challenge” peculiarly relevant in their respective localities, while consistently relating such local or regional emphases to the larger context. Much of the success of our Church’s Centennial Observance depends upon the willingness of synod and presbytery committees to use initiative and imagination in planning and interpreting the Centennial program in their respective areas of responsibility.

Radio Programs

Arrangements have been made to have two series of the The Protestant Hour, each ten weeks in length (December 18, 1960-February 19, 1961; September 24, 1961-November 26, 1961), dealing with various aspects of our Church’s heritage and mission.

The Centennial in Local Churches

The General Assemblies of 1958 and 1959 made provision for Centennial committees in local congregations, to be appointed by the respective sessions and to include representatives of the Women of the Church. These local Centennial committees will relate the Centennial theme and program of the General Assembly to the plans of their respective churches, giving appropriate attention to interesting and relevant local matters of Presbyterian “heritage and challenge.”

Local congregations are expected to participate in the programs of reading and study during 1961, using the Bible study by Dr. Felix Gear dealing with basic beliefs of the Reformed Church, the book by Dr. T. Watson Street on the history of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, and the book dealing with the role of the Presbyterian Church in the world of tomorrow, written by Dr. E. T. Thompson.

The Centennial observance is to be brought to a climax with services in local churches on Centennial Sunday, October 15, 1961. A special order of worship for this occasion will be suggested for churches desiring it. It is expected that appropriate sermons will be preached, “pointing the Church forward,” and calling our people to a new dimension of dedication to Christ and to sacrificial living in loyal service to Him. The last two General Assemblies have taken action urging presbyteries to assume the responsibility for seeing that services are held on Centennial Sunday in every church in the Assembly.

By order of the 1958 and 1959 General Assemblies, a voluntary thank offering will be received in local churches, large and small, on Centennial Sunday (October 15, 1961) “as an expression of our thanksgiving and dedication.” One-half of the total amount received will be used in helping our sister Churches of the Reformed Faith in localities abroad where they have suffered from war or other disasters; and one-half will be used in the large-scale program of evangelism, planned by our Division of Evangelism, in conjunction with the Ad Interim Committee on the Centennial, to confront our people afresh with the challenge of commitment to Christ and rededication to the purposes of His Kingdom.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The Centennial Committee submits to the General Assembly the following recommendations:

1.) That, where such action has not yet been taken, synods, presbyteries and local sessions appoint Centennial committees for the purpose of planning, interpreting and promoting the Centennial observance.

2.) That synods and presbyteries be urged to observe the Centennial at their meetings prior to Centennial Sunday; and that, wherever possible, synod and synodical, likewise presbytery and presbyterial, come together for popular meetings on "Our Presbyterian Heritage and Mission," such popular meetings to include young people.

3.) That presbytery Centennial committees be encouraged to assume the responsibility for promoting the Centennial observance in all the churches of the respective presbyteries—this responsibility to include emphasis upon the use of the study books, Centennial services in all churches on October 15, 1961, and the thank offering for our sister churches of the Reformed faith and for the Centennial program of evangelism.

4.) That, as part of the preparation for the Centennial emphasis on evangelism, the General Assembly request each synod to conduct a synod (or pre-synod) conference on evangelism as part of the 1960 synod meeting, using the theme, "The Message and Mission of the Church."

5.) That the General Assembly request synods and presbyteries to plan classes in Christian witnessing in all 1960 summer camps, conferences and training schools for senior high young people and adults, using special materials provided by the Division of Evangelism and the Boards of Christian Education and Women's Work in preparation for the Centennial Evangelistic Emphasis.

6.) That the General Assembly request each presbytery to emphasize Christian witnessing in the 1960 fall meeting of presbytery, and in all fall rallies and district conferences of young people and adults in 1960.

7.) That Centennial Committees in synods, presbyteries, and local churches cooperate with plans for the evangelistic Cavalcades to be held in a number of cities throughout our Church during the period October 3-14, 1960.

8.) That Centennial committees in presbyteries urge every local church to participate fully in the "Presbyterian Mission to the Nation" as an integral part of the observance of our Church's Centennial.

9.) That the General Assembly permit the Centennial Committee to be credited with the unused balance from the appropriation of $7,500, approved as a Committee budget for the current year; and that the sum of $15,000 be appropriated for the fiscal year 1961.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON ASSEMBLY'S OFFICE

Minutes of the October 6, 1959, and the January 21, 1960, meetings of the Committee on the Assembly's Office are submitted to the Standing Committee on the Assembly's Office for its information. Also submitted is the Expense Budget of the General Assembly adopted by the Committee for the year 1960.

This Committee, on recommendation of the Centennial Committee, has accepted the invitation of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church, Dallas, Texas, for the Centennial meeting of the General Assembly in 1961. Pending suspension of the General Assembly's Standing Rule 1 (1) (Min. G.A. 1959, p. 174), as recommended below, this Committee has accepted the invitation of the First Presbyterian Church, Winston-Salem, N. C., for the 1962 General Assembly to meet there.

The Committee of the Assembly's Office recommends:

- (1) That the Annual Report of the Stated Clerk and of the Treasurer be approved;
- (2) That the Expense Budget adopted by the Committee on Assembly's Office for 1960 be approved as follows:

1. For the expense of the General Assembly.....	$128,767.00
2. For the expense of the Office of the General Assembly.....	48,000.00
3. For the expense of the Committee on the Minister and His Work.....	26,500.00

Total Expense Budget of the General Assembly.....	$203,267.00

- (3) That in view of the decrease in the balance of the Treasury of the General Assembly over a period of several years, and in anticipation of increasing expenses ordered by the Assembly in subsequent years, the per capita tax be increased to 27 cents beginning in 1961, this figure including 1 cent for the regular support of the World Alliance of Reformed Churches through its North American area;
- (4) That the General Assembly suspend its Standing Rule 1 (1) (Min. G. A., 1959, p. 174) and schedule the meeting date for 1962 as May 10, in order to make possible the holding of the 1962 meeting in Winston-Salem, N. C.
- (5) That the General Assembly adopt a new set of "Instructions to Stated Clerks" for inclusion in its Minutes. (See page 227.)
- (6) The reorganization of General Assembly structures in 1949 (Minutes, 1949, p. 163) saw the functions of the Assembly which continue between meetings as comprising two categories: "executive" (the Boards and other agencies which execute for the Church specified parts of her mission and work in the world), and "administrative" (carrying out the continuing internal operation of the Assembly itself).

On that understanding the General Assembly in 1949 erected "The General Council," and ordered its sub-committees on Budget and on Program. The primary task of the General Council was, and remains, to provide budgeting and program coordination for the Boards and other agencies performing "executive" functions.

On that understanding, the General Assembly in 1949 also erected what was then titled "The Permanent Committee on the Office of General Assembly." The task of this committee was: to administer "such duties as the General Assembly shall, from time to time, assign to this office," to make "policies and procedures for the guidance of the Stated Clerk in the administration of his duties," and to see that an adequate "Financial Division" was established to handle General Fund Agencies monies, Inter-Church Agencies monies, and the expense monies of the General Assembly itself.

In ten years of operation, this Committee (now retitled "Committee on Assembly's Office") has been aware of ambiguities in the original assignment of responsibility by the General Assembly. For example, the Stated Clerk is closely related to the activities of internal structures of the Assembly (such as its various permanent and ad interim committees), while the Committee on Assembly's Office is related to them only to the extent of providing for their expense within the General Assembly's Expense Budget.

The Committee has increasingly been aware that it has not adequately performed the function of coordinating (for the purpose of increased effectiveness) the various internal structures of the Assembly itself, and that there has been a gap at this point in the work of the Assembly. In the General Council the Church has a channel for both coordination and budgeting among the "executive" agencies. In this Committee on Assembly's Office the Church has had only an imperfect budgeting process for the "administrative" structures.

This Assembly, in the judgment of this Committee, could well take further steps toward the purposes for which the Committee was originally conceived in 1949. Therefore, we recommend to the General Assembly the approval of the following:

*REPORT OF THE STATED CLERK OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY
TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF 1960*

On July 25, 1959, Rev. E. C. Scott, after twenty-five years of most faithful and efficient service, retired from the office of Stated Clerk and was succeeded by Rev. James A. Millard, Jr.

Your new Stated Clerk can only say, as Dr. Scott each year in his report: "All the duties assigned to him have been performed to the best of the Stated Clerk's ability."

Staff

Because of resignations and retirements, it has worked out that the entire staff in the Office of the General Assembly is new. Mr. George E. Stratman, formerly with the Presbyterian Book Store in Dallas, came to the position of Assistant to the Stated Clerk early in 1959, and is most effective in fulfilling responsibilities for finance and business supervision in the office. The Assembly is fortunate to have the other staff positions filled by dedicated lay women of our Church. Mrs. Hazel Park is Secretary to the Stated Clerk; Mrs. Van Reese is Bookkeeper-Stenographer working especially in the financial division of the office under Mr. Stratman; Mrs. Virginia Bond is Records Secretary. Despite the difficulty of having to learn the quite complex and detailed operations which the Church conducts through its Office of the General Assembly, the staff has seen that all regular operations have been maintained, all activities especially ordered by the 1959 General Assembly have been performed, and in addition have begun a number of changes in the necessary paper-work operations of the Office.

Accounting and Reporting Procedures

With the approval of the Committee on the Assembly's Office, the Stated Clerk engaged the firm of Ernst & Ernst to study accounting and reporting procedures in the various treasurerships which the General Assembly assigns to the Stated Clerk. In the light of the particular nature of these treasurerships, and against the background of the study which Ernst & Ernst had previously made for the General Council on accounting and reporting procedures among the Agencies of the General Assembly, new procedures have been established. The reports of the various treasurerships for the year 1959 will be seen to follow these suggestions growing out of the study by the General Council.

The Task of the Stated Clerk

In its report to the General Assembly of 1958, the Committee on the Assembly's Office presented a description of the task of the Stated Clerk (Minutes, 1958, pages 99 and 100) on the basis of which the General Assembly proceeded to elect and call the present incumbent (Minutes, 1958, page 61). That statement is as follows:

"... the Permanent Committee on the Office of the General Assembly has reviewed and evaluated anew the principles and many practical problems that are involved in the work of the Stated Clerk. The Committee's search for a nominee began with special reconsideration of the nature of the office. . . .

"The Permanent Committee has learned from experience that no adequate summary of the duties of the office can be written in brief compass. The Committee believes, however, that the following, much-condensed digest is sufficient to point to the importance of the position and to the increasing opportunity for service that it affords.

"The General Assembly of 1949, in adopting the reorganization that is still in effect, looked forward to a continuing expansion in the functions of the Stated Clerk. It urged further development of the scope of the Stated Clerk's services in correlating the work of the Assembly with synods, presbyteries and sessions through the medium of his accepting invitations to meet with those courts and to interpret to them the increased mutual understanding and more effective cooperation our Church seeks; expansion of the service of the Stated Clerk as an official representative of our Church in various regional, interdenomination and other gatherings when our Church can be better represented by a competent official having experience and continuity than by the Moderator or some similar fraternal delegate having only a temporary capacity; and further enlargement of the Stated Clerk's services as the center of reference for any individual, group or court within our Church or in the secular world having occasion to make inquiries concerning our Church's organization, program, procedures, rules, overtures and the like."

Your Stated Clerk would report that, with the guidance and support of the Committee on the Assembly's Office, he is endeavoring to fulfill the intention for the office of Stated Clerk expressed by the 1958 General Assembly. Both your Stated Clerk and the Committee on the Assembly's Office feel that progress is steadily being made toward increasing the usefulness of this office of Stated Clerk to the life and work of our Church.

Treasurership of the Presbyterian Center, Inc.

With the acquisition of the property in Atlanta by the Presbyterian Center, Inc., and with the prospect of the erection of an adequate office building on the site, the treasurership of the Presbyterian Center, Inc., becomes a much more sizeable responsibility. Your Stated Clerk, who is a member of the Board of Directors of the Presbyterian Center, Inc., is assigned by that Board to be its treasurer. Financial reporting for the corporation is, in accordance with the action of the General Assembly of 1958 (Minutes, 1958, pages 59 and 60), to be made directly to the Agencies of the Church which share in ownership of the property, rather than to the General Assembly.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES A. MILLARD, JR., Stated Clerk

REPORT OF THE STATED CLERK AS TREASURER FOR VARIOUS FUNDS

The following are the annual reports of the treasurerships assigned by the Assembly to the Stated Clerk:

- Funds of the General Assembly
- Funds of the General Fund Agencies
- Funds of the Inter-Church Agencies
- Funds of the "Equalization Fund"

Audit of all these accounts will also be presented by the Treasurer to the General Assembly.

REPORT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN FOUNDATION, INC. (U.S.)

Brethren:

On behalf of the Trustees of the Foundation, I have the honor to present to the Assembly the report of the Foundation for the year 1959.

The Board of Trustees, under the Presidency of Dr. F. L. Jackson of Davidson, North Carolina, has this year had a membership of sixteen persons, two ladies and fourteen men. New members who were welcomed into the membership of the Board following their election by last year's Assembly were Mr. Philip F. Howerton, former Moderator, of Charlotte, North Carolina, and Mr. H. Dail Holderness of Tarboro, North Carolina. The annual meeting of the Trustees was held in Charlotte on January 13, 1960. At that time the Trustees took note of the recent death of the Reverend J. Chester Frist, D.D. of the Government Street Presbyterian Church of Mobile, Alabama. Dr. Frist had served a number of years on the Board as a faithful member. Officers elected for the coming year were as follows: President—Mr. Philip F. Howerton; Vice-President—Mr. John S. Cansler; Secretary—the Reverend J. Cecil Lawrence, D.D.; Treasurer—Mr. A. Walton Litz. The following Committees were elected: Executive: Mr. Philip F. Howerton, Chairman, Dr. F. L. Jackson, Mr. John S. Cansler, the Reverend J. Cecil Lawrence, Mrs. A. R. Craig; Investment: Mr. Louis L. Rose, Chairman, Mr. Halbert M. Jones, Mr. Paul E. Manners, Mr. J. P. Hobson, the Reverend John R. Cunningham, D.D.

On October 1st, Mr. A. Walton Litz of Little Rock, Arkansas, having earlier in the year been elected to the position of Associate Director, undertook his duties with the Foundation. He has been heartily welcomed into this position by all who share in the work of the Foundation. His long experience as a leader in the Church as an Elder in the churches in Nashville, Louisville, and, more recently, in Little Rock, and his wider service as Moderator of the Synod of Arkansas and recently his work as Chairman of the Assembly's Budget and Stewardship Committee have given him a wide acquaintance throughout the entire Assembly. Further, his experience in the field of insurance has been one which will be valuable to him in the work of the Foundation. He was welcomed at the annual meeting and made a presentation at that time of additional promotion to be undertaken this year. A special feature of his report dealt with the cultivation of gifts and bequests from our membership through life insurance. Since more people own life insurance than any other type of property, it is hoped that our people will respond to the idea of using life insurance where it can be spared from their estates as a means of promoting the work of the Church. Mr. Litz will have supervision within the office of such matters as accounting, the distribution of income to beneficiaries, the planning of the budget and the general presentation of the Foundation's work to interested groups throughout the Assembly.

One of the encouraging features of the past year has been the official appointment by nineteen presbyteries of special committees on the Foundation for its cultivation among their churches and their members. These presbyteries are as follows: Asheville, Knoxville, Florida, Westminster, Cherokee, Louisville, Transylvania, East Mississippi, St. Louis, Concord, Fayetteville, Kings Mountain, Mecklenburg, Orange, Congaree, Southwest, Kanawha, Hanover and Potomac. It is hoped that other presbyteries throughout the Assembly will appoint like committees.

The Presbyterian Foundation is now administering some fifty-two legacies and has total assets of $2,651,632.79. The income from these legacies is being distributed to some thirty-four beneficiaries, all but three of them representing areas of our own denomination. These beneficiaries include all of our boards, all of our theological seminaries, six of our presbyteries and six local churches. Three of our children's homes and two of our colleges are also receiving income. It is of interest that increasingly there are donors who do not feel disposed to designate their gifts or bequests. Because of the manifest inability to anticipate what the most urgent needs of the Church will be fifty or one hundred years hence, this seems eminently wise and is being encouraged by foundations in our sister denominations. The total net earnings for distribution to beneficiaries in 1959 was $103,707.61.

During the past year we have known of a number of definite commitments to the Foundation through bequests, annuities and one sizeable Life Income Trust. Three attorneys in three different synods have been in touch with the Foundation office seeking advice about bequests which they were including in wills and which, in their estimation, would amount to more than $500,000.00. Other attorneys have called to ask for information to be used in connection with wills in which bequests were being included. A few annuities in relatively small amounts have been set up. One irrevocable Life Income Trust has been made naming the Foundation as its beneficiary. The book value of this Trust early in 1959 was $246,000.00 with its current market value about $275,000.00.

One of the basic concerns of the Foundation is that of getting our members to recognize and act upon the need of making wills. It is hardly short of alarming that at least half the adult people of our society have not made wills. Aside from the highly important considerations that they have not systematically cared for their families and the distribution of their estates, it means, too, that they have provided nothing from their accumulated possession for God's work. Where there is no will, there is no bequest.

In conclusion, I appeal once again to the leadership of our Assembly, ministers, elders, deacons, laymen and women, to recognize the Christian obligation which confronts us in the "stewardship of accumulated possessions." God has blessed our people with abundant material possessions, enough not only to care for their families and loved ones, but to make generous provision for the work of the Church in the various areas of its responsibility and concern.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN R. CUNNINGHAM, Executive Director.

REPORT OF THE HISTORICAL FOUNDATION OF THE PRESBYTERIAN AND REFORMED CHURCHES

The Executive Committee of the Historical Foundation of the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches respectfully submits the following report for the year 1959:

Activities

During the course of the year 1959 representatives of the following institutions, either faculty or student or both, engaged in studies in the Foundation: Catawba, East Tennessee, King, and Montreat colleges; Austin, Columbia, Erskine, and Union theological seminaries; together with the following universities—Amsterdam (Free), Duke, Georgia, Houston, Louisiana State, North Carolina, Oxford, Richmond and South Carolina.

The main special exhibit for the Conference Season featured Calvin's Institutes in view of the fact that 1959 was the Four Hundredth Anniversary of the publication of the author's final revision of this Christian classic. Twenty-two different editions, covering a span of more than four centuries, were on display, beginning with the first Geneva printing of 1550 and closing with a French publication of 1958.

Fulfillment of the General Assembly's commission (1927), authorizing and empowering the Foundation to collect, preserve, and promote the use of materials on Presbyterianism is being increasingly facilitated through the medium of microphotography. Contact copying and Microfilming are constantly serving toward the realization of each of these three phases of the work of the institution.

Materials for inquirers can now be supplied on a scale hitherto entirely impossible. Resident researchers are frequently enabled to multiply their effort, in that time formerly devoted to extended copying by hand or typewriter may be given to locating relevant items. These may then be photographically reproduced with expedition and at small cost.

Acquisitions

The literally monumental History of Churches and Women's Work, begun under the auspices of the Foundation in 1930 and carried on by the Historians of the Women of the Church, had grown to a total of 1,913 volumes by the end of the year just passed.

General acquisitions have not been of a spectacular nature but a steady stream of useful items has flowed into the Archives, Library, and Museum during each of the twelve months of 1959.

It is now possible to copy materials for the Library and Archives while the owners or custodians of these originals visit the Foundation. Partial files of a rare, East Tennessee, Presbyterian weekly; a Th.D. thesis; and a collection of Presbyterian family papers dating from the 1700's, were among the acquisitions of 1959 obtained in this manner.

Needs

The most obvious Foundation operational needs are 1, an additional staff member to carry the main responsibility for photo-reproduction; 2, greatly augmented funds for the purchase of materials; and 3, substantial financial provision, whereby a systematic program of binding materials already accessioned may be undertaken. Adequate means for these purposes would bear rich fruits in enabling the Foundation to more effectively carry out the Assembly's injunction to collect, preserve, and promote the use of Presbyterianiana.

An authoritative and readily available reservoir of vital information could be provided for the Church if each minister would keep a personal pastoral record and make provision for its being placed in the Foundation.

Editors of all papers published by synods, presbyteries, and local congregations would confer a favor upon the Church in general and future historians in particular by seeing that a copy of each issue of these periodicals is sent to the Foundation.

The Executive Committee reports the election of Thomas H. Spence, Jr., Executive Director of the Historical Foundation for a period of three years.

The aim and end of the Foundation is to glorify God and to enable men to enjoy Him forever. It is the desire and prayer of those directly associated with its work to have this historical agency of our Church become more and more effective as an instrument in the development of the Church and the advancement of His Kingdom.

Recommendations

1. That every minister of the Church give serious consideration to keeping a personal register including entries of baptisms, marriages, deaths, etc., with a view to ultimately placing this record in the Historical Foundation;

2. That editors of all periodicals published by synods, presbyteries, and local churches be requested to provide the Foundation with a copy of each issue of such publications;

3. That the election of Thomas H. Spence, Jr., as Executive Director of the Foundation for a period of three years be confirmed.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY

Reviewing the progress of your Church's official magazine in 1959, the Board of Directors of PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY finds one word particularly suitable in describing the magazine's growth and improvement — RESPONSE.

Response of Presbyterians has manifested itself in many ways — in increasing circulation, in higher percentage of renewal of subscriptions, through letters to the editor, and in fuller support of the program of the Church as communicated through SURVEY.

Perhaps the most impressive index of reader response is the word of pastors of Every Family Plan churches. Responding to a questionnaire, 81.5 per cent said they thought their members had contributed more generously to the work of the Church "as a result of the Every Family Plan." And 91 per cent felt that SURVEY had likely played some part in increased activity and faithfulness in the program of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

Reaction to SURVEY'S first four-color process covers on the October and December issues was overwhelmingly favorable. And more specifically, response of readers to a World Missions article in December resulted in 43 offers to "buy a horse" for the mission in Brazil. Another article setting forth the need for a missionary-dentist in Korea resulted in inquiries from three dentists volunteering their services. Volume of unsolicited mail coming into SURVEY'S editorial department more than doubled during the six month period June-November.

In 1958 we predicted that increase in circulation of SURVEY would begin tapering off in 1959. Again it soared beyond our expectations. We had forecast an average paid circulation of 192,000. It actually averaged 206,000 during 1959 with a high of 214,866 paid subscriptions on December 31, 1959. The figure is still rising with an indication that average monthly circulation may hit 230,000 during 1960.

Savings in printing costs forecast in 1958 materialized in 1959, saving the Church approximately $30,000. Unanticipated revenue from subscriptions and advertising contributed to a great reduction in the underwriting required from other boards and agencies. For this the Board is sincerely grateful. Unit cost for the magazine decreased from 15 cents in 1958 to 12.9 cents in 1959. Such a figure is always impressive when one considers the amount we pay for a Sunday paper, a can of dogfood, or one golf ball. Certainly, the spiritual nourishment available in each issue of the Church's magazine is worth immeasurably more than many of these commodities we so casually and often buy.

The transition from campaign chairmen to synod and presbytery representatives for PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY has taken place slowly during 1959. Minister and lay representatives are working in every synod and presbytery to encourage the churches to enroll in the Every Family Plan and to put the SURVEY to work in their homes and church groups. The poll mentioned above indicates that their efforts are bearing fruit—that more churches are using the magazine in committee work, regular meetings of their organizations, and as a stimulator for small discussion groups.

For all of these expressions of interest, SURVEY is grateful. We recognize that many people throughout the Church have been instrumental in the marked progress described here. And we are thankful to God for allowing us to be a part of this growing ministry.

The Board recognizes that PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY reaches its peak effectiveness as it is read and used in our homes and churches. As circulation and use increases, its potential for serving the Lord and His Church is unmatched in our Church's history. And as our circle of subscribers grows, large numbers of infrequent attenders and indifferent church members have access to the magazine. The Board is determined to broaden the appeal of the SURVEY to capture the interest of these people, to enlist them as active Presbyterians. As the official publication of the Church, SURVEY continues to support the programs of the various boards and agencies. At the same time, it must be alert to different currents of thought which might be helpful and significant for our denomination.

Under the mandate of the General Assembly, SURVEY must try to be meaningful to ministers, church and church school leaders, regular churchgoers, and those who seldom enter a church door. This is a particularly serious mission because PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY is often the only contact. Because of this, the Board and staff are striving in an increasing way to orient the articles and features in the magazine to people rather than to organizations—to individual spiritual needs rather than to the mechanics of "program."

Finally the Board and staff are determined to make PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY one of the outstandingly evangelical journals in the country. It must present in clear and unmistakable terms the mission we have as members of the Body of Christ, and how this mission must permeate our everyday lives as Christians. It must proclaim the Good News of the Gospel—that news which is ever good and ever new. It must reach out, to the unchurched as well as the churchd, to tell them of God's love for them. To this the SURVEY staff commits itself. We will strive unceasingly to make our message in PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY God's message—a vital force in the lives of individuals and in our Church.

MANUAL OF OPERATION PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY

Like other boards and agencies of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY operates under the jurisdiction of the General Assembly. With the approval of the General Assembly, the SURVEY is incorporated and its management is assigned to a Board of Directors. This manual represents the corporation's by-laws.

The Board shall be charged with responsibility for the editorial and financial management of the SURVEY, under the jurisdiction of the General Assembly. The Board of Directors has sole direction and control of the publication of the magazine and is to effect the development of the PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY into a churchwide publication that will promote the full program of the Church, bringing church news, information and inspiration to its entire membership. The Board of Directors shall be directly responsible to the General Assembly and shall report annually to the General Assembly.

Meetings

Meetings of the Board shall be held at least semi-annually, at a time and place to be set by agreement of the Board. Special meetings may be held at the call of the Chairman or the Executive Director.

Officers of the Board

The following officers shall be elected annually at the conclusion of the first meeting following General Assembly: (1) Chairman; (2) Vice-Chairman; and (3) Secretary. The Board shall also elect the chairmen of the Editorial and Promotion and Finance committees at that time. A Recording Secretary may also be appointed. No person shall be elected to one of these offices for more than three consecutive terms.

Duties of Chairman: To prepare an agenda for each meeting of the Board and duly notify (through the secretary) all those who are required to make reports or otherwise to present matters at the meeting; to preside at meetings of the Board; to appoint members of special committees when such members are not to be named by the Board as a whole; to be available for counsel with each committee; to call meetings of the Executive Committee when needed and to preside at such meetings; generally to represent the Board at Assembly meetings.

Recording Secretary: To perform duties as the situation requires.

Committees of the Board — Their Functions

Executive Committee: To have the authority to act for the Board between meetings and to make decisions on matters which cannot be conveniently postponed until the next Board meeting. The Committee may represent the Board at meetings with other groups or may appoint representatives. The Executive Committee should be available for counsel with the Executive Director and Editor. Membership of the Executive Committee shall consist of the Chairman, the Vice Chairman, the Secretary, and the chairmen of the Promotion and Finance Committee and the Editorial Committee.

Promotion and Finance Committee: To work with the Executive Director and Editor in proposing and administering fiscal policies; to have basic responsibility for the budget and financial welfare of the SURVEY; to prepare in advance of each Board meeting financial reports to be presented and discussed at the meeting; to work with the staff in planning the promotional, advertising, and circulation program of the magazine.

Editorial Committee: To work with the Editor and his staff in proposing editorial policies for Board consideration; to plan for a periodic evaluation of the content of the SURVEY through whatever means may seem feasible; to prepare in advance of each Board meeting suggestions for improvement, and evaluation of recent issues, and ideas for possible subjects; to assist in the planning of editorial content of forthcoming issues; to present to the Board of Directors a report at each meeting concerning editorial policies and proposals.

The Editorial Committee shall consist of all Board members representing boards and agencies of the Church plus members-at-large appointed by the Chairman of the Board. In addition, the Editors and the Executive Director shall be considered full voting members of the Editorial Committee, and other staff members or agency representatives may be invited to participate in meetings of this committee.

Special Committees: Other committees such as Personnel or Nominating committees may be appointed by the Chairman or by the Board as needed.

Board Meeting Procedure

The Editorial Committee will generally meet immediately prior to a meeting of the whole Board. After the Board is convened for its regular meeting, a short time shall be allowed, if requested, for committee meetings in which final discussion may be held on the report which each committee shall make to the Board. (Most of the work on these reports should be completed prior to the date of the Board meeting.)

The agenda for the meeting should be circulated by the Secretary in advance of the meeting. Committee chairmen will be expected to report at each meeting unless the Secretary is notified to the contrary. Any member wishing to place an item on the docket may notify the Secretary or the Chairman.

The agenda for a meeting will generally consist of the following items: (1) Reports from the Executive Committee; (2) report from the Promotion and Finance Committee; (3) report from the Editorial Committee; (4) report from the Executive Director upon matters not contained in the committee reports; (5) report from the Editor upon matters not contained in committee reports; (6) reports of special committees; (7) election of officers; (8) approval of Board report to the General Assembly; (9) executive session.

The SURVEY Staff

The Executive Director shall be elected by the Board for a three-year term, to be confirmed by the General Assembly, with successive re-election for so long as the Board chooses and the Assembly approves. He shall have supervision over the work of the SURVEY staff.

The Editor shall be employed through nomination of the Executive Committee and approval of the Board.

Other staff members shall be employed by the Executive Director, subject to review by the Executive Committee and the Board.

PURPOSES OF PRESBYTERIAN SURVEY

The SURVEY, like any other magazine, must be read before it can exercise any influence upon those who receive it. Therefore, careful consideration must be given to the planning of articles which show a perception of reader interests and reader needs, and an understanding of reader appeal. If the readers lack an awareness of the importance of some topic which is of concern to the Church, the articles on that topic must be written so as to stimulate that sense of awareness. It is to be understood that the following listing of purposes in no way belittles the importance of readability.

The purposes of the SURVEY are:

1. To provide information, inspiration, and guidance for the individual as he strives to live as a Christian in all aspects of his life;
2. To lead individuals to deepen their personal commitment to Christ through a deeper understanding of prayer, the Bible as a source of inspiration, and the meaning of a Christian way of life;
3. To stimulate an interest in and an understanding of the program of the Presbyterian Church in the United States;
4. To report on the work that the various church boards, agencies, the church courts, and institutions, are doing to carry out that program;
5. To clarify problems which confront churches today, in education, stewardship, evangelism, church extension, and other aspects of church life, and to provide leadership in meeting those problems;
6. To show the relationship of the Presbyterian Church in the United States to the total impact of Christian forces in the world.

Editorial Policy — The Board of Directors would express full confidence in the professional abilities of the staff. Further, the Board is convinced that as the staff becomes increasingly familiar with the complex affairs of the Church it will increasingly have knowledge of how to deal with all these matters.

The Board would also state:

1. It will rely completely on the staff in rewriting and editing all materials. It depends on the staff to let good journalistic sense guide it in deciding whether to send back an article for rewriting by the author, do the editing necessary, or abandon the article as unusable.
2. It will rely on the good judgment of the staff to uphold in all editorial policy the policies and decisions of the General Assembly and to provide temperate but positive leadership in the difficult and controversial areas.
3. It depends upon the staff to call upon the members of the Board of Directors in their individual areas of special competence for advice and guidance, with particular reference to interpretation of the policies of the various boards.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON TELEVISION, RADIO AND AUDIO-VISUALS

The Church which has always been concerned with communicating its Gospel to "the uttermost part of the earth" begins a new decade with "communications" becoming the key word in world civilization. By revolutionary world-wide electronics the faces of peoples of all nations, hitherto seen only in print, will become strongly "live" on our family TV screens. This and other forms of modern communication will exert a determining role in the religious, educational, political, cultural, social and economic aspects of our lives.

We move into a new world of people seeing, hearing and knowing one another. In it there will be new sharing of cultures, wide readjustments, profound reforms, and establishment of new values. We of this generation enjoy a privilege and responsibility the like of which has never before been placed in the hands of men.

The General Assembly's Permanent Committee on Television, Radio and Audio-Visuals (TRAV) believes that the Church which is satisfied with yesterday's methods of communication for today's hungry world stands to lose tomorrow's spiritual opportunity.

Urgency is an issue of the day. Any work relating to the living Christ and to living and dying men presents the element of urgency. Our own mission board has declared:

"It is an appalling fact that more than one half of the world still lies in unbelief. Almost twenty centuries have passed since our Lord gave us His Great Commission, yet the missionary outreach of the Church remains in its pioneer stages. . . . Millions have never heard."

In so saying, we recognize that while nothing will ever be so effective as sharing one's faith face-to-face and walking two-by-two, yet our generation must not fail to master the art of mass communication. If we do so, we may have merely toyed with one of the mightiest means of lifting men within sight of the Cross.

TELEVISION

Television is undoubtedly the most revolutionary force in communications since the invention of the printing press. As a teaching tool of the Church, it may well be too young to be appreciated, but it is surely too powerful to be ignored.

In 1950 America had 98 TV stations and 4-million sets. Today 559 stations beam programs to 52-million sets with an audience of 112-million viewers. So powerful an entrance is this into the homes of Americans that three soap companies spent 138-million dollars during the first 9 months of 1959 on TV alone to sell their products.

Yet our Church has not entered the door of TV. Why? Basically because "live" local studio presentations involve numerous difficulties and filmed programs are extremely expensive. A cost comparison of TV with radio might clarify the true picture. For example, we can produce a 30-minute radio program such as THE PROTESTANT HOUR and release it world-wide over 350 stations in America and over the Armed Forces Radio Network overseas all for less money than it requires to produce three minutes of film for the first TV station.

This handicap has now been overcome by the introduction of the revolutionary Video Tape recording—a technique that produces pictures for television electronically rather than photographically. We believe that for every dollar we are currently spending on film and film processing for television, ten cents will do a better job on Video Tape. We commend the efforts of our Protestant Radio and Television Center in its projected plans for the early establishment of a complete Video Tape production and distribution program.

RADIO

The power of radio in America must not be underestimated. Its pioneering aspect in many foreign countries must be recognized. Economically and practically speaking more people are reachable by radio than any other means.

In America alone there are 4,042 radio stations on the air. Our Church can be pleased with its efforts in radio this past decade. It must however consider this only a beginning.

The fifteenth Annual Presbyterian Series of THE PROTESTANT HOUR was continued in 1959 with Dr. John A. Redhead, Jr., as speaker. From the number of requests received for copies of his messages it was undoubtedly the most successful series ever heard on this world-wide network. More than 22,000 copies of a single sermon, "The Problem of Grief," was distributed. (The average number of requests is 3,000 weekly.) In view of the number of times Dr. Redhead has spoken over THE PROTESTANT HOUR and the broad coverage of this network including the Armed Forces Radio Service Dr. Redhead has been recognized as the most listened-to Presbyterian minister of all times. His acceptance on radio is unparalleled by any other minister of several communions sharing in THE PROTESTANT HOUR.

The SUNDAY SCHOOL OF THE AIR was re-established in October with the first quarter assigned to Dr. Samuel A. Cartledge and to Dr. James H. Gailey, Jr., of Columbia Theological Seminary. The first quarter of 1960 was accepted by Dr. Ernest Trice Thompson, our Moderator. This program is designed to be of interest to the general public but also of special help to those preparing themselves for "next Sunday's" International Uniform Sunday School Lesson.

Two "SPECIAL 7" Series of 15-minute radio programs dealing with the Christian family and our responsibilities in the community "Where We Live" were offered to churches throughout the General Assembly for their own individual broadcasting programs.

During the year TRAV also experimented with "spots" and short programs for radio broadcasting. The trend of radio is in the direction of the short-type programs.

AUDIO-VISUALS

The 1958 General Assembly assigned to TRAV the general responsibility for an enlarged program in the area of Audio-Visuals. A modest beginning of material production has been made, but due to limited funds and the need for a more complete study of the total Audio-Visual field, TRAV has of necessity devoted its major efforts to the necessary study and survey procedures. A larger budget asking is being made for 1961 in the hopes that this phase of the work can be expanded and a greater offering of materials made available to the Church.

TRAINING

TRAV's training programs has concerned itself with workshops, institutes, and conferences. The necessity of a greatly enlarged training program is recognized and appropriate steps are being taken for an extension of this work.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY AGENCIES

The very composition of the membership of TRAV emphasizes the close working relationship the organization has with the agencies of the General Assembly. The staff has sought to strengthen its contact with all personnel in order to more adequately assist the agencies in their activities.

MANUAL

TRAV is in the process of developing its Manual of Operations. Following a period of experimentation it will be offered to the General Assembly for appropriate action.

CHALLENGE OF THE FUTURE

Our Presbyterian leadership has believed that if we produced programs high in technical quality and rich in spiritual content, the stations would provide broadcast time without charge. This has proven true with radio. We believe it will continue with television. The tragedy of our television situation now is that at a time when the television industry is hard put to provide a better fare we, the Church, have little to offer.

The Federal Communication agency is urging the industry "to carry cultural and educational programs on a regular basis during prime evening hours"—on public service (free) time. Past experience of the radio industry leads us to believe the door of TV is opening wider each day—but unless we enter it soon the opportunity might be forfeited.

The "Commission" to our generation may well be compared with that given by Joshua to his people:

"Prepare your provisions for within three days you are to pass over this Jordan to go in to take possession of the land which the Lord your God gives you to possess."

Our Church can have a great part in possessing the world for Christ through electronic communications media.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIAN RELATIONS TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, 1960

Your Committee was given two assignments by the General Assembly of 1959, as follows:

1. A study of capital punishment—"That overture 37 from the Presbytery of Brazos, asking for a study of the Christian attitude toward capital punishment, be answered by instructing the Permanent Committee on Christian Relations to make the study of this matter as requested."—1959 Min., p. 86.
2. A study of the problem of warfare—"That overture 36 from the Presbytery of Potomac, asking for a study of the question of the Christian's attitude toward participation in modern war, be answered by instructing the Permanent Committee on Christian Relations to make a study of the problems of warfare, with emphasis on means of prevention, the Christian's attitudes toward war, mass destruction, and the Christian's participation in war, and any other matters arising out of or connected with the above."—1959 Min., p. 86.

With respect to the assignment on capital punishment, your committee has done considerable study and has made some progress but is not prepared to submit a report to this meeting of the General Assembly. Unless, therefore, this assembly desires to change the instructions of the 1959 meeting, your committee will assume that it is desirable to continue this study with a view to the submission of a report to the 1961 meeting.

With respect to the second assignment, your committee submits the following report:

CHRISTIAN FAITH AND THE CONTEMPORARY PROBLEM OF WAR

Can war be right in the sight of God? Is preparation for war ever justifiable? How should Christians regard a national policy of arming and making alliances for the purpose of deterring potential enemies? If it is possible to single out one phase of the general problem, what should the individual Christian's attitude be concerning the banning or suspension of nuclear bomb tests?

The first two of these questions are not new. Devout persons in other ages have had to face them. Christians have done so under varying conditions of risk to themselves and danger to the societies in which they respectively lived. The manner in which spiritual leaders in certain earlier periods have approached the problem of war invites consideration by those who, in the twentieth century, embrace the same ideals of love and brotherhood as have these earlier Christians.

I. St. Augustine and "The Just War"

Within a century after the Roman Empire became officially Christian, St. Augustine sought to rationalize the Christian's obedience to the state even when it commanded him to engage in war, if the war were for a just cause. Central to the thought was that in order for the war to be just, its object must be peace. It was right and just to oppose with force of arms those who for unworthy motives resorted to force. Such opposition would be essentially punitive and corrective. It would amount to meeting force with force in order to restore harmony. The objective would be to conserve values realizable only under conditions of peace.¹

The peace that Augustine envisaged as the object of just war was no mere tranquility under the yoke of an evil doer. It must be grounded in justice and harmony of order.² A weakness of the theory was that men might disagree as to the justness of a particular war. Some later writers who followed St. Augustine's thought were willing to concede that a Christian should subordinate his individual judgment on such a point to the political authority, at least in doubtful cases. Only when it was clear to him that the war was just could he with good conscience serve in it. Objectively, only one side in a war could be just, but through ignorance a party whose cause was unjust might think that he was in the right.³

II. Reformed Leaders and War

The idea that under certain circumstances a war could be just also found expression in the sixteenth century. When Turkish invaders penetrated Europe to the very gates of Vienna, Martin Luther was constrained to indicate what he thought should be the position of Protestants concerning this war. The Reformation leader had previously, in a writing entitled "Whether Soldiers, Too, Can Be Saved," seemed to regard war as a necessary evil. He suggested that it was analogous to the work of a physician, and that it was not inimical to love.⁴

The words of Luther need to be read in light of the politico-religious situation in which he lived. Luther seemed to reflect awareness of the moral responsibility with which the war should be undertaken when he wrote that "... this fight must begin with repentance and we must reform our lives or we shall fight in vain..."⁵

In the course of the religious wars of the same century in Europe, there developed the idea that for a prince to lead his people astray religiously was to rule tyrannically, and that there were limits upon the Christian's duty to obey.⁶ The Westminster Confession of Faith, formulated in the fifth decade of the seventeenth century, set forth that it was lawful for a Christian to accept and execute the office of a magistrate. In connection with ¹Thus St. Augustine submitted that "... they who have waged war in obedience to the divine command, or in conformity with His laws, have represented in their persons the public justice or the wisdom of government, and in this capacity have put to death wicked men, such persons have by no means violated the (Sixth) Commandment..." The City of God, Bk. I, Ch. XXI, "Of the Cases in Which He May Put to Death Without Incurring the Guilt of Murder." W. J. Oates, Basic Writings of St. Augustine II, (1948), p. 28.

such office, it is asserted that "...as they (Christians) ought especially to maintain piety, justice, and peace, according to the wholesome laws of each commonwealth; so, for that end, they may lawfully, now under the New Testament, wage war upon just and necessary occasions." (Ch. XXIII, Sec. II).

III. Modern Efforts to Humanize or Renounce War

With the emergence of strong national states there came to be great emphasis upon the notion of legislative sovereignty (as it had originated in the late sixteenth century). It became more common for states to resort to war for whatever motives might please their respective governments. At the same time there came to be (along with insistence on rights of neutral states) widespread humanitarianism that stressed mercy for the defeated, prohibition of the enslavement of prisoners of war, and restriction of the effects of war, in so far as this was practicable, to actual fighting forces. Combatants were regarded as distinguishable from non-combatants; there was effort to protect the latter from the ravages of war.

There were also efforts to limit the permissible means of carrying on war. A customary rule that prohibited the use of poison and of poisonous weapons provided the basis for successful codification effort at the Second Hague Peace Conference in 1907. After an unsuccessful effort in the 1920's, there came in the 1930's agreement among substantially all maritime states limiting the use of submarines as commerce destroyers. Within a decade after the end of the First World War there came into existence the Kellogg-Briand Pact with its solemn renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy.

Over against this was the evolution toward "total" war. As the economic aspects of war received greater emphasis, increasingly wider categories of persons (munitions workers, members of merchant marines, factory workers generally) tended to be assimilated to combatants. The concept of a "nation in arms" operated to blur somewhat the distinction between combatants and non-combatants.⁷ There developed, quite naturally, the idea that the whole, or the greater part, of the population of a state at war was a permissible target for air bombardment by the enemy.

IV. Nuclear Weapons and the Problem of Armaments

The advent of atomic weapons marked the beginning of a new era. Development (since 1945) of the newer weapons, as compared with what are commonly referred to as the "conventional" ones, has brought both terror and hope—terror because of the very real possibility that whole states and whole continents could now quickly be devastated with relative ease, and hope that the very destructiveness of the new weapons would make it too risky for any government to use them. The whole problem of war and disarmament has become more urgently pressing. Lacking great technical knowledge of the fearful power now in man's possession, the average Christian must look to the atomic scientists for an understanding of the nature of the new weapons and for estimates of the possibility of keeping them under control in the interest of world peace. Above all, Christians must ever have in mind that there is a spiritual power through which God rules the universe.

There has been no lack of effort looking to solution of the armament problem. This effort has been inspired at least in part by the belief that the very existence of armament makes war more probable. Very early in the history of the United Nations there was concerted effort looking to substantial regulation. At the time of the presentation of the official United States (Bernard Baruch) proposals there was high hope for real accomplishment in this direction. There developed, however, mutual distrust between East and West. In general, the difference between the stated positions of the two principal governments concerned has been that one proposes outlawry of the production of atomic weapons while the other advocates international inspection and control prior to the acceptance by the nations of the proposed ban. Variations of these two positions have continued to find expression, as, for example, President Truman's statement in 1950 that disarmament "must be based on safeguards which will insure the compliance of all nations," and a ⁷That the development has not yet gone all the way in this direction is suggested by the recent (1949) Geneva Conventions on Prisoners of War and Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War.

Soviet spokesman's proposal in 1956 of an "open skies" plan for a European zone that would separate East and West.

As the impasse on the general problem has continued, there has recently been a focusing of attention upon one phase, the suspension of nuclear bomb tests. Long negotiations at Geneva having failed to produce agreement, there has been temporary unilateral suspension of such tests by the United States, by the Soviet Union, and by Great Britain. There has been wide popular support for the action, although there has been some questioning of taking this one step without making it part of a plan looking to general international regulation of armament. Another consideration has been that through a system of alliances, particularly the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the South-east Asia Treaty Organization, the United States has developed a system for deterrence that depends largely upon the availability of nuclear weapons and upon bases in the territory of friendly states. As a further complication, there is now the possibility that earth satellites, instead of being loaded with radio equipment as they now are, might be used for military purposes.

The idea of an international police force continues to receive serious attention. It was emphasized, for example, in an address by the American representative in the Political Committee of the United Nations General Assembly in October, 1959.⁸

As a part of the vast problem of armament there continues to be the danger of radioactive fall-out, even if the weapons that are tested are never used in war. There should be awareness of the possible effects of testing nuclear weapons if their retention is to be permitted even under some international control plan.

In one sense our situation is like that of the Christians of all ages before us who have faced the task of being faithful to the Church's mission in the midst of conflict and strife. In another and vital sense, however, our situation is unique. For we confront the fact that the development of weapons has now placed in human hands the means of annihilating civilization, if not, indeed, man himself.

The present situation with respect to war and disarmament would seem to suggest:

(1) That we confess our involvement directly or indirectly as Christians in the past destruction of human life in war and our dependence upon God's grace as we seek to find workable and realistic solutions to the present world crisis. Over-simplification or under-estimation of the existing problems can be neither constructive or justifiable.

(2) That Christians the world over should work with every means at their disposal to prevent war. They must pray for the ultimate world-wide abolition of nuclear weapons, and, indeed, of all means of warfare involving mass destruction. This is not to say, however, that Christians in the United States should advocate that this nation abandon unilaterally its nuclear armaments. Given the present context of power, our nation has grave responsibilities to discharge in the protection of its allies and all free nations, and indeed, in the building of a just international order. Such unilateral action would constitute an abdication of responsibilities. Christians can and should, however, do everything in their power to support the efforts of the leaders of this nation to conclude international agreements for the termination of nuclear weapon tests, and for the establishment of international controls over all aspects of the nuclear arms race, moving toward the goal of a warless world in which nuclear power would be used solely for constructive purposes.

(3) That however love must be tempered by justice, the same principles of morality and charity that apply to the individual in his relations with other individuals should, basically and interestingly, apply in international relations.

(4) That recognizing that the United Nations organization, despite its limitations, is an agency that holds great promise of progress toward disarmament and a more peaceful world, Christians should earnestly support those of its activities that look to disarmament and the establishment of some police authority capable of protecting states against aggression. Christians should support the United Nations in its efforts to establish the reign of law in international affairs. The existence of unbridled nationalisms is incompatible with this objective.

(5) That in Jesus Christ we discover the love which constrains men to be diligent in striving for peace. So motivated, the Church, with as much intelligence and zeal as men have pursued war, should pursue a purpose and program designed to remove the causes of war. Such a program would include instruction concerning the specific needs of people among the nations, beginning here at home. It would provide opportunities through which some of these needs might be met, such as food, clothing and medical supplies. It would show how Christian citizens should encourage their government in giving more attention and help to those nations struggling to live. It would show how man does not live by bread alone. He also needs recognition, acceptance and understanding if he is to live at peace with those about him. Realizing that words apart from deeds have little meaning, we would urge members of local churches to "follow after those things which make for peace" (Rms. 14:19) in their own home, in their own business, and their own community. Peace must be waged. Neighbors must be loved.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON INTER-CHURCH RELATIONS

The Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations met at the Presbyterian Center in Atlanta, Georgia, on January 11-12, 1960. In addition to the members of the committee there were present, by invitation of the chairman at the direction of the committee, representatives of the World Council of Churches, the National Council of Churches, the Lord's Day Alliance, and Religion in American Life. These representatives who attend at the invitation of the Committee and at their own expense, met with various sub-committees handling the work of our denomination and are most useful and helpful as sources of information and clarification. The Committee appreciates the desirability of having representatives from our church to various interdenominational bodies and proposes at future meetings of the Committee to invite representatives from our own church to be present at meetings of the Permanent Committee.

The Executive Committee of the Permanent Committee, composed of the officers and the chairmen of the sub-committees, was directed to study during the year 1960 the organization and operation of the Committee with a view to recommending to the General Assembly in 1961 changes in the Committee's manual with specific reference to the selection of Committee members by the General Assembly rather than election by the various Synods. The Stated Clerk of General Assembly, who is a member of the Committee, agreed to the Committee's request that he serve as Executive Secretary of the Committee in order to coordinate the Committee's work during the interim between regular meetings of the Committee.

The Committee received and considered the reports of the representatives of our Church to the World Council of Churches and the National Council of Churches, which follow this report.

The following were named as fraternal delegates from our General Assembly:

- To the United Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.
Rev. Ernest Trice Thompson, Principal
Rev. George H. Vick, Alternate
- To the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church
Rev. C. Grier Davis, Principal
Rev. Stuart R. Oglesby, Alternate
- To the Reformed Church in America
Rev. J. Randolph Taylor, Principal
Rev. Massey Mott Heltzel, Alternate
- To the Presbyterian Churches in Scotland, Ireland and England
Rev. Felix Gear, Principal
Rev. J. C. V. Summerell, Alternate

To the Presbyterian Church of Mexico
 Rev. James A. Millard, Jr., Principal
 Rev. W. M. Elliott, Jr., Alternate
 To appropriate ecclesiastical meetings on the continent of Europe
 Rev. James A. Millard, Jr., Principal
 Rev. James Appleby, Alternate

The Committee affirmed the Rev. J. N. Thomas as a delegate from our denomination to the Faith and Order Commission of the World Council of Churches, which position Dr. Thomas has competently occupied since the Lund meeting of Faith and Order without having been properly acknowledged by the General Assembly.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the action of the 1959 General Assembly, providing for the election of two men, one layman and one Minister, to represent our denomination on the Board of Directors of R.I.A.L. be rescinded

2. That four representatives of our denomination represent the Church at the General Assembly of the World Council of Churches meeting in India in November and December, 1961, and that the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations be authorized to select those to be nominated as representatives and that alternates be elected by the 1961 General Assembly.

3. That the General Assembly look toward an exchange of fraternal delegates with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church beginning in 1961.

4. That the report to this Committee from Mr. Francis P. Miller, representative to the World Council of Churches, and the report of the Rev. Ben R. Lacy, Jr., representative to the General Board of the National Council of Churches, be printed with this Permanent Committee report in the appendix to the Minutes of the General Assembly.

REPORT TO PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON INTER-CHURCH RELATIONS OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH (U.S.) ON THE WORLD COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

In the summer of 1959, preparatory departmental and divisional committee meetings of the World Council of Churches were held August 4-15 at Spittal, Austria, and the Central Committee itself met August 19-28 at Rhodes on the Island of Rhodes, Greece. Preliminary meetings at Spittal which I attended, included the Working Committee of the Department on the Laity, the Division of Ecumenical Action and the Commission preparing for the Third Assembly of the World Council. The deliberations in preparation for the Third Assembly were particularly important. The question under consideration was how to develop the overall theme of the Third Assembly, "Jesus Christ, the Light of the World," in terms of Unity, Witness and Service. These three areas of Christian action, Unity, Witness and Service, are to be the areas explored by the Third Assembly.

The meeting of the Central Committee at Rhodes was memorable for many reasons. During the five years since Evanston, the Committee has never met in a more ideal place. Everything combined to create an atmosphere of near perfection. The meetings of the Committee were held in the Council Chamber of the Knights of St. John in the ancient restored castle which dominates the city, and the delegates lived in delightful hotels looking out over the Mediterranean where the cost was about one-third of what comparable accommodations would have cost in the United States. On the day after adjournment, the entire Central Committee made a pilgrimage to the island of Patmos.

As the Central Committee convened, two facts were uppermost in our minds. One was that we were meeting in one of the spots that St. Paul visited in the course of his missionary journeys, and the other was that we were looking across the straits to Anatolia (Asia Minor), which for many years was the heart of the Christian world, and where now there is not a single Christian church from the Bosphorus to the frontiers of Syria. I am sure that many of the delegates were sobered by wondering how deep the roots of Christianity were in their particular nations or cultures. Fifteen hundred years hence, would visitors to our respective lands find that the Christian churches had disappeared as completely as they had in Anatolia?

Meeting as the guests of our Greek Orthodox brethren, we were reminded that the first move toward the World Council came from that Church. It was in 1922 that the Ecumenical Patriarch of Constantinople addressed a letter to the Christian Churches of the world in which he pled for the establishment of some agency through which the different branches of the Christian Churches could work together. The initiative of the Ecumenical Patriarch was followed by initiatives of other Church leaders in Europe and in due course the World Council came into being at Amsterdam in 1948.

The agenda of the meeting of the Central Committee at Rhodes covered the main areas of the life and work of the World Council and indicated the vitality and promise of the ecumenical movement which it serves. Among matters considered were:

1. Continuation of the services to refugees and displaced persons:

The assistance given to hundreds of thousands of refugees since World War II, including the resettlement of more than eighty thousand in other parts of the world, is one of the most dramatic and moving stories of our time.

2. Strengthening the Faith and Order activities of the World Council:

There has been a widespread and growing demand for a larger staff and increased study in this field. This is partly the result of the Oberlin Conference in the United States, and partly the result of a growing conviction that though the Department of Faith and Order was created to carry forward one of the great historic movements which led to the creation of the World Council, this Department has not been receiving support commensurate with the contribution expected from it.

3. Proposed integration of the World Council of Churches and the International Missionary Council:

The Central Committee decided to commend the completed proposal for integration to the member Churches for their study and consideration, in the hope that it might prove acceptable to them.

4. Headquarters Properties:

Construction of the World Council's new Headquarters will begin next spring, though one million dollars remains to be raised toward the two and a half millions required.

5. The Third Assembly:

Because of various developments in Ceylon, it was decided to hold the Third Assembly in New Delhi, India, in November 1961. Meeting in New Delhi presents the Churches of the world with a unique opportunity to witness to their faith in the heart of southern Asia. Owing to the fact that many churches have joined the World Council since 1954, though the total number of delegates to the Assembly remains the same, it was found necessary to reduce the size of the delegations from many churches, including our own. The Presbyterian Church (U. S.) is allowed four delegates to the New Delhi Assembly.

6. Finance:

Because of the growing work of the World Council and also because of the impact of inflation, the Central Committee decided in 1958 to request the member Churches to increase their annual contributions by at least 15 per cent beginning in 1960.

7. Next Meeting:

The next meeting of the Central Committee will be held in St. Andrews, Scotland, August 16-24, 1960.

8. Official Observers from Russia:

Perhaps the most notable development that occurred in connection with the 1959 meeting of the Central Committee was the presence throughout of two official observers from the Orthodox Church of Russia. These observers took their assignment so seriously that they spent a month in Geneva prior to the Central Committee meeting, familiarizing themselves with the total work of the World Council. Their presence as observers and their sympathetic and friendly attitude, fostered hope among the members of the Central Committee that the day might come when the Orthodox Church in Russia would wish to establish closer ties with the World Council.

In view of the strategic importance of the ecumenical movement for the Christian mission throughout the world during the coming years, I recommend that the Permanent Committee on Inter-Church Relations

1. Begin giving serious thought to the choice of our four representatives to the Third Assembly of the World Council of Churches which will meet at New Delhi, India in November, 1961, and make recommendations in the near future to the Permanent Nominating Committee.

2. Consider the annual contribution of our Church to the World Council of Churches with a view to recommending to the General Assembly drastic remedial action. In spite of the wealth of our Church in comparison with other Churches, we give each year to the greatest movement of the Spirit in our time throughout the world, less than the salary of one well paid minister. Further, our Church is almost the only Church in North America whose accepted quota is never met. This is a disturbing and humiliating fact.

REPORT TO PERMANENT COMMITTEE OF INTER-CHURCH RELATIONS OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH (U.S.) ON THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

As the National Council of Churches approaches its tenth year, one is amazed at the scope of its outreach and the growth of the organization in personnel and cohesion. The meetings of the General Board, which have progressed markedly in interest and effectiveness, reflect the coming of age of the Council. Under the direction of the Program and Arrangement Committee, the 1960 General Assembly promises to be an outstanding expression of the vitality and prophetic vision of the National Council. The theme of the Assembly is: "Jesus Christ, the Living Lord of All Life."

Since time prohibits a detailed account of the activities of the Council, your attention is directed first to some features of the four Divisions. A panel on World Missions at the Detroit meeting of the General Board in December led in "A Consideration of Changing Policy," called to the Board's attention the fact that the constituent churches of the N.C.C.C. are now sending out less missionaries than non-member churches, and urged an exchange of views and greater cooperation with churches and groups outside the Council. Our Dr. Paul B. Freeland, Chairman of the Central Department of Church World Service, revealed that from 1947-1958 over one billion pounds of food valued at over $187,000 had been sent overseas. Had our church not been in the National and World Councils, we could scarcely have assisted during the Hungarian rebellion or other emergencies. The world outreach was also illustrated again by the commissioning of President Dahlberg for a pastoral Christmas visit to our Armed Forces in the Pacific and Asia. One of the most fruitful works of the Division of World Missions is in promoting cooperative endeavors on the mission fields, especially in the realms of publication, translations and use of audio-visual facilities.

In addition to the usual conferences and cooperation achieved through the Division of Home Missions and the continuing ministry in the Parks and to migrants, the attention of the General Board and the member churches was called to the Commission on the Ministry to Institutions. This includes child care, medical and correctional institutions. Correctional administrators, for example, call on the churches for chaplains and for assistance to released prisoners. Hospitals, including state mental hospitals, handle annually 30,000,000 patients in 15,000 institutions. This is a field in which cooperative recruiting and service is essential. A Consultation on Long-Range Planning was held at Atlantic City on November 4-6, 1959. The report of the discussion revealed great possibilities in the future development of Long-Range Planning, and it is hoped that representatives of our church can participate in future consultations.

During 1959 the Division of Education gave special attention to evangelization and development of youth, especially in high schools and colleges. Among the many conferences and camps perhaps the most important was the quadrennial convention of the Student Volunteer Movement which brought together about 3,000 students at Athens, Ohio during the Christmas holidays. One of our ministers, Dr. William B. Rogers, has accepted the position of Director of University Christian Missions.

Mention must be made of the "Education for Peace Program" guided by the Department of International Affairs. It is conducted with the help of the member churches, state and city councils, and units of the National Council. Beginning in June, thousands of potential leaders of group study have been in training. During the first half of 1960 efforts will be made to make the membership of our churches consider the basis of Christian principles if a lasting peace is to be achieved.

Since many of the pronouncements of the General Board are prepared by this Division, two things can here be pointed out: one, that the General Board is far more conservative than formerly in the number and content of its pronouncements; and, two, that these pronouncements receive far more newspaper and radio publicity than the important work of the units of the Council. A case in point is the Pronouncement on Ethical Issues in Industrial Relations which was modified greatly, and yet barely received the two-third vote necessary. The discussion took only an hour and a half in a busy two-day meeting, yet it alone gained headlines.

A new Director of Faith and Order Studies, the Reverend W. A. Norgren, began his work in the early summer. The Chairman of the Advisory Committee is President James I. McCord of Princeton Theological Seminary.

Many aspects of the Council's work during 1959 must of necessity be omitted. The occupancy of the new National Council Building at 475 Riverside Drive, New York City, is a significant stage in the Council's life. The list of 23 present and future tenants, which includes the United Presbyterian U.S.A. General Offices and Board of Home and Foreign Missions, demonstrate the need for such a Protestant headquarters in our nation's largest city.

The following budget for 1960 indicates something of the scope of the Council's responsibilities.

At the December meeting of the General Board, we were assured that the 1959 Budget of $12,129,270 would be met in full. To accomplish the same in 1960, the member churches, including our own, must be generous and prompt.

In conclusion, our General Assembly and our Church should be reminded that while ours is one of the small churches in the National Council, she furnishes a disproportionate number of its leaders.

In addition to the Reverend William B. Rogers, and the Reverend Paul B. Freeland previously mentioned, Mrs. R. A. MacLeod is Secretary of the Department of Church Women, while Mr. John V. Matthews is President and Mr. S. J. Patterson is Secretary of the Department of Church Men.

Through our Inter-Church Committee we desire to remind our General Assembly and our Church of the value of the National Council of Churches to the Kingdom of God. We regret that the lack of time and skill prevents us from depicting more of the problems, challenges and opportunities afforded our Church through our participation in the program and work of the National Council.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL SECRETARY TO THE MEMBER CHURCHES OF THE WORLD
ALLIANCE OF REFORMED CHURCHES
For The Year 1959

For the World Presbyterian Alliance, 1959 has been marked by three things. These were the rededication of the restored Auditoire de Calvin in Geneva, the celebration of the various centenaries that fell during the year, and the 18th General Council at Sao Paulo.

Eighteenth General Council: But the most important event of 1959, as far as the Alliance is concerned, was undoubtedly the 18th General Council. That it was such an outstanding success was due in the first place to the care with which the Planning Committee, chaired by Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd, the Alliance's new President, did its work. Undoubtedly another contributory factor was the presence in such large numbers of representatives of the Younger Churches, something made possible by the setting up of a Travel Pool.

It is always difficult to assess the value of such international meetings. What can be said, however, is that Sao Paulo allowed the member Churches of the Alliance to be more conscious of the common heritage that held them together, and to realise that these links were stronger than any forces, whether political, racial or theological, that sought to separate them. Churches from the East and from the West were made acutely conscious that together they belonged to the One Lord.

As far as administration is concerned, two significant decisions were taken, the formation of a Department of Theology and of a Department of Finance. If no similar step was taken in the case of Information, it is to be noted that the new Executive Committee, acting in the name of the whole Council, decided to set up a Permanent Commission on Information.

The Council was also conscious that the Alliance Staff could not be expected to carry out its many tasks on the present extremely small budget, and voted one that was considerably larger.

Member Churches: During 1959, the Alliance has admitted five Churches to its membership. Three of these were admitted by decision of the Executive Committee, namely the Evangelical Presbyterian Church of Guatemala, the Presbytery of Liberia in Western Africa and the Synod of the Christian Churches in Central Java: the remaining two were admitted by the Council itself, namely the Presbyterian Church in the Republic of Korea and the Church of Christ in Thailand. At the end of 1959, the membership of the Alliance stands at 78 Churches.

The Reformed And Presbyterian World: THE REFORMED AND PRESBYTERIAN WORLD has become more and more the direct responsibility of the Reverend Niall D. Watson, our Associate Editor, who is seeking all the time for ways of making the quarterly a more interesting publication. The letters that we receive from many parts of the world give us the assurance that the quarterly is going some way to fulfill its primary function, in keeping busy men abreast of the life of our Churches, in touching upon our common heritage, and in raising issues of particular interest to the Reformed and Presbyterian Churches.

Ecumenical Relations: The Alliance's ecumenical relations have continued to grow in strength and depth over the year. As far as policy is concerned, the position of the Alliance has not changed since the Basle Declaration, adopted by the Executive Committee in 1951. We still wish the work of the Alliance to be carried out in the context of the present day ecumenical thought and action. If it is our belief that we must declare those fundamental principles which belong to our tradition, we are none the less ready and eager to co-operate in every way possible with Churches belonging to other traditions. This requires a constant and continuing co-operation with the World Council of Churches and with its various departments, and we are happy to say that this co-operation is extremely friendly and greatly facilitated by the good personal relations between the staff of the World Council of Churches and of the World Presbyterian Alliance.

If there is one confessional organization with which it could be said that we have closer relations than another, it would be the International Congregational Council. The 18th General Council received most favourably the proposal that we should continue the conversations with representatives of the International Congregational Council begun at Oxford a year ago.

Conclusion: At the end of 1959, the World Presbyterian Alliance, now well over 80 years old, appears younger and healthier than ever. More Churches belong to its membership. Its voice is heard and listened to in more places, and within its membership the Younger Churches are playing an increasingly important role. For all this we give thanks to God. Yet it is neither the size nor the power of an organization that matters. At Sao Paulo we were brought once again to a consideration of what it means to be the Servant People of a Servant Lord; we were confronted with its meaning for the Church and in our individual lives; and we left inspired by a new awareness of what our service should be. Surely we are not now going to turn the page, or forget what we there learned. It is our prayer to God that in the New Year the Alliance may be enabled to work as true disciple of her Servant Lord.

REPORT OF THE ALLIANCE OF THE REFORMED CHURCHES THROUGHOUT THE WORLD HOLDING THE PRESBYTERIAN ORDER

North American Area

1960

I. Reports

1. This is an annual report prepared by the North American Secretary of the Alliance of the Reformed Churches throughout the World Holding the Presbyterian Order, to the North American member Churches.

2. Earlier the annual report by the General Secretary of the Alliance in Geneva, Switzerland, was transmitted.

II. The Member Churches

1. At the end of 1959 the world-wide membership of the Alliance consists of 78 Churches, representing a constituency of some fifty million souls. Geographically this family of Churches is the most widespread of all Protestant traditions, with strong Churches in Eastern Europe, Asia, Africa, and Australia-New Zealand, as well as in the Americas.

2. Of these 78 member Churches, the following 11 comprise the North American Area: Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Second Cumberland Presbyterian Church in the U. S., Evangelical and Reformed Church, Hungarian Reformed Church in America, Presbyterian Church in Canada, Presbyterian Church in the U. S., Presbyterian Church of Jamaica, Reformed Church of America, United Church of Canada, United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

Meetings

1. The Area Council met in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, on January 26-28, 1960. One hundred and five delegates were named to this meeting by the eleven member Churches. It was the first meeting of the Area Council since the Eighteenth General Council of the World Alliance, in Sao Paulo, Brazil, and the program there centered around the prosecution of the plans made in Brazil.

Actions taken included the expansion of the Commission on Civil and Religious Liberty and its reorganization in order to enable it to function for the Alliance between meetings of the Area Council; the reception of a report by the Theological Committee on "The Reformed Faith and the World of Today," and its referral to the churches for study, comment, and such distribution as they may see fit; and the favorable consideration of convening a consultation of the member churches of the Area on the mission of the Reformed Church in North America and its implications for the on-going life of the churches.

Reformed and Presbyterian Jubilee

Significant celebrations were held in Latin Europe and in Brazil in 1959, commemorating various anniversaries, as part of the Reformed and Presbyterian Jubilee. These included the celebration of the 450th anniversary of Calvin's birth in Noyon, France, the 400th anniversary of the first French National Synod in Paris, the 400th anniversary of the founding of the Geneva Academy (University of Geneva), and the 100th anniversary of Brazilian Presbyterianism with week-long ceremonies in Rio de Janeiro.

During 1960 the 400th anniversary of the Scottish Reformation will be appropriately observed as the second half of the Reformed and Presbyterian Jubilee. Anniversaries to be noted are the Confessio Scoticana and the first meeting of the General Assembly of Scotland.

Attention of local churches should be called to the film, FOR GOD'S GLORY, which is now available in English. Prints may be purchased at fifty dollars per copy from the Department of Stewardship and Promotion of the United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., 475 Riverside Drive, New York, New York.

A PAPER OF THE THEOLOGICAL COMMITTEE OF THE NORTH AMERICAN AREA OF THE WORLD ALLIANCE OF REFORMED CHURCHES

Preamble

The family of Churches affiliated with "The Alliance of the Reformed Churches throughout the world holding the Presbyterian Order" is bound together by the common historical and theological heritage of the Reformed Faith. Diverse in its historical forms and in its doctrinal standards, the Reformed Faith is not an absolute system of polity or theology but a common way of professing the Gospel in the Church to the world.

In order to interpret the meaning and significance of the Reformed Faith in the world of today, it is not enough merely to refer to our common historical and theological roots, or to re-affirm or re-write our confessional standards of doctrine and belief. This common heritage we neither repudiate nor minimize; on the contrary, we rejoice in its dynamic character which constantly rebukes and challenges us as it reminds us that "the Church must always be reformed" under the judgment of the Word of God and the Lordship of Jesus Christ.

The genius of the Reformed Faith is not to be found by seeking the lowest common denominator of our diverse, though united, ecclesiastical or theological witness, or by striving to distinguish our particular tradition from other traditions which differ from us. Our concern is not to magnify the Reformed Churches at the expense of other Churches as though we alone had a monopoly on the Gospel. We readily avow our kinship with other Church families and take seriously our commitment to the ecumenical obligation of unity and mission.

In the past, the Reformed Faith has been defined and expressed in many ways, for example, with reference to the sovereignty of God, the doctrines of election and predestination, the radical nature of sin and the redemptive character of grace, the "presbyteral" form of Church government, concern for Biblical and theological truth, championing of religious freedom, insistence that truth is in order to goodness, etc.

In accentuating these distinctive marks of our tradition, various Biblical and theological symbols and figures have been used, such as "covenant," "election," "presbyter," "elder," etc. These are still useful figures, but we believe there are special reasons in our day to utilize the Biblical figure of the "servant" as the theme for interpreting the Reformed Faith as it relates to the Gospel, the Church, and the world. The figure of the servant is Biblical, is basic to certain Reformed convictions, and is of vital importance for the whole contemporary ecumenical task and mission.

"Have this mind among yourselves, which you have in Christ Jesus, who, though he was in the form of God, did not count equality with God a thing to be grasped, but emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, being born in the likeness of men. And being found in human form he humbled himself and became obedient unto death, even death on a cross. Therefore God has highly exalted him and bestowed on him the name which is above every name, that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father" (Phil. 2:5-11).

I. THE GOSPEL

(1). The Gospel is the good news of God's redemptive love for sinful mankind in Jesus Christ. The Gospel is the heart of the Christian faith and distinguishes it from all other religions uniting in one holy bond of love and faith all those who call themselves Christian.

What God has done in Christ for man's redemption is good tidings of great joy, revealed and declared in Holy Scripture, made effective and redemptive by the Holy Spirit through faith, proclaimed and preached by the Church in and to the world. Jesus Christ, the Mediator, the Man from God and the Man for men, stands at the center of the Gospel. In Him, God has come down to earth; He is what God has to say to us; in Him, man is reborn by faith into a new creation. The good news of the Christian faith is, therefore, the Gospel of Jesus Christ. All depends on Him, all doctrine and theology, all ethics and morality, all Church order and organization, all worship and piety.

(2). The Reformed Faith is rooted historically in the Protestant Reformation which sought to recover and restore the centrality of Christ for faith and life. The Reformers re-affirmed the Gospel of Jesus Christ. They did not think of themselves as innovators, creating a new Gospel or a new Church, but as restorers and reclaimers of what had been obscured. The Reformation was a protest against everything that would detract from the centrality of the Gospel, whether ecclesiastical structure or doctrinal orthodoxy. The Reformers, therefore, insisted that it is the Gospel that determines and judges the Church. In their concern for the centrality of the Gospel, the Reformers went back to the Bible and the ecumenical creeds of the early Church with their definitions of the uniqueness of Jesus Christ as "very God of very God. . . who for us men, and for our salvation . . . was made man." The proper understanding of the relation between the deity and the humanity of Christ, the "two natures in one person," has provoked a continuous debate down through the centuries.

If Roman Catholic theology has tended to emphasize the deity at the expense of the humanity of Christ, the Reformers sought to restore the balance. Luther was emphatic about this, particularly in his Christmas sermons; Calvin in his Institutes relates the humanity with the deity by making use of the three-fold office of Christ as prophet, priest, and king.

In the period following the Reformation, it was common (especially for Reformed theologians, drawing upon Phil. 2:5-11) to speak of the two "states" or "estates" of Christ, that is, his "humiliation" and his "exaltation." The former referred to Christ's birth, life, passion, and death; the latter to his resurrection, ascension, session, and coming again. While there is something artificial in this, particularly in the implication that the two states are successive or independent of each other rather than interrelated, the device is instructive as a commentary on the inner meaning of the Gospel. For, however the relation between these two be interpreted, Christ is exalted in his humiliation and humiliated in his exaltation. This means that the servant form which Christ assumed was no mere temporary condescension to the human situation to be transcended and superseded later by his exaltation to the right hand of the Father, but it was precisely in this form in which God's redemptive revelation was made known to us. Thus the Servant is Lord! And the Lord is Servant!

(3). The Servant-Lord is a Biblical and theological way of speaking about the Gospel which has significant implications for today. The figure of the servant is basic in the Bible for the understanding of God's ways with his people. "You are my servant, Israel, in whom I will be glorified." Through Israel, God makes himself known; through the Hebrew people, the redemptive purpose is to be achieved. Israel's mission is to serve the Lord in obedience and gladness, to be "a light to the nations," to fulfill the divine election and covenant by carrying God's salvation to the ends of the earth. The righteous in Israel are those who take seriously their service of the Most High. In the "suffering servant" passages of Isaiah, the divine splendor and the redemptive purpose of God are disclosed through one who is patient gentleness personified. "He was despised and rejected by men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief . . . by his knowledge shall the righteous one, my servant, make many to be counted righteous."

The prophetic vision is realized in the person and work of Jesus Christ who announced as his purpose that "the Son of Man came not to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many." In the foot-washing scene in the Upper Room, Christ enacted in a dramatic moment the inner meaning of his mission, girding himself with a towel and washing his disciples' feet. Thus the disciple, the apostle, the follower of Christ, is also called upon to serve the Master who was himself the Servant-Lord. Paul's interpretation of Christ and of the Christian follows the same pattern. As the One who was in "the form of God" deliberately chose to take "the form of a servant," so too the Apostle thought of his own calling and commission as "a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, set apart for the Gospel of God."

To understand what servant and service mean in the Bible is to define the Gospel in a revolutionary way, for we are led to say that God was never more truly God than when he became the Servant-Lord in Jesus Christ, and that man is never more truly free than when he serves God in willing obedience and joyful abandon.

(4). The form of the servant suggests the mission for the Reformed Faith in the world of today as it witnesses to the Gospel in the Church and in the world. To restore the servant interpretation of the Gospel will not be easy or simple. The whole context of the servant and of service is uncongenial and unacceptable for many in our day. The servant figure has become degraded and demeaned, implying enforced obedience and mere passivity. The servant today is regarded as inferior, subjugated, dehumanized. To reclaim the Biblical view of the servant will require of us a new sense of what it means to give oneself with enthusiasm and commitment to something that is bigger than oneself, whereby bondage becomes freedom and servitude issues in fulfillment.

It is at this point that the Gospel of the Servant-Lord needs to be preached for our day. The Reformed Faith, which has a long tradition of emphasizing the Christian man's obedience and discipline, needs to recover the Biblical servant accent. This would guard against the temptation to legalism which has so often plagued the witness of the Reformed Faith.

There is, moreover, a constructive link between the servant form and the Reformed Faith. The Church, we say, must ever be reformed. By that we do not mean merely that the Church became reformed at the time of the Reformation and that henceforth it now has the true Gospel and needs only to transmit it to every new age. It means that the Church must always be in the process of being reformed, subject to and obedient to the Gospel and the Lordship of Jesus Christ. But if Christ is the Servant-Lord, this means that all our Church life and thought, theology and worship, preaching and evangelism, heritage and tradition, must serve the Lord who is himself revealed to us in the form of a servant. Thus our tradition and our theology can never become ends in themselves but must always be in the service and at the service of the Servant-Lord.

II. THE CHURCH

(1). The Church is the community of the faithful, called by Christ and empowered by the Spirit, who witness to the Gospel in the world as the servant-people of the Servant-Lord. There are many Biblical ways of speaking about the Church, such as, the body of Christ, the fellowship of the faithful, and covenant community, the new Israel, the congregation of the saints, the bride of Christ, the royal priesthood, the family of the elect, the household of God, etc. If we speak of the Church as the servant-people of the Servant-Lord, we do not mean to exclude other ways of describing the Church. But just as the servant figure may deepen our understanding of the Gospel, so too we believe it provides a needed accent regarding the nature, function, and mission of the Church for our day.

How does the Church as the servant-people serve? It does so, first of all, by listening to the Servant-Lord of the Church. The Church does not worship itself, its institutional organization, its own orthodoxy or confession of faith, its pronouncements or programs, its forms or its structures, its piety or its holiness. Christ is the sole head of the Church, and the Church exists to serve her Lord who came not to be served but to serve.

The Church's witness and mission are thus related to the humiliation and exaltation of the Servant-Lord. In the sacraments of baptism and the Lord's Supper the Church not only declares the death and resurrection of Christ but the death of the "old man" and the resurrection of the "new creature" in Christ. The witness and mission of the Church in the world is also both humiliation and exaltation, as the Church suffers persecution, rejection, division, controversy, and schism; yet in her humiliation the Church is also exalted because she serves the Lord who reigns as the Head of the Church against which "the gates of hell shall not prevail."

(2). The standard by which the Christian Church must be judged is its faithfulness in taking the form of a servant and showing itself to be the servant of Jesus Christ. The purity of the Church and the unity of the Church are not enough if they are taken as ends in themselves. It is not Christian to lay claim to absolute purity, whether of belief, worship, or Church organization.

Some glory in their theological purity, that is, their orthodoxy. They glory in having the right ideas; they defy others to prove that they are tainted with false doctrine. But there is a sense in which we can have the truth in a purely intellectual way without the truth having us. Christian truth is personal truth; it centers in a Person, and it must possess the lives of persons who become servants of the Truth. For Christian truth must not only be believed, it must be obeyed. Man must do the truth. Loyalty to ideas about Christ can become a subtle substitute for loyalty to Christ himself. Ideas can become idols.

Others say, "Ours is the true ministry; we can trace our descent to the apostles." To all such, we must ask: "For what purpose? Can apostolic succession save us and give us good and regular standing in the Church of God?" The proof of a true ministry, whether clerical or lay, is that it serves Jesus Christ the Truth.

Still others say, "Our Church is the true Church; it was founded by Christ himself and its structure was revealed by the Holy Spirit." To this we reply that structure of any kind is not the essence of the Church. Structure, too, must be a servant, and must be judged by the degree in which it shows itself to be in the service of the redemptive will of God in Christ. In the ecumenical movement of today, it is only on the pilgrim way of obedient, Christian service that the Holy Spirit will reveal the structure which is most consonant with, and can best express, the truth and unity of the Church in Christ.

But the quest for the unity of the Church cannot be merely an end in itself. The question arises: "Unity for what?" Unity must serve the mission of the Church. The Church cannot be the Church unless it shows itself to be the servant-people of the Servant-Lord who gave the mandate to make disciples of all nations.

It is all too easy for the Church to become a venerated but sterile institution in the world. Neither the Church itself nor any of its achievements, whether its structure or its doctrine, its unity or its work, can ever be mere ends in themselves; all are means to serve the purpose and redemptive love of God.

(3). The recovery of the servant form of the Church can be a crucial and decisive contribution of the Reformed Faith in the world of today. To think of the Church as the servant-people of the Servant-Lord is one way not only of accentuating a basic, Biblical manner of speaking about the Church but of renewing and revitalizing the Reformed conviction that the Church must always be reformed. Under such an interpretation, all churchly pretensions of organization, theology, confession, worship, unity, and mission, must be scrutinized, judged, and evaluated. This conceivably could provide a corrective criterion in the midst of much contemporary discussion and controversy on the life, work, and thinking of the Church. It could also suggest the dynamic and explosive insight whereby the stalemates in denominational, confessional, and ecumenical tangles might be resolved. It may be that the Reformed Faith, because of its reforming potentiality, is providentially prepared and poised to sound this note for our day. But it needs also to be said, that the same servant figure and reforming principle which the Reformed Faith would direct toward others must also be applied to its own tradition, heritage, and present structures. To save ourselves, we must lose ourselves, not in self-conscious protest or in self-assured righteousness, but in obedient service.

God gave a mission to his people: "You are my servant, Israel, in whom I will be glorified . . . I will give you as a light to the nations, that my salvation may reach to the end of the earth." The Christian Church is the new Israel, God's new servant, the fellowship of those for whom Jesus Christ is Lord. The Church exists to glorify God, to make him manifest to men, to reflect the splendor of his nature, and to serve his eternal purpose in Jesus Christ, who is the sole head of the Church, the Servant-Lord who calls a servant-people into his freedom and fellowship.

III. THE WORLD

(1). The Church exists to proclaim the Gospel to the world in word and deed. Gospel, Church, and world are intertwined; we cannot speak of one without involving the others. This interrelationship, though not always rightly emphasized, lies deeply rooted in the Reformed Faith. And it is particularly in the relation of the Gospel and the Church to the world that the Reformed heritage has been fertile in constructive insights and positive achievements. Other traditions have made their own substantial contributions, but the Reformed Faith is known historically for its passionate concern to bring the Gospel through the Church to the world.

Whether we recall Calvin's part in the rewriting of the civil law of the city of Geneva, or Zwingli's death on the battlefield as a patriot who took up arms in his country's defense, or the German Reformed struggle for political and religious freedom on the Rhine, or the Dutch resistance of tyranny in the Netherlands, or Knox's fight against oppression in Scotland—in every case, and in more than that could be mentioned, the Reformed Churches understood their task to include the relating of the Gospel to the world in which they lived.

(2). We confess with shame, however, that the Reformed witness to the world, while never completely obscured, has tended to fade and diminish both in its content and in its passion. We have been content to judge the world, to condemn it, to deny it, and thus virtually to stand aloof and remain apart from it. We have embraced a personal pietism, good in itself, but too often isolated from and insulated against the world in which we live. We have developed an ethical morality bordering on legalism which knows how to denounce and how to frown but is unskilled and inept at restoring or healing. We have so projected the Christian hope into the future as to make us other-worldly in a wrong and misguided way. We have become so fearful of secularism both outside and inside the Church that we have lost our vision of service to and in the world.

The baleful result of our dimmed vision is that we no longer really know the world, and the world for its part no longer pays us heed or looks to us for help. In such a situation neither the Church's judgment upon the world nor its message of redemption for the world can be trenchant or creative.

(3). We affirm our need at this hour to recapture the Reformed understanding of the relation of Gospel and Church to the world. The secular world we so readily criticize and so eagerly pontificate against is precisely the arena in which the struggle of faith and doubt, including the Church's and the Christian's faith and doubt, takes place. If we are to be loyal to our heritage, and if we are to take seriously the Lord who was the servant of all, then we must learn anew in the world what it means to be called his servants.

This will require of us a serious and diligent effort not only to expose and condemn the evils and ailments of the world but, what is more difficult for most of us, to welcome every evidence and contribution for good which the world offers. If the world has little to say about forgiveness and reconciliation, it can nevertheless teach us something, for example, through contemporary painting, fiction, and drama, about modern man's sense of meaninglessness and his wistful quest for meaning. It is only as we participate through suffering service in the agony of the world's doubt and disillusionment that we can declare the Gospel of God's good news in Jesus Christ.

(4). We believe that a deepened sense of Christian service on the part of the servant-people of the Servant-Lord is needed today in order to combat and overcome certain false but insidious idols in our midst. We see Christian service, for example, as the most constructive way to encounter the current craze for security. The concept of service in government, education, the professions, in business, industry, and science is often lost sight of in the scramble for pensions, tenure, preferment, and financial security.

Christian service, we believe, needs to be affirmed as the redeeming corrective over against contemporary despair and the meaninglessness of life. Young people today, we are told, have no heroes. Life for many is drab and without purpose or horizon. Few volunteer for a cause that demands much but offers little in tangible rewards.

We see Christian service as a rebuke to all who would use religion or the Church for their own purposes, as if the proof of piety were prosperity whether in this world's goods or in peace of mind. "To worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness" must not be corrupted into pharisaism, formalism, or sectarianism. To serve the Lord and not ourselves, nor our ecclesiastical institutions, nor our doctrines, nor our forms and liturgies—this is the primary imperative laid upon a servant-people who would be faithful to their Servant-Lord.

(5). We declare emphatically and contritely, however, that we do not stand over against the false idols of the world as those who alone are righteous or without stain and blemish. On the contrary, we confess that the distortions of our world affect and infect us individually as Christians and corporately as Churches.

The world of Christians and of Christian Churches is not a separate, spiritual realm safely inoculated against the diseases of another, earthy world. We may indeed pretend that this is so, in which case the world ignores us, either because we remove ourselves so far from it, or because it rightly senses that we too are deeply involved in the very aberrations we condemn. The life of the Christian and the mission of the Church cannot be fulfilled on a line parallel to the world but which never intersects or penetrates that sphere. This is why our contemporary revival of interest in religion must issue in responsible witness and service.

As we understand it, responsible religion is no mere humanitarianism, no romantic idealism, no patronizing social welfare. In the Reformed Faith, the summons to service in the world is directly and initially related to our reconciliation through the redemptive Word of the Lord. It is He who calls us through His love and compassion; it is He who sends us forth as forgiven sinners to serve the world for which He humbled Himself. Just because we are not our own, just because the power and the promise are His, just because the Master who as suffering servant calls us not to master but to serve, we can and must live in the world with exalted gaiety and jubilant conviction, humble as to our own efforts but confident of His almighty power to seek and to save.

Whatever others may or may not be doing, we of the Reformed Faith stand under the special mandate of our tradition and the redemptive example of the Servant-Lord. We must be sure of the Gospel of God's love for man in Jesus Christ who took upon himself the form of a servant; we must be sure of the Church as the servant-people and the instrument of the Divine Glory; and we must be sure of what it means for Gospel and Church to be at work in the world.

REPORT OF THE MOUNTAIN RETREAT ASSOCIATION

The Board of Directors of the Mountain Retreat Association submits the following report:

PRESIDENT

On October 6, 1959, at a called meeting in the Central Presbyterian Church in Atlanta, Georgia, Rev. Calvin Grier Davis, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Asheville, N. C. was elected President of the Mountain Retreat Association and Montreat College.

ACTIONS OF THE 1959 GENERAL ASSEMBLY

- A. In 1959, the General Assembly made the following requests of Board of Directors: To amend its program policy so as to assure the boards and agencies that they shall have complete control over their conference held at Montreat, with the understanding that the Sunday morning speaker shall be selected with the approval of the Program Committee;

At the annual meeting August 5, 1959, the by-laws of the Association were amended to make the sections on "The Conference and Program Committee" to read as follows:

Section 48: The Conference and Program Committee shall be composed of three Directors of the Mountain Retreat Association who shall be members of the Executive Committee of the Corporation, one of whom shall be Chairman, two other Directors, and such others as may be elected by the Board of Directors. The following Boards shall nominate members to serve on this Committee: Board of Christian Education, two (2); Board of Women's Work, one (1); Board of World Missions, one (1); Board of Church Extension, one (1).

Section 49: The President of the Mountain Retreat Association shall be a member of the Conference and Program Committee and shall be charged with the responsibility for the general supervision and promotion of all meetings, conferences and programs held in Montreat.

Section 50: All meetings, conferences, and programs held in Montreat shall be subject to the provisions of the Charter of the Mountain Retreat Association and the policies adopted by the Board of Directors.

Section 51: The Conference and Program Committee shall recommend to the Board of Directors such meetings, conferences, and programs as will make maximum use of Montreat facilities throughout the year. It shall give full cooperation to the Boards and Agencies of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. to the end that Montreat may serve this Church in all phases of its work and service to the limit of its ability. It shall plan such other programs for adults, youth, and children during the Summer Conference Season as will serve the needs and interests of the entire Montreat Community. The Committee is urged to make Montreat available for meetings, conferences, and programs of other Churches and groups insofar as they do not interfere with those which are sponsored by the Boards and Agencies of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

Section 52: The Boards and Agencies of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. shall have responsibility for, and control over conferences which they conduct, including the selection of speakers and teachers. All meetings designed for the Montreat Community as a whole, as determined by this Committee shall be the responsibility of the Conference and Program Committee in full cooperation with the Conference Directors.

- B. To seek to have its charter amended so as to give the General Assembly and the Synods power to elect, not merely nominate, the members of the Board of Trustees. At the semi-annual meeting February 10, 1960, the charter of the Association was amended to read as follows:

"That the Trustees of Stock of Mountain Retreat Association shall consist of fifty (50) members and each of the synods now numbering sixteen—of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, shall nominate one member of the Trustees of the stock of the Mountain Retreat Association, and the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States shall have the right to nominate the remainder of the total number of fifty (50) members—or, as synods now existing, thirty-four (34) members of the Trustees of the stock of Mountain Retreat Association. The Trustees of stock shall be divided into such classifications as to number and length of term as the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States may determine and all persons nominated as herein set forth shall be elected by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

That in the event any of the synods of said Presbyterian Church shall fail to nominate a member of the Trustees of the stock of the Mountain Retreat Association at any time, then the General Assembly shall have the right to both nominate and elect, in lieu of the failure of any synod to nominate a Trustee, and in like manner, if the General Assembly at any of its meetings shall fail to either nominate or elect Trustees, then the Trustees of the stock of the Mountain Retreat Association shall have the right and power to both nominate and elect Trustees of the stock of the Mountain Retreat Association in the place and stead of those who have not been so nominated or elected."

The General Assembly is reminded that when stockholders in the Mountain Retreat Association gave the General Assembly more than 80 per cent of the stock in this North Carolina corporation, they drew up a "Declaration of Trust" which sets forth the conditions under which the gift was made. This "Declaration of Trust" constitutes a solemn covenant between the stockholders and the General Assembly, the terms of which should not and cannot be violated. One of the provisions of the "Declaration of Trust" is that the Trustees of Stock shall be nominated one by each Synod and the remainder by the General Assembly. The amendments to the Charter, adopted by the Board of Directors, does provide for the election of Trustees by the General Assembly.

- C. To seek to have its charter amended so as to provide that all members of the Board of Trustees shall be members of the Presbyterian Church, U. S.

At the semi-annual meeting on February 10, 1960, the charter was amended to read as follows:

"That all of the Members of the Board of Trustees constituting the Trustees holding the capital stock (common) of said Mountain Retreat Association under this trust, shall be members of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and at least three-fourths of the members of said Board of Trustees shall always be officers, ministers, elders or deacons in the Presbyterian Church in the United States."

In 1959, the General Assembly requested the Board of Trustees of Montreat College to report to the 1960 Assembly:

1. The type of educational facility it intends to operate at Montreat;
2. The need for such an institution in our Church and in the Montreat area in particular;
3. The availability of students;
4. Cost of accreditation, both under law and in keeping with Presbyterian ideals of education;
5. What steps the Board has taken to secure adequate financial support and accreditation.

At the meeting of the Trustees on February 4, 1959, the Charter was amended to make Montreat College a co-educational Junior College and to change the name to Montreat Anderson College in honor of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Anderson.

Montreat College was made an affiliated Presbyterian College of the Synod of Appalachia in 1959 and of Asheville Presbytery in 1960. It has applied to the North Carolina College Conference and the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools for accreditation. Both of these bodies have examined its application and have informed the college that they consider it ready for a visitation from a team of educators looking toward accreditation. Representatives of the Southern Association will visit the College in April and of the North Carolina College Conference next Fall.

On September 15, 1959, the Board of Trustees started a campaign for $125,000 to pay an accumulated operating deficit, to provide scholarships, and to balance the 1959-60 operating budget. On February 1, 1960, this campaign had produced $95,473.48 in cash and firm commitments. The Trustees are confident that the full amount needed will be raised before the end of the fiscal year, September 1, 1960. The College operated in 1958-59 with a $5,000 surplus. It will operate in 1959-60 with a balanced budget. It is the carefully considered judgment of the Trustees that Montreat College has the assets to operate a fully accredited Junior College.

The number of students in colleges and universities in the United States in 1958 was 2,943,000. Based on the number of children in school today, it is estimated that 6,000,000 will be seeking admission to institutions of higher learning in 1970. The Trustees of Montreat College are grateful to the 1959 Assembly for affirming—"its confidence in the ability of the Board of Trustees of Montreat College to operate the type of educational institution at Montreat as that Board may determine."

Montreat and the Church

1. Conferences

The Board of Directors of the Mountain Retreat Association are united in the conviction that the first and primary function of Montreat is to serve the Church and the cause of Christ as a conference center.

In 1959, forty-five conferences were held in Montreat with a total attendance of about thirty-two thousand people. The directors have instructed the Administration to seek to develop Montreat into a year-round conference center. We will seek to bring to Montreat large groups and small who are concerned about promoting the cause of Christ in the world and who earnestly desire to discover the meaning of the gospel for personal living and for their businesses and professions. We are cooperating with the Board of Women's Work and the Division of Men's Work to conduct one or more Lay Schools of Theology in Montreat during the coming year.

2. The Montreat Community

Montreat was designed by its founders as a Bible Conference ground similar to the one in Northfield, Massachusetts, which was established by Dwight L. Moody. The first Bible conference was held from July 20 to July 30, 1897. It was a camp meeting and the main emphasis was evangelism. Dr. R. A. Torrey was the main speaker of the second conference. For sixty-three years ministers and laymen have established Summer homes in Montreat. They go there for rest and recreation, for study and inspiration. There children and youth participate in a well-balanced program of worship and recreation. This Montreat Community, organized as "The Cottage Owners' Association" has been and is composed of loyal and devoted supporters of the total program.

3. The Future of Montreat

Among the leadership of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. there is a consensus that Montreat has the potential of becoming one of the great conference centers in the nation. They have a vision of retreat, away from the secular world, where men, women and youth can come together for worship, study, prayer and recreation and go away refreshed and reempowered with some new vision of Christ and His Church, some new commitment to Christ and His mission in the world, some new baptism of power from the Holy Spirit for the redemption of a lost world.

With the control of Montreat firmly in the hands of the General Assembly, the responsibility for the future of Montreat rests upon this court.

Montreat was first put in the budget of the General Assembly in May 1947 for the year 1948-1949. Since that time, $800,000 has been contributed toward its support. Most of this money has gone to pay the indebtedness on Howerton Hall and to make capital improvements. It has been twelve years since the Association has built a new building. During this period Montreat College has constructed McAlister gymnasium and College Hall which, together with Gaither Hall and other college buildings are available for use during the Summer conferences season.

During the last decade, the Methodist Church has spent $1,000,000 on capital improvements at Lake Junaluska and has designated $900,000 for this purpose in the next four years. The Baptist Church has designated $200,000 a year for six years for the development of Ridgcrest. The Lutheran Church has spent $900,000 in eight years on Lutheridge.

The Board of Directors have presented to the General Council the following tentative list of urgent needs for capital improvements in Montreat.

1. Refurbishing of Assembly Inn.....	$ 200,000

Montreat Day.

The 13th of August 1960 has been designated "Montreat Day" by the Board of Directors. The fourteen living Ex-Moderators of the General Assembly have been invited to be present. It will be a day for prayer and sharing and commitment. At the close of the day, the new President of Montreat will be inaugurated.

The Commissioners to the 1960 Assembly and the members of the Boards and Agencies of the Assembly are invited to be present. It is our hope that you will come prepared to remain for the Bible Conference which will be held from August 14th to 28th and at which you will have an opportunity to hear some of the great preachers and Bible teachers in this nation and the Christian world.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF STILLMAN COLLEGE

During the year 1959 the Board of Trustees of Stillman College has had cause for deep gratitude for progress made, and it has also been faced with new challenges and opportunities. The following report will indicate both the progress and the problems.

I. Student Body

The progress which the college has made in the past decade in raising academic standards, in increasing the faculty by the addition of high qualified persons, in constructing new buildings and improving facilities, and in being fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has attracted an increasing number of students. In fact, the present enrollment of 484 taxes the present facilities to the very limit. More applications were received and more rejected this year than in the history of the college. All dormitory space is filled, and the number of classrooms is completely inadequate for the increased enrollment. Therefore, progress brings its problems.

But just as the number of students is increasing, so is the quality. We can now afford to be selective. Entering classes are more carefully screened. Placement tests reveal improvement in the quality of students entering Stillman.

II. Faculty and Staff

Our list of faculty members includes two additional Ph.D.'s this year. Dr. Charles Turner has come to us in the Department of Bible. He holds the Ph.D. from Aberdeen University, Scotland.

Mrs. F. Burt Vardeman, Jr., received the Ph.D. degree from the University of Alabama in August, 1959. She has returned to Stillman as head of the Division of Social Sciences.

Five other members of the faculty have completed residence work for doctorates and are working on their dissertations. They are:

Dean B. B. Hardy—Michigan State University (Education)

Mrs. Lena Burrell Prewitt—Indiana University (Business Education)

Mrs. Faye Harris—Iowa University (History)

Mrs. Otilie Chermock—University of Alabama (Biology)

Mr. Herman B. Smith—University of Wisconsin (English)

Other additions to the faculty and staff include: Mrs. Willadene Hamby, Business; Mr. James E. Washington, Chemistry; Mr. Ford-Livene, Science; Miss Johnnie Osburn, Typing; Miss Lucille White, Assistant Librarian; and Mrs. Glynnie Simmons, Accountant.

While we are grateful for the strengthening of the faculty by the additions mentioned above, we must regretfully announce a severe loss which the faculty will sustain at the end of the academic year, 1959-60. Dr. Albert C. Winn, for eight years head of the Department of Bible, has accepted a call to the chair of Biblical Theology at Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary. Dr. Winn's contribution to the entire life of Stillman College is beyond calculation. We cannot hope to replace him. But since he has set such a high standard of unselfish and scholarly service, we are challenged to search diligently to secure the best possible person to help fill the void which his leaving has caused.

Dr. Winn's leaving also creates a void in the Public Relations and Alumni Office. His wife, Mrs. Grace Winn, has done an outstanding job as director of public relations and she has given valuable guidance in alumni affairs. Her place, too, will be difficult indeed to fill.

III. Physical Improvements

The year has seen significant improvement in the appearance of the campus and in faculty residences. All major roads on the campus have been paved. With the elimination of dust and mud the maintenance of buildings has been made much easier, the appearance of the campus is enhanced, and the comfort and convenience of faculty, students, and visitors is greatly increased.

Two new residence buildings have been added to those which ring Geneva Drive, the faculty section of the campus. A residence for Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Beck, and a residence for Dr. S. F. Franklin with an apartment wing for Miss Margaret Davis were constructed in the summer of 1959.

IV. Brown Memorial Church

There now arises on the Stillman Campus the stately spire of the new Brown Memorial Church, a sanctuary of dignity and beauty which would do credit to any congregation in our Assembly. Through the providence of God as expressed through the generosity of a host of friends, the concern of two of the Boards of the Assembly and the sacrificial giving of the members of Brown Memorial Church, the sanctuary is fully paid for. The building not only serves the local congregation, but it provides a place of worship for the college family for chapel and assembly periods. We are truly grateful for the completion of this building.

But the task is not yet complete. In marked contrast to the beauty and stateliness of the new building is the shabby appearance of the old church building adjacent to it. The plan is to remodel this building and add to it in order to provide adequate space for a program of Christian Education. This building will serve the local congregation and will provide a laboratory of Christian Education for Stillman students.

Funds are needed for the completion of this important task.

V. Birthday Offering

It is with hearty appreciation that we say, "Thank you" to the Women of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. for designating Stillman College to be the recipient of the Birthday Offering for 1960. Through the generosity of the Women of the Church we shall be able to construct a long awaited Classroom-Administration Building to be named the Alex R. Batchelor Building in honor of the late Secretary of Negro Work. This building will fill an essential need of the campus and will release space in other buildings. Classrooms are now housed in the Science Building and in the Library. More space is required for laboratories and for books. The administrative offices occupy the first floor of Winsborough Hall, the freshmen women's dormitory. More students could be housed if this space were available.

There are only 13 classrooms on the Stillman Campus. The Classroom-Administration Building will break the space bottleneck which is now hampering the continued progress of Stillman College.

VI. Stillman Supporters

Since the beginning of the Stillman Supporters movement (May, 1956), 1,169 individuals have enrolled. Gifts from these friends, plus gifts from a few church groups, have amounted to $19,145.99. These contributions have financed a renovation project in Winsborough Hall, oldest dormitory on the campus. To date, 10 student rooms, the house director's apartment, and one main hallway have been renovated. Funds are on hand to renovate five additional rooms. This will be done during the summer vacation when the building is not in use.

Recommendations:

1. That the Assembly call the attention of all of its churches and ministers to the need for a much greater number of able young Negro men to enter the Gospel Ministry.

2. That the Assembly 1) Thank all of those who by their grants and gifts have made possible the erection of the beautiful new sanctuary on the Stillman Campus and 2) That the completion of this endeavor; namely, the alteration of the old church into facilities necessary for an adequate church school program, be commended to the generosity of Presbyterians as individuals.

3. That the "Stillman Supporters" be again commended to the generosity of individual Presbyterians.

4. That the book "One Out of Four," John Knox Press, by the late Myrtle Williamson, beloved Stillman teacher, be commended to pastors and other spiritual counselors, that the greatest number possible of those who need its message, may be blessed and inspired by it.

5. That churches be urged to increase their giving to agencies in the General Fund.

VII. Bequests

We gratefully acknowledge the final payment of $1,665.45 on the bequest of the late Robert L. Peters, Senior, former Chairman of the Stillman Board of Trustees and the sum of $4,220.40 which is the final payment on the bequest of the late beloved member of the faculty Dr. Myrtle Williamson. In addition to this the college was willed the proceeds from the royalty on her book "One Out of Four," which is just off the John Knox Press.

This book will be a precious possession to hundreds of her many friends and a blessing to many others who shall read it.

REPORT OF AUSTIN PRESBYTERIAN THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Ownership—The Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary is owned by the Synods of Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and controlled through trustees elected by these synods. The plan proposed for the U.P.U.S.A. Church to join in ownership and control of the Seminary has been approved by the Seminary Board of Trustees and the four controlling synods and the the Council on Theological Education and the General Assembly of the U.P.U.S.A. Church. The plan provides for the U.P.U.S.A. Church to contribute one million dollars to the capital structure of the Seminary by September 1, 1960, or alternately by September 1, 1961, as the first step to effect joint operation.

Objectives—The central function of the Seminary is to train men for the parish ministry. Other areas of responsibility have been added: training of missionaries, training of Christian educational leadership, instruction in Bible to University of Texas students, training leaders for Campus Christian Life, providing continuing intellectual and spiritual stimulation to active ministers and lay leaders through library extension service, a Graduate Study program and special convocations.

Trustees—Two changes have occurred in Board membership: Raymond Orr has replaced Tom Cutting from the Synod of Arkansas, William A. Benfield has replaced David Crow from the Synod of Louisiana. Board members are: C. L. King, chairman; S. C. Guthrie, vice-chairman; J. Martin Singleton, Secretary. John W. Smiley is treasurer of the Seminary.

Accreditation—The Seminary is accredited by the American Association of Theological Schools. It is a member of the Presbyterian Educational Association of the South. Professors hold memberships in various learned and scholarly societies.

Faculty—Twelve men gave full time to Seminary teaching during the year. Additions to the faculty were: Earl C. Scott, Jr. B.D.; J. Rodman Williams, Ph. D.; Prescott H. Williams, Ph. D. Marvin Williams, B. D., serves as a teaching fellow this year. Miss Lena Clausell served as visiting lecturer in Christian Education the Fall semester. Dr. Paul Calvin Payne serves as visiting professor in Christian Education with the Spring semester. Instructors during the year included John R. Thomas, M. A.; John Boe, B. Mus.; Leroy G. Kerney, B. D.; Edward E. Thornton, B. D.; James A. Hitt, Ph. D; C. W. Reinmuth, Ph. D; H. C Bennett, Jr, Ph. D; J. W Zarker, Ph. D.; Carson McGuire, Ph. D. James A. Wharton is on leave of absence this year to complete his doctorate at Basel. Professor Robert F. Gribble, D. D., retires this year after long and illustrious service.

Students—There were 159 students registered in Seminary courses this year. 37 received instruction in Bible in the University of Texas. There were 35 graduates in 1959, of whom four received the Th. M. degree, twenty-six the B.D. degree, one the M.C.E. degree, two the English Diploma and two a Certificate of Accomplishment. There are 38 candidates for degrees this year. Among them are four candidates for the M.C.E. degree. These are required to have the same academic and ecclesiastical qualifications and endorsements as B.D. candidates.

Library—Circulation for the year has been 12,060 volumes. 5,239 books have been catalogued, 5,000 volumes received. Total volumes: 47,710.

Campus—Work has continued on a Master Campus Plan for the Seminary. Pending its completion, the four residences east of the Chapel have been removed so the way will be clear for erection of a new academic building. Purchase of adjacent property has continued.

Finance—Capital Funds—Receipts from the Texas financial campaign through March 10, 1960, are $910,883.08, of which $343, 105.83 has gone into capital improvements and the remainder into endowment.

The Synod of Oklahoma campaign goals included $50,000 for the Seminary to acquire adjacent property. Receipts through March 10, 1960, are $19,350 which has been used as designated. The Synod of Arkansas campaign to produce $200,000 for the Seminary, is now under way. The Synod of Louisiana campaign to produce $200,000 for the Seminary, is now under way, also. A private Foundation has approved a grant of $200,000 to the Seminary, upon condition that the Synods of Arkansas and Louisiana are each successful in their campaigns for the Seminary.

Extra Services—The Seminary and individual faculty members render many services above and beyond the routine educational tasks. The Settles Lectures in Missions and Evangelism in January of each year, while specifically for Graduates in residence, are open to the public and attendance of all Seminary students is required. The Midwinter Lectures continue to bring outstanding lecturers to increasing numbers of ministers in the Southwest, and produce outstanding volumes in many fields. A two-day Retreat for all faculty was held at Mo-Ranch last September, with full attendance.

The Seminary provided facilities for the Church Extension conference, "The Basis of our Witness", last May. Individual faculty members made many trips to fill speaking engagements before men and women of the church, preaching missions and pulpit supply. Seminary students supply many pulpits each Sunday in Field Work assignments. In addition, Juniors and Lay School students have assignments in various church schools.

Program Enrichment—A private Foundation makes available to the Seminary certain funds each year to enrich the teaching program of the Seminary through specific projects submitted by the Seminary and approved by the Board of the Foundation. Some of the additions made possible by this Foundation's grants have included: Guest Professors Bernhard Citron, Ernest Best, Carlyle Marney, Dietrich Ritschl, Wilhelm Niesel, John Thomas, Carl F. Schneider, Paul Payne; Leave of absence assistance to professors to enable them to study and/or to write.

Co-operative Work—A Council of Southwestern Theological Schools has been incorporated, composed of Brite College, T.C.U.; Perkins, S.M.U.; Episcopal Seminary of the Southwest; Phillips University; Southwestern Baptist and Austin Presbyterian. Its purpose is to explore areas where joint work would be beneficial to all. The Institute of Religion in Houston is an example of this endeavor. Other projects have been the Ecumenical Institute at S.M.U. in 1957; the Summer School on the Church and the Urban Ministry in Austin in 1958 and the Summer School on the Church and Evangelism at Fort Worth in 1959.

Respectfully submitted,

Charles L. King, Chairman of the Board

REPORT OF COLUMBIA THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

The Board of Directors of Columbia Theological Seminary submits the following report for the year 1959-60.

I. FACULTY

The faculty of Columbia Theological Seminary has consisted this year of fifteen fulltime teachers in addition to the President. There have been eight visiting professors who have taught one or more courses during the year.

Dean Felix B. Gear has been absent on sabbatic leave and has spent most of the year pursuing special studies in Great Britain upon a Fellowship awarded by the American Association of Theological Schools. He also expects to spend several months in a continuation of these studies in Palestine before returning to resume his duties at the seminary.

Members of the faculty who have served this year for the first time are Dr. Ludwig Richard Max Dewitz, Assistant Professor in Old Testament; Dr. David Royal Moorefield, Instructor in Systematic Theology and Christian Ethics; and Rev. Luther Martin Mundy, Instructor in New Testament. Rev. Neely D. McCarter who has been elected Associate Professor in Christian Education is continuing studies at Yale University with a view to earning his Ph.D. It is expected that Mr. McCarter will enter upon his teaching duties at Columbia Seminary in the fall of 1961.

Columbia Seminary has been particularly fortunate in having as visiting professors during the current school session Dr. Leon Lamb Morris, Vice Principal of Ridley College, Melbourne, Australia, who has taught courses in the field of New Testament Exegesis, and Dr. Henry Snyder Gehman, Professor Emeritus of Old Testament Exegesis.

The enlargement and strengthening of the faculty continues to be a major concern of the administration and the Board of Directors. The seminary is constantly engaged in a search for men of outstanding qualifications to serve as the teachers of ministerial students, and it is hoped that additional appointments can be made for the coming year.

II. STUDENT BODY

The enrollment of students for the 1959-60 session has been slightly smaller than for the preceding year, but has remained so large as to tax the present physical facilities of the seminary to capacity. The students of the seminary have shown a fine spirit of loyalty to the institution in many ways, but particularly by their assistance in presenting the needs of the institution to its constituency during the present campaign. In spite of the unusual demands made upon their time by the necessity for this type of deputation work, the general level maintained in the academic life of the seminary has been satisfactory and the spirit of the student body as a whole has been worthy of commendation. It is gratifying to note that missionary interest remains at a high level on the campus, and that a goodly number of the students look forward to service on foreign mission fields.

The enrollment of students for the year in the several recognized classifications has been as follows: Graduate 42, Seniors 53, Middlers 67, Juniors 63, Clinical 4, Biblical Education 9, Special 5, Total 254.

In spite of the fact that the student body of Columbia Seminary has been at its highest level during recent years, the institution is still unable to meet the calls which are made for graduates to serve as pastors of churches, and for underclassmen to serve as supplies during the summer. It is evident that the enrollment of the institution will need to grow further during the next years if it is to meet the needs of its constituency fully. In the light of the present situation, and of growing enrollments in colleges and universities, we believe that the Survey Committee which studied the institution last year was not mistaken in saying that Columbia Seminary must be prepared to serve a minimum student body of 400 by 1970. Indeed it appears likely that the need for a student body of this size will exist before that year.

III. OWNERSHIP AND CONTROL

The twenty-one Directors of Columbia Theological Seminary are elected by the five supporting Synods of South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi. The only new Director to be elected during the year is Rev. J. Phillips Noble of Anniston, Alabama, who was chosen by the Synod of Alabama to succeed Dr. H. E. Russell in this position. The officers of the Board are as follows:

Chairman, Dr. P. D. Miller, Atlanta, Ga.; Vice Chairman, Dr. J. R. McCain, Decatur, Ga.; Secretary, Rev. Dwyn Mounger, Jackson, Miss.; Treasurer and Assistant Secretary, Miss C. Virginia Harrison, Decatur, Ga.

IV. FINANCES

Columbia Seminary operated during the twelve months which ended December 31, 1959 with a surplus of $345.40, thus completing the twenty-seventh consecutive year in which the institution has incurred no deficit for current operations. The auditors' report prepared by Young, Garber & Company, Certified Public Accountants of Atlanta, Ga., indicated that total operating expenses for the year amounted to $301,406.24. The total endowed funds of the Seminary at the end of 1959 amounted to $1,935,773.25. The value of the seminary's physical equipment was reported as $1,453,229.60. Total assets of the institution amounted to $4,106,917.33, representing an increase in these assets during the past twelve months of $675,039.87. Contributions made by the supporting synods for current support of the institution during the year were as follows:

Alabama $18,168.15, Florida $13,467.49, Georgia $30,417.07, Mississippi $7,990.32, South Carolina $18,609.26, Total $87,652.29.

V. THE SEMINARY'S CAMPAIGN

The appeal of Columbia Theological Seminary for added support on the part of its constituency continues to meet with an encouraging response. On the basis of the recommendation made by a competent Survey Committee in the fall of 1958, the Directors had authorized the institution to seek for a total of $5,100,000 at the earliest practicable date, $2,100,000 of this amount being designated for buildings and $3,000,000 for endowment. A conditional gift of $500,000 was promised by anonymous friends of the institution toward a goal of $5,000,000 with $50,000 to be made available to the seminary each time $450,000 has been secured from other sources.

During 1959 the appeal of the seminary was presented to the churches of South Carolina and Georgia with encouraging results. A similar effort is being projected in the Synods of Alabama and Mississippi at the present time. A tabulation of results attained up to March 1, 1960 indicated that total subscriptions of $2,402,103.50 had been secured at that time in addition to the conditional gift of $500,000. A substantial amount has been subscribed since that date. Hence it may be said that the campaign however, if the full amount of $5,100,000 is to be secured by January 26, 1964—the time at which the challenge offer will expire.

Many churches in the supporting synods have met the full quota assigned to them on the basis of an average gift of $20.00 per member, and many individuals have subscribed generously. Other churches for various reasons have had to defer the campaign until a later date. The Directors would urgently request all churches to participate in the campaign within the prescribed period, and to meet the full suggested quota if this is at all possible. We would also urge that individual givers throughout the synods continue to bear the institution in mind with a view of helping meet the challenge of the present opportunity. It is hoped that an increasing number of Presbyterians in these synods will include Columbia Theological Seminary in their wills.

VI. BUILDING PROGRAM

In the light of Columbia Seminary's urgent need for more space, and in consideration of the amount which had already been subscribed, the Directors authorized the administration to proceed this year to let contracts for three new buildings. Work began in October on the erection of a new apartment building which will provide living quarters for the families of twelve married students, and this building, to be known as Friendship Hall, should be completed by June 1, 1960. On January 28, 1960, in appropriate ceremonies, ground was also broken for the erection of a student center and a new dormitory, the latter to be known as Florida Hall. The student center will contain the main dining room and kitchen, two smaller dining rooms for special groups, a student canteen, amusement room, and parlors, the post office, the student book store, six offices, and two conference rooms. When this building is completed the present dining room and kitchen space of the seminary can be transformed into additional classroom and office space which is urgently needed. Florida Hall will contain attractive living quarters for 46 married couples or for 92 single students. The total cost of these three buildings when completed will be approximately $1,070,000. An attractive long range program for the future development of the campus has been prepared so that all buildings are being erected in accordance with a plan which is designed to assure convenience and efficiency as well as beauty.

VII. THE NEED FOR INCREASED ENDOWMENT

With the erection of the three buildings mentioned, the most pressing of the seminary's physical needs will be met. No less urgent, however, is the securing of the added funds recommended by the Survey Committee for endowment. The purpose of this endowment will be to provide for an enlargement of the faculty to serve more adequately a growing student body, to provide salaries for all faculty members and staff which are more in line with their actual needs, and to increase substantially the amount of scholarship funds available to assist the students of the seminary in preparing for the ministry. The Survey Committee has pointed out the fact that in order to meet their expenses far too many of these young men have to spend in outside work a great deal of time which ought to be devoted to their studies. The provision of more adequate assistance through scholarships would enable these men to devote themselves more fully to their studies, and hence to be better prepared to meet the exacting demands of the ministry in this Twentieth Century.

Respectfully submitted for the Board of Directors

P. D. MILLER, Chairman

REPORT OF LOUISVILLE SEMINARY

The seminary respectfully reports for the academic year, 1959-60, as follows:

I. Students: Comparative enrollments for recent years have been:

Year:	1948	1950	1952	1954	1956	1958	1960

Students are from 30 states and 5 foreign countries. They represent 98 institutions previously attended. Of 149 Presbyterian students, 86 are UP-USA, 59 are US, 1 Cumberland, 2 Korean, and 1 African. 20 are from 3 other denominations.

Fellowships in 1959 were awarded to: Pastoral Counseling—to Douglas George Cater, Texas (U. of Texas A.B., M.A.); Christian Education—to William Graeber McAtee, Mississippi (Southwestern, B.A.); Doctrinal Theology—to Lawrence Howard Cater, Alabama (Southwestern, B.A.); Anderson Fellowship—to George Dennis Gracey, Tennessee, (Southwestern, B.A.); Biblical Theology—to John Carleton Riddick, California (Westminster, A.B.). Prizes were awarded to James Dale Howie, Illinois (Milliken University, A.B.); Richard V. Beesley, Indiana (Ind. State College, B.S., M.S.); Charles E. Angell, Texas (Austin College, B.A.); Robert B. Albritton, Alabama (U. of Alabama, B.A.); Thomas W. Clayton, Tennessee (Duke University, A.B.); James W. Young, Jr., Mississippi (Southwestern, B.A., University of North Carolina, M.B.A.).

Since students and faculty are basic in importance to a seminary, this report emphasize these two factors. In relation to students, the following observations seem pertinent:

1. Marriage and Finances. An average of 60-70% of seminary students are now married. Most have children, or children are born while they are in seminary. Few generalizations as to the relative quality of work done by married and unmarried students are valid, but two or more persons cannot live as cheaply as one, and the large proportion of married students requires either remunerative Field Work or comparatively large student-subsidy, or both. Also, if married students are to be housed on campus so as really to be part of the seminary community and to have maximum access to faculty and library, a proportionately heavier investment must be made in housing facilities for them. This requires more ample financial resources.

2. The Older Student. Since World War II, the average age of students entering seminary has been higher, partly because of frequent interruption of education by military service. In addition to this factor, however, there has been a notable increase during recent years in the number of men from 30 to 50 years of age who have sought admission to seminary after having served in some other vocation for a considerable period and after having acquired heavy family responsibilities. In such cases, in addition to the obvious financial problems involved, there are problems of re-acquiring study habits and of making rather radical individual and family re-adjustments to the situation of being ministerial students. Many such students have unquestionable talents for the ministry and come to seminary with a clear and strong sense of vocation. Committees on Candidates in the Presbyteries can help such men and the seminary by exercising great care and discrimination in receiving them as candidates, and by backing their judgment when they are received by enlisting financial aid for their further education from local congregations and individuals.

3. Candidate Recruiting. With the rapid growth of the Presbyterian Church, careful surveys indicate that, during the decade 1960-70 the number of candidates at the seminary level of preparation should be increased 82%. Because of the lag in the Louisville Seminary building program, our enrollment should be increased 95%, which means that during this decade our enrollment should reach 300. After a rapid rise in candidates for the ministry following World War II, there has been a levelling off, or decline, during the past two or three years.

One of the conspicuous and long-time defects in the strategy and program of the Presbyterian Church has been its lack of Assembly personnel having the primary responsibility and opportunity for recruiting candidates for Church vocations on a Church-wide basis, with a constant and comprehensive program calculated, in the Providence of God, to keep supply somewhat in relation to demand. Recently, under the leadership of Drs. Hunter Blakely and Marshall Dendy, the Board of Christian Education is in the process of securing a Secretary of Church Vocations Recruiting, whose primary responsibility will be to co-ordinate and stimulate such a program. This Secretary can work directly in relation to other Assembly agencies, and to seminaries, colleges, Westminster Foundations, and Youth Conferences. But much recruiting needs to be done on the level of local congregations, which are the "grass roots source of supply."

In relation to this program, committees of synods and presbyteries which are most closely related to this need can be of valuable service immediately by initiating procedures whereby local pastors and sessions, in increasing numbers, may be led to set up active Committees on Recruiting for Church Vocations in general and for the ministry in particular. Our Church must either recruit or face the alternative of compromising its historic policy of having an educated ministry.

II. Faculty: Within the next five years, 4 faculty members will reach retirement. With their replacement and the expansion of the faculty to about twice its present size within ten years, the seminary faces a major opportunity and responsibility. A combined Faculty-Board Committee on Faculty has already been at work on this important phase of strengthening the seminary. Along with other qualifications and objectives, the Board is seeking to stagger the faculty as to ages and to avoid the development of an ingrown faculty of too much sameness of ecclesiastical (US or UP-USA) and educational background.

Kenneth G. Phifer is completing his first year as Professor of Homiletics, and is considered a most valuable addition to the faculty. Successors to two of the earlier retiring members have already been elected—Reverend David A. Steere to succeed C. M. Hanna as Director of Student Field Work, and Albert Currie Winn to succeed Kenneth J. Foreman as Professor of Doctrinal Theology.

Two recent special activities of the faculty are noteworthy in the service of the church-at-large: (1) the participation of 4 members in the writing of The Layman's Commentary and (2) the teaching of two courses in Bible for laymen, which have been attended by 100 to 170 eager laymen and women.

III. Curriculum: In light of the findings of three recent major surveys of theological education—the so-called "Neibuhr Study," the "Blizzard Survey," and the "Morse Report" the faculty has our curriculum under critical study with a view to submitting to the Board its recommended revisions. Areas of major concern and consideration may be designated as follows:

1. More discerning and discriminating standards of admission of students.
2. More rigorous application of standards of progress, so as to guide into other Christian vocations at an earlier stage those students judged not to be adapted to an effective service in the ministry.
3. More effective use of the Biblical languages as tools of understanding.
4. Reconsideration of the proportion between required and elective courses.
5. Consideration of teaching procedures which throw more responsibility upon the student to acquire techniques and habits of independent study.
6. Discovery and adoption of procedures and policies calculated to achieve maximum balance (recognizing wide differences among individuals) between Field Work loads and classroom loads, and to realize a maximum reciprocal educational stimulus between Field Work and Class Work.

IV. New Campus-Plant Plans: After five years of frustration by two projected expressways, the seminary has contracted to purchase a beautiful tract of 38 acres in Cherokee Park, near the Baptist Seminary, as a campus site. Landscape and building architects are preparing plans with a view to the possibility of starting construction with funds available during the summer of 1960 and of moving to the new plant in the fall or winter of 1961. Toward this project estimated to cost around $4,000,000, we have in cash, securities, unpaid pledges, and bequests in process of settlement, a little more than $2,200,000. It is highly desirable that funds be secured for completion of this urgent project as rapidly as possible.

V. Long-Term Development Plans: With the acquisition of a new campus and plant, and the doubling of enrollment and faculty, a ten-year development plan has a goal of $9,000,000 in capital funds for both plant and endowment. Including plant funds raised to date and bequests in several wills recently probated (but subject to life interests of relatives), progress has been made toward this long-term plant and endowment objective to the extent of around $4,415,000.

VI. Current Finances: With an endowment fund of $2,418,925 and tuition fees and gifts of $154,742, the seminary is operating within its current budget of $305,653.

The projected budget for 1960-61 requires an increase of 9% in benevolences from controlling synods, as compared with actual receipts during the calendar year, 1959.

VII. Recommendations:

1. That local pastors and sessions be urged to give earnest heed to the opportunity and need for more consistent recruiting of candidates for the ministry.
2. That Committees on Candidates in presbyteries be requested to exercise care and discrimination in receiving candidates, especially in cases of older students, and to take steps to provide financial assistance in worthy cases of need.
3. That General Assembly express to the whole Church its concern for the strengthening and expanding of theological education to meet the pressing needs of a growing Church for more of the best possible ministerial leadership which can be recruited and educated.

REPORT OF UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

The Trustees of Union Theological Seminary in Virginia respectfully present this report to its controlling and affiliated courts concerning affairs for the year 1959-1960.

TRUSTEES

Union Theological Seminary is specifically related to and under the control of the Synods of Appalachia, North Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia. Trustees are nominated to the Board by these Synods. Under corporation law of the Commonwealth of Virginia the election of Trustees is vested in the Trustees themselves, but they may elect only persons nominated by the Synods.

As one of the four theological seminaries of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. Union Theological Seminary regularly submits to the General Assembly of the Church a report on its work for information.

On January 6, 1960 Wyndham B. Blanton, M.D., Chairman of the Board of Trustees, died. Over many years as Seminary physician, counselor, Trustee, and Board official Dr. Blanton gave generously of his wise perception, diligent industry, and contagious enthusiasm for the welfare of the Seminary. The entire Seminary community feels an acute sense of loss in his death.

STUDENT AFFAIRS

During the year 293 students have been enrolled in the Seminary as follows: Seniors, 62; Middlers, 77; Juniors, 78; Specials, 20; Interns, 14; and Graduate students, 42. It is interesting to note that this compares with a student enrollment during 1958-1959 for 289 students. The students come from 55 presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., from 15 synods, from 22 states, and from 8 foreign countries. Eleven denominations are represented in the Student Body, other than the Presbyterian Church, U.S. One hundred and thirty-four literary institutions provided the collegiate and university backgrounds for the students enrolled.

The general spirit and progress of the students during the year have been good.

On June 7, 1960 the Seminary will award five Th. D. degrees; 14 Th. M. degrees; 61 B.D. degrees, and one diploma. As usual these graduates of the Seminary will go into the work of the Church as pastors, missionaries at home and abroad, and chaplains in military service. Approximately fifteen men graduating this year will continue their studies in graduate schools. Some of these men anticipate performing their ministries as teachers in colleges and universities.

Five fellowships for graduate study were awarded to members of the Senior Class. The number of such awards is lower than has obtained in other years. The Faculty has judged that the monetary size of the awards should be increased in order to make it possible for the students distinguished by such awards to pursue their theological studies in the institutions of their choice. During recent years fellowship awards have involved $1,000.00. This year, and it is planned that the same scale shall obtain hereafter, the awards were for $1,500.00 each, a minimum amount needed for graduate study.

FACULTY AND INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAM

Once again, through the generosity of the Alumni of the Seminary, it has been the privilege of the Seminary to have an "Alumni Visiting Professor". This service has been performed by the Reverend James B. Torrance, a graduate of the University of Edinburgh and pastor of the Parish of Invergowrie, in Dundee, Scotland. Professor Torrance and his family have made a splendid place for themselves in the life of the Seminary. He has taught courses in New Testament Exegesis and Biblical Theology.

Following the program of sabbatic leaves inaugurated by the Seminary some years ago Professor William B. Oglesby, Jr., the Marthina DeFriece Professor of Pastoral Counseling, has been on leave for the second and third quarters of the academic year, and his leave will continue through the summer of 1960. He has been pursuing studies in the field of his responsibility in the Faculty and completing assignments in the Graduate School of the University of Chicago.

The Seminary gratefully notes that Professor Ernest Trice Thompson has been the Moderator of the General Assembly. In his duties as Moderator he has travelled extensively throughout the Church. In order to make this travel possible the Seminary relieved him of all responsibilities for teaching during the second quarter of the academic year. The courses ordinarily taught by Dr. Thompson in the quarter during which he was absent have been offered by "recorded lectures", commented upon and directed by an instructor. It has been interesting to note the student reaction to this new device in pedagogical procedure. While such classroom technique leaves much to be desired, the general reaction has been that for this interim such teaching of the courses has been adequate.

The Trustees of the Seminary are in the process of seeking additions to the Faculty. Especially will it be necessary in the next few years to add personnel in the Departments of History, Biblical Studies, and Systematic Theology. The pressures caused by an increasing enrollment mean that the members of our Faculty cannot possibly discharge their teaching assignments with the efficiency which they covet. In the light of this condition additions will be made as resources permit and as personnel becomes available.

The Trustees are happy to report that Dr. Benjamin Lacy Rose has been granted a Fellowship by the American Association of Theological Schools to pursue his studies in Homiletics during the whole of 1960-1961. In order to provide for courses which normally Dr. Rose would teach, Dr. Paul E. Scherer, distinguished minister in the Lutheran Church, and retiring professor of Preaching in Union Seminary in New York, will be the Alumni Guest Professor for the 1960-1961 session.

In its program of curriculum improvement the Faculty of the Seminary has decided that elementary Greek will be required of all entering degree candidates before their matriculation. This requirement will become effective for the 1960-1961 academic year. In order to meet the needs of candidates who have not had Greek in college, an intensive course in elementary Greek will be offered at the Seminary in the weeks immediately prior to the opening of the school term in September, 1960. The purpose of this decision is to relieve the curriculum of the necessity of teaching beginning courses in the Greek Language, so that entering Juniors can begin their theological study at a higher level of Biblical inquiry and can have the hours in the latter part of their seminary training which they wish and deserve for elective courses. It appears that approximately half of the entering Class will have to take the beginning Greek course prior to September, 1960.

The Sprunt Lecturer for 1959-1960 was Dr. Daniel Day Williams, Professor of Systematic Theology in the Faculty of Union Theological Seminary, New York. His subject was "The Christian Ministry and the Care of Souls". The Auxiliary Lecturers were: Dr. Theodore Parker Ferris, Rector of Trinity Church, Boston, speaking on "Preaching and The Pastoral Ministry"; and Dr. Floyd Vivian Filson, Dean and Professor of New Testament in McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, Illinois, speaking on "The Gospel in Acts". Additional guest lecturers have been brought to the Campus for convocations, for particular meetings with selected classes, and for consultations with groups of students.

One of the fundamental responsibilities of the Seminary is in the area of recruiting men for church vocations. In an attempt to hold before the youth of the Church the opportunities and obligations which are upon all churchmen for service to the Gospel of Christ, the Seminary, in cooperation with the Presbyterian School of Christian Education had a conference for high school students, enrolling approximately a hundred young men and women for the purpose of explaining the varieties of vocations which are within the Church.

Selected teams of Seminary students have visited some eighteen colleges and universities for the purpose of consulting with students about the ministry as a vocation. College and university students in groups up to a dozen have been brought to the Campus of the Seminary for six weekend visitations. Men coming to the Campus under these auspices meet with members of the Faculty, attend classes consult with students about what it means to be involved in seminary life and the attitudes of seminary students themselves with regard to "the call to the ministry". The Seminary happily cooperates with the other theological seminaries of the Church, with the Department of Christian Vocation of the Board of Christian Education, with the Presbyterian School of Christian Education, and with the personnel offices of the Assembly's agencies with reference to the importance of finding effective devices by which to challenge young people in our generation to invest their lives, under the prompting of God, in the enterprises of the Church.

During the year Professor James Luther Mays was inaugurated Professor of Biblical Studies and Professor John Haddon Leith was inaugurated Professor of Historical Theology.

The first of a projected series of bibliographical lectures to be scheduled at intervals over the next years was given by the Reverend Doctor J. K. S. Reid, head of the Department of Theology of the University of Leeds, England.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

The Seminary continues to feel a responsibility toward men who are actively engaged in the pastorate. Under the auspices of its program of "Continuing Education" 395 men have pursued specific courses of study. Three hundred and eight men are now working in the program of Directed Study, using one of the 32 courses available in this program and employing on a regular schedule the facilities of the Library and of the tape recording Library. Seventy men, directly from the pastorate, returned to the Campus for periods of two weeks of intensive study. These men were brought to the Campus in groups of five. They were given private studies in the Library. They had a conference each day with members of the Faculty about developments in theological studies generally. Seventeen men came to the Campus for a period of approximately five weeks of intensive study under the program known as "Summer Scholars".

The Seminary continues to operate its summer Clinics. The 1959 Clinics included particular training over a period of two weeks in the development of skills in preaching and in pastoral care. Eighty men from the pastorate returned to the Campus to participate in this study.

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS

At the end of the fiscal year, March 31, 1960, the Seminary had an operating surplus of $67.73. Church contributions from the four Synods were as follows:

	Calendar Year 1959	Fiscal Year April 1, 1959-March 31, 1960
Appalachia.....	$ 9,475.29	$ 9,249.49
North Carolina.....	44,180.96	45,594.15
Virginia.....	25,690.91	27,228.65
West Virginia.....	13,351.88	12,574.44
	$92,699.04	$94,646.73

The book value of endowment as of March 31, 1960, was $5,264,260.46, an increase in endowment during the year of $236,171.69.

The Trustees express their deep appreciation to all who support the cause of theological education in the Church, and particularly for the benefits which have accrued to Union Theological Seminary. It is the purpose of the Trustees to seek every possible way to enrich the life of the Seminary in its large responsibility to prepare men as heralds of the Gospel of Christ and as productive servants of the Church of today and tomorrow.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIANITY AND HEALTH

To the 1960 General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States

THE COMMITTEE'S ASSIGNMENT

According to the action taken by the General Assembly of 1956 creating the Permanent Committee on Christianity and Health, it is "charged with the responsibility of keeping this important area of our mission as a Church before our membership, and of providing positive help by encouraging the publication of articles, the publications of reviews of books and articles on this subject, the setting up of local and area groups and conferences which would have this subject as their concern, the encouraging of co-operation between clergy and physicians, and/or any other things which may seem to them appropriate" (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1956, Part I, p. 126).

THE BACKGROUND

Our assignment is not a simple one. As a matter of historical interest it is relevant to note that the original overture which requested the appointment of an ad interim committee to make a thorough study of the subject of healing recognized the complexity of the subject. The overture stated that while the theology and ethic of so-called "faith healing" or "divine healing" were sometimes questionable, if not contradictory and confusing, yet undoubtedly the Bible does give definite basis for belief in the power of faith with reference to healing (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1954, Part I, pp. 25, 26).

The Ad Interim Committee on Christianity and Health, which was appointed as a result of this overture, in its report the following year had this to say regarding the relationship of our Christian faith and health—spiritual, mental, and physical: "There has been a re-awakening of the Church's attention to this phase of its ministry which occupied such a prominent place in the New Testament times but which had, to say the least, been partially neglected in modern times. The very number and variety of the voices that have been raised and of the things that have been written and spoken has tended to create questions in the thinking of many people. . . . This unquestioning rush for help from any and every kind of source we take to be an indication that we in the Church should re-examine our ministry with a view to determining wherein we may have neglected not merely to meet the needs of people, but also to do what we are commissioned to do" (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1955, Part I, p. 135).

A re-reading of the reports of the Ad Interim Committee in 1955 and 1956 and of the Permanent Committee since 1957 shows that careful thought has been given to the formulation of sound theological statements and practical suggestions in the realm of the health of the whole man. While avoiding the excesses of some devotees of "faith-healing" on the one hand and the strictures of a purely rationalistic "science" on the other, the General Assembly from year to year has approved reports which stress the importance of a co-operative ministry of religion and medicine, inasmuch as the Christian Church holds as central a doctrine of the incarnation of God in human flesh in Jesus Christ and believes that the accustomed channels of the Holy Spirit's activity in our life are human minds and hands.

The very excellent reports of former committees are commended to the Church. We would call attention to the eight affirmations presented by the Ad Interim Committee in 1956, which have been re-affirmed in the thinking of the present Permanent Committee. The 1956 report also contains some excellent practical suggestions at its close (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1956, Part I, pp. 126, 127, 131, 132).

MEETINGS IN 1959—MAIN CONVICTIONS

Your Committee met twice in 1959, first on May 25 and again on November 16. Both meetings were held in Atlanta. At the May meeting the following action was taken:

"That the members of the Permanent Committee on Christianity and Health express to its retiring Chairman, the Reverend Wade H. Boggs, Jr., their appreciation for his leadership, his devotion to his duties as Chairman, and his wisdom in presiding over the deliberations of the Committee." We are deeply indebted to Dr. Boggs for his contribution as first Chairman of the Permanent Committee. A similar expression of gratitude is due the Reverend Charles E. S. Kraemer who was Chairman of the Ad Interim Committee. To them is owed a large measure of the credit, humanly speaking, for the progress that has been made in co-ordinating and effectuating the interest in the ministry of healing which was present in the Church and in stimulating further interest.

The considerations which have guided us in our thinking may perhaps be summarized as three main convictions:

1. God is the healer. He alone is the giver and Lord of life, and it is His power that maintains and restores health.
2. Man is a unit. He is commonly referred to today as a "psycho-physical organism," which is one way of calling attention to the fact that his being is complex and that those who would serve as agents of God's healing of the body must take account also of the mind and, to use a religious term, of the soul.
3. In healing man therefore, God commonly works through the medical team which brings to focus the God-given resources known to medicine, surgery, psychiatry, and psychology, allied with Christian faith and prayer.

CO-OPERATION OF FAITH AND SCIENCE

In the Upper Room Jesus said to His disciples, "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father" (John 14:12). We are convinced that the skills of physician, surgeon, and pharmacist are gifts of the Spirit of Truth who proceeds from Father and Son, along with the gifts of faith and prayer which are commonly recognized as spiritual. In contrast to the approach of Christian Science and certain "faith-healers" who shun doctors we urge that Christian faith use the means of grace which God has provided for the achievement of healing. The Christian relies on proper food for the nourishment of the body. It is not inconsistent with religious faith therefore to use proper medication or surgery when indicated. "The vast majority of Christians today recognize in the advances of scientific medicine the open hand of a gracious God, and accept as from Him the ministrations of doctors and nurses" (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1955, Part I, p. 137).

The choice then is not between faith and science. For many years our medical missionaries in the foreign field have used both. The Christian doctor, believing as he does that Jesus Christ is the Great Physician, does not refuse the use of the finest medical knowledge in the service of his compassion, but rather conscripts the best arts of science to speed the process of healing. With more of science there need not be less of faith,—indeed the greater our faith the more likely become greater achievements in scientific knowledge. The biologist, the anatomist, and the chemist, as men of faith, are "thinking God's thoughts after Him."

Steadfastly maintaining that use of the physician's skill is not a denial of faith yet we would stress that medical science alone is not enough. It is the whole man who becomes ill, not just his body alone or his mind alone. Emotions which are so often a factor in illness are related intimately to man's thoughts, and his thoughts are intimately related to his spiritual life. In the New Testament the word which means "heal" also means "save." While further differentiation is necessary, since salvation in the eschatological sense is more than healing, ultimately must not the "Healer" be the "Saviour"? Basic to any sound approach to this whole subject of Christianity and health is recognition of the relatedness of the concepts of salvation and health and wholeness. Therefore the Church is concerned in the matter.

THE CONTRIBUTION OF THE CHURCH

Human science apart from God is truncated and incomplete, and the missing factor which is needed for the achievement of man's true wholeness may be found in the keeping of the Church. We are discovering anew what was committed to us as a part of our calling. When Jesus took action to perpetuate His work "he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach, and to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils . . ." (Mark 3:14, 15). When He sent the Seventy on their mission to the cities and places where He would come, He said, "... heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you" (Luke 10:9). As evidence to John the Baptist in prison that He was truly the Christ, Jesus pointed to His works of healing (Matthew 11:4-6). As His representatives on earth today we are empowered to carry on a dual mission: to preach and to heal. Our report of a year ago said, "... the ministry of healing is a part of the Church's commission" (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1959, p. 154).

It is important for our Church to recognize the terms of its trust and to fulfill them. It is cause for gratification that whereas we have always maintained the ministry of preaching we are placing new stress today on the ministry of healing, seeking by all the means available to strengthen the co-operative efforts of those who work for the healing of spirit and mind and body. It is the specific function of the Church to bring to this co-operative venture the resources of faith in God and of prayer.

Much is being said and written in medical circles these days pointing up the relationship between mental or emotional states and physical disease. The Open Church Foundation of Gloucester, Massachusetts, reports that a four-months' survey by Doctors Stockle, Davidson, and Weinberger at the Out-Patient Clinic of Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston indicated that 80 per cent of all patients who came to the Clinic had no organic illness related to the symptoms they reported and that 84 per cent of those seen had psychiatric problems. One of the medical doctors on our committee says that about 75 per cent of admissions to clinics prove to have disorders which are due to disturbed nervous systems. This, he feels, is the point at which faith could relate most helpfully to the whole person. A successful and widely sought endocrinologist is reported to have said that most of our problems originate in our minds. In a magazine article Robert H. Felix, M.D., then Director of the National Institute of Mental Health and President-Elect of the American Psychiatric Association, pointed out that severe or prolonged emotional stress from any cause can produce physical illness. Under stress the adrenal cortex secretes larger amounts of a hormone called hydrocortisone. If the stress continues or is especially intense the adrenal cortex gets bigger, and if the stress continues for a very long time the gland may become exhausted and unable to produce any hydrocortisone at all, thus bringing about a very damaging physical change. It is by bringing confidence and interior peace that Christian faith may function perhaps most effectively to safeguard or restore health.

This belief is motivating leaders in the movement toward partnership between medicine and religion. Mention should be made of the Council for Clinical Pastoral Training, Inc. (of which three of our Presbyterian, U. S., seminaries are members) and the Institute of Pastoral Care. In addition to what is being done in our own seminaries we would point out what other efforts are being made in the Southeast. The work being done at North Carolina Baptist Hospital under the Reverend Richard K. Young in training hospital chaplains and also pastors for more effective ministry to the sick is described in the book by Clarence W. Hall, Spiritual Therapy: Modern Medicine's Newest Ally (condensed in Reader's Digest, September 1959, pp. 246-266). (Though spiritual therapy is actually not a new ally of healing, it may perhaps more truly be said that modern medicine is spiritual therapy's newest ally.) In this connection it is noted that good work is also being done at such places as Louisville Medical Center under John H. Boyle, Wayne E. Oates, and Samuel Southard, and at Texas Medical Center in Houston at the Institute of Religion, of which Dawson C. Bryan is Director. It is hoped that more and more of the clergymen and doctors of our denomination will avail themselves of the opportunities afforded by such centers. It is the privilege of the Church to be at work on the advancing frontiers of health. Christian faith has a contribution to make for which nothing else can substitute. The Reverend Granger E. Westberg, D.D., writing in The Pharos, Alpha Omega Alpha Medical Fraternity journal for October 1959, had this to say, "The medical center is the ideal place for the young minister and the young doctor to get acquainted early in their training in order that they may see how much overlapping occurs in their two fields" (p. 221).

SOME COMMON-SENSE MATTERS

The subject of the relation of Christianity and health is not rounded out unless we mention some common-sense matters which should not be overlooked. Our religion is at work in building and maintaining sound health as we practice wise habits of eating, exercising, and resting. Faith and prayer can be no substitute for proper diet, wholesome recreation, and adequate sleep. The cultivation of a healthful regimen for living will involve attention to these common-place things which are ignored to our peril. Those who are truly interested in health will give serious thought also to such matters as the use of beverage alcohol, tobacco, and narcotics. Intemperance leads to the dissipation of precious mental and physical resources and usually brings the onset of definite disease.

OTHER PRESBYTERIAN EFFORTS

While seeking to foster in our own denomination the growing interest in health, your Committee has watched with interest the activity of the Special Committee on the Relation of Christian Faith to Health, the United Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, of which the Reverend Paul C. Warren of Baltimore is Chairman. The report of this Special Committee to their General Assembly in 1959 is worthy of perusal. Noting that health is the whole man at his best, the report makes two important observations, frankly stating that in their ministry to the sick the clergy have not always brought the competence which the man of science expects, and, on the other hand, those doctors whose only preparation for their career has been their scientific training have not always been aware of the part played by moral and spiritual problems in sickness. While not wishing to claim too much for "spiritual healing" our brothers in the other Church believe our generation is on the threshold of great discoveries in the realm of the Spirit. We await with interest the complete report which this Committee will make to their 172nd General Assembly this year.

A PROGRAM OF ACTION

The previous work of our Ad Interim and Permanent Committees having laid the theological and philosophical ground-work, your Committee has now moved into a phase of increased practical activity. At our meeting last May suggestions for study and action made by the Standing Committee on Christianity and Health of the 1959 General Assembly were grouped as follows:

1. The Covenant Community a healing community.
2. The relation of Biblical healing and healing today.
3. The problem of mental health and the possibility of establishing a closer relationship between the ministry of the Church and the practice of psychiatry, including exploration of the work of the Academy of Religion and Mental Health.
4. Development of materials dealing with the problem of alcoholism.
5. The Church's responsibility in the area of gerontology.
6. Along with these other items, a concern with the following:
 - a) The possibility of introducing into medical schools and schools of nursing courses of instruction to draw doctors, nurses, and ministers into mutual understanding of and closer co-operation in all common problems.
 - b) Ways in which ministers and hospital administrators may work out more effectively their mutual responsibilities.
 - c) Preparation of public services of intercession and thanksgiving to be used in connection with the sick and their families.

Thus far we have not been able in so short a time to do something about all of these suggestions. However, the following efforts can be reported. At the May meeting:

1. Plans were completed for promoting throughout the General Assembly local meetings of pastors and physicians which would serve to unite the members of the two professions in a more effective collaboration. In August our pastors received a letter suggesting such meetings and enclosing a pamphlet entitled "Pastor and Physicians Working Together" which outlined a suggested procedure for a meeting of the pastor with physicians in his church or community. Materials for study were made available through the Office of the General Assembly, including former reports of Committees. By Christmas there were 514 replies requesting materials. In January of this year another letter went out asking for reports on what was being done locally, with an evaluation and comment. By the end of the month 268 responses had been received, with 80 of these indicating meetings or other activities involving pastors and physicians. Further information on this phase of the work will be given below.
2. A paper entitled, "The Covenant Community a Healing Community," was presented by Thomas H. McDill, one of the Committee. This is a working paper which will continue under study with a view to its application in the various fields of service represented in the Committee, or in the fields of others who may read the paper.

3. Plans were made with the Publicity Department of the General Council for a bulletin cover which would carry on the back the "Eight Affirmations" concerning Christianity and Health adopted by the General Assembly. This bulletin was in wide use throughout the Church on December 6, 1959.
4. Inasmuch as the question of human suffering is before us in any discussion of religion and health, a sub-committee of three was appointed to prepare papers which would wrestle with the problem of pain in an attempt to define the uses of such adversity and to examine the query whether disease is something to be endured for its character-building value or whether it is an intruder to be expelled.
5. Two articles were suggested as possibilities for Presbyterian Survey, one by a former committee-member and one by a local pastor.

At the November meeting the Committee dealt with the following matters:

1. Concerning public services of intercession for healing and thanksgiving for answered prayer it was hoped that the committees now at work on revision of our standards might take this need under advisement. The Chairman has written to a representative from our Church on the joint committee with the UPUSA Church working on revision of The Book of Common Worship and to the Chairman of our Church's Ad Interim Committee on Revision of The Book of Church Order to urge that consideration be given to the matter.
2. Two papers on the problem of pain were read. Progress toward resolving the dilemma involved, or at least toward accepting the necessary paradox, was noted. One paper is to be revised for further study at the next meeting with perhaps a third contribution, in the hope that the conclusions will be of value to the Church.
3. A conference similar to the one held at Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, August 2 and 3, 1956, was planned for July 14-16, 1960, at Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur. This would bring together ministers, physicians, and interested laymen on an invitational basis to discuss questions relevant to the concerns of your Committee. In this way it is believed real progress may be made in some of the areas referred to us by the last General Assembly. A sub-committee composed of Thomas H. McDill, Lila Bonner Miller, and Allison F. Williams is in charge of plans for this conference.
4. The Academy of Religion and Mental Health was reported upon and was discussed with interest. The attention of the Assembly is called to the fact that certain of its publications and services may be of benefit to physicians and ministers.
5. As touching psychiatry it was agreed that mental health should constantly be our concern but should not be separated from other aspects of the health of the whole person.
6. Regarding alcoholism, Lila Bonner Miller, M.D., and William E. Knight, M.D., will write up the procedures which they followed in programs on this subject. The Board of Women's Work and the Division of Men's Work are to be requested to plan programs, for which the Committee will submit suggestions.
7. The field of gerontology was named for possible inclusion in the program for the July conference. It is expected that much help in this whole area may be forthcoming from the newly created Division of Homes and Christian Welfare of the Board of Church Extension.

REPORT ON ACTIVITIES THROUGHOUT OUR CHURCH

In January 1960 a letter was sent to all of our pastors asking for a report on activities involving physicians and pastors at the local level. Figures must be incomplete because of the early dead-line for inclusion of our report in the Blue Book, but by the end of the month 80 men had indicated definite activity within their congregations or communities, and 38 others had specified plans for the near future. There were 88 more who expressed a hearty interest in a program of this sort. Some of those reporting no meetings gave the reason that there were no doctors in their congregations and, in some cases, none even in their communities. There were additional instances of groups of ministers who had heard lectures by physicians on related matters.

It is difficult to single out examples of what is being done throughout our Church. Patterns vary widely, the nature of the program being adapted to the situation. Generally it would seem that the Synod of North Carolina is taking the lead. For instance at Tarboro the Ministerial Association sponsored a meeting of 9 physicians and 15 ministers leading to the establishment of a volunteer chaplaincy program at the local hospital. The meeting was preceded by an afternoon session attended by the ministers and conducted by Richard K. Young. The success of the effort is indicated by the fact that the hospital staff unanimously adopted the program outlined by Dr. Young. It is interesting to note that 5 of the participating doctors were Presbyterians.

Grace Covenant Church in Richmond, one of the seven churches originally chosen to test and shape the material included in the pamphlet, "Pastor and Physicians Working Together," reported that at their meeting, of the 16 physicians who were then members of the congregation, 14 were present and the other 2 were obstetricians who were busy at the hospital at the time of meeting. The program was said to be very helpful to all.

From Dallas (through Churchill Way Church) comes word of plans to offer supervisory help to ministers who encounter problems in their counseling work by the establishment of a "Consultation Clinic" with perhaps six or eight physicians and psychiatrists, at least one clinical psychologist, and a social worker. A monthly instructional period will be afforded pastors.

Still choosing almost at random since we cannot touch on all of the fine reports, we would mention large efforts like that at Louisville reported by the Highland Church, which involved 210 physicians and 60 ministers, and the excellent program at Augusta which began in 1952, reported by our chaplain at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Excellent success has been attained at such places as Whiteville, N. C., with 17 physicians and 23 ministers coming together. From Kannapolis, N. C., Second Presbyterian reports a meeting of 30 physicians and 30 ministers in a forum on the role of the minister and physician in the treatment of the patient, a supper meeting with group discussion and question period.

The church, the hospital, and the college come to focus in a three-fold study at Banner Elk, N. C. under the Edgar Tufts Memorial Association, with the entire staff of Grace Hospital committed and the local pastor and college faculty of Lees-McRae participating.

After inter-professional contacts at Memphis comes the observation, "The general opinion of the doctors was that the right sort of minister is the best ally of the doctors in the healing ministry."

At Nashville a group of ministers meet about twice a month with the staff of the Nashville Mental Health Center.

At Orlando a worthwhile preliminary effort was sponsored by the Ministerial Association in conjunction with the County Mental Health Society with Russell L. Dicks as speaker. There is hope of a program also with the County Medical Society.

In one sizable community a series of six meetings drew a large number of physicians and pastors. The successive topics were: the general relationships between the professions; what each expects of the other (including also the view-point of the hospital administrator); the problem of alcoholism; how to deal with the aging; the question of terminal illness; and the last, a practical note, planning for a full-time chaplain at the 750-bed city-county hospital.

And so from all over the Assembly comes news of fruitful contacts and discussions, from Appalachia, South Carolina, West Virginia, Mississippi, Alabama, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri. The meetings are not limited to large congregations or large communities,—instances were reported where one pastor and one physician sat down to study the materials together. The important thing is that our Church is at work on a wide front advancing the insights and mutual understanding which will make our healing ministries more effective. A significant venture in the immediate future at the time of the writing of this report was the Workshop on Ministering to the Sick on February 11 at Charlotte, sponsored by the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Ministers' Association and directed by David E. Wilkinson, Chaplain at Presbyterian Hospital.

OTHER MATTERS OF INTEREST

Mention should be made of the fact that a member of our Committee, Thomas H. McDill, has had a number of book reviews and articles published during the past year. Among the articles are "Religion Looks at Alcoholism" in The Alabama Challenge, Vol. I, No. 3, July-September 1959 (Alabama Commission on Alcoholism), and "Books in Pastoral Psychology—1959" in Pastoral Psychology, a national magazine devoted to furthering the insights of ministers and students of personality into answers for human problems. The latter article is a selected, descriptive list of the most significant books in the field published in 1959. Wade H. Boggs, Jr., former Chairman of the Committee, is continuing to speak and write in this field. The January-February 1959 issue of The Town and Country Church (National Council of Churches) carries the address he made at a seminar on Christianity and Health at the Town and Country Ministers' Meeting held in Louisville October 22 and 23, 1959.

It is gratifying that Richard K. Young of Winston-Salem who has done so much in North Carolina to promote a more effective collaboration of the healing professions will be one of the speakers at the Bible Conference in Montreat in August.

THE GREAT PHYSICIAN

In closing our report we would use the words of Paul Tillich which beautifully express the distinctive possession of the Christian Church, faith in the Great Physician in whose name we ask for healing and in the power of whose Spirit we exercise our ministry:

"Only a new reality can make us whole, breaking into the old one, reconciling it with itself. It is the humanly incredible, ecstatic, often defeated, but never conquered faith of Christianity that this new reality which was always at work in history, has appeared in fullness and power in Jesus, the Christ, the Healer and Savior. This is said of Him because He alone does not give another law for thought or action, because He does not cut off anything or suppress anything that belongs to life, but because He is the reality of reconciliation, because in Him a new reality has come upon us in which we and our whole existence are accepted and reunited. We know even when we confess this faith, that the old reality of conflict and disease has not disappeared. Our bodies ail and die, our souls are restless, our world is a battlefield of individuals and groups. But the new reality cannot be thrown out. We live from it, even if we do not know it. For it is the power of reconciliation whose work is wholeness and whose name is love" (Paul Tillich, The New Being, Charles Scribner's Sons, New York, 1955, pp. 41, 42. Used by permission).

RECOMMENDATIONS

Your Committee submits the following recommendations:

1. That the Permanent Committee on Christianity and Health be authorized to continue its functions under the terms of the assignment given it by the General Assembly in 1956.
2. That the Office of the General Assembly continue to make available to the Church copies of former reports of the Committees on Christianity and Health, together with related materials now on hand.
3. That the Committee be empowered to proceed with plans for a conference in Decatur, Georgia, on July 14-16, 1960, which would create an opportunity for inter-disciplinary discussion by members of the various professions concerned with healing.
4. That the Committee be authorized to send out this year such mailings as it deems necessary to keep its concerns before the Church.
5. That the General Assembly, through its Standing Committee on Christianity and Health and through its other commissioners, give your Committee the benefit of your suggestions and the support of your prayers.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL S. WILEY, Chairman.

STANDING RULES

1. ORGANIZATION

(1) The normal date for the annual meeting of the General Assembly shall be the fourth Thursday in April. The Committee on Assembly Operation will select the place of meeting after opportunity has been given to those who wish to extend invitations. The Committee shall select places in different parts of the Church from time to time when circumstances seem to warrant it. In the event of an emergency which prevents the meeting at the place selected, the Moderator shall designate a place of meeting.

(2) The General Assembly shall be self-entertaining.

(3) The Assembly shall be opened with a sermon preached by the retiring Moderator. The Lord's Supper will be observed after the sermon at 11 o'clock a.m. Sunday.

Nominations for Moderator shall be received but only one speech not exceeding ten minutes in length nominating a commissioner for Moderator shall be made; and only one speech seconding a nomination not exceeding five minutes in length shall be made.

(5) After all nominations have been made and seconded, the Assembly shall proceed to the election of a Moderator in the following manner: If more than one commissioner is nominated, the election shall be by ballot. The Stated Clerk shall have suitable blank ballots prepared and cause same to be distributed among the commissioners for use in the election. The Stated Clerk shall appoint two tellers to count and tabulate the vote and report the tabulation to him. The ballots of the enrolled commissioners shall be collected and delivered to the tellers by commissioners appointed by the presiding officer for such purpose. If there are more than two nominees and no nominee receives a majority of the votes cast, a second ballot shall be called; but all of the nominees except the two receiving the largest number of votes shall be dropped on the second ballot. An election shall be declared by the Moderator when a nominee shall have received a majority of the votes cast by the commissioners present and voting. As soon as the Moderator shall have been elected, he shall assume his duties as Moderator.

(6) In the election of the Moderator the tellers shall retire to an anteroom and count the ballots, bringing back the results to the Assembly.

2. THE MODERATOR

(1) The Moderator shall preside at all sessions of the Assembly except when he may temporarily invite a commissioner to act as Presiding Officer; he shall appoint all committees unless the Assembly otherwise prescribes; he shall call the succeeding Assembly to order and preside over its sessions until a Moderator is elected as provided by the rules in the Book of Church Order.

The General Assembly shall provide funds to defray expenses such as: (a) Travel and entertainment on such itineraries. (b) The necessary compensation for a substitute, or substitutes, to carry on the regular duties of the Moderator's normal task, the maximum of such compensation to be at the rate of $600 per month.

(5) All invitations and arrangements relating to such itineraries shall be made through the Office of the General Assembly to the end that the Moderator's time be not dissipated, but that it may be devoted economically to the best interests of the church-at-large.

The Committee on Assembly Operation is allowed to nominate the Stated Clerk to the General Assembly with the understanding that further nominations are always in order. He shall perform all the duties required of him by the Book of Church Order and by the Standing Rules of the Assembly and such other duties as may be imposed on him by the Assembly.

The General Assembly of 1955 abolished the office of Assistant Stated Clerk and the Stated Clerk was given the privilege of nominating to the Committee on Assembly Operation for its approval an Assistant to the Stated Clerk.

(a) The Stated Clerk shall list all communications and present them in an orderly manner, suggesting the proper reference and, when necessary, suggesting the time for the consideration of each communication.

(c) He shall be ex officio Treasurer of the Assembly, and shall receive all funds. He shall pay out funds only on order of the Assembly. He shall make full statement of receipts and disbursements annually to the Assembly. He shall also serve as Treasurer of the General Fund and Inter-Church Agencies.

(2) The salary of the Stated Clerk shall be determined by the Committee on Assembly Operation. The same rule applies to the Assistant to the Stated Clerk and all other staff members.

(3) In event the office of Stated Clerk becomes vacated for any reason, the Committee on Assembly Operation shall nominate to the Moderator a person to serve as Acting Stated Clerk, and after consideration of such nomination, the Moderator shall appoint an Acting Stated Clerk to perform the duties of the Stated Clerk until his successor has been elected and qualified to serve.

4. BLUE BOOK

(1) All reports of permanent committees except reports printed by the various agencies, all ad interim committees and special committees and all reports of outside organizations which make an annual report to the Assembly shall be delivered to the Stated Clerk of the Assembly by February 1, and all overtures by February 25 in each year; provided further, no overture received by such Stated Clerk after April 10 shall be referred to or considered by such meeting of the General Assembly convening in April of that year.

(2) The Stated Clerk shall print in the Blue Book the reports of all permanent committees, except those submitting printed reports, all ad interim committees and reports of such outside bodies as make an annual report, and select committees. He shall also print the overtures, having previously classified and numbered them for presentation to the Assembly. He shall also print a full and complete docket in the Blue Book, which shall be the docket for the Assembly each year.

(3) The Stated Clerk shall prepare a manual for the benefit of new commissioners, particularly laymen, to be printed in the Blue Book. It shall include sections on (a) how the Assembly operates; (b) the most used parliamentary rules; (c) the duties and responsibilities of each standing committee; (d) hints and comments that will be helpful.

5. STANDING COMMITTEES

(1) The number of standing committees shall be limited as follows: Bills and Overtures; Judicial Business; Assembly Operation; General Council; World Missions; Church Extension; Christian Education; Annuities and Relief; Women's Work; Inter-Church

Relations; Presbyterian Survey; Christian Relations; Christianity and Health; Television, Radio and Audio-Visuals, and Minister and His Work.

(2) The planned docket for Friday and Saturday mornings—a total of eight hours—shall be set aside for the meetings of the Standing Committees.

(3) The Standing Committees shall be named in the following manner:

Prior to the meeting of the General Assembly the Stated Clerk shall conduct a drawing through which each commissioner shall be placed on a standing committee in as fair and equitable manner as possible. The mechanics of the operation shall be as follows:

(a) Each commissioner shall fill in a printed 3 x 5 card, showing his first, second, third and fourth choices among the standing committees. (Alternates will have to accept the choice of their predecessors if the drawings have been completed.)

(b) As soon as a full list of commissioners is in hand, the Stated Clerk shall mail to each commissioner a Choice of Standing Committee card.

(c) The Stated Clerk shall set the date by which the choice cards shall be returned to the Office of the Stated Clerk.

(d) Three weeks before the Assembly, the Stated Clerk shall conduct a drawing. The total number of commissioners shall be divided by the number of committees to ascertain the number of men who will serve on each. As each name is drawn, the sequence number shall be written on a card, and the card placed in the first choice shown. When the quota is reached by any committee, the second choice on the card drawn will dictate the particular committee. If the quota for the second choice is filled, then the card shall be placed with the third choice of the particular commissioner and so on.

(e) No more than one minister and one layman from a presbytery shall be placed on a particular committee; if such occurs in the drawing the next choice shown on the card shall be honored.

(f) The drawing shall provide for equal lay and ministerial membership on the committees.

(g) The last cards drawn, and the cards of those whose committee choices are for committees already filled, shall be used to fill the quotas of other committees.

(h) Two weeks before the General Assembly meets, the Stated Clerk shall mail the cards back to the individual commissioners. The cards will show the sequence number in the drawing and the committee to which he is assigned.

(i) Chairmen of Standing Committees shall be appointed by the retiring Moderator.

(4) No partial report from a standing committee, except from the Committees on Judicial Business and Inter-Church Relations, shall be received by the Assembly without the consent of the Assembly. All reports of committees shall be typewritten in three copies by the Assembly's stenographers; and proofread by the chairman of the committee reporting. The duties of the chairman of a committee shall not be completed until he has edited carefully his committee's report, after it is typewritten, for errors in phraseology and grammar, and shall have filed the required number of copies of the report with the Stated Clerk. The chairman of each committee shall also, after the Assembly shall have acted on the report presented by him, incorporate therein at the proper place each amendment made by the Assembly to the report.

(5) The report of a standing committee to the Assembly shall be as brief and concise as the recommendations of a committee will permit. The report shall contain a brief preamble of the questions acted on by the committee and the conclusions and recommendations of the committee. Extracts and quotations from reports of an executive committee, a permanent committee, or an ad interim committee shall be avoided except when required to make the report intelligible. Overtures shall be answered by reference to the number of the overture and a brief statement of its substance.

(6) The policy of the Assembly shall be to have official representatives of its agencies present during all Standing Committee meetings for consultative purposes, except at those times when in the judgment of the committees an "executive session" is demanded; to that end the agencies of the Assembly are instructed to have, in addition to the executives, at least one official representative present for such meetings with the committees from among the members of the boards and agencies. (1952, p. 96).

6. BUDGET AND AUTHORIZED EXPENDITURES

(1) The Committee on Assembly Operation shall make an estimate of the probable expenses of the Assembly based upon an estimated budget of expenses submitted by the Treasurer and recommend per capita dues to cover the same.

(2) All requests or recommendations for appropriation for expenses of any organization or council which shall come to the Assembly shall be placed in the hands of this committee. It shall make a full report, recommending in detail the items for which funds are requested, which report, if adopted, the items recommended shall be paid by the Treasurer of the Assembly. A recommendation that the budget of estimated expenses submitted by the Standing Committee on Assembly Operation be adopted shall carry the authority for payment of the items in said report.

(3) The audits of all boards, divisions and permanent committees, trustees and treasurer of the Assembly shall be submitted to this standing committee for approval. All proposed standing rules or changes in standing rules shall be submitted for approval before adoption by the Assembly.

The Treasurer shall pay annually without any further special orders from the Committee on Assembly Operation:

(a) The expenses of the chairman of an ad interim or permanent committee in attending the Assembly shall be paid by the Assembly when the committee of which he is chairman vote that the report is of sufficient importance as to require the attendance of the chairman and when the committee shall so notify the Stated Clerk.

(b) The expenses of our representatives to the National Council of Churches (General Board and General Assembly), World Council of Churches, and World Presbyterian Alliance. The Treasurer is directed to set aside each year the amount of $2,000 for the payment of these expenses. This fund shall be cumulative.

(c) The designated funds embraced within the General Fund and Interchurch Agencies.

7. OVERTURES

(1) The Stated Clerk shall pass on routine overtures received by him as a matter of course. Any overtures affecting ecclesiastical rules and polity should be referred by him to the Permanent Judicial Committee prior to the meeting of the Assembly in order that the Permanent Judicial Committee may give to the standing committee considering the overtures its judgment concerning the background in polity and rules of the church with which the overtures may be concerned.

(2) Under each overture printed in the Blue Book the name of the standing committee to which it is referred as recommended by the Stated Clerk shall be published. If there is no objection, they shall be referred as a whole, as recommended, without formal vote on the part of the General Assembly.

(3) No overture will be considered by the Assembly until it has first been presented to a presbytery or a synod. If the overture is approved by a presbytery or a synod it will then come before the Assembly as an overture from that presbytery or synod. If the overture is rejected by the presbytery or the synod, it may then be presented to the Assembly, but the fact that it has been presented to a presbytery or a synod must be clearly stated on the overture.

See also Standing Rule 4 (1).

8. LISTING AND REFERRING REPORTS

(1) In like manner he shall list and present without reading all reports of permanent committees (except those presenting printed reports), ad interim and special committees (all of which are printed in full in the Blue Book), which shall be referred to proper standing committees or disposed of immediately as the Assembly may elect. In case these reports are to be considered directly by the Assembly, the Stated Clerk shall suggest a time on the docket when each report shall be considered.

(2) If the chairman or representative of a permanent, ad interim or special committee wishes to be heard in connection with the report, such privilege shall be limited to a statement not to exceed five minutes, and in no case shall a report which is in printed form be read in full.

(3) Secretaries of boards, divisions and others with printed reports shall present these reports directly to their respective standing committees.

(4) The annual statistical reports from the presbyteries shall be delivered to the Stated Clerk on or before February 15 of each year. The annual reports of the boards, and permanent committees shall all be bound together in a separate pamphlet for distribution, together with such other reports which the General Assembly may order to be bound with the annual reports. Synopses of these reports shall be omitted from the Appendix to the printed copy of the Minutes of the Assembly.

9. MEETINGS OF THE ASSEMBLY

(1) The Stated Clerk shall have charge of all arrangements for the meeting and entertainment of the Assembly. He shall secure, if possible, special railroad rates and accommodations and supervise all other matters for the comfort and convenience of the commissioners.

(See also Rule 1.)

The secretaries have the right to the floor of the Assembly in all matters pertaining to their service for the Church (Minutes General Assembly 1950, page 84, rec. 25 (b)).

10. COMMISSIONERS

(1) Items to be included in the expenses of the commissioners as chargeable to the Assembly shall be:

- a. The lowest railroad fare by direct route.
- b. Pullman fare.
- c. Cost of meals en route.
- d. Taxi fare and other incidental transportation.
- e. Auto travel at six cents per mile by direct route for driver; commissioners who are passengers in car driven by another commissioner receive two cents per mile which they are to transmit to the commissioner who provides transportation.
- f. Air travel in commercial planes at cost for distance of 400 miles or over.

(2) Presbyteries are requested to consider the advisability of electing lay commissioners for a term of two years; one-half of the commissioners to be elected each year, preferably at the fall meeting.

(3) Expense checks shall be paid to the commissioners only after attending the General Assembly through the adjournment of the concluding session. Any exception to this rule must be in the nature of an emergency, and the commissioner requesting an exception must present the case for his excuse to the Stated Clerk of the Assembly or its designated agent in such matters for ratification and consent.

11. PROGRAM COMMITTEE

(1) The Program Committee shall consist of the Moderator, the Moderator of the preceding Assembly, the Stated Clerk, and in the event the Assembly meets in a church, the pastor of the church entertaining the Assembly. This committee shall act as a Steering Committee and shall present to the Assembly each morning an order of procedure for the day.

(2) The Program Committee shall prepare a tentative docket for the General Assembly embracing all the business expected to come before the Assembly, and including all popular and inspirational features. All requests for addresses before the General Assembly shall be presented first to this committee.

(3) The Program Committee shall act as a steering committee for the Assembly and recommend necessary changes in the docket as the need arises. As far as possible all requested changes in the docket shall be presented to the Assembly through the Program Committee. Recommendations for such changes shall ordinarily be presented by the Program Committee at the beginning of the morning or afternoon sessions.

(4) The docket shall be planned by the Program Committee for a period of from three and a half to four days, excluding Sunday.

(5) The planned docket for each day shall be limited to four hours in the morning, four hours in the afternoon, and one and one-half hours in the evening, a total of nine and one-half hours.

(6) All inspirational features or addresses shall be placed on the evening program (excepting on Sunday), and the daytime be devoted entirely to business.

(7) The Assembly, having for its chief business the consideration of the interests that are vital to its own growth and development, instructs its Program Committee not to arrange for more than one speaker for each outside body which desires to be heard on any matter not vital to full and correct understanding of its own business and its relations to these bodies.

The Stated Clerk is instructed to send a copy of this action to all persons and bodies outside the Assembly who may make request for time to present their interests.

12. PRINTED MINUTES

(1) The official minutes of a court are the original minutes prepared by the Temporary Clerk or the Assistant Clerk, adopted by the court and signed by the Stated Clerk. If the Stated Clerk, before signing the original minutes discovers that the copy of these original minutes prepared by the Temporary or Assistant Clerk in typewritten or written form for use of the Stated Clerk in printing the minutes is incorrect by reason of any clerical oversight or typographical error, he shall be authorized to make such corrections as shall make the typewritten or written copy correspond in all respects with the original minutes or notes from which such typewritten or written forms was prepared.

Further, if it be discovered that in the printed copy of the minutes there are certain typographical errors which make the printed minutes of the court vary from the original minutes adopted by the court and signed by the Stated Clerk, the Stated Clerk shall give official notice through the press or through the court concerned of the typographical errors, which notice shall be sufficient authority for those possessing copies of the printed minutes to make the printed copy correspond with the original minutes.

(2) The Stated Clerk is authorized to revise the phraseology of all papers adopted by the General Assembly and to make corrections in the spelling of proper names, initials, the totals of figures and other minor changes, provided that in no case shall he so change the phraseology as to alter the meaning. The minutes, as finally approved by the General Assembly, shall in no case be altered or changed by the Stated Clerk.

(3) The Stated Clerk is authorized in printing the various reports of our seminaries, for the sake of economy, to leave out the less essential matter, and to print only the heart and substance of each report.

(4) The Stated Clerk is instructed to send a copy of the Minutes to each minister, licentiate and to the rising seniors and graduates of our theological seminaries, to the ruling elder commissioners who attend the Assembly, to the foreign missionaries whose membership is in foreign presbyteries, to all the members of the General Council, to all the Trustees of the General Assembly, to the Libraries of all our Church colleges, and to the stated clerk of each presbytery and synod.

13. GENERAL PROVISIONS

(1) Limitation of Debate

In the consideration of any question before the Assembly, no commissioner shall speak more than once on the question until all others who desire to speak on the question have been given an opportunity to speak. Each recommendation in a committee's report shall be considered a separate question. The chairman or the member of a committee presenting a report shall have the right to speak when presenting a report, to answer interrogations addressed to him by consent of the Moderator and to conclude the debate on the pending question.

Except when the Assembly shall order otherwise, a time limit of ten minutes shall be allowed each speaker; a time limit of one hour for each side in a debate.

(2) Introduction of New Matter

No motion or resolution introducing new matters not already before the various committees shall be in order later than the afternoon session of Monday, except by special permission, and all such motions and resolutions introduced prior to that time are to be referred to the appropriate committees. This is not to be interpreted as infringing upon the right to make amendments or substitutions to any report brought to the floor of the Assembly after that time.

(3) Special Financial Appeals

All Assembly agencies shall ordinarily submit to the Budget Committee of the General Council all requests that contemplate special appeals for contributions from the churches, so that the Budget Committee can study each financial responsibility in the light of the whole program and make recommendation to the Assembly. (See also "Plans for Education and Promotion," below.)

Ad Interim Committees, when proposing the budgeting of benevolence funds, shall submit such requests to the General Assembly, through the Budget and Stewardship Committee, in advance of the Assembly which is to consider its proposals, so that the Budget and Stewardship Committee can study each financial responsibility in the light of the whole program, and make considered recommendations to the Assembly.

(4) Ad Interim Committees

The following rules shall govern the appointment of ad interim committees:

(a) Each overture or resolution requesting the appointment of an ad interim committee shall be referred to the appropriate standing committee.

(b) The standing committee shall recommend to the Assembly: First, whether an ad interim committee is needed; and, second, if needed, the naming of an existing agency which shall be instructed to make careful study of the question and report to the next Assembly. If it appears that the matter requires the appointment of a selected ad interim committee, the standing committee should so recommend.

(5) Permanent Committees

Members of permanent committees shall be nominated and elected in keeping with the plan adopted in recommendation 7 on Re-organization of the Assembly's Agencies. (Refer to Minutes of the General Assembly for 1949, Page 135.) Members of permanent committees shall be elected for terms of three years, eligible to succeed themselves for a third term of three years, but not eligible for further re-election until the lapse of one year. (See recommendation 3, minutes for 1949, page 134.)

(6) Plans for Education and Promotion

All Assembly agencies shall submit to the Budget Committee of the General Council for its approval all plans for education and all plans for the promotion of special appeals for funds, in order that these plans and appeals may be properly harmonized and made to conform to the orders and directions of the General Assembly. The right to appeal to the General Council from any action or decision of the Budget Committee shall be allowed.

(7) Per Capita Tax

In view of the fact that expenses of the General Assembly will fluctuate so greatly due to the widely separated points where the General Assembly may meet, it becomes necessary that the General Assembly Treasurer carry an adequate balance to meet these expenses. See also 6(1).

(8) Standing Rules

These rules shall be Standing Rules and govern the procedure of each Assembly until amended or repealed. No rule shall be amended or repealed except by the concurring vote of two-thirds of the commissioners present and voting.

PERMANENT JUDICIAL COMMITTEE

1. The General Assembly shall appoint a Permanent Judicial Committee consisting of nine members, at least five of whom shall be ministers. Members shall be elected to serve terms of three years. No person shall be eligible for service on this committee for more than two terms in succession. All vacancies shall be filled by the General Assembly for three-year terms, except that in the case of vacancies occurring between sessions of the Assembly, they shall be filled by appointment of the Moderator of the Assembly for the unexpired terms. Four of the nine members may be ruling elders, and the nine shall represent not fewer than three synods.

2. The General Assembly shall refer to this committee for consideration and report all judicial cases coming before that body by appeal, complaint or otherwise, in the following manner: within sixty days after the adjournment of the court from which the case is taken to the General Assembly, the Stated Clerk of the Assembly shall place in the hands of the chairman of the said Permanent Judicial Committee the complete records of the case, or a certified copy thereof for the use of the committee.

3. The Stated Clerk of the General Assembly shall transmit to the chairman of said committee, as soon as received, copies of all overtures to the approaching Assembly touching constitutional questions or affecting changes in the Book of Church Order, for advice. That portion of the committee's report containing these advices shall be placed in the hands of the standing committee on Bills and Overtures and Judicial Business, along with the overtures.

4. The committee shall file its report by the first day of the Assembly. This report shall present to the Assembly the law at issue, or affected by all the matters referred to, together with such references as will aid and expedite a careful review of the whole matter by those charged therewith; and it may add such suggestions as, in the judgment of the committee, will assist the Assembly or its agents to arrive at just and lawful decisions.

5. This committee shall meet at the call of the chairman, and its necessary expenses shall be provided for by the General Assembly.

6. This committee may from time to time submit to the General Assembly for its approval such rules or procedures governing the trial and conduct of cases as would appear expedient to the end in view.

7. Any individual, group or court within the church seeking information on church rules or procedure may submit inquiries to the Stated Clerk who may transmit them to the Permanent Judicial Committee if he deem it necessary or desirable.

8. The Stated Clerk of the Assembly shall be an ex officio member of this committee, but without the power to vote.

Instructions To Stated Clerks

Reports from Presbyteries

The General Assembly instructs the Stated Clerks of Presbyteries as follows:

1. Secure from the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly the latest forms of blanks. Order just enough for the year, allowing a few extras for churches which may lose the set sent them.
2. Make the report in clear, distinct writing, especially the columns of names and figures in the Statistical Tables. Omit all fractions of a dollar in the money columns. If it is $10.50 or less, enter $10.00; if $10.51 or more, enter $11.00. Add all columns, if possible, on adding machines. Proofread the adding machine work before mailing. Attach adding machine slips to the report. Make the vowels in the names of Ministers, churches and post offices very distinct. Printers have much difficulty with vowels which look very much alike.
3. When a church does not make a report, enter it in the listing according to post office; give number of Ruling Elders, Deacons, and members from the last report.
4. When a Stated Clerk of Presbytery is ready to make out his statistical report to the General Assembly, he is requested to study the report of his Presbytery in the Minutes of the General Assembly for the preceding year. All of the statistical reports are uniform in arrangement and each Stated Clerk should use the report of his Presbytery in Assembly Minutes as a pattern.
5. Fill out the statistical report blank, giving list of churches according to post office. Where there is more than one church at a particular post office, list those bearing numerical titles first; follow these with other churches alphabetically arranged. If a Minister serves more than one church, the number of churches should be indicated by the figure in parenthesis opposite his name. Ministers who are not serving a church or churches in the Presbytery must be listed at the bottom of the statistical report with occupation and post office. Give number of candidates. The Stated Clerk of the Assembly must have this list to perfect the alphabetical list for the Minutes.
6. At the close of the church year, the Stated Clerk of the Assembly will forward to each Presbytery's Stated Clerk an Official Roll of the Ministers and licentiates as of December 31. This list must be carefully checked as to: degrees, occupation and mailing address. Immediately upon completion of this roll it should be returned to the Stated Clerk of the Assembly.
7. Mail to the Stated Clerk, Rev. James A. Millard, Jr., 341 Ponce de Leon Ave., N.E., Atlanta 8, Georgia, all reports from the Presbytery just as soon as they are prepared. The Standing Rule requires that all these reports shall be in the hands of the Stated Clerk by February 15.
8. Mail overtures and other official communications, including a list of Commissioners, at earliest possible date; otherwise, the printing of the Blue Book will be delayed. Send each overture upon a separate sheet of paper, written only on one side, duly signed by the Stated Clerk. (Read also Standing Rules 4(1) and 7.)
9. Notify promptly the Stated Clerk of the Assembly when a change is made in the Stated Clerk of Presbytery.

10. Notify the Stated Clerk of the Assembly on cards supplied by him of the reception and dismissal of Ministers within forty-eight hours after the meeting of the Presbytery, or, when dismissal is done upon action by Commission on the Minister and His Work.
11. Stated Clerks of Presbyteries are instructed to send Sessional statistical reports, along with Presbytery's statistical report, to the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly.

Reports from Synods

The General Assembly hereby instructs the Stated Clerks of Synods as follows:

1. Notify the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly before the meeting of each Assembly of the formation or dissolution of Presbyteries within the bounds of their respective Synods; of the time and places of the next meeting of these bodies; of any changes which may be made in the Stated Clerk of Synod. These three things should be attended to immediately on the adjournment of Synod. A marked copy of the printed minutes is not an official notification. An official letter should be written covering the items mentioned above.
2. Send an attested copy of Synod minutes to the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly for presentation to the Assembly. Such copy shall be marked on the cover "Attested Copy," and the formal attestation shall be placed at the close of the journal minutes. (Minutes of the General Assembly, 1960, pages 61 and 155.)

PRAYER FOR THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

WHEREAS, The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States fully recognizes the efficacy of the prayers of God's people, and the necessity for divine guidance in its own deliberations; therefore,

Resolved, First, That the General Assembly recommend to all the churches under its care to offer special prayer during the devotions of the Sabbath preceding the meeting of the General Assembly in each year, that God would of great mercy so give the Assembly the wisdom that cometh from above, and so direct all its plans, discussions and decisions as to promote His own glory and to advance the kingdom of Jesus in the earth.

Resolved, Second, That the above preamble and resolution be printed annually in the Appendix to the Minutes of the Assembly.

INDEX OF CHURCHES

The General Assembly of 1930 directed that the Alphabetical List of Churches be printed in the Minutes (see page 80 of 1930 Minutes).

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Churches are indexed both by name and by postoffice except for churches in cities. These will be found only under the name of the city.

Where the name of the church appears first, it is followed by the designation "Ch." or "Chapel."

It has been impossible to secure complete information as to churches which are "R. F. D." Therefore, it is certain that some churches listed under the names of small towns are located in the country.

This index is as accurate as it could be made by comparing the reports of the presbyteries with the reports from the individual churches. Where any discrepancy occurred as to postoffice, the report of the latter is used. In some instances, therefore, this index will vary as to postoffice from the statistical tables printed in the Minutes.

The date opposite a church indicates year of organization.

ALPHABETICAL LIST OF CHURCHES

(Read explanatory note on page 166.)

NOTE: The churches are listed alphabetically by name or town. Abbreviations of presbyteries used in the index are placed alongside the names of presbyteries. If you will look at the Alphabetical List of Presbyteries on page 166 you will find the page on which the church is listed.
